A MARVELOUS MEMORY

Enabled Assistant Cashier Brown to Loot Newport Bank.

SHORTAGE PLACED AT $191,000.

The Fugitive Bank Employe, Whose Salary Was Only Fifteen Hundred Dollars a Year, Often Spent More

Than That Amount in a Day.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 20.-The experts who have been working with receiver Tucker on the books of the German National bank place the shortage of Frank Brown, the missing assistant cashier and individual bookkeeper, at $191,000. According to reports from those who were with Brown when he left last Tuesday night he had less than $500 with him. Brown's salary was only $1,500 per year. Cases are now cited where he spent more than that amount in one day. His bond was for $10,000, and it is good as far as it goes

Brown's system required a wonderful memory. The experts say he carried in his head the figures that enabled him to call off correctly a lot of false entries in a way to throw the clerks who were doing the checking with him off the track. A depositor would put in $3,100. Brown would enter the proper amount of the deposit in one book and enter it as $100 in another. He would take the difference, $3,000, himself. Then when it came to checking up he would handle one of the books. Another clerk would check and Brown would call off. Instead of calling off $100, which appeared as the amount of the deposit on the book which he was handling, he would call it as $3,100, thus making it correspond with the book in the hands of the other clerk.

He also, it is alleged, worked in another way. A depositor would draw Brown would make the out $100. proper entry in one book and enter $3,100 in another. When the depositor had his account checked up the figures were taken from the book in which the correct entry had been made. When the bank officials looked to see what amount was due the depositor they were given their information from the books which showed that $3,100 had been withdrawn.

Brown had memorized all the individual accounts, and the experts find no private marks of any kind on the books. The general ledger was kept correct and balanced with the cash, while the individual ledger, it is alleged, was fixed to suit Brown's purposes, the former being the one that the bank officials examined.

The clerks of the German National bank who are working with Receiver Tucker's experts yesterday discovered another plan operated by Brown. When a check was entered Oct. 31 for $3.45 he entered it as $2,003.45 and got the benefit of $2,000. On the same date he put a two in front of an entry of $150 and got $2,000 more. The experts say that Brown repeatedly credited himself with $1,000, $2,000 and $3,000 when he did not deposit anything, but took out the amount soon afterward. Brown's books, experts say, show that he did not strike for sums less than $1,000 in anyof these transactions.

Brown, it is alleged, was living a fast life, with wine, women and gambling in his repertoire. His career was not cut short by any discovery at the 751,394; in 1890, 1,301,826. bank till a jealous woman gave him away. Brown is a widower, with one son, aged 10 years, who lives with Brown's father, Paris G. Brown, exmayor of Newport, and one of the leading business men of Cincinnati. Last summer Brown visited Yellowstone Park and a certain Cincinnati woman. it is said, wanted to accompany him, but this was denied her. When she ascertained some time afterward that another woman was with Brown on his western trip the Cincinnati woman gave the bank officials some information that brought on a crisiz.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 20.-The 193,831 population which yesterday's census announcement gives Lackawanna county advances her one peg in the matter of classification and causes a number of changes in her form of government. By passing the 150,000 mark she is entitled to two new officials, an orphans' court judge and a county controller, and changes from the fee to salary system of compensating county officers. This latter change will be vigorously opposed by the full set of county officials elected this month, as the prescribed salary is on the average not more than half what the offices would pay under the fee system.
