Happenings In and About Bellefonte

PERSONAL, SOCIAL EVENTS

Items That Are Worth Noting in a Few Lines--What Has Transpired in This Community During the Past Week--Movements of Our People.

Mrs. Annie E. Barger, of Uniontown, is at present visiting friends here. To enumerate all of our visitors the past week would simply be impossible.

The refreshing showers of the past week keep the growing crops from drooping.

Mr. Dick Adams, of Phillipsburg, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Bellefonte.

Harry Robb, of Pittsburg, formerly of Bellefonte, came to town to take in the Centennial.

Mrs. Geo. Young and daughter, of Jersey Shore, spent several days in Bellefonte this week.

The League Grange, of Pleasant Gap, will hold a festival at their hall, on Saturday evening August, 4th.

Miss Edith Schreck, of Tylersville, is spending a week in Bellefonte at the home of her uncle, John Bierly.

Michael Holland, of Pittsburg, came to Bellefonte to take in the Centennial. He formerly lived at this place.

James L. Pacini, of Johnsonburg, Pa., arrived in Bellefonte on Tuesday, to take in the Centennial and to spend several weeks visiting at the home of his father.

Mrs. Jno. Johnstonbaugh, of Pitscair, Pa., came to Bellefonte last Friday on a two weeks visit. She is staying at the home of her mother, Mrs. Confer, on Logan street.

A company is being formed in Williamsport for the manufacture of the Stutzman automobile, with a capital of $50,000 at $50 a share. The factory will be located in that city.

Oscar and Alcha Rishel returned to their home, last Friday, after a week's visit at the home of David Rothrock, in Buafflo Run Valley. They enjoyed themselves immensely while there.

Harry Bartley, of Johnsonburg, Pa., was an arrival in Bellefonte to take in the Centennial and to spend some time visiting his uncle, Herbert Bartley. Harry is a clerk in the largest store at that place.

Fire destroyed the large barn of Jas. Fye in Curtin township, Monday morning at 3 o'clock. The stock and vehicles were taken out but the rest was totally destroyed. The origin of the fire is a mystery. There was but slight insurance.

These are the days when no wise person will cherish violent passions or brood over troubles, real or imaginary. While the dog star rages it should be the highest ambition of mankind to take life as easily as the fates will permit.

One of the very creditable displays in town this week was that at the show window of Joseph & Co's. store, where they had a rare and interesting collection of relics. It consisted of old books, spinning wheel, tea kettles, etc., all of which were appropriately arranged and attracted much attention.

The visitors to Bellefonte on Wednesday were estimated at from 12,000 to 25,000. The trains from all points were run in three to five sections of ten to fifteen cars each, and every car packed down to the steps. The facilities for handling the crowds on the railroads could not have been better. Trains were run at frequent intervals and the arrangement all that could be desired.

Wednesday night the sleeping capacity of the town was taxed to its utmost to provide a place where the thousands of visitors could get a snatch of sleep, and get off their weary feet for a few hours rest. The hotels were compelled to turn away hundreds who wanted lodging. Every available floor space was occupied with cots, and even the billiard and pool tables were pressed into service. To accommodate some who were unable to secure quarters, the county officers threw open the court house, and hundreds occupied the offices and court room for the night, sleeping on cots, seats, chairs, and floor, and all were glad for the chance.

BIT BROKE.

M. O. Stover, of Haines township transacted business in Millheim Friday afternoon and started home and had gone only a short distance below town when the mule started to run off, the bit broke and Mr. Stover was helpless. The mule ran to Aaronsburg, and there in making the turn, ran against the fence, breaking the right fore leg in two places and badly splintering the bone.

Union's Monument.

A monument to the memory of the soldiers of Union county will be erected on the court house lawn, at Lewisburg. It will be dedicated on July 4, 1901. The monument will have a 16x14 foot base and will be 46 feet high. There will be two statues around the base, life-size and surmounted by a life-size color bearer. The whole is to be built of Barree, Vt., granite and will weigh 115 tons.

TRUE SNAKE STORIES.

Lock Haven Express: While 9-year-old Dora Waldman was picking berries near Colonsville a few days ago, she killed a rattlesnake that measured over three feet. This makes ten snakes that the girl has killed.

Greensburg Press: Johnson Slick, while engaged at hoeing corn on the south side of Squirrel hill, dug up a blacksnake's nest containing thirty-eight eggs as large as partridge eggs. They filled a half gallon measure, and the young snakes were almost fully developed.

Johnstown Tribune: A number of workmen who were engaged in laying a new pavement in front of the jail at Ebensburg witnessed a battle one day recently between an English sparrow and a house snake. The plucky bird attacked the reptile repeatedly, pecking holes in its back, near the spine, until the snake was dead.

Many Visitors Here.

The low rates for the centennial had a wonderful effect on travel to this place during the past week. Since last Friday every incoming train was filled with people from all parts of the state, coming here to visit friends and attend our celebration. Many are former Bellefonters who came back to see friends and see the old town in holiday attire. Every household is entertaining someone and the hospitality of our people is equal to the event. It is a reunion as it were on an elaborate scale.

We are glad to see our town in such splendid condition for the occasion, as all agree that age only improves Bellefonte.

Girls Punish a Peeper.

Five young ladies of near Centre Hall wrecked vengeance on a young man for having climbed a tree and watched them while they bathed in the creek. The peeper was thrown into the water and pelted with stones and sticks until his head was covered with lumps. After a 15-minute ordeal of this kind the girls let him out and told him to go home and get dry clothes on. Now the fair bathers have one of their mammas go with them to stand on guard during the swimming hour.

The above is from the last issue of Grit. The joke about this is that there is no stream within four miles of the town.

Swindled the Kane Folks.

Kane Republican: If reports are to be believed then "ye simple farmer folk" are a thing of the past. Several persons have recently gone about town selling green peas and it has transpired that these peas are of ancient lineage. The vendors have gone to the stores and purchased dried peas and given them a thorough soaking when they passed them off on the public as fresh peas. That little scheme is a good one, and persons buying shelled peas should be careful as to what they are procuring.

May Have Been Mrs. Keller.

Mrs. Richard Keller, the Frugality woman, who has been missing from her home for more than two months, is thought to have been seen by several miners near Wildwood, Cambria county, on Wednesday afternoon. While they were walking along the road, a woman, with clothes tattered and torn, emerged from the wood. On seeing the men she ran down the road and disregarding their cries to stop, plunged into the woods and disappeared. The miners think the woman was insane.

Unfortunate Family.

In Williamsport Monday, Miss Eva Bovee, aged 18 years, was walking across the trestling which spans the canal at Howard alley. The rotten boards gave way and the young lady was precipitated about ten feet to the ground. She was severely cut on the head, was badly bruised and internally injured. She was taken to her home. The father of the girl died a few years ago, her brother died last week and her mother is at present sick in bed.

Improvements Contemplated.

Laudlord Wm. H. Runkle for some time has been considering remodeling his hotel building at Centre Hall. He has an architect at present working on plans for the house. A third story will be added, and the interior will be entirely changed. He will place a steam heating plant in the building with radiators in every room, and the house provided with modern improvements in the shape of bath rooms and closets.

An Upset.

Thursday of last week a traction engine belonging to Shivery & Rearick was upset near town by being run into an embankment, out in Spring township. Engineer Harry Shivery was driving the critter when it got ranktankerous, as it were, and became unmanageable. For Harry's sake we have concluded not to tell it around, as only a few persons saw the mishap.

Death of W. C. Moore.

William C. Moore, deputy register and recorder of Clinton county, died Monday night at his home in Flemington, aged 62 years. He is survived by his wife, two sons, and three daughters. Mr. Moore was a veteran of the war of the Rebellion, having served in Company C, 52nd regiment, Penna. volunteer in infantry.

NEWSPAPER SOLD.

The Centre Hall Reporter, this week, contains the announcement of the retirement of Hon. Fred Kurtz who for over thirty-two years conducted it. The Reporter was ably edited and became influential under the management of its retiring editor. The columns of the paper kept the Democracy of that side of the county unflinching in line, besides having accomplished much for the improvement of the pretty town of Centre Hall and lent its valuable aid towards whatever was for the best interests of the county.

On Monday the sale was consummated by which S. Wes. Smith, of Centre Hall, became the new proprietor. Mr. Smith is a son of Dr. Peter Smith, dec'd, of that place. He learned the "art preservative" in that office years ago and has done mechanical and newspaper work in various capacities since then. He is a versatile writer, energetic and thoroughly democratic in all his views and will no doubt succeed in maintaining for the Centre Reporter its former prestige in the field of journalism. We extend to Bro. Smith the hand of fellowship in his undertaking; "may he live long and prosper."

By way of information, Fred Kurtz, Sr., is the father of Chas. R. Kurtz, of this paper; as soon as all accounts can be closed and suitable arrangements made Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz will move to Bellefonte to make this place their future residence, and Mr. Kurtz will at once begin contributing to the columns of this paper as one of the editors. This means that there is every promise of the Centre Democrat showing a decided improvement ere long, and that its usefulness will be extended.

Fred Kurtz, Jr., former business manager of the Centre Reporter, also retires from the same and expects to engage in business elsewhere.

From the Bellefonte Republican, July 25:

Hon. Fred Kurtz Sr., who is the veteran editor of the county has occupied the editorial chair for over fifty years. He first conducted a paper in Aaronsburg. We are glad to say that he will not be lost to journalism but will come to Bellefonte and take charge of the editorial department of that staunch democratic organ the Centre Democrat. He will move to Bellefonte with his family as soon as possible and make it his permanent home. We welcome him and his family to Bellefonte knowing that his presence here will reflect credit and honor not only to the editorial profession but to the town as well.

The Innocent Lamb.

About two weeks ago a sheep belonging to G. W. Painter, who lives about three miles south of Phillipsburg, was missing. Mr. Painter concluded it had been killed by dogs, but a few days ago, while looking under the barn floor for some purpose, he saw the missing animal in a salt barrel. The barrel was lying on its side and the sheep had gone in to lick up the salt which adhered to the side of the barrel. Finding that it could not go on through, it stopped, and had been there nine days when discovered, without food or drink. And it would have stayed there until it perished. All it had to do was to back out of the barrel, but it hadn't instinct enough to do it.

Copperhead in the Dining Room. As Mrs. Symonds, of Reedsville, on Monday evening, about nine o'clock by the reflection of the light from another room walked into her dining room she observed a dark object on the floor, which further investigation proved to be a huge copperhead snake in coil. Mr. S. grabbed an ax which was the only weapon at hand and chopped the reptile in twain, when the part containing the head with lightning rapidity ran into a hole in the wainscoting and the next day was discovered in the garden and killed. It was altogether about five feet long -- Sentinel.

Dry Weather.

The dry weather has caused a water famine along the Beech Creek district of the New York Central which is the worst that has existed since the road was built. Full one-half of the tanks are dry and the rest are being drawn from so heavily that they will only last a short time. It is a common thing the last few days for a train to be laid out a few hours on account of water. It is said the work of sinking wells will begin at once to keep up the supply.

Regaining Her Hearing.

Four years ago after having a number of teeth extracted, Mrs. Elwood Moyer, of Tamaqua, became suddenly deaf. She remained in that condition until one day last week. She had again gone to the dentist to have some work done, and when he began to operate upon her she heard faint noises, which gradually became louder, until her hearing was restored.

ROBBED AMPUTATED LEG.

Clare and Paul Hipier, of Daleborough, near Johnstown, are under arrest, charged with being the perpetrators of the most remarkable robbery on record. They, according to the police, took the $100 from the stocking of an amputated leg on the morning when a Pennsylvania freight train ran into some excursionists. That leg belonged to Mrs. Anna Begley, wife of the editor of the Windber Journal, who was run over by the train. After she regained consciousness at the Memorial hospital, she told the physicians that she had concealed $100 in the stocking on the leg that was cut off, the object being to keep it safe while she was on her journey to visit her parents in Bedford county. The leg after being cut off by the train, lay on the station platform for a few minutes, time enough to allow the Hipier lads to turn the stocking inside out and secure the money. After being locked up the boys told constable Cook that most of the money was secreted behind a board in the piano at their home, and there the constable found $79.

It Doesn't Pay.

It doesn't pay any man or woman to go through this life with a chip on the shoulder looking for someone to knock it off. When one is in a pugilistic mood one is apt to find plenty of others who are disposed to be in the same sulky and evil humor. On the contrary, he who dwells ever in the sunshine and has a good word to say to all who come in contact with him, generally finds this world a pretty cheerful place. It doesn't pay one to perpetually look on the gloomy side of life. It is a true saying that melancholy produces melancholy and that the perpetual weeper makes everybody about him feel that this world is shrouded in gloom. There are men and women in almost every community who are objects of terror to their neighbors. They are more depressing than two or three funerals.

Instantaneous Death.

Adam Berry, of Rote, was instantly killed about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon while in the employ of the Glen Union Lumber company. A pine tree which had been cut down, fell on a birch tree near which Mr. Berry was standing. The birch was crushed to the ground, striking Mr. Berry on the head. The head was split open and crushed to a point on a level with the nose.

Mr. Berry would have been 34 years old, had he lived until Tuesday. He is survived by his wife, three small children and a widowed mother. His wife is so badly crippled with rheumatism that she is compelled to make her way through the house on her hands and knees.

THE gold democrats are quietly stealing back into the old home in their stocking feet. They don't care to attract any attention just now, but next year they will be proudly stating that they helped to elect Bryan.

Curious, But True. An exchange prints the following curious item: "Tie a string about a yard long to a common door key. Then hold it in the right hand and hold it so the key will clear the floor four or five inches. If you can hold the key steady enough it will begin to swing back and forth in a straight line. Let another person take your left hand in his and the motion of the key will change from the pendulum to a circular swing. If the third person will put his hands on the shoulder of the second person, the key will stop. Try it and explain it if you can."

Keep Your Feet Cool.....

YOU are often advised to keep the feet warm and the head cool, but that advice is for Winter only. Keep your feet cool and your temperature is likely to be lower than if you paid no attention to the clothing of your feet.

Many people dress their feet as warm in Summer as in Winter. They ought not.

Not when we've light weight, low-cut shoes in such plentiful numbers. Not when prices are so low as here. No; indeed. There is no excuse for having the feet warm, uncomfortable and perspiring.
