Runville.

We are having some refreshing showers at present.

Miss Hall, of near Fleming, is visiting at Mrs. Mrs. Mary Withers.

Mrs. Clara Shope, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Ellen Friel, left for her home at Marietta, Ohio, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Hugg, of Milesburg, visited relatives at this place on Sunday.

James Smoyer, of Beech Creek, was to see friends at this place on Sunday.

James Kreps and son are hustlers in the threshing business. They do good work for a fair price; try them and be convinced.

On Friday evening, Aug 24, Mr. Frank Edwards, a native of Africa, will lecture in the U. B. church, at this place, on Missionary work. Mr Edwards will have with him some of the idols and charms which are used in that land, by the heathen. Every body is invited to attend. A collection will be taken up for the benefit of the young man to complete his education as he is preparing himself here to go back to dark Africa and preach the gospel to those that are in darkness.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.—A most enjoyable event occurred on Thursday, the 16 inst. at the residence of Ezekiel Confer, in Boggs township. It was the 60th anniversary of his wife, Charity's, birth. It was intended for a surprise, and those who had charge of the matter grandly succeeded. Mrs. Confer is the mother of 10 children—7 sons and 3 daughters—all of whom were present, with the exception of one son. There were in all—children, grand-children, and other relatives and neighbors—about 75 persons present and all seemed to be in their proper place, and at their best. Mrs. Confer received many tokens of respect in the way of presents such as: dry goods, glass, and chinaware, and a beautiful easy chair. All these were highly appreciated for the sake of those who gave them. The dinner was an important part of the programme. There was plenty for every body and many baskets full left. The ice cream committee did good work and every body had all that cooling luxury they cared for. After all these matters were ended, the pastor, B. J. Hummel, delivered an address which was listened to with respectful interest. After this the company began to scatter, each to their own homes feeling as if they would like to enjoy another day in the same way—some sweet day, bye and bye.

Beech Creek.

George D. Hess is placing a steam engine and boiler in his grist mill.

Mrs. Walter B. McCaskey is seriously ill at her home with an attack of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Lelia Chamberlain and little daughter, of DuBois, Pa., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Packer.

Henry Riegel and Mrs. Hess, who have been visiting George D. Hess, returned to their home in Easton, Pa., Friday.

Torrence Hunter returned home yesterday from Pittsburg, Pa., where he was employed for several months on bridge construction.

Miss Minnie Lamkin returned home Friday from a two months' visit with friends at Mansfield and Covington, Pa. She has been elected teacher of one of the public schools in Sayre, Pa.

Miss Josephine Kunes gave a moonlight picnic last Tuesday evening in Herring's grove, near the Eagleville station, in honor of her guest, Miss Morris, of Phillipsburg.

Sugar Valley.

The following are taken from the Loganton Journal:

It is quite probable that C. S. Harter will move to West Virginia, where he has extensive lumber interests.

Mrs. Harry Boob was very ill last week from the effect of the measles. She is much improved.

The young men in Carroll and vicinity are soliciting support to enable them to organize a cornet band; George A. Bierly and Oscar J. Harbach are leading the movement.

Philip Karchner and Howard Graham, who reside one mile northwest of Rosecrans, were annoyed much by mountain fires one day recently. They and their families had to fight hard nearly half the day to drive it away and save their properties.

Aaronsburg.

The Misses Blanche and Emma Croumiller, of Joliet, Ill., are being entertained at the hospitable home of Squire D. H. Rote, on West Main street.

Mrs. Caroline Mayes bought the Shaffer property at the west end of town on last Saturday. Consideration, $525.

Mrs. Sadie Wolfe and children, of Spring Mills, visited the lady's mother, Mrs. Elias Staubach, on Main street, several days last week.

Rev. William Gibb, of Livonia, Clearfield Co., a Presbyterian clergyman, spent Sunday last with his aunts, the Kline sisters, in our burg. He left Monday morning for his home and expected to cover the entire distance by bike—a distance of about 60 miles.

Mrs. T. W. Kreamer and son, of Bellefonte, arrived here last week and expect to spend sometime visiting the lady's brother, Prof. Al. S. Stover, on North 2nd street.

James Etlinger, of the Lewisburg Chronicle, made his regular monthly visit to his family in this place over Sunday returning to his work on Tuesday afternoon.

After spending a month here very pleasantly among friends and relatives, Roll Wyle and wife left for their home in Akron, Ohio, one day last week.

The Misses Lottie and Nora Guisewite, of State College, were the guests of their sister, Mrs. Newt Stover, on West Main street, for several days last week.

Among the visitors at Jerre Wert's, on Sunday, were noticed John Hartman and family, of Millheim; and Mrs. Lew Gettig and children, of Bellefonte.

Two of the Gramley children were quite ill with dysentery, last week, but at this writing are considerable better.

Grain dealer C. A. Weaver, and family, of Coburn, were Sunday visitors at the home of the lady's parents, Thomas Edmunds, residing north of town.

Wilmer Stover's cider press is now in full operation and he is busily engaged several days each week in making cider for the farmers.

Ed Stump, of this place, recently bought two properties near town viz: the Thomas Edmunds home for $1400.00 and the Israel Weaver property, near the Lutheran church, for $550.00. We understand he will make improvements at both places.

STRICKEN BY PARALYSIS.—This community was greatly shocked on last Saturday afternoon when it was noised around town that Thomas Harper, one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens, had been stricken by paralysis while on a business trip to Loganton, Clinton Co. On the day previous (Friday) Mr. Harper in company with Fred Lambert, went to the above named place to look after some church property, and when he left home was apparently in the best of health. It appears that while transacting business relative to the property on Saturday he was suddenly overcome and immediately sank into a state of unconsciousness. A physician was immediately summoned and he was taken to a near by home and his wife at this place was notified of the sad occurrence. On Monday morning he was removed to his home in this place in a covered wagon and his condition is still unchanged, not having gained consciousness. We extend our sympathy to the family and wish he may be restored to health.

Millheim.

Mrs. L. Gettig and children, from Bellefonte, are guests of relatives and friends here.

William Weiser, of Altoona, is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. C. Keen.

Miss Maud Musser entertained her friend, Miss Margaret St. Clair, from Corry, over Sunday.

Mr. Fredericks, Mrs. Bryan and children, from Jersey City, N. J., and Miss Peese, from Laurelton, were visitors at the home of A. P. Maize several days last week.

Geo. Tobias left for Harrisburg Monday, where he is employed in a hospital.

Sanford Miller left for Philadelphia today in search of employment, at his trade, printing.

Mrs. Howard Homan, of Williamsport, is visiting her son, George, at the National.

Jeremiah Hoy, a farmer from Ohio, visited his brother, William, and friends in town and his sick father west of Madisonburg.

The late rains have soaked the ground sufficiently to finish the corn.

Harry Shott and sister, have returned from Danville and are again employed at the factory.

Rev. Buch was sick Sunday and unable to fulfil his appointment.

Mrs. H. K. Condo spent several days last week with her parents at Centre Hall.

Susan Auman, mother of the notorious Fietta Weaver, died Tuesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fred Auman, in Penn Township.

There seems to be too much discrimination in putting down crossing; Penn street has four and another is being put down when West Main Street does not have a single public crossing.

Thomas Buck arrived in town yesterday.

Axemann.

Misses Mary and Lizzie Gross have returned to their home in this place, after an extended visit with their aunt, Mrs. Lilly, of Lock Haven.

One of our gentlemen went to see his best girl on Sunday evening and the next day he was so tired and sleepy that he couldn't go to work. We wonder if Della knows who we mean?

Frank Beck, of Houserville, Sundayed at his home in this place.

Mrs. Chas Garbrick, of Bellefonte, spent Tuesday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Kate Beck.

The time is nearly here for the youngsters to be starting off to school. The teachers for our schools are as follows: Grammar, H. G. Mease; Primary, Miss Rebbe Jodon.

Little cobwebs in drawn work are applied on new lingerie and on French waists.

Immense pearl buttons the size of a butter plate are seen on the automobile, driving and traveling coats. They are rather English and very "sporty."

Centre Hall.

The census recently taken will show a larger percentage of increase than any other town of the county.

In some parts of the valley, as well as in this vicinity, Sunday night's rain storm blew many apples from the trees.

A Philadelphia daily had the shocking news that Penn Cave was sold for two hundred thousand dollars and that a trolley would be built from Centre Hall. This is perfectly shocking when one thinks that the cave could have been bought for $70,000. Such good news will make our good friend, Sam Long, dream at least that he has a Konydike in that cave.

Mrs. Henry Seltzer, of Manhattan, Ill., was a guest at the home of D. R. Geiss several days last week. Mrs. Seltzer many years ago was a resident of Tuessville, and is a sister of John Mersinger, at that place, where she expects to remain for sometime.

Mrs. Harry Condo, of Millheim, spent the greater part of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Runkle.

Mrs. C. D. Runkle, of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. Agnes Spangler and interesting little daughter, Miss Ruth Barker, of Joliet, Ill., arrived last week and are now being entertained at the home of their sister, Mrs. George M. Boal. They will remain east for sometime visiting among friends and relatives.

Wagner Geiss returned home last week from Lebanon where he is taking a course in a business college, and since his return has been confined to the house, suffering from an attack of dysentery.

Mrs. H. F. Bitner and little son Ralph returned to their home in Millersville, Pa., last week after having spent a month at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murray.

Mr. Boop, tenant on the Hoffer farm, on Nittany mountains, while helping to move a saw mill a short time ago, dropped a heavy timber on his foot, badly crushing and bruising it, and has been making use of crutches since.

Miss Romie Van Pelt is visiting with friends in Millin county, this week.

Wm. A. Boal, who moved from Earlstown two years ago, and located in Tyrone, is looking around for a vacant house in Centre Hall, and if successful in finding one will remove to this place in a short time.

H. P. Van Pelt, of Ithica, N. Y., spent last week in Centre Hall, looking after his business interests in this place.

John Murray, of Lemont, visited his brother, J. D. Murray, last week.

Cyrus Luse and wife, of Tyrone, are here on a visit to their many friends, this town having been their home for many years.

Miss Alice Hazlet, who has been quite ill at the home of Mrs. Isaac Smith, for the past four weeks, suffering from an affection of the heart, returned to her home in Williamsport on Monday. She was accompanied by her mother, who had come to attend her during her illness and Miss Grace Smith, who will remain with her for some time.

Miss Florence Rhone returned home Monday after spending two months in Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Ev-Governor Hastings and John P. Harris, of Bellefonte, were in Centre Hall Monday. The governor has many friends here, who always give him a hearty welcome.

On Tuesday a car load of horses and colts were brought to this place from the Kentucky stock farms of G. W. Farree, and are offered at private sale. They are at the hotel stables of Wm. H. Runkle, Jr., where they can be inspected at any time. Mr. Runkle intends establishing a permanent horse market here, having received encouragement in that direction by the successful horse sales he has had in the past.

The rain the beginning of the week was welcomed by the farmers in this vicinity, as the corn and potato crops were much in need of rain. It was also a God send to the town as the sprinkling of streets had stopped on account of the water in the boro plant becoming alarmingly shallow.

Potters Mills.

Miss Roxanna Brisbin and Mrs. Pearl Condo, of Centre Hall, and Miss Lola Strohm, of Centre Hill, were in our town horseback riding Friday evening. They ran a race and Centre Hill won the prize. Come again, girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell, of Allegheny, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, also Miss Maud, of Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. James Reish and son spent Sunday with his mother at Millheim.

The sale of C. Smetzer, on Friday, was largely attended; everything sold well. They left on Saturday for Wisconsin where he expects to make his future home. He has purchased a hotel at that place.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Confer was buried on Tuesday; Rev. Brown, of Spring Mills, officiated.

Rev. Reirick, wife and son, of Centre Hall, were callers in our town Friday evening.

Mrs. Alexander and son, of Millin Co., spent a few days with her son, Dr. H. S. Alexander.

Miss Blanch Tressler, of Linden Hall, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Stover for two weeks.

If you have any photos you want enlarged call on James Stover; he is soliciting for one of the largest firms in Pennsylvania.

Our merchant, Frank McCoy, is spending his vacation at Atlantic City. We wish him a good time.

Mrs. Mary Johnson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arney, of Centre Hall. Clark little weats a broad smile and says its a girl.

Romola.

On Tuesday, August 14th, the many friends, relatives and acquaintances, by previous arrangement, assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Robb, of Romola. When the first arrived Mrs. Robb was engaged at the baking in the forenoon. Others came so rapidly that at first she was surprised and soon realized that her birthday had come to celebrate her birthday were there and long tables were soon erected in the yard and were heaped full of all the toothsome eatables that the best skill could provide. Music, short addresses by Rev. Lewis Robb, of Altoona, and other pastimes made it a pleasant afternoon. Among those present from a distance were the following: Harry Walters, wife and daughter, of Lock Haven; Harry Packer, wife and two sons, Mrs. Thomas Thomas, Mrs. John Weber, Mrs. Wm. Holter, Mrs. David Holter, Henry Thompson and wife, Jac Robb and family, of Howard; Mrs. Stitzman, Williamsport; J. W. Gunsallis, Nittany; Miss Sadie Michtley, Snyderstown; G. D. Glosner and family, B. F. Vonada and wife, J. C. Nolon and wife, Mrs. J. S. Martin and daughter, H. E. Harter and wife, C. E. Yearick and wife, E. Ertley and wife and Mrs. C. M. Fox, of Walker; Misses Talitha and Maggie Hoy, Hubersburg; Mrs. Harry Glosner, Mrs. Christ Robb, Mrs. Irwin Clark, Mrs. Hayes Strunk, Blanchard; Michael Heaton and wife, Yarnell; Rev. Lewis Robb, of Altoona. All enjoyed the day very much. Mrs. Robb received many fine and useful presents. Everyone was invited to come back and spend another day with this happy couple.

Coburn.

Came at last—rain.

Miss Mary A. Garthoff is spending several weeks in the beautiful town of Rebersburg.

William H. Witmyer, working at Lewisburg, is in our town looking after his home affairs.

Miss Birdie Wolfe was a pleasant visitor at the home of Daniel Meyer.

W. T. Meyer, of the Quaker City, was in town tuning pianos.

The scribe of High valley says he must have more natural gas, the wells in High valley are dry. Come down into our good little town and get all the gas you want, especially at the east end. Quite recently he, the scribe, had two debates and became the victor each time on account of not giving any other man the chance. In his peroration he said, "Who wishes to kiss a woman with a mustache or a beard?" No answer came.

The recently organized water company at this place will begin work today. The water will be brought from the stream on the Barlow timber tract ¼ of a mile south of town.

DIED:—Mrs. Susan Auman, of Green Brier, on Tuesday morning, at the age of seventy-six years. Interment at the Mountain church on Thursday forenoon.

Zion.

Mrs. Hannah Lutz is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. John Rocky are enjoying a trip to Atlantic City at present.

The Sunday School will picnic at Hecla Park on Saturday.

Harvest Home services will be held on Sunday morning in the Lutheran church.

Miss Sadie Dorman will leave for Allentown the beginning of September, where she will enter the Ladies Seminary.

Mrs. C. T. Hoy is on the sick list.

Miss Faria Shaffer, after spending a week in Philadelphia, returned home on Thursday.

PUBLIC OPINION.

Opinions From Various Sources on Questions of Public Interest.

President McKinley seems to have two backbones. One of chocolate eclair for the trusts, the other of adamant and Harveyized steel for the Boer peace envoys.—St. Louis Republic.

Is it not about time that the McKinley administration allowed the supreme court to pass upon the question of how far the constitution extends and how much it amounts to, anyway?—Boston Post.

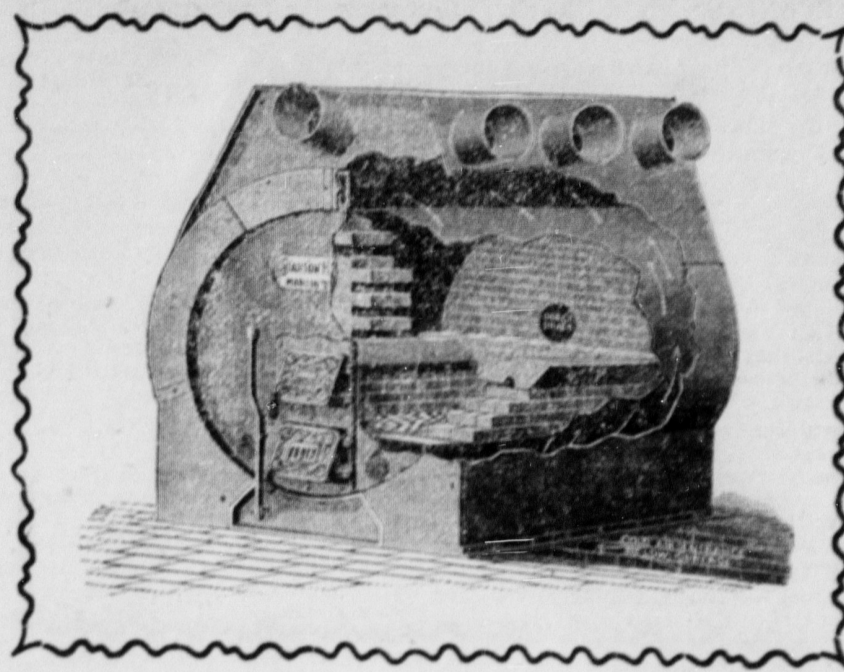

The attempts of President McKinley to suppress the pernicious activity of federal officeholders reminds us of the strenuous effort of the average man who has picked up a $20 bill in the street to discover the owner.—Richmond (Va.) News.

Col. Guffey, who was chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation at the Kansas City convention, and with 68 votes back of him active and influential in its proceedings, states the political situation tersely in advising Democrats. "In this campaign," Col. Guffey says, "it is not a question of finance, but of preservation of the republic as it stands today under the constitution the people would have no voice in monetary affairs or anything else. The duty of Democrats is clearly defined. If we cannot succeed with this platform and with Bryan and Stevenson as candidates, it will plainly show that the American people no longer want a democracy, but are in favor of an empire."—Pittsburg Post.

I know how feeble is a single voice amid the din and tempest, this delirium of empire. It may be that the battle for this day is lost. But I have an assured faith in the future. I have an assured faith in justice and in the love of liberty of the American people. The stars in their courses fight for freedom. The ruler of the heavens is on that side. If the battle today go against it I appeal to another day not distant and sure to come. I appeal from the clapping of hands and the stamping of feet and the brawling and the shouting to the quiet chamber where the fathers gathered in Philadelphia. I appeal from the spirit of trade to the spirit of liberty. I appeal from the empire to the republic. I appeal from the millionaire and the boss and the wire puller and the manager to the statesman of the older time, in whose eyes a guinea never glistened, who lived and died poor and who left to his children and his countrymen a good name, far better than riches. I appeal from the present to the future and the past.—Senator George F. Hoar, Rep.
