SHE SCOLDS MAYOR FLEISCHMANN

Tells the Millionaire Distiller That He Cannot Die Peacefully as Long as He is a Manufacturer of Intoxicating Drinks.

Cincinnati, March 27.—Mrs. Carrie Nation began yesterday in Cincinnati by attending early mass at the Roman Catholic cathedral, though she is not a communicant of that church.

At the Grand Central station over 4,000 persons inspected the new Pan-American train of the Big Four road. Forty other cars of this pattern are to be delivered to the road by June.

General Passenger Agent Lynch and Assistant Reeves escorted Mrs. Nation and her party through the train, and at that time the champagne happened to be flowing freely.

Mrs. Nation called on Mayor Julius Fleischmann at the city hall in the afternoon and scolded him for operating a distillery here.

"Yes; I want you to give me some advice as to how to close the hell holes in this city. You will never die peacefully as long as you are a man who manufactures intoxicating drinks.

For 20 minutes the mayor listened to perhaps the strongest denunciation that a chief executive ever received in his own office.

From the mayor's office Mrs. Nation called on Chief of Police Deitsch and asked him to send her an escort for her slumming tour last night.

Escorted by two detectives Mrs. Nation made her tour of the "ragtime" resorts and other places in this city until midnight.

PHILADELPHIA "RIPPER" BILLS

Passed Finally by the Senate Without a Contest—Proposed Legislative Committee to Bring Miners and Operators Together.

Harrisburg, March 27.—The senate chamber was crowded with spectators yesterday afternoon in anticipation of witnessing a contest on the final passing of the Philadelphia "ripper" bills.

The bills, however, were passed with but little opposition. Mr. Henry, of Philadelphia, was the only senator to make any remarks against them.

Mr. Vaughn, of Lackawanna, introduced a joint resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of three senators and three members of the house "to confer immediately with the anthracite coal operators and with the officials of the United Mine Workers to endeavor to bring about an amicable solution of the difficulties now existing between operators and miners."

Among the bills reported favorably to the senate from committee was the Guffey ballot bill, with amendments. The amendments provide for circles for straight party voters and allow any person in the election district to help another voter.

Among bills which passed the house finally yesterday were: To prevent burgesses and councilmen of boroughs from soliciting or receiving bribes and to punish any person who may offer to bribe the same; to define and punish the crime of giving or administering drugs, narcotics or an aesthetic agents to persons by mixing the same with any food or drink with felonious intent; providing that pawnbrokers shall not loan money or make advances on anything of value offered for pledge by any person under the influence of intoxicating liquors; prohibiting the sale and furnishing of tobacco to persons under the age of 16 years.

The bill requiring the sale of poison to require dealers to keep a register of all poisons sold, take out a license, pay a fee of $100 and pass an examination before the state pharmaceutical examining board was defeated in the house by a vote of 12 to 155.

The Philadelphia "ripper" bills were reported to the house on Thursday of last week with an amendment providing for the election of the board of revision of taxes at the next general election, the present members to serve until their successors are elected and installed. The bill originally provided for the appointment by Governor Stone of the members.

In the senate on Thursday of last week Mr. Berkelbach, of Philadelphia, introduced a bill providing for an entire change in the present ballot law of the state. The new bill provides for a law similar in many respects to the present New Jersey law. It also provides for slot voting machines.

The senate refused to concur in house amendments to the Philadelphia fee bill, and so notified the house. The house amended the bill so as to deny state officers the right to accept fees.

By request, Mr. Roth, of Lehigh county, introduced a bill in the house on Friday of last week to encourage marriage. The bill provides that a male citizen of Pennsylvania over 40 years old making application for a marriage license shall pay to the clerk of courts a license fee of $100, which is to be turned into the state treasury for the purpose of maintaining homes for old ladies over 40 years old who have not had a suitable opportunity or offer of marriage and have in clothes sufficient to keep themselves in clothes and spending money. Any bachelor over 40 years who shall go outside of the state for a wife shall pay $100 into the state treasury.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Godcharles, of Northumberland, fixing a penalty of $100 or three months' imprisonment for trespassing to hunt deer or fawn from lands enclosed for the preservation and propagation of the same, one-half of the fine to go to the informant and the other half to be applied to the improvement of public roads.

Mr. Calder, of Dauphin, introduced a bill appropriating $4,500 to continue the publication of the laws of the province of Pennsylvania prior to 1800.

A bill was introduced in the house last Monday night by Mr. Ulrich, of Dauphin county, extending the provisions of the act of June 25, 1895, exempting sewing machines and typewriting machines from levy or sale on execution or distress.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Willard, of Philadelphia, for the prevention of idleness by operation.

Mr. Palm, of Crawford, presented a bill punishing by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000 or imprisonment from three months to one year for violation of the section of the state constitution which provides that a member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the general assembly shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member and shall not vote thereon.

Mr. Roth, of Lehigh, arose to a question of personal privilege and created much amusement by explaining that on Friday he was given a bachelor's bill by his friends on the Republican side of the house and that he introduced it as a joke. Some persons have taken the bill seriously, and, therefore, he would ask unanimous consent to withdraw it. Mr. Slater, of Philadelphia, chairman of the law and order committee, to which the bill was referred, said the committee had a right to act upon it and objected to permission being given to withdraw it.

Mr. Cressy, of Columbia, offered a resolution that the house bespeak the courtesy of the senate and respectfully asks early action upon the house resolution to adjourn finally April 25 and that the failure of the senate to act leaves the house in a position where it cannot safely regulate its sessions. Bills, of Delaware, moved that the resolution lie on the table. The motion prevailed.

The senate held a short session Monday night and cleared the calendar of bills on first and second reading.

Rheumatism.

Nobody knows all about it; and nothing, now known, will always cure it.

Doctors try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, when they think it is caused by imperfect digestion of food. You can do the same.

It may or may not be caused by the failure of stomach and bowels to do their work. If it is, you will cure it; if not, you will do no harm.

The way, to cure a disease is to stop its cause, and help the body get back to its habit of health.

When Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil does that, it cures; when it don't, it don't cure. It never does harm.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.
