Happenings About Centre County Briefly Told by

A CORPS OF ABLE WRITERS

Our Alert Correspondents Note Many Important Events in Different Localities—What is Transpiring—Is Your Section Represented?

Unionville.

County detective, Joe Rightour, transacted business for the Commonwealth, in our section a few days ago.

Mrs. Nora Becker, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brugger, for the last few weeks, returned to her home at Atlantic City, last Thursday.

Miss Laura Rumberger returned to Philadelphia a few days ago, where she is undergoing a throat training in voice culture, in the Conservatory of Music, on Broad street.

In order to supply the deficiency in local news I am compelled to draw on the imagination and will give a pen picture of

UNIONVILLE IN 1950.

Ala, Rip Van Winkle. I just awoke from a fifty-year nap, and, Jimmie! what a change! The streets of our once muddy town are all paved with vitrified brick; the houses are all beautifully painted; not a single old dilapidated building; the streets are adorned with beautiful evergreen trees. Improved telephones are in almost every house, with a key-board attachment, whereby a person can call any one he wishes to converse with without having to wait ten minutes or more for a "hello" from the exchange.

Alongside of the phone is a large frame with a clear plate glass and the moment the party at the other end replies his photograph is shown in the frame, full life size; you can see him wink and his lips move as he speaks. The town is supplied with pure water, piped from Fisher's spring, over on the mountain side, and now no danger is apprehended from the deadly "bacteria" and affords ample protection in case of fire. I stand near the railroad station and hear the sounding of a gong which is suspended on the top of the station and which can be heard distinctly within a radius of a mile.

It indicates the approach of a passenger train, and I look east and see the train approaching at the rate of two miles per minute, but hear no noise. The rails are rubber plated and the cars and engine wheels have rubber tires, and the passengers have rubber necks. The gong sounds one stroke and the train moves off as noiselessly as a bicycle and is soon out of sight. At night the town is beautifully illuminated with a globe the size of an ordinary balloon, suspended a hundred feet above the earth and held in its place by four guy ropes or wires; it is made of some transparent material resembling mica and is almost as brilliant as the midday sun in June.

Why, Charley, I could pick up a pin (a coupling pin) any time in the night, if I could see it. Over at the bridge across Bald Eagle creek, stands a massive brick building with high smoke stacks. That, I am told, is a sauer kraut factory. It had its origin way back in the latter part of the nineteenth century. It was then operated by a man named Israel Hoover, an expert in the business. Their output then was about ten to thirty barrels of kraut in a season, now they consume a car load of cabbage a day, during the cabbage season, and supply the world with the delicious kraut.

But the people, Ah! the people! None of the old familiar faces greet me as I walk the streets. The semi-centennaries have all passed through the "dark valley." I met a man apparently about 60 years of age. I asked his name and he told me it is Chesney Morrison, and that he was division boss on the railroad. Then I asked him who lives in that nice brick house that stands on the Charley Smith lot, east of the bridge, and he replied, "Oh, that is the M. E. parsonage; it is occupied by the preacher in charge, Howard Peters, the boys way back in 1900, used to call him Deacon Peters."

"Who's that young man with a string of rabbits and squirrels?" Why, that is Daniel Boone Stover, youngest son of Clayton Stover. Way back in 1900, when I was a boy Clay, came in one day with about as much game as he could carry. He farms the old home-stand farm now. "And there comes an old man with a load of pumpkins, Who's that?" "That's old Haysed Brugger; his right name is Cornelius, he and his boys farm the old Brugger farm." "And who is that fellow coming up the road with a load of barrels on a wagon without horses to it?" "Well, that's Harold Fisher. He is bringing a load of apples to the station on his "mo-by" to ship to market; Harold is an up-to-date farmer and a good citizen. He is a son of Thomas W. Fisher, ex-county commissioner."

"Who lives in that handsome residence across the street there?" "That's Dr. Ralph Van Yalis. When he was a boy the young folks called him 'Lads Van.' He is very proficient in his profession—that of dentistry. The story goes that when he was a young man he—(excuse me Doctor, I'll not tell you now.) "Who is the station agent now?" "George Parsons. He is one of the finest telegraphic operators in the country." "What ever became of John McDonell?" "Do you see that handsome residence below the station? Well, that's his residence. He represented this district in U. S. congress from 1930 to 1940. He is now superintendent of the B. E. V. railroad." "Who runs the stores now?" "Well, George and Harold Greist now are the owners of the 'old reliable,' once owned by A. J. Griest, their father. Ed. M. Greist, about the year 1910, became a partner in the Platt Barber Co. wholesale grocers, Philadelphia, but Ed. is old now and has retired. See that fine brick residence over on the hill? That's where he lives. His son Andrew went to California thirty years ago and is now governor of the state." "And Charley Rowan?" "I inquired. 'He lives in that beautiful home near the school house. He is principal of the grammar school and teaches the whole year round at a handsome salary.' "And Joe Stere?" "Oh! poor Joe. He persisted in smoking cigarettes and so he went to be an angel."

Just then I saw a strange looking thing flying through the air which actually frightened me. "Oh! look there!" I said

"what in the world's that?" "Why that is 'Tid' Holtzworth's youngest son, Howard, taking a ride on his new safety air-cycle. 'Tid' travels for Allen G. & Lauderbaugh Co. and brought it with him last week from Philadelphia. It just takes young Howard ten minutes to make the round trip to Bellefonte and back. They are very common now." I stood amazed. "There's a gentleman with a fine silk hat on coming up street; who's that?" "That's Alfred Heaton. He is a member of the state legislature. When he was a boy he went out hunting and when he came home he said he saw two flocks of muskrats and a white fox and that he saw a rabbit run up a tree into a hole. He is now speaker of the house."

"Well, what can you tell me about the young ladies of 1900?" "Well, not much. They are nearly all old maids. When they went fishing they put too large a bait on their hooks expecting to catch a whale, and the smaller or common fish would not bite, see. When I have more time I will tell you all about the girls."

"Let me ask just a few more questions, what political party is now in power?" He looked at me surprised as he replied, "Why bless you! there is only one great party, the democratic party. Way back in 1904 the democrats nominated Robert E. Pattison for president and the republicans nominated a man by the name of Quay. That was the death blow of republicanism. The only opposition the democratic party now has is the prohibition party, which is gaining ground every year and I think if they keep on gaining at the rate they have been they will elect their candidate in the next decade. But old man, you are detaining me."

Just then Willie Back came along in his "mo-by" and invited me to take a ride with him, which I accepted, but it went so fast that I got awake and found myself to be Kreamerville.

Wm. P. Brindle, of East Akron, Ohio, is spending a month at this place, intending going back Feb. 1st.

Mrs. Kate Neese, who had been working at the Old Fort hotel, returned home to her daughter, Mrs. G. B. Waite, Saturday.

Nathan and James Freese, of Parvins, spent Sunday at Adam Greening's.

Rev. L. A. Miller officiated at the pulpit of the M. E. church, on Sunday. He seemed to be wound up for all that was in him, in fact he delivered a very able and touching sermon.

Douty's sawmill, west of town, has shut down a few days for repairs.

Putting ice away is the leading work at present.

The rumor afloat of a new store keeper in this town, by April 1st.

S. W. Burd, of Bellwood, spent Sunday with his sister here, returning home Monday.

Perry Stover was on Second street, Sunday.

Buffalo Bill is making logs at the East end of this valley.

Clyde Wate left Monday for Pine Creek Hollow, to work in the woods.

Harry Strayer, of Jersey Shore, is visiting in this valley at present, giving delight to people by giving fine selections on the mouth organ.

John W. Waite, of Smethport, is spending a month's vacation with his parents and friends here. He expects to return about the 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Haugh were visiting relatives in George and Penns valley, the past week. A rumor is afloat that certain young boys of this precinct, are in the habit of carrying revolvers along with them to school. This should be strictly prohibited, as bad results may follow, and they happen to be in the hands of such children who are not at all fit to possess such weapons. Let the parents look to this, and let the teachers also lend a helping hand. They are not from this town either.

A NEW DISCOVERY:—A certain gentleman of Miles township has discovered a new and cheap food for poultry. The prescription is as follows:—Bits of news papers, soaked in sour milk for 3 1/2 hours, then brought to a boil for 20 minutes, mix the batter with chop and bran, and serve twice a week, feeding 12 lbs to every flock of 10 chickens, serve while hot. The gentleman guarantees a good result, in the production of eggs, or sound democratic roosters. The food must be formed of strictly democratic papers.

Yarnell.

Protracted meeting has closed at this place, and singing school is now in order.

Miss Maude Brown has returned home from Tyrove, where she spent Christmas with her sister, Mrs. Philips.

It is too bad, our boys that visit Moose river don't know when to come home and the horse has to break loose and come home with out them. "Get out."

Miss Nora Poorman is again seen on our streets after a protracted visit to Williamsport.

John Sechler and Billy Numan, of Milesburg, visited friends here on Sunday.

Toner Fetzer says Moose river water is a sure cure for love sickness.

Orvis Fetzer, former of the night turn at W. E. Browns, who has been sick for the passed couple of weeks, is again able to be around.

E. J. Walker has ordered a new saw mill. He has bought the Johnson tract of timber and will begin operations at once. Of course it was windy when he told us.

Some of our people are getting very religious. They turned off the cook just because she attended a spelling 'B.' There is now a good chance for a Free Methodist camp on Main street.

A Violent Attack of Croup Quickly Cured.

"Last winter an infant child of mine had croup in a violent form," says Elder John W. Rogers, a Christian Evangelist of Pilev, Mo. "I tried several different remedies without benefit. I then gave her a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in a short time all danger was past and the child soon recovered. I now keep a bottle of it in the house at all times and would not think home complete without it." The remedy not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the first symptoms appear will prevent the attack. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as an adult. For sale at Greens Pharmacy.

Ed. W. Kreamer and wife, of West Virginia, are spending their vacation with their parents; part of the time with her people, W. B. Graffire and wife, and balance of the time with her people, in Williamsport.

William B. Graffire had a letter from his son James, who is serving in the Philippines, in the 47 regiment, Co. G, with some of the Bellefonte boys; time of writing all are well; like soldiering very much; instead of coming home, at the expiration of his enlistment, will re-enlist in the regulars.

On Saturday evening at the Union prayer meeting, one of the leading members of the choir, sounding the notes like a bass drum, attracting the attention of the choir, causing a sudden stop, of the singing. Be more careful do not smear it on so thick, and the notes flow more natural, the music will be much better.

Rev. Carson of the Presbyterian church addressed the Milesburg Castle No. 222 K. G. E., on Sunday morning after which a gold gift was tendered to him, by keeper of ex-chequer, Ed. C. McKinley.

THANKS:—Rev. Carson, in behalf of Milesburg Castle No. 222, K. G. E., I tender you a vote of thanks for the eloquent and brilliant discourse delivered to this organization. As the death knell has been sounded to the old year and century, and we have entered the twentieth century, let us consecrate our lives more fully to the work of the Master. I wish you great achievements wrought by christianity, during the Twentieth Century. I now present to you a gift in gold, a token in behalf of the Castle in the manner in which you have just addressed us. I also thank the choir for the music rendered for this occasion.

EDW. C. MCKINLEY.

Loganton.

Al. Karstetter has been appointed postmaster of Loganton for the coming four years.

Sherard Bierley died at his home on Wednesday. He was a very highly respected young man and efficient church worker.

Harry Laubach and Miss Puella Moyer were married on Dec. 26, at Elmira. On the way home the bride became ill and was unable to complete the journey. Her sister, Miss Elizabeth Moyer, has gone to Nippeno to remain with her until she recovers.

Centre Hall.

DEATH:—Amos Parker, a veteran of our civil war, and long a resident of Potter township, died on Thursday 3rd of last week, having been in bad health for some months. He sustained injuries to his health from his service in the army, and has been unable to do much labor. For some time he has suffered from defective sight and at times was almost blind. His age was about 75 years. A widow survives. He was a deserved pensioner, and an upright man.

G. W. Ocker, past few years in the grain and coal business, has purchased the Colyer buildings, grain house and coal yard close to the station, for $1500. George, however, will quit the business and move to Lewisburg. Robert Foreman and Will Flory, of that town, will carry on the grain and coal business at that stand.

The VanPelt property at Centre Hall, occupied the past year by Andy Reesman, and recently purchased by Dr. Parks, has met with a "true bargain" from the Dr.

Farmer Charles Slack, of Potter township, will quit farming and become a citizen of Centre Hall, where he is about erecting a new house, having already dug cellar for it. He has purchased the lot next to grange hall, on the south side, for this purpose. Charley will be a good citizen and make up one for the loss of good citizens by removal of late.

Jacob Lee, farmer on the John Bitter place, above town, will go to one of the Sparr farms, up the valley, in the spring. Jake is a good farmer and an excellent citizen.

G. W. Barner will move away in the spring and make his home in Sugar valley. He is an industrious man.

Nittany.

The weather the past week has been very pleasant for this time of the year.

We are sorry to state that John Dorman is very low at this writing, with cancer in his face; he has been sick for a long while.

The farmers are busy filling their ice houses, the ice is from twelve to fourteen inches thick.

John Weiland, our prosperous coachmaker, had a family reunion of the Weiland family on New Years day; about 35 of the near relatives were present and all seemed to enjoy themselves very highly.

Earl Fleming of Lock Haven Normal school, was a guest of Harry Shirk during last week.

The recitations and essays in the High school, last Friday, were excellent, George Gettig rendered an excellent essay on "The Life of Hon. W. J. Bryan", which was fine. Some of the younger scholars were rude enough to hiss when the subject was announced. A teacher should not allow such conduct in school regardless of politics.

Mrs. Amanda Walker has gone to Fairbrook to live for the next six or eight weeks.

Clifford Reed and Mr. Kelly of Scotia, Pa., were guests of Jacob Wagner's family during the last week.

Walker.

John Holmes, Jr., had the misfortune of being hit on the head while working in the lime kiln of H. Yearick. He was drilling limestone when one of his fellow workmen accidentally hit him on the head with a sledge; fortunately he was not seriously hurt.

Misses Julia, Lizzie and Hannah Sheasley, of Flemington; Miss Albright, of Mill Hall, Messrs John Sheasley and gentlemen friend of Flemington, and Miss Laura Smith, of Jacksonville, were the guests of Kate Condo on Sunday.

Pneumonia Prevented.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and la grippe during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash avenue, Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this, says: "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia." For sale at Greens Pharmacy.

Georgetown.

The ice season is here and all are busy filling their ice houses.

The United Evangelicals are holding a protracted meeting in a vacant house of H. H. Vonada and a good many have all ready found peace for their souls, and still some more are seeking.

S. G. Rote, one of our well-to-do farmers, has bought the mill property of H. H. Ertel and will take possession of the same on the 1st of April. Rote intends putting in a full set of rollers; will fix his mill up in first class order. C. E. Pinkel, of Madisonburg, will put a store in the house belonging to the Mill property.

A. B. Kern and family, William Wert and family, I. P. Kern, all of Drum Station, and F. V. Kerstetter and family, of Rackettown, will leave this week for Patton, to make that place their future home.

Mrs. Gentzel, widow of John Gentzel, is on the sick list.

William Suavely has rented the saw mill of H. H. Ertel and is running it for all that is in it; when William takes hold of a thing, it must come or break.

Perclival Tharp has lost another horse of late, this is the second one inside of five months, both valuable horses.

Perry Korman came home from Potter county where he was working on a lumber job for the last eight months, to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Korman.

The High valley scribe has quit the lumber business and is going into the patent right business; he has invented a machine to smoke the gnats out of High valley, which he is going to operate next summer; he must do something or skin out, they are getting too bad.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

Will generally correct this difficulty. If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

widow for 38 years. Her husband enlisted in the army during the Civil war and never returned, having been killed in the battle of the Wilderness. Mrs. Leitzell's maiden name was Young. Jonathan Musser is at present lying very low. His death is momentarily expected. He has been entirely helpless for one year, with paralysis, and has had several strokes recently. Hasten Arney is slowly improving and is on a fair way to recovery.

RUPTURE or HERNIA CURED. No operations or injections, no pain or discomfort in any way, no steel springs or iron frames, no wooden, ivory or hard rubber balls, cups, patches or plugs used. Not the least distress or annoyance.
