

WAITING FOR KRUGER.

Frenchmen Will Welcome the Defeated Transvaal President.

ENGLAND WILL NOT BE INSULTED.

Officials Have Made Extensive Preparations to Prevent a Demonstration Against "a Nation With Which We Are at Peace."

Marseilles, Nov. 21.—Former President Kruger, of the Transvaal republic will probably land here tomorrow, instead of today. Bad weather is reported in the Mediterranean and the Dutch cruiser Gelderland, on which he is a passenger, may hug the coast of the Gulf of Genoa in preference to heading direct for Marseilles, so as to avoid the cross seas. She will thus reach this port this evening. Every preparation, however, had been made for Mr. Kruger's possible landing this morning.

It is certain that Mr. Kruger's arrival here will be the occasion for a great popular demonstration along the route from the dock to the hotel, which is situated on the principal boulevard, known as the Canobbore. It is equally certain that the formal proceedings, receptions, etc., will not be invested with the great importance, owing to the abstention from them of the prefect, mayor and other functionaries in their official capacity.

A surprise came yesterday in the shape of the arrival here of Eloff, Mr. Kruger's private secretary, who left the Gelderland at Port Said and came ahead on the French steamer Laos. Eloff left Mr. Kruger in perfect health and spirits. The former president occupies three bright cabins, situated in the stern of the Gelderland. His dining room is decorated with portraits of the Dutch royal family, a picture of Queen Wilhelmina having the place of honor.

The Boer delegates, Messrs. Fischer, Wessels and Grobler, who have also arrived here, expressed to the press representatives their earnest wish to have the American people with them in their efforts to secure a termination of the war. They said they knew Mr. Kruger also appreciated American sympathy. The delegates, however, were unable to say exactly what Mr. Kruger will decide to do after landing in France.

"The crowd in the streets to witness the arrival of Mr. Kruger," said the prefect of the department today, "will probably exceed 100,000, which is a fifth of the population of Marseilles. Nevertheless no disorder, in my opinion, will occur. The sympathies of the inhabitants are undoubtedly with the Boers, and Mr. Kruger will receive a rousing reception; but, except for a few isolated cries against England, which it will be impossible to prevent, but which will be promptly repressed, if the peaceful character of the demonstration seems likely to be in any way jeopardized, we expect nothing that would offend the English. We live here on the best terms with the English colony, and wish to remain so. Mr. Kruger will meet with such an official reception as is always given to the chief of a state when traveling incognito."

M. Flaisieres, the mayor of Marseilles, expressed himself in similar terms, but this optimism is not shared entirely by some members of the English colony, who have discerned paid agents in the Anglophobe cause among some of the recent arrivals.

The prefect, however, is known to be an energetic man, and he has taken strong military precautions. The garrison, numbering about 6,000 men, will be held in readiness, but out of sight, at the infantry barracks, in close proximity to the British consulate.

The Boer delegates fully appreciate the disadvantage accruing to their cause from the fact that the French welcome to Mr. Kruger is mainly engineered by the anti-ministerial party, thus detracting immediately from its political importance.

Messrs. Fischer and Wessels expressed regret at the partisan character which the demonstration is assuming. They compared it with their welcome in the United States by the Democrats, which, they declared, had prejudiced the Republicans against them. Both insisted, however, that the result of the American elections have in no way modified their hope that the United States would yet support the Boer cause.

Marseilles itself, except for the presence of Boers, pro-Boer deputations and journalists, does not bear the aspect of a city about to indulge in a great demonstration. Hardly a flag is visible anywhere. Some notion of the feeling of the inhabitants may be gathered from the appearance of an article in a local paper comparing Mr. Kruger to Christ.

River Engineers on Strike.

Pittsburg, Nov. 21.—The members of Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, No. 39, of Pittsburg, were called out on strike yesterday. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company refused to sign the wage scale of the association, which has precipitated the first strike of the kind in the history of the rivers of the west and south. The association has a membership of 200, and more than half of the marine engineers of Pittsburg belong to it. The firemen's association endorsed the strike, and will aid the engineers in every way possible.

Mrs. Bernhardt Here Again.

New York, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Sarah Bernhardt and M. Constant Coquelin and their large company of actors arrived here yesterday on L'Aquitaine. The vessel had a rough trip, meeting heavy seas all the way across. Mrs. Bernhardt, who looked to be in the best of health, said she was glad to revisit this country, as she expects to write a great deal of America in her memoirs, which she is now preparing.

China's Dowager Empress For War.

London, Nov. 21.—"It is credibly reported," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, under yesterday's date, "that the empress dowager has telegraphed a secret decree warning all governors and viceroys to prepare for immediate war against the allies everywhere."

DEATH OF CHARLES H. HOYT.

The Well Known Playwright a Victim of Paresis.

Charlestown, N. H., Nov. 21.—Charles H. Hoyt, the well known playwright, died at his residence here last night of paresis, from which he had been suffering for several months past. After his return to Charlestown, after his release from a private asylum in

THE LATE CHARLES H. HOYT.

Hartford by order of the court early in August, it had been known by his attendants and nearest friends that his condition was serious, and that there was little or no chance for his recovery, but Mr. Hoyt apparently had seemed hopeful of ultimate recovery. Mr. Hoyt had no relatives here, and during his sickness had been attended by Drs. Brooks, of Charlestown, and Billings, of Concord, two trained nurses and Dr. Davis, who had served as his valet for the past seven or eight years. These, together with Hon. James O. Lyford, his legal guardian, were in attendance at the time of his death.

SIX KILLED BY A TORNADO.

It Strikes in a Section of Tennessee and North Mississippi.

La Grange, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A tornado struck this town last night, causing much damage and killing three persons outright. The dead are W. C. Moody and two negro women. Edward Smith, southern railway agent, was seriously injured. The storm made its appearance shortly after midnight, and swept everything in its path. Eight residences and three churches were destroyed. The damage to cotton in the boll will be great.

The tornado also visited north Mississippi, causing loss of life and much property damage. Reports from Lulu, Tunica county, state that three negroes were killed, their bodies having been carried a distance of three miles by the wind. Many buildings were razed to the ground and the damage to crops cannot now be estimated.

A Recluse to the End of Life.

Brookville, Ind., Nov. 21.—Miss Phoebe Meeks, the famous recluse, is dead at her home here, aged 85. Sixty years ago she was disappointed in love and she made a resolution to cut herself off from the world. So far as known from that day she never left her house, and, notwithstanding there is a railroad within 100 yards of her home, she absolutely refused to look at the cars. The windows and doors on the ground floor of the little brick house were closed, and the only communication Miss Meeks held with the outside world during recent years was through a small aperture in one of the doors, where the necessities of life were passed in by a woman employed by the recluse.

Has McAlister Confessed?

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 21.—A call made by the Rev. Dr. Magie, of Walter McAlister, who is one of the men in jail for the murder of Jennie Bosschler, gave rise to a rumor that McAlister had confessed. Dr. Magie said in answer to questions: "I did call at the jail, and had a talk with Walter McAlister, but I consider myself in honor bound as a clergyman to hold his confidence sacred." A Paterson newspaper prints a statement purporting to be given by McAlister to a friend in which the prisoner takes exception to the tone in which he says the newspapers have been discussing the case, and says the evidence will shed another light on the matter.

Wage Dispute Satisfactorily Settled.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 21.—At a conference last evening between District Manager A. B. Carter, of Wheeling, representing the company, and Assistant Secretary M. F. Tigue, of Pittsburg, representing the Amalgamated Association, the differences existing in regard to the wage scale at that plant were adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned. The company recently proposed a reduction of 33 per cent, which the men declined. The settlement provides for a reduction of 25 per cent, and the mills will resume tomorrow or Friday. The change in wages is really not a reduction, as the modern reconstruction of the mills has largely increased the output.

New York, Nov. 21.—Cornelius L. Alford, Jr., former note taker in the First National bank, who is accused of embezzling $600,000 from that institution, was held yesterday to await the action of the grand jury. It is understood that Alford will be indicted immediately, and that his case will be put on the calendar for the term beginning the second Wednesday in December.

The Britons' Thirst For Gold.

HELD CITIZENS AT BAY.

Bold Robbers Attempt to Loot a Bank at Ashley, O.

THEY LEFT WITHOUT THE CASH.

Stolen Horses Ran Away and the Men Escaped After Having Done $25,000 Damage to the Building by the Use of Dynamite.

Delaware, O., Nov. 21.—A dozen professional bank robbers made a desperate attempt to secure the contents of the money vault of Sperry & Warnstaff's deposit bank, at Ashley, ten miles north of here, before daylight yesterday. While nine stood on guard holding the citizens at bay with their guns, three operated the dynamite under the deposit vault of the brick building. The bank's property is worth $50,000, and there was $15,000 in cash deposited on hand.

Four attempts were made to get the cash, but the side door held to its combination, while the guards outside were shooting at the citizens, who pressed closely in upon them. Two merchants, first upon the scene, were met by the robbers at the point of guns and bade not to move. The robbers had stolen a horse and spring wagon and a black team and surrey from farmers near by. The rigs were in front of the bank, ready for flight. The horses ran away, demolishing the vehicles, when the men took across the country on foot. The damage to the bank building, vault and other property is about one-half its value.

The gang left a Big Four freight train at Marengo at 1 a. m., stole the horses and reached Ashley shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning. They pried open the bank doors without being discovered, but the first explosion of dynamite aroused the town. The robbers fired as they fled, but no one was hurt. The men were masked, and have not been captured.

Duke of Manchester Wants No Dowry With His Bride.

He has not asked and does not hope for a dowry with the lady. The duke is a bankrupt, and his father-in-law is worth many millions.

ACCUSED MINISTER OUT ON BAIL.

The Only Charge Against Him at Present is Abortion.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 21.—When Rev. D. E. Stuart, the Baptist clergyman who was arrested at Philadelphia Monday night on the charge of murdering his wife and performing an abortion upon her, was brought to Wilkesbarre yesterday he was surrounded by reporters as soon as he alighted from the train, but he flatly refused to say anything about the charges preferred against him. The only thing he did say was that he was pleased over the arrest, as it would prove his innocence.

Then he asked to see a lawyer and was hustled to the offices of Attorneys McQuade and Feist, who took charge of the case and advised him not to say a word to any one, and he has obeyed them since then.

Stuart was taken to Wyoming, before Squire Hess. Only the charge of abortion was preferred at this hearing, that of murder being reserved for a few days. Stuart pleaded not guilty, and his counsel at once "spragged" the proceedings by waiving a hearing, claiming that the offense was a misdemeanor and was bailable. The justice thereupon admitted Stuart to bail in the sum of $1,500 for a hearing this afternoon. The ball was furnished by John De Wolfe, with whom Stuart formerly boarded.

Big Silk Mills to Close Down.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 21.—The Pioneer silk company, the oldest concern of its kind in the city, will, it is stated, ask for the appointment of a receiver this afternoon to wind up its affairs. The company has mills here and at Allentown, Pa. It is stated that the business of the company has been decreasing for some time past, but it will be able to pay off in full all indebtedness. The closing of the mills will throw out of employment 2,000 hands. The mills were founded by the late John Pyle.

Senator Davis' Illness.

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—A quiet day was passed by United States Senator Davis, his condition last evening being reported unchanged. The delirium, it is understood, continues, and this is his worst symptoms. While at times his friends are encouraged to believe that he has conquered the destructive agency in his blood, a little later they are compelled to believe that Senator Davis is fighting a battle which he cannot win. Just now symptoms are slightly encouraging.

DR. J. K. STITES.

EAR, NOSE, THROAT AND LUNG SCIENTIST
Offices, No. 21 N. Allegheny street, Bellefonte, Pa.

Bronchial Troubles are not nearly so prevalent in Southern climates as in the North. The reason for this is that in a mild climate the inflammation which causes the irritation in the Bronchial tubes is subdued more easily; hence the summer season, when nature is most amiable, is the very best time to treat and cure Bronchial Troubles.

In the winter the physician is called upon to correct the evils which are still acting to increase the Bronchial trouble. In the cold, raw, windy and disagreeable weather of fall, mid-winter and early spring, nature, instead of trying to free the Bronchial Tubes of the disease, offers every possible chance for them to become more diseased.

Inflammation, set up by colds in the head, irritated by dust and dirt borne by the winds, extends into the Bronchial Tubes, adds to the existing trouble and tends to undo the good that the physician is doing.

Those whose near ancestors have had Consumption have cause to fear the disease, because consumptive parents frequently hand down to their offspring weakened systems, upon which the seeds of consumption easily fasten themselves. While Bronchial trouble alone does not cause all cases of consumption, still it is Bronchial trouble that those who have consumptive ancestors have most to dread.

During the summer the bodily health usually improves to the point that the sufferer from Bronchitis finds that his trouble gets better during the warm months, for it is during the summer that nature makes an effort to undo the evils which were produced during the winter. Dr. Stites has repeatedly urged all sufferers from Bronchial troubles to see to it that they take treatment at a time when nature offers no obstacles to the cure of the disease, and when the conditions of climate assist the doctor in bringing about a cure. If the Bronchitis be cured before another winter sets in, the danger from Consumption will be so small as not to be worth considering.

But, if the Bronchial trouble be neglected, when the winter comes again, and the patient is shut up in the house, where he does not get a proper amount of fresh air, is liable at any moment to a relapse, or a realization of the horrifying fact that he has kindled in his body the wasting fires of a fatal plague.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

Has Improved So Rapidly, that He Takes Pleasure in Recommending the New Treatment to Everybody.

I have improved so rapidly during the past month, under the care of Dr. Stites, and his wonderful new Treatment, that I take pleasure in giving the following testimony that all afflicted may know of the good work the New Treatment is doing in this community. I was all run down, being a sufferer from Catarrh, hawking and spitting all the time, with continued annoying dropping in the throat. My stomach was in a distressing condition and my head was completely stopped up. All this is gone now. No more hawking nor spitting. Dropping in the throat stopped, and my stomach is in good condition, while my general health is also good. I think this is remarkable results from only one month's treatment.

Respectfully,
E. T. Roan, 109 E. Logan St.

A Severe Case of Laryngitis Being Rapidly Cured By The New Treatment.

I have suffered for some time with Hoarseness and a great distress in my throat, coughing and spitting continually. Sometimes the cough was so bad that I had a paroxysm of coughing every hour of the day, and could not sleep at night for violent and continued coughing. This made me miserable and wretched, until at length, began treating with our New Specialist, Dr. Stites, whose great New Treatment is doing wonders for me, scarcely coughing now and am greatly improved all around. Feel very much encouraged, and take pleasure in adding my testimony to the many other grateful patients of Dr. Stites.
