

HAPPENINGS ABOUT TOWN

The Local News Compiled During the Week

BRIEFLY TOLD IN A FEW LINES

Movements of Our People—Personal Mention, Society Events—What Has Transpired Worthy of Mention—Short Paragraphs.

Cold and cough cures are numerous. The new cigar case and counter in the Bush house are dandies.

A new year is near—now is a good time to begin "to turn a new leaf."

Dr. G. F. Harris and wife are in Philadelphia to remain a few weeks.

Charles Waite, a former Bellefonder, is quite ill at his home in Pitsaun, Pa.

Miss Mary Linn has returned from her recent visit to eastern towns and cities.

Miss Emma Holliday is in Philadelphia to remain all winter with her sister, Mrs. Blackburn.

Abednego Stine, of Loveville, and Mary A. Miller, of Millheim, have each been granted a pension of $3 per month.

The Bellefonte Minstrel Company are rehearsing for their appearance in the Garman Opera House during holiday week.

Bellefonte made a slight gain in population during the past ten years, not much, but still better than some of our neighbors.

The Bellefonte amateur operatic minstrels have selected New Year's night, Jan. 1st 1901, as the time for their next performance.

Charles Runkle, son of Jacob Runkle, of Bellefonte, is getting along nicely, and he will be around again, only it will take time to recuperate.

Mrs. Mary Remy, of Pine Grove Mills, was stricken with paralysis last Saturday. Her left side is partially paralyzed and her speech is affected.

The Y. P. C. U. of the United Brethren church will hold a chicken and waffle supper at the residence of David Bartlett on North Thomas street, Saturday evening.

With intelligent advertisers the question of circulation is an important one—some can't see it, spend their money and then declare that it don't pay.

J. Witmer Wolf, we are informed, will move from Centre Hall to Devon some 15 miles this side of Philadelphia, where he will go into the grocery business.

By annexing the suburbs, Bellefonte could add some 1500 to its population. May just as well have a greater Bellefonte, as a greater New York or greater Chicago.

Bellefonte merchants never had prettier display windows for any holiday season than now. You can find all the Christmas goods desired inside, without shopping in the cities.

Mrs. James P. Coburn very handsomely entertained the Bellefonte Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at her home on North Allegheny street Saturday evening.

Next Sabbath evening, in the Reformed church, Rev. Bickle's sermon will be, "Tenting on the Old Camp Grounds." In the Lutheran church, same evening, Rev. Dr. Holloway's subject will be, "At Their Wits End."

The Methodist congregation of Bellefonte will re-dedicate their church about the first Sunday in April; within the last few days it was decided to make more extended improvements, costing from $1000 to $1200 additional.

The most dreams, just now, are about Santy Claus—what will he fill my stocking with? Don't neglect a single little one and permit its Christmas expectation's being blasted and come short of its dreams, by at least some gift, be it even a small one.

Thursday afternoon last Lyon Shay, a moulder employed in the foundry of the Standard Scale works, met with an accident which may result in the loss of an eye. In some manner a wire shot back from the fire and struck him in the right eye. While the wound is a serious one Dr. Seibert is in hopes of saving the eye.

Owing to the special line of holiday advertising in the paper this season it is necessary to rearrange position of some of our regular advertisers. For that reason the regular announcement of the Globe store will be found on page four of this issue. Messrs Katz & Co. are what are known as large advertisers, they believe in telling the people each week what can be found in their store. Their customers are in the habit of looking over their advertisement each week and when they come to the store they know exactly what to ask for and what they will get. Some of our lady readers glance over the advertising column of Katz & Co. before they read any other portion of the paper. This firm knows how to reach the public and go to the leading papers of the county to do it—the ones that have the largest number of readers. By the way, don't forget that The Globe will be strictly up to date during the holiday season.

—Infant snow-squalls every day for a week.

—A "high" case—the Le-"high" case in court.

—The hunting season closed on Saturday, of this week.

—Coming "The Doctor's Warm Reception" next Monday evening.

—Restoration and re-issue of pension to Augustus V. Munson, Philipsburg, $8.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wagner Geiss are now in their new home on east Thomas street.

—Mrs. George Brandon and little daughter, of Carlisle, are visiting friends and relatives in this place.

—Naginey, the furniture dealer, has one of his front windows nicely arranged with some choice goods.

—"The Doctor's Warm Reception" will be the next attraction at the opera house on next Monday evening.

—Typhoid fever is not so prevalent in our county as it was the past summer and fall. Occasionally we hear of a mild case.

—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were full of winter snap with snow squalls threatening all the time. Everybody is saying, Well, it's the time of year for't.

—D. B. Stine, formerly of Fillmore, but now located at Clearfield, where he is employed as fireman on the New York Central R. R. was home on a short visit and called to order this paper on Tuesday.

—Ed Nearhood is another of Centre Hall's good citizens who is now located at Bellefonte and employed at Potter & Hoy's hardware. Another to quit that town and locate at Lewisburg, is grain-dealer George Ocker.

—Our humorous correspondent, at Unionville, wound himself up the past week and as a result he ground out some choice poetry. This gem should be preserved among the classics. You will find it in the correspondents' department.

—Champ Clark, the star lecturer at institute next Wednesday, has been a regular correspondent for this paper for some time. You can read his three column letter each week in the Democrat for a year, for $1, and get a great deal more besides.

—The sportsmen's League of Centre County are arranging for a live pigeon shoot, on the fair ground during holiday season. Some of the horsemen are thinking of having a few races, among local steppers. If the weather proves favorable such an event would attract a good crowd.

—"Man is an animal without feathers and walks on two legs." So says the mother-in-law in the comedy "The Doctor's Warm Reception." She makes it a very hot time for the poor biped who dares to assert any right to exist. At the Opera House Monday evening, December 17th.

—About five hundred pheasants were killed in this county this fall, saying nothing of about 100 wild turkeys (some not so darn wild either.) Then there were about 25 bears killed during the year, and upwards of 100 deer. Rabbits to the number of about 300 is the score for the season.

—John Q. Miles was in town on Wednesday and reports hunting good up in his section of the Bald Eagle, about Martha. He says he often must drive wild turkeys off his property by stoning them, and the other morning he killed two elephants before breakfast. This is no joke, either.

—Landlord Will Runkle, of Centre Hall, has sold his hotel to James W. Runkle, of Middleburg, Pa., native and former farmer in Gregg and Potter townships, who moved to Middleburg some five years ago. Will Runkle, the retiring landlord, intends leaving the town and locating elsewhere.

—Mr. Crittenden has shown us samples of his Parchment Roll representing the most ancient book and the one that Christ used in the synagogues. He has received very flattering notice in The Sunday Times. They are appropriate for Sunday School or family Christmas presents and can be obtained locally, each at Kurtz's Book Store.

—Squire John Keichline had quite a scare Saturday morning. He noticed smoke coming up from the rear of a steam heat radiator. It was first thought the fire was in the cellar but on going to the basement no fire was found. The neighbors came running in and a few buckets of water thrown behind the radiator settled the fire. A cigar had caused all the trouble. The floor had been partly charred and in a short time would have blazed up. This is one of the ways by which fires originate and are often charged to incendiarism.

—The Gazette man, chief among the tribe of hunters, does not take to the notion, as printed in the Centre Democrat last week, that West Virginia deer were coming hitherward to populate our mountain hunting grounds, an idea that is advanced by that other mighty nimrod, F. P. Musser. Let there be no "accidental" shooting among these brethren of the trigger over this question, under the belief "I didn't know it was loaded."

Rather let there be rejoicing that the deer are here anyhow, without caring where the dickens they do come from.

Leaves an old Home.

There is something touching about leaving the home of your childhood and manhood days. We are led to these remarks because they apply to a valued friend, and are an occasional incident in the path of life.

Next spring Wells Evans leaves the old Evans homestead in Gregg township, and will put in the rest of his life on the Daniel Runkle farm, a mile west of the honored homestead of his father and mother, having lately purchased the farm aforesaid. Wells was six years old when his father went upon the farm on which he spent many years. With Well's contemplated removal he will have spent forty-nine years upon the farm he is soon to remove from. His grandfather went upon this farm in 1816, and his father, James Evans, took possession of the place in 1852. Wells has now farmed the place since 1868.

When Wells has his flitting in the coming spring, well may he dedicate his new home, the first night, by having all the flitters join in singing, "Oh, the old house at home, where my forefathers dwelt."

A Child Narrowly Escapes Drowning. Thursday afternoon 6th, Maurie Jackson and two lady friends were driving along the pike at Axemann when they saw the body of a child bobbing up and down in the water below the falls. Ned Rote, a young man residing at Axemann, jumped into the creek and brought the body to the bank. Every means known for resuscitating drowning persons was resorted to and the workers were finally rewarded by seeing the child revive. The child was Ray White, the four year old son of Ellis White, of Axemann.

Big Game.

Last Saturday a party of young hunters at Snow Shoe, consisting of the Shope boys and Al. Bancy, did some good work. In a day's hunt they brought home three bears and a wild cat. The bears were an old she with two good-sized cubs. That is better than most nimrods can report.

Scheduled. It is said that six young lady clerks on two blocks of Market street, Clearfield, are scheduled to be married before spring. Bellefonte lady clerks, go to Clearfield and "get your chaps."

Morris Yeager, of the Brant house, is ill with quinsy at his home in Crider's Exchange.

Miss Anna Wilson, of Altoona, is visiting her friend Mrs. Harry Yeager, of this place.

Mrs. John P. Harris, Jr., left Tuesday for Parkersburg, West Virginia, where she will spend Christmas with her parents.

Cards are out announcing the wedding of Whitmer B. Grove, of Spring Mills and Miss Emma J. Hockman, of Mingoville.

The Centre Hall lodge of Masons will banquet in Grange Arcadia and have their installation of officers, December 21, evening.

William Kline, of Roopsburg, had his right arm broken above the wrist Tuesday afternoon while at work in the Buffalo Run quarries of A. G. Morris by a premature explosion.

RECENT DEATHS.

MRS. FANNIE G. REGISTER.—Of Philipsburg, died at Richmond, Va., aged about 74 years. Her husband was Rev. Sam'l Register, dec'd, formerly of the Baltimore Methodist conference. Mrs. Register was a native of Half Moon, this county. Her father was the well known Jacob Gray, of that valley. She was a sister of Mrs. Geo. W. Pottsgrove, of Philipsburg.

REV. T. J. FLEMING.—A well known Catholic priest, and who until recently was stationed at Snow Shoe, died Friday morning at Bonneville, Adams county, Pa. He had been in ill health for the past year. He has often assisted Father McArdle in the forty hour devotion services at this place. He was about 72 years of age.

MRS. JAMES SHEARER.—Died at Cedar Springs Monday morning, aged 49 years. She had been a patient sufferer for four years from dropsy. She is survived by her husband, six children and five step children.

SAMUEL WATSON.—Died at his home in Lamar Sunday evening of the infirmities of age. He was born in October, 1830, and resided all his life in that locality, he dying near where he was born.

ROBERT L. PATTISON.—Who for the past thirty-five years has farmed the Frank McFarlane farm at Boalsburg, died at his home at that place Sunday evening 2nd, of heart trouble.

WILLIAM BOWERS.—Died at Cedar Springs, Monday morning. A tumorous growth was the cause of death. He was 38 years old. His wife and seven children survive.

JOHN EVER.—One of the oldest and most respected citizens of Warriors Mark valley, died Monday morning, of heart trouble and dropsy. Age 67 years.

MRS. ADAM STOVER.—Died at Mill Hall Wednesday morning. She was about 75 years old and is survived by her husband and one son, George Calhoun.

MR. HALL, our congressman, voted in favor of the Grout bill which is intended to throw obstructions in the path of the oleo swindlers. Mr. Hall's vote was right.

MRS. PERRY KRAPE: Died Monday morning at Mackeyville of dropsy, aged 46 years. She is survived by her husband and two sons.

Fell Thirty-Five Feet.

Clyde Smith, employed by the Commercial Telephone Company, met with a serious accident Friday afternoon while at work stringing wires at State College. Smith was working on a cross arm of a pole, when suddenly it broke and he fell to the ground, a distance of about thirty-five feet. He was brought to this place where he was taken to the home of his brother, Witmer Smith, on East Bishop street. An examination showed that his jaw was broken and his hip, back and head badly injured. Smith is a single man and about 28 years of age and is a son of Isaac Smith, and his parents reside at Centre Hall.

We learn from the physician that the unfortunate young man is getting along very well. No bones were broken but his jaw was dislocated and he was severely bruised generally. His mother came over from Centre Hall in the evening after the accident occurred, and has been nursing her son.

Big Hogs.

Claude Johnston, of Hubersburg, killed a hog that can be called the champion porker of the county. It weighed 635 pounds. O. W. Stover, of Boalsburg, killed the largest porker in that town; it tipped the scale at 582 pounds. Cyrus Durst killed two the combined weight being 880 pounds, and Edward Woomey killed one that weighed 445 pounds—Boalsburg for big hogs. William Colyer killed two, one weighing 504 pounds and the other 526. J. M. Alters, of Centre Hall, killed two porkers, weighing 833 pounds.

Eye Specialist.

Prof. Frank, the eye specialist, will be at the Musser House, Millheim, Saturday, Dec. 15th, and will visit through that valley the following week; testing eyes and fitting glasses is his specialty. The Dr. has visited this section for years and is well known. Call and have your eyes fixed up with a pair of his celebrated crystal spectacles, which have never failed to strengthen weak eyes. Eyes tested free. Corrections guaranteed. Saturday Dec. 15th, at Millheim.

Large Hogs.

William Kreamer, of Millheim, killed two hogs last week, one of which weighed 585 and the other 539 pounds. These hogs were only 14 months old. George Sechrist, of the same place, killed one hog about the same time, that weighed 552 pounds.

Prayer for Death Answered.

After fifty years of married life, Leonard and Mary Soller died within half an hour of each other Saturday night at Altoona. Mr. Soller was seized with cramp and died in his wife's arms. "Now, let me die, too," she prayed as she was led to her bed. Praying, she died. The doctors say the shock killed her. The couple had often been heard to say they hoped they would be together in death as they had been in life. They will be buried side by side.

Slightly Used Pianos.

In the city there are many persons who use a piano only for a season, some are compelled to sell, while others have been using, all such pianos can at times be picked up at very reasonable prices and as far as the wear on the piano is concerned, are as good as new, as the most of them have been used but a short time. If you want such bargains let me know, I will select for you only what will please. Or if you prefer a new piano I can supply you at remarkably low prices.

Points of Superiority in the "Standard Rotary."

The first stitch is perfect, without holding ends of thread. The finest goods are not drawn or puckered. Owing to rotary motion it makes less noise than other machines. Tension released by pressure of a button. Thread can be cut out within quarter of an inch of the needle if work is taken out at right time. The face plate can be taken off by merely loosening a thumb-screw, enabling the operator to oil and clean the parts without displacing them. Feed motions all positive—no springs, used—hence machine will feed over all thicknesses of goods without chewing the cloth no matter what the length of stitch.
