

HARRISBURG LETTER.

Measures That Occupy the Attention of the Lawmakers.

THE BALLOT REFORM MEASURES.

An Agreement to Bring Them From the House Election Committee Next Week—Legislative Committees Give a Hearing on Oleomargarine.

Harrisburg, March 6.—A compromise was reached between the advocates and opponents of the Bedford ballot reform bill before the house convened last night, under which it was agreed to bring out of the election committee all ballot reform bills not later than next Tuesday.

The national senate yesterday passed the army appropriation bill, including the provisions affecting the Philippines and Cuba.

Rosslyn Ferrell, who murdered his friend, Express Messenger Lane, for money with which to marry, was electrocuted at Columbus (O.) this morning.

The queen regent of Spain has signed a decree appointing Rear Admiral Cervera to be a vice admiral.

Mrs. Carrie Nation, the Kansas saloon smasher, is again a prisoner in Topeka jail. She will be tried in April.

The mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will make a legal fight against the "ripper" bill passed by the Pennsylvania legislature.

A man supposed to be George McAmory, of Chicago, was asphyxiated in a Scranton (Pa.) boarding house yesterday. Every evidence of suicide.

Senator Edward O. Wolcott has resigned as a member of the Republican national committee from Colorado and Archie M. Stephenson has been designated as his successor.

Capital punishment for kidnaping has been provided in Texas.

Republicans of Toledo nominated Brig. Gen. W. V. McMakin for mayor.

The torpedo boat destroyer Preble was launched Saturday at San Francisco.

A new extradition treaty between the United States and Switzerland was promulgated Saturday.

IRISH MEMBERS OUSTED

Forcibly Ejected From the British House of Commons.

FREE FIGHTS BECOME GENERAL.

The Irishmen Resisted the Police Called in to Eject Them, and Several Were Carried Out by Arms and Legs—Twelve Suspended For a Week.

London, March 6.—In the house of commons after midnight Mr. Balfour applied the closure on the education estimates. The Nationalists shouted "Gag, gag," and refused to leave the house when the division was taken. The chairman twice asked them to retire to the division lobby, but they shouted "Certainly not." Mr. Flavin cried: "I protest against the way all Irish votes are closed."

The chairman then intimated that he must report the matter to the speaker. In the meantime the other members had returned from the lobbies amid some uproar, 30 or 40 Irishmen remaining in their seats.

The speaker having returned to the house, the chairman reported the matter to him, and the speaker asked if the Irish members still refused to obey the order, and there were cries of "Yes, yes."

The speaker then named 12 recalcitrants and Mr. Balfour moved their suspension. This was agreed to without a division. The suspensions last for a week.

The speaker ordered them to withdraw, but they refused amid great uproar. The speaker called upon the sergeant-at-arms to remove them. They shouted defiance. The deputy sergeant-at-arms advanced and asked them to leave, but still they refused. Then a number of officers and policemen entered to enforce removal.

Never before has such a scene occurred in the house as accompanied the removal of Mr. Eugene Crean, member for southeast Cork. He struggled fiercely with the attendants, who summoned the police, a dozen constables entering the house. The Nationalists jeered at them. Four or five stalwart policemen proceeded to seize Mr. Crean, who stuck his legs under the seat and could not be moved for some minutes.

Meanwhile other policemen were struggling and fighting with other Irishmen who stood up and obstructed the passage of the police to Mr. Crean's seat.

The Nationalists fought and struggled frantically, but at length a superior force of police succeeded in dragging Mr. Crean out by the legs and arms and carrying him down the floor of the house, the Irishmen standing and wildly shouting "Shame," "Murderers" and "South African brutality."

The speaker then called upon Mr. McHugh to retire, but he defiantly refused, his companions shouting approval. A strong body of 20 policemen again stormed the Irish benches. Mr. McHugh fought, struggled and impeded them in every way. Angry shouts rent the air. The benches below the gangway on the opposition side were a mass of mad and struggling humanity. Several policemen were struck with fists. Free fights between the police and the members were fairly general.

As Mr. McHugh was being carried out—his underclothes showing where the outer garments had been torn away in the struggle—Mr. Flavin shouted from the back benches: "Nineteen policemen to remove one Irishman," and cries of "Shame" were heard from the opposition benches.

The same scenes were repeated as three other Irish members were carried out, all the Irishmen vigorously protesting and fighting.

Neither Mr. Dillon, Mr. John Redmond nor Mr. T. P. O'Connor were present, having already left the house.

The trouble arose through Mr. Balfour closing the whole education estimates without giving an opportunity to discuss the Irish votes.

There were still about 50 Irishmen when the committee resumed, but they refused to appoint any tellers for a division. The Nationalists jeered Mr. Balfour and the other ministers as they left the building.

DEATH OF WILLIAM M. EVARTS.

Attorney General Under Johnson and Secretary of State For Hayes.

New York, March 5.—William M. Everts died at his home in this city yesterday, aged 83 years. His death was caused by pneumonia. For several years past he had been without the use of his eyes, and was otherwise so feeble that he was unable to leave his home. Up to the time of his death he was the nominal head of the law firm of Everts, Choate & Beaman, although for many years he had not been in active practice.

Mr. Everts first gained prominence in the Republican national convention which nominated Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Everts strongly supported William M. Seward, and it was believed that Seward's nomination and election would have led to Everts' nomination as Seward's successor. Mr. Everts subsequently successfully defended President Johnson in the impeachment proceedings, and was chosen by that president as attorney general. Later he performed signal service as counsel at Geneva to press the Alabama claims against Great Britain. He was appointed by President Hayes as secretary of state, and afterward served a term as United States senator from New York.

American Killed in a Duel.

Paris, March 6.—John Wilson Durant, of Albany, N. Y., who has been living for the past two years in Paris with his mother at the Hotel Lafonde Tremolle, has been killed at Orléans in a duel with a Russian count. The latter's nephew came to Paris to settle the matter, where he met Mr. Durant in a restaurant. A vicious fight resulted, in which Mr. Durant lost his front teeth. He struck the Russian with a heavy glass water bottle, and the latter died, but the doctor's certificate gave concussion of the brain as the cause of death. This occurred during January. The duel followed yesterday.

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anemic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anemia.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

know practically nothing about shoes or the making thereof. That many people, therefore, depend upon the representations of the dealer. Isn't it essential that the dealer knows his business thoroughly, that he have an established reputation for carrying good footwear and that he be known as one who does not demand an extravagant profit because he has a good reputation?

Certainly. Then why shouldn't your judgment lead you to this store whenever you want shoes? Here is experience. Here is shoe knowledge. Here is good footwear. Here are fair prices. Needless to argue in defense of these claims—you'll admit their truth.
