1901.

Happy New Year to all. May 1901 be laden with health, prosperity and good cheer. May the nations soon be at peace and the gates of Janus be closed, to be opened no more, forever. May peace and good will be the rule between man and man, and between the nations of the earth. May reason and love reign in all hearts and in the councils of all nations. Every true man will labor to this end, as his highest duty. Only with an eye single to this can we work out the mission for which we were designed by our Creator. Each one has a talent to do a share in this respect. Let each one do his duty, regardless of what his neighbor is doing.

In these few words The Centre Democrat thinks to cover the important all, and will contribute its share, small though it may be, to do all possible good, and strive to educate to the noble and good.

The Democrat feels grateful to its many patrons for their support in the past year, and will strive to merit a continuation of the public goodwill, in 1901. It is a gratiyfying fact for us to state that in the year just past, the circulation of The Democrat made its greatest stride, was increased over 500 names. We can not forbear thanking our friends for this solid mark of appreciation, and public approval. We will labor on, all through the new year, to be deserving of a continuation of the same.

The entertainment held in the Reformed church, on Christmas evening, was a decided success in every particular. Long before the time set for the rendition of the program the large audience room was packed to its utmost capacity; and many people were turned away on account of gaining no admittance. We dare say it was the largest crowd ever regated in our town The church was beautifully decorated with spruce and evergreens, and the words "Merry eran church was very much enjoyed by Christmas" were impended across the a full house. whole front of the church, while in one with all things beautiful and attractive. Perched in the uppermost branches was a large star, illuminated with a hydrocarbon light that cast its rays all over the vast assemblage. The music rendered by the choir was of a high order and m every particular the program was ren-dered without a break. All those who participated did grandly and the solos and duetts by Beula Beaver, Mildred Acke, and Jane Stover, were exceptionally good, taking the age of the children in consideration. After the exercises proper a collection was lifted and the distribution of gifts took place.

QUAYITES SUCCESSFUL.

The republican factional fight at Harrisburg is in full swing. A full colum will be found on 2nd page. The Quayites gained the first set-to by electing Marshall speaker of the house. This was accomplished by buying up five scaly democrats and one anti-Quay republi- ton, William and Marie, all of Belle can-this furnished the machine one majority for Marshall, 99 to 100.

The representatives from Centre county Messrs. Allison and Thompson, played a asthma and heart trouble combined; was conspicuous part, in this-Allison remained true and voted against the Quay candidate for speaker; and Thompson, by staying at home, complaining he was sick. Sic-Thompson says he has lumbago. Guess that's a mistake its not lumbago, its an attack of not-from home-go. Thompson, it is claimed, was pledged to both sides, Quay and anti Quay, and that gave him the lumbago; no doubt, this brought on a complication of diseases, no-go and no-locomote, and "plum-treeshakes.";

The insurgents, learning of Thompson's condition, at once sent a special Pullman train, manued by Col. Reeder and two or three others, to take Thompson with all safety and expedition to Harrisburg. Arrived at Philipsburg, Thompson was found so utterly utter and awfully awful with all the aforesaid ills, that Reeder and his Pullman did not ket the precious freight aboard. Then the Philipsburg stalwarts, getting wind of it, rushed in on Thompson and reminded him of his pledges to them-but it was no go on account of the plumbago, plnm tree shakes, &c.

Since Thompson stays at home, its a pity the people didn't elect him to stay at home.
