-N. H. Johnson, one of Liberty two's wide-awake citizens, was in town on Friday last. About the only important thing he reports from that section is the immense quantity of snow and the strong sentiment that prevails there in opposition to a liquor license application.

-On Saturday Wm. Shutt, who spent the past year in the vicinity of Stockton, Ill., and some time in Colorado, arrived home to see his parents who live in Benner township and has concluded to spend the next summer here assisting John Ishler on the farm. He read the Centre Democrat while away from home and found it exceedingly interesting

-While commissioner Philip Meyer was out in Burnside township, delivering ballots last week, he had reached near Gum Stump, on his return home, when the horse he was driving fell dead in its tracks. The animal had given no previous sign of being sick and when it dropped over Mr. Meyer thought it had merely stumbled, but before he could dull cares, so you can't afford to miss it get out of the sleigh it was dead. The horse was owned by liveryman Jas-McCulley.

-Merchant W. E. Brown, of Yarnell, was in our office on Saturday and reports all the roads in that section of Boggs township impassable during the past week, and in many cases it was necessary to travel across the fields. The same condition exists in other sections and the bill for snow shoveling this spring will be a big one, when it will be necessary to open up the regular high ways for travel.

-Last Saturday we had a pleasant call from John and Will. Harpster, of Freeport, Ill., where both are engaged in business. John, who formerly was connected with Montgomery & Co., of this place as an expert coat maker is now the proprietor of a large tailoring concern of his own in that city, and is prospering abundantly, while his brother is proprietor of a large confectionery establishment and is making a success of his enterprise. Both young men for merly were from Centre Hall and are known to many of our readers. They tell us there is a large sprinkling of former Centre countians in that city and the surrounding country.

Killed Himself.

In last weeks paper mention was made of the death of Burt Henderson, formerly delightful social at Sheriff Brumgart's of this place, at San Francisco. A copy of the "Examiner," of that city was sent here and tells a startling story. It appears that he was infatuated with a young lady, a daughter of John O'Neil, an attorney, of Oakland, Cal. At one time they were engaged to be married, but she hesitated and then broke the engagement. During an interview with her February 7th, at the Ross House, in that city, he shot her, and then himself* She will recover; his death was instan-
