

ROOSEVELT OR LONG?

New York's Governor Tries to Stem Popular Tide.

HANNA FAVORS BAY STATE MAN.

Convention May Be Turned From Its First Choice For Vice President.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—Today, on the forty-fourth anniversary of the day on which General John C. Fremont was nominated by the first Republican convention, held at Musical Fund hall, on Locust street, in this city, the national Republican convention assembled in the great Export Exposition building in West Philadelphia. Here, amid the swelling memories of half a century and in the presence of men who saw the blood stained clouds lie across the sunrise of the party, the Republicans are met to name their candidates and enunciate the platform for the coming campaign.

There is but a single choice for leader. His face is engraved upon banners and buttons, it is framed in flowers and in ivy on the walls, it adorns the windows of the shops and looks down upon the swarming crowds from every conspicuous place. McKinley again will lead the graybeards and the young men in the November battle. Banners are dipped before his portrait, and the mention of his name arouses enthusiasm. When Senator Foraker concludes his peroration in the convention on Wednesday, a storm wild and tempestuous will shake the great hall.

But that outburst of enthusiasm will be only the forerunner of the pandemonium that will reign if Roosevelt should be named to stand beside him in the coming battle.

The stamped in his favor started Sunday. It threw the town into delirium. It swept through the delegations who had come here with favorite sons to present like a prairie fire. Like an immense tidal wave it bore down everything before it. The booms of the other candidates collapsed like eggshells when it struck them.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT.

The governor himself was sincerely anxious to avoid the nomination. Some of the friends of the other candidates, embittered by the havoc his sudden appearance created with the prospects of their favorites, were harsh enough to intimate that he had been flirting with the situation from the first. But his closest friends knew that honestly he wanted none of it. He appealed to them to stem the tide, and they did what they would to aid him, but to no purpose.

Governor Theodore Roosevelt has made as specific a refusal of the nomination for vice president as he could possibly make in view of the fact that the nominating convention has not met and that few of the delegations have caucused.

Standing in a small room facing a crowd of newspaper men yesterday afternoon he made the following statement, reading it from a couple of sheets of manuscript:

"In view of the revival of the talk of myself as a vice presidential candidate I have this to say: It is impossible too deeply to express how touched I am by the attitude of those delegates who have wished me to take this nomination. Moreover, it is not necessary to say how thoroughly I understand the high honor and dignity of the office, an office so high and so honorable that it is well worth the ambition of any man in the United States; but, while I appreciate all this to the full, nevertheless I feel most deeply that the field of my best usefulness to the public and to the party is in New York state, and if the party should see fit to nominate me for governor I can in that position help the national ticket as in no other way. I very earnestly ask that every friend of mine in the convention respect my wish and my judgment in this matter."

The document was in his own hand writing and in lead pencil copy, and he read it with the same complacency that he would have given a platform speech. The scene bordered on the dramatic.

Sitting near him as he spoke were Congressmen Littauer and Sherman of New York and Professor Jenks of Columbia college, who have all along urged the governor not to accept. Just behind the row of newspaper men stood Frank Platt, Lemuel E. Quigg and B. B. Odell of the New York organization. As the governor read and waited for the newspaper men to write down the statement he frequently glanced in the direction of the group of politicians. When he finished, he said: "Gentlemen, that is all. I have nothing more to say."

It is pointed out as significant that Governor Roosevelt will not assert that he will decline the office if nominated. He hopes, however, with the aid of Senator Hanna, to defeat the plan to nominate him.

Yesterday was given up to conferences as the vice presidential situation. Beginning with a gathering in the room of Governor Roosevelt attended by Senators Hanna, Roswell Lodge and Mr. Odell of New York, it was continued in the rooms of Senator Hanna later, when nearly all the leaders in the city were from time to time in conference with the chairman of the national committee. There were Senators Allison, Scott, Carter, Lodge, Elkins, Burrows and Shoup also Mr. Bliss, besides many representatives of the New York leaders, both Governor Roosevelt and Senator Platt being represented. When the last man had disappeared, Senator Hanna looked weary, but satisfied. He was ready to announce that Governor Roosevelt would not be nominated, that the men who were going to make the nomination would accept the declaration of Roosevelt made during the day and supplemental of more emphatic declarations made some time ago as final and would not force the nomination upon him.

This tip did not circulate until quite late in the evening, but the effect was soon apparent. There were many real friends of Roosevelt who accepted his declaration as absolutely voicing his wish. It changed the current of talk, and men who were confident 24 hours ago that Roosevelt's nomination was a foregone conclusion began asking, "Well, who will it be?"

The answer was generally John D

JOHN D. LONG.

Long of Massachusetts, secretary of the navy. At once delegates began to realize that Long must be perfectly satisfactory to the administration of which he is a part or he would not be a candidate for the place. This idea received encouragement in quarters which made the Massachusetts man a prime favorite of course there was talk of other men.

The friends of Dulliver renewed their efforts for the young Iowa orator. There was some talk about Fairbanks, but the prevailing feeling was that only men who were willing to accept the place should be considered. It was urged that an unwilling candidate was not advisable and therefore the men most talked of were Long and Dulliver, but with the general impression that Long would be the ultimate selection.

This is the third time the Quaker City has had a Republican national convention. The first national meeting of the party was held here on July 17, 1855. Then delegates gathered here from 22 states and organized a platform and nominated a ticket headed by John C. Fremont. Of the 555 men who attended that convention but 14 are living today, and it is expected that at least six of them will be present when the gavel falls today. Special seats of honor have been arranged on the platform for these men. They come as guests of the party.

The distribution of tickets for the convention was begun by Sergeant-at-Arms Wiswell yesterday. Up to that time not one ticket had left the hands of Mr. Wiswell. The city of Philadelphia was given 4,000 of the cards, which will be given only those persons who subscribe to the local convention fund. Each delegate received his own and two additional tickets, and every alternate was given one seat. The national committee members were each presented with 25 of the much sought after pasteboards, while the remainder were distributed among distinguished men invited by the national committee.

Five miles of clubs, mounted, on foot by coach, boats and in carriages, inter spersed with music, red fire and a cake walk, is the shortest way of describing the turnout of the visiting and local political clubs in this city last night. Those who have been complaining for the past two days of the unusual quietude preceding the meeting of a national convention must have reflected that they criticized too soon. Those who have attended previous demonstrations in connection with similar occasions like it to the great turnout of clubs in Chicago that was reviewed by Blaine and Logan preceding the election in 1884.

The parade was divided into eight divisions, in which there were more than 80 local clubs and about 20 visiting political organizations. The out of town clubs were scattered through the eight sections and were escorted by the club which was assigned to entertain the visiting clubmen. The Unconditional Albany was the only visiting organization in the first division and was escorted by the Twenty-first ward association.

Henry Walter Webb Dead.
NEW YORK, June 19.—Henry Walter Webb died at 1:45 p. m. yesterday at his residence, Beechwood, Scarborough-on-the-Hudson. His death was due to heart failure. Mr. Webb was the son of the late General James Watson and Laura Virginia Webb and the brother of Dr. W. Seward Webb. He was in the forty eighth year of his age. He was ill less than half an hour. His death was wholly unexpected, although he had been close to death many times during the last few months. Mr. Webb was a director in the Wagner Palace Car company, the Buffalo Erie Basin Railroad company, the National City Bank and the Oswego and Rome Railroad company and was a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance company.

General Wheeler's New Command.
WASHINGTON, June 19.—By direction of the president General Joseph Wheeler has been assigned to the command of the department of the lakes with headquarters at Chicago. He relieves Brigadier General James F. Wade who has held that command temporarily in conjunction with his regular command of the department of Dakota.

Italian Cabinet Resigns.
ROME, June 19.—In the chamber of deputies yesterday the premier, General Pelloni, announced that the cabinet had resigned owing to the deadlock arising from the opposition's uncompromising attitude on the question of the rules of procedure. The house adjourned pending the formation of a new ministry.

Mississippi Again Flooded.
JACKSON, Miss., June 19.—Pearl river is again out of its banks and spreading over the surrounding country. One of the heaviest windstorms in years has done great damage to trees and growing corn. The general crop conditions in the state are poor, the cotton being either under water or choked out by grass.

Jimmy Michael Beaten.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 19.—Jimmy Michael was easily beaten by Burns Pierce in a 20 mile motor paced race at Charles River park in the slow time of 34m. 29.35s. A strong wind made record time impossible.

TAKU FORTS TAKEN.

China Opens Fire on the International Fleet.

ATTACK ORDERED FROM PEKING.

Several Warships Struck by Shells Russians Lose Heavily in the Battle—Four Hundred Chinese Reported Killed.

LONDON, June 19.—China declared war against the world when the Taku forts opened fire upon the international fleet. The accounts of what took place are still unsatisfactory, the best official information being the dispatch received at Berlin from Chifu announcing that the Taku forts had been captured after a combined attack by the foreign warships. Three men on the German warship Itis were killed and seven were wounded. The dispatch added that the foreign settlements at Tientsin were being fired into by the Chinese.

The unofficial narratives, coming by way of Shanghai, vary widely and bear internal evidence of supplementing the main facts with guesswork. One dispatch says that the Yorktown participated in the bombardment. Another asserts that American marines formed part of the storming force of 2,000.

A dispatch from Chifu, dated yesterday afternoon, says: "The forts on both sides of the Taku are now occupied. The Chinese opened fire unexpectedly. The casualties to the mixed forces were as follows: Killed—British, 1; German, 3; Russian, 16; French, 1. Wounded—British, 4; German, 7; Russian, 45; French, 1.

"The Chinese torpedo boats were seized. The Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Mail, telegraphing yesterday, says: "The forts began firing in obedience to orders from Peking, conveyed in a personal edict of the empress dowager, by advice of Kang-Yi, president of the ministry of war. Several warships were struck by shells from the 12 inch guns of the forts.

"The heavy Russian losses were due to the blowing up of the magazine at Mandshur. "Four hundred Chinese are reported to have been killed. The Chinese when retreating fell into the hands of the Russian land force. The Daily News has the following from Chifu: "Two of the forts were blown up. The 32 warships at Taku aggregated 200,000 tons and carried more than 300 guns."

The failure of Admiral Seymour's column and its retreat to Tientsin increase, it is presumed, the peril of the legations in Peking, which is still isolated, although Shanghai forwards Chinese rumors that the legations were attacked by mobs who were moved down by machine guns and also that the members of the legations were massacred.

The situation at Newchwang is reported critical. The British consul at Kiangling has ordered all foreigners to leave Kuling and Nankingchang. The powers are taking prompt action. Four thousand German troops have been ordered to China, 10,000 French troops are waiting to embark at Saigon, capital of French Cochinchina, and from 3,000 to 5,000 more Russians have been ordered from Port Arthur to Taku.

KEMPF'S INSTRUCTIONS.

Ordered to Protect Americans and Honor With Other Powers.
WASHINGTON, June 19.—The instructions sent to Admiral Kempff relative to his participation in the seizure of the Taku forts were broad, consisting of a direction to protect all American interests and to that end to act concurrently with the representatives of the other powers. It is explained that in the opinion of the authorities this order conferred upon Admiral Kempff ample power to seize forts, to fight or to do anything in fact on the sole condition that in his judgment his acts should tend to the protection of American interests. It was learned at the British embassy that there were two British admirals in the Pei-ho river, Admiral Seymour and Admiral Bruce. Therefore Tansig's reference to the arrival of the British admiral at Tientsin does not mean necessarily that Seymour has returned with his foreign column.

HEALTHY OLD AGE

The majority of persons upon reaching middle age and past find their blood becomes weak and thin, and diseases that were easily controlled in earlier life begin to affect the constitution.

Those predisposed to Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Gout and other hereditary troubles may escape them, but as they age the blood, so long tainted and weakened by accumulated waste matters, is no longer able to properly nourish the body, and it becomes an easy mark for disease. At this critical period of life the blood must be re-enforced before it can perform its legitimate functions and rid the system of these poisons, and nothing so surely and effectually does this as S. S. S.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the blood, improves the appetite, and builds up the general constitution. It is not only the best blood purifier, but the best tonic for old people. It warms the blood, tones the nerves, removes all taint from the blood, and prevents the development of disease.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood medicine known. Not one particle of mercury, potash or other mineral poison can be found in it, and it may be taken for any length of time without harm.

S. S. S. is the only remedy that reaches deep-seated blood troubles like Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczema, Tetter, etc. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, normal condition, and makes it impossible for any poisonous waste materials to accumulate.

If you have an old running sore or an obstinate ulcer that refuses to heal, or are troubled with boils and carbuncles, try S. S. S. It never fails to make a quick and permanent cure of these pests. If your system is run down and you feel the need of a tonic, S. S. S. will strengthen and help you as it has many others to a happy, healthy old age.

Mrs. D. R. Johnson, of Blacksburg, Ga., was for years afflicted with a severe type of rheumatism, and had used every remedy known and recommended as a cure without receiving any benefit. S. S. S. promptly reached the seat of the disease and made a complete and permanent cure.

If you are in doubt about your disease, and will send us a statement of your case, our physician will give you any information or advice wanted, for which we make no charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases sent to any desiring it. Address Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

A Bellefonte School Girl Tells what Her New Specialist, Dr. Stites, Has Done for Her.

I suppose I have had Catarrh for quite awhile, but I don't know how long. I was so uncomfortable that I could not eat or sleep. I was so weak that I could not get up. I began to grow quite deaf, while there was a buzzing and ringing noise sounding in my ears most of the time. When Dr. Stites told me what he could do for me, I was quite happy, and now after only a short time under his care, I am improved wonderfully. All those terrible noises have disappeared and I now hear all right, I breathe through my nose and am improved in every way. I feel very grateful to Dr. Stites.

It is sure to search out the weak spots and hit them there. This at least has been my experience, and I am so much better in every way that I gladly recommend Dr. Stites and the New Treatment to any one suffering from any Catarrh and Lung Trouble. What the New Treatment Has Done for Little Lena Rice, of Bellefonte.

Car little daughter Lena, who is now 8 years old, has suffered greatly since quite young, with catarrh. Her nose was always much stuffed up that she had to breathe through her mouth entirely. Then she hawked and spit all the time. Her tonsils became very much enlarged, giving her a great deal of trouble. She would get so choked up, and on taking cold could hardly breathe. After a while her ears got very bad and she grew quite deaf. We did not know what to do for her, as nothing seemed to help her. When we heard of the New Treatment, we went to Dr. Stites, and now we are happy to say that our little girl can now hear almost as good as she ever did. She is so much

Remarkable Results Obtained During Only One Month of Dr. Stite's New Treatment.

I have had a bad case of catarrh and bronchitis for some time, was always taking cold and had to hawk and spit most of the time, then pain in the chest set in and at last a bad cough which got so bad that I coughed incessantly. I tried ever so many things, but nothing did good. In fact, I got worse, so I thought I would try Dr. Stites. And now, after only a few weeks under his New Treatment, I am a different person. The few weeks' treatment did me more good than all things I had tried for the last two years together. It seems this New Treatment goes right to the spot, it searches out all the sore places and heals them. It is a great invention and I am sure the Doctor will make a great success of it.

Wonderful Cure Made by the New Specialist, Dr. Stites, after other Doctors had Failed.

I had suffered for some time with a growth in my right ear, which gave rise to ringing and buzzing noises, and I gradually became deaf of hearing. I became disgusted with the treatment I got from other doctors; they didn't do me any good. I concluded to try Dr. Stites and I am glad I did. The growth was entirely disappeared under his New Treatment, also those ringing and buzzing noises, and I now hear as well as I ever did.
