There are plenty of individuals in the town to whom the few lines are appropriate, but as a community it is misapplied. In order to please David we publish the verses, which he claims are from his pen, and that he is filled with more of it He long ago was inspired by the muses and claims intimacy with Bayard Taylor and other notables.

Held In $1,000 Bail.

Mrs. William Bartley who resides on a farm near Jacksonville, on last Friday in company with some friends attended the Centre County Fair. While walking along the Midway she felt a twitch at her dress and discovered that her pocketbook was gone. She noticed a stranger hurrying away through the crowd and notified her son Charles, who with county detective J. W. Rightmour, arrested the man but no trace of the pocketbook was found. Later in the day Mrs. Bush, wife of Dr. Bush, the veterinary surgeon, picked up the pocketbook on the ground near where Mrs. Bartley lost it. The owner's name was in it together with $3.00 in money and a bunch of keys.

Mrs. Bartley and her two sons positively identified the man on Monday before Justice Harshberger. The theory of the police is that when he discovered that Mrs. Bartley missed her pocketbook he at once threw it away. It is said that a sister of Mrs. Bartley saw the man throw the pocketbook away.

The Justice regarded the evidence as sufficiently strong to hold the prisoner in the sum of $1,000 for trial at the November term of court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Williams is a man about 35 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighs about 135 pounds and gave his home as Pittsburg.

In the presence of a few intimate friends Miss Maud Thomas, daughter of J. L. Thomas and Lee Green, of Brooklyn, were married on Oct. 3rd at the home of the bride at Milesburg, by the Rev. Richard Wharton, of the M. E. Church. Mr. and Mrs. Green will make their home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Gloves are coming in handy.

THE BIG FAIR IS OVER.

If there was one event over which the people of this county were interested it was the opening of the new fair ground at this place last week. During the past year it was the topic of conversation and to have it realized in a successful manner was more than gratifying to all concerned as well as the public at large.

Thursday was an immense day in point of attendance as there were no less than ten to twelve thousand people on the ground and the weather could not have been more inviting for the occasion. The balloon ascension and the parachute drop, particularly, was a success. The other entertainments were appreciated. The races were fine and the object of the greatest attention. Nineteen horses plied the turf in three events, while it took six heats to decide the 2.27 class, when it was won by Sue Patchen by one half a heat. Best time made 2.23 1/4. Dot C. won the 2.35 class by half a length in three straight heats, best time 2.26 1/4, while Sallie Derby won three straight heats in the 2.18 class, best time 2.19 1/4.

The attendance on Friday was not quite as large as the former day, but there were a great many people on the ground from adjoining towns to see the closing events as some of the best horses in the country were on hand for the prizes. The free-for-all, the greatest race of the week, took place and Ainsworth lowered the track record made by Dick W. during centennial week down to 2.15. The race in the 2.30 class was also very interesting. Dot C. and Albert ran a dead heat for the first place in the second heat of the race. In the running race Frances M. won, time 58. Susie House was second and Pearl B. third.

The managers of the enterprise are satisfied with the results of the opening, and realize that there are opportunities for improvement in many ways. They will profit by their experience and next year there will be more to attract and entertain. One of the redeeming features of the fair is that the farmers from over the county can come to this fair and there will be no danger of meeting all kinds of skin games to fleece them out of their money. The management could have realized considerable revenue by licensing this kind of games, but they preferred to do without, and for that they are to be complimented.

Wedding Announced.

Cards were issued Wednesday announcing the approaching wedding of Miss Myra Holliday, step-daughter of Col. J. L. Spangler and daughter of Mrs. Spangler, of this place, to Dr. Albert Engles Blackburn, of Philadelphia. The ceremony will occur in the Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, on November 7. Rev. Dr. William Laurie, D. D., LL. D., pastor of the church, will officiate. A reception will follow at the residence of Colonel and Mrs. Spangler. Miss Holliday is one of Bellefonte's accomplished and popular young women. She is a graduate of State college and also of Wilson college, Chambersburg. He is a native of Bedford county; was educated at Swarthmore and graduated in medicine from the Medico-Chirurgical college, Philadelphia. For two years he was resident physician in the Presbyterian hospital of that city, and is now a visiting physician there and gives lectures tri-weekly. The wedding here will be among the notable events of the year, the contracting parties being well known in society throughout the state. For three days previous to the wedding Colonel and Mrs. Spangler will entertain a house party of young people, including the maid of honor, six bridesmaids, best man and ushers.

Farmer's Institutes.

In Huntingdon county institutes will be held in Marklesburg, December 14 and 15, and in Calvin, December 17 and 18. G. G. Hutchinson, of Warrior's Mark, is chairman. Juniata county will have institutes at East Salem, February 4 and 5, and at Port Royal, February 6 and 7. Matthew Rodgers, of Mexico, will preside. Mifflin county's institutes will be held at McVeytown, December 19 and 20, and at Belleville, December 21. D. Notestine, of Lewistown, will preside.

A Mockery.

The burial of a woman for three days alive, now an attraction for morbid minds, at a dime for a peep down into the grave, is a sacrilegious burlesque upon the solemnity of death, and but a mockery of the tomb in which we can only see a sacrilegious play upon the burial of the Savior and his resurrection the third day. This traveling abomination should not be permitted to make its mocking exhibit in any community and should be classed with prize fights, bull fights and such.

Were Released.

Last week, at the U. S. District Court at Pittsburg two men were charged with robbing the post office at Centre Hall, about two months ago. About a half dozen witnesses were there from Centre Hall, but there was not sufficient testimony to hold them, and they were discharged.

Dale-Scholl.

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 17, at 6 p. m., at the Bush House, Bellefonte, by Rev. G. W. Leisher, Clement C. Dale, of Oak Hall, and Miss Carrie Scholl, of Houserville.

Don't thee wed for money, friend;
For money hath a sting;
Don't thee wed a pretty face;
'Tis but a foolish thing;
Don't thee wed for place nor fame;
'Twill disappoint thy hope;
But when thee marries, choose a girl
Who uses Ivory Soap.

IT FLOATS.
