HAPPENINGS IN CENTRE CO

What Our Army of Alert Correspondents See and Observe Worthy of Note—The Local Happenings of Every Community.

Roland.

Fred Rolfe one of Mill Hall's young men, visited his friend William Stoner on Saturday. He seemed to be very much "appreciated" by some of our young ladies.

A few of our society people were very pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Leathers, at their home in Mt. Eagle.

Elery Harvey and family of Williamsport, are the guests of Mr. Harvey's brother, Irvin and family at this place.

Things are becoming quite musical on (Broadway) of late. A new piano and guitar made their appearance there last week. We have also learned that a violin and mandolin may have been seen there also. Friends what is this all about?

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Morrison were Sunday visitors at the Parker home.

A number of young people were entertained by Miss Sara Neff on Saturday evening, it being her sixteenth birthday.

Clarence Bathurst who has been working at Warriors Mark for some time, returned to his home last week for a short vacation.

Joe Barger, who was "grubbing" all last week at Millsburg is "gating" it this week at Mt. Eagle.

A number of our young men attended Hi Henry's minstrel show, at Bellefonte, last Friday.

ROLAND NO. 2.

After a very serious illness we are glad to say Mrs. McMinn is very much improved.

Mrs. Emma Bathurst is very sick.

Some of our prominent Epworth Leaguers expect to attend the sub-district convention, which will convene at Howard this week.

Bruce Schreffler is quite a successful teacher, giving night lessons on the guitar.

Forest VanValin, of Unionville, is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Frank Smith.

Linden Hall.

Up with Bryanism—down with Imperialism.

The farmers of this vicinity brought their cattle from the mountain on Saturday last. The cattle were all in good condition.

Luther Royer and wife entertained some of their many friends on Sunday.

Franklin Floray, of Tusseyville, was noticed on our streets, on Friday last.

Robt McClellan and wife, visited friends and relatives at Tusseyville on Sunday.

The water famine, in this community, has reached such an extent that it can only be checked by abundant rain.

Mrs. Felding and her accomplished daughter Sadie, are at present visiting friends in George's Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. David Frantz, of Cambria county, were visiting at the residence of Frank McClintic, east of town, several days of last week.

Amos Fehl and son Noah, of Rebersburg, are staying at the residence of Henry Zeigler, east of town, at present.

Miss Katie Fehl, of Rebersburg, who, while visiting with her uncle Henry Zeigler, was seized with typhoid fever, is not improved much.

The sale last Saturday, of the personal property belonging to the Sparr estate, was well patronized, and many of the buyers were made happy by gaining possession of old relics such as "grandfather" clock, spinning wheel, homespun linen etc.

Don't forget the dedicatory services to be held in the U. E. church at this place, beginning on Oct. 12th. Several prominent ministers, from a distance will be present. Services commence on Friday evening and continue over Sunday. Come one and all and enjoy a feast of good things.

Wolf's Store.

A. B. Wolf's little boy, who was thrown from a horse last week and had his arm broken, is getting along as well as can be expected.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Brungart died last Friday. We did not learn when it was buried. It was about three weeks old.

ANNOUNCEMENT:—Rev. Leopold, P. E., will hold communion services in Esber Evangelical church at this place next Sunday afternoon, Oct. 14th, at 2 o'clock. Rev. N. J. Dubs will preach in the United Evangelical church Sunday evening, Oct. 14th, at 7 o'clock. Let the attendance be good at these services.

J. C. Auman was to Laurelton on business last Saturday.

Mrs. Lena Royer left this week for State College where she will work this winter.

Jeremiah Brungart was the first in our midst to finish corn husking. He is so glad that he has volunteered to take his men to the county fair next week.

Hannah.

Mrs. Florence Hoover spent a few days recently with relatives and friends in Tyrone.

Mrs. J. W. Beck with has been seriously ill for some time past, but is slowly improving at this writing.

James Herdman who has been working at Hannah for some time, has moved his household goods from Johnstown, and located at this place.

A little stranger came to the home of Thomas Beck with last Saturday. Tom looks very much pleased, says it's a boy, and thinks he will keep it.

Sammy says he sleeps so much better out in the open air. This is probably the reason the white horse continued his tramp, tramp, tramp, up and down the road one night last week until a late hour. Now Sammy don't get mad, we will not give you away, but advise David to see you safely home next time.

Moshannon.

Mrs. Lawhead, of Clearfield, visited friends here last week.

Mrs. Jennie Viehdorfer made a trip to Bellefonte on Thursday.

Mrs. Miley Kidd left last Friday for her new home at Punxsutawney.

Edw. Yeager and wife, of DuBois, visited at the home of his parents during the past week.

Boston Viehdorfer and niece, Annie Hess, left on Saturday evening for Huntington where they will visit friends before going to their new home in West Virginia.

There was preaching in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening by their new minister, Rev. Carson.

Edward Rupp spent a few days here this week.

Several of Bellefonte's lawyers transacted business here last Wednesday.

Mrs. Keeliker who has been ailing for several years died at her home near this place on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Bierly has been very sick the past two weeks.

Quite a number of the young men, of Snow Shoe, attended the festival at this place last Saturday evening. The girls were delighted to see you. Come again boys.

Port Matilda.

On Saturday evening last quite a delegation of the I. O. O. F. of Philipsburg, visited the Port Matilda lodge.

Rev. G. A. Sparks, the newly appointed pastor of the U. B. church at this place, will preach his introductory sermon at Black Oak chapel, on next Sabbath, Oct. 14th at 10 o'clock. Every body invited.

Tommy Patton, the huckster, is all smiles since a twelve pound boy has come to his fireside.

Died near Flat Rock, Wednesday, October 3, 1900, of kidney disease, Wallace Frantz, aged 29 years, 9 months and 6 days. The deceased was ailing for over one year gradually growing weaker under kind nursing and able medical treatment. He endured his suffering without complaint until the end. He is survived by a wife and 3 small children, a father and three brothers and four sisters, his mother having preceded him to the grave some years since. Interment was made in Black Oak cemetery. The funeral was large, Rev. G. W. Downing pastor of the Baptist church, officiated in a very impressive manner.

Potters Mills.

Miss Rena and Catharyne Shires, of Spring Mills, called on their friend, Miss May Smith.

Miss Blanch Heckman returned to Sunbury, Saturday.

James Durst is improving, is able to be about again.

Emil Smith has received a new supply of goods; give him a call.

Corn husking and cider making are the principal occupations at present.

Mrs. Catharyne Alexander and Mrs. Lena Smith are visiting M. L. Smith, of Johnstown, and also are taking in the centennial celebration at that place.

The rural free delivery scheme is bitterly opposed on this side of the valley.

The parties who visited John Auman's chicken house, the other night, had better "look a little out."

J. W. Kepler, democratic nominee for assembly, was shaking hands with his many friends here last week. Mr. Kepler is a man of ability and abundantly able to fill the office of assemblyman. Vote for Kepler.

Spring Mills.

Rain is greatly needed; the streams are still getting less.

The last, but not the least, Centre Co. fair. This end of the valley will be well represented if the weather will permit.

J. W. Kepler, of Ferguson twp., candidate for assembly, passed through here on his way to Penn twp. Mr. Kepler is worthy of every democratic vote in the county.

The Shaffer & Homan saw mill on the Krape tract, is running full time. They are turning out the finest kind of pine and oak lumber.

The man who can deliberately pass a dog fight on the street without glancing at it, possesses true dignity.

The farmers are busy husking corn. The yield is a good one; quality the best.

J. B. Mayer & Sons made their fall delivery of tombstones and monuments. They are up to date in style and workmanship.

J. I. Condo has been on the grunt list—not able to work, but not sick enough to be housed up.

Some houses have wings, but they don't fly.

Julian.

Edward Williams, the third son of Elijah Williams, died on Monday at half past twelve o'clock at his home near Julian. He had been ill some time with that dreaded typhoid fever. It is said indeed to see men cut down in the very prime of manhood, he being in his 27th year, and we verily believe that during his entire life he never did or said a thing to wound one of God's creatures. Gentle in his manner, noble in his character, his life passes and leaves but the memory of a true son and brother. He was buried from his home at half-past ten o'clock on Wednesday. Surviving him are his father and the following brothers and sisters: Elmer, Orlando and Bird; Mary, wife of Wm. Davis, of Youngstown, O.; Deborah, wife of J. C. Andrews; and Nora and Stella at home.

MOHAWK REMEDY CO., Rome, N.Y.

Yarnell.

Geo. Brown, who has been seriously ill, is getting better.

Miss Elsie Poorman left for Clearfield last Tuesday.

The handsome brick house of Wm. Shawley's is almost completed.

Mrs. Ira Confer, who has been ill for the past week, is much improved at this writing.

One of our young ladies, who spent the summer in town, returned home recently, and seeing some red berries on a rose bush said, "Why papa are those cherries on that tree?"

Mr. Sparr, of Williamsburg, was looking after his lumber interests in this place on Monday.

On the account of the intended partner of W. D. Walker, in the tailoring business, being under age, he was forced to abandon it and go to teaching school.

W. E. Brown, our hustling merchant, is putting up a large end to his store that will almost double his floor capacity.

One of our young men, who escorted his lady home after church, was ejected from the house by her father, and he took it in the best of humor. But, afterwards, when his stepmother locked the door on him he burst the door in and blacked both of her eyes. He should receive the full penalty of the law. Moral:—Never strike a woman with your fist, always get a pole ax.

YARNELL NO. 2.

N. A. Confer and wife have returned home from their wedding trip at DuBois. The calithumpians rendered some choice music for the young couple.

The corn husking at T. H. Malone's was well attended, also a good old fashioned hop in the evening. Every one reports having a good time.

The people of this community feel that they can boast of the pugilists that came together the other night. They ought soon to be able to enter the ring. One got knocked out in the second round with a black eye for a couple of days, and the other a trip to town.

The farmers are busy husking corn. It is not a very large crop on account of the dry weather.

Some of our young men report business real good up the line, during the past couple of weeks.

J. A. Confer reports having a good time at the reunion, which the relatives held at DuBois.

W. B. Confer has secured employment at Clearfield, where he expects to move in the near future. J. R. Confer will take charge of his farm.

W. F. Powell is thinking of getting his life insured.

James Heaton has purchased a small tract of land adjoining W. M. Yarnell.

The people of this locality do not fear the law in the least. They are hunting every day, but keep pretty well hid from the man who pretends to be game warden. But he is the same in detective business as in other business—too slow to stop quick.

T. W. Croft is thinking of going to Johnstown to work for a week.

W. T. Fetzer purchased a fine large bay mare last week.

James McClintic returned home from Cross Forks to attend his sister's wedding, but expects to go back soon.

Chas. Shawley made his usual trip to Wm. Eckley's Saturday evening.

Nittany.

Some of our sports expect to go to Clintondale, tomorrow evening, to a literary society which is being held at that place, every week.

William McKibben and wife of Mackeyville, were the guests of William Emericks, on Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Beck left on Monday for Lock Haven to visit friends. From there she will go to Williamsport to see her daughter Grace, who is learning to become a trained nurse at the Williamsport hospital.

On Saturday evening there will be a democratic meeting at Hubersburg, so let all our staunch democrats turn out and take it in. The speakers will be J. C. Meyer and H. S. Taylor. You should not fail to hear them, and whoop her up for Bryan.

We noticed N. H. Yearick and wife, of Walker, passed through our town on Monday.

Frank Butler, of Walker, was in our town on Sunday. Frank says our girls are all right.

J. C. Bartley visited friends at Hubersburg, on Sunday.

Our new landlord, R. F. Emerick, has been entertaining quite a lot of people of late. He knows how to do it all right, so while passing through Nittany you should stop with him and be convinced.

Mrs. Charles Robb and children, of Bellefonte, are visiting friends through here.

Miss Carrie Sheats has returned home from near Lamar where she had been working for some time.

Some of our farmers are hunting potatoes and nubbins, while others are thrashing and hunting their cattle which they put in the mountain in the spring.

Charles Beck's sale was largely attended on Saturday, and articles that were sold brought fairly good prices, considering the McKinley times.

This place was favored with a good refreshing rain, on Sunday night and Monday.

Most of our people are talking of going to the fair, while some of our sports will go hunting, instead.

Zion.

Pawnee, hereafter tie your old blind horse and don't let him run off on the mountains and then have poor Miller searching for him day and night.

Miss Amanda Yearick is at present living with Epley Gentzels.

Miss Lizzie Haines, of Lock Haven, is visiting with her uncle, Mr. Ed Gehhart.

Conrad Lesh lost a valuable horse last week.

Miss Mary Stover, of Pleasant Gap, is paying her grandma, Mrs. James Hull, a visit.

Thomas Hazel has gone to Philipsburg, where he has secured employment in the brick yards.

Misses Mary C. Strubbe and Grace

Garbrick have returned home from Ill., where they were visiting with friends for seven weeks.

Last Sunday morning a pleasant little lady registered at the Gentzel home in Zion; the proprietor said she could stay as long as she paid in advance.

Linden Hall.

Mrs. Ned Sellers, of Oak Hall, made a call in our town last week.

Mrs. Cunningham and her two children, of Natrona, are visiting at Mrs. Lonerberger's.

Philip Bradford caught a coon last week, which caused great attraction among the boys.

On last Wednesday Mrs. Ripka had a quilting party, where quite a few were invited.

A certain person of this place uses a J. I. C. bit on a horse that does not need it, and has for its master a kid that is very cruel to the animal. This cruelty must be stopped.

Corn husking time is now here, and there will be a large crop.

Clyde Bradford and wife visited his brother, Philip, over Sunday.

Protracted meeting will begin on Friday evening in the new church. Rev. Brown, of Green Grove church, will be there to preach on that night.

Walker.

Prof. D. H. Martin and wife are visiting her sister, Mrs. Allen, of Pittsburgh. Wm. Deitz, Jr., is able to be out again after a long confinement to bed with typhoid fever.

Miss Sue Long is suffering with a paralytic stroke which has kept her confined to her bed for several weeks.

Wm. Lowry and family spent Sunday of last week visiting above Bellefonte.

Mrs. Armagast, of Buffalo Run, visited her sister, Miss Sue Long, last week.

Mrs. Isiah Yearick and her lady friend visited Mr. Yearick's father and sister, Mrs. Chas. Bitner.

John Hoy, Jr., above Jacksonville, who was injured by a tree falling on him, breaking his collar bone and smashing his shoulder, is getting along as well as can be expected.

"I am getting mighty tired picking up pieces of soap that are thrown out around this house. The very first time I go to town I am going to get a box of Ivory Soap that floats on the water so you can see it."

IVORY SOAP—IT FLOATS.
