And Five Sailors Lost Their Lives | Statue of the Dead Warrior Unon the Rocks.

Driven insane by Hunger and Thirst, Suffering Sailors Kill and Eat Their Companions-Two Survivors of the Horror Landed at Singapore.

Gloucester, Mass., April 8 .- The southeast storm, just before the Easter dawn, threw upon the jagged rocks of Eastern Point the old Calais twomasted schooner Hyena, and within an hour the waves had torn her to pieces and swept off her crew of four men. Two of them, Elmer and Bennett Stanley, managed to reach shore and dragged their bruised bodies up the rocks, but her skipper, Capt. R. B. Dix, of West Tremont, Me., and Steward Fuller failed to gain the shore and were probably drowned or killed by being dashed on the rocks.

Elmer Stanley thinks it was about 3 a. m. when he sighted surf off the starboard bow, but Capt. Dix, believing that there was sufficient water, kept right on, until suddenly the waves were sighted breaking right ahead and almost immediately a great wave threw the vessel onto the rocks. The schooner began to pound and strain and the crew cleared away the only boat in the hope of sighting shore. Bennett Stanley jumped into the boat and the next wave swept the boat far out of reach of the other men. He was in the boat scarcely a minute when it capsized, leaving him to battle with the waves among the rocks.

The half drowned man was alternately thrown up on the beach and dragged back into the breakers. Finally he managed to gain a foothold and pulled himself up beyond the sea.

When the boat Stanley was in was washed away Capt. Dix, with the other two men, sought refuge on the bowsprit, in the hope that the schooner might hold together until morning, when the life savers would see her. But within a short time one after another of the masts were carried away, until finally the schooner was literally smashed to pieces.

ONLY ONE ESCAPED THIS WRECK. The Captain, the Cook and a Sailor Were Drowned.

Portland, Me., April 8.-The two masted schooner Wendall Burpee, of St. John, N. B., went ashore off Cape Elizabeth shortly before noon yesterday, the captain, cook and one sailor being drowned, while the mate only was saved. The lost were Capt. Louis Mersebury, George Foster, the cook, both of St. John, and a sailor known as "English Charlie." The mate, John Swenson, of St. John, managed to reach the shore more dead than alive. The schooner will undoubtedly be a total loss, as it is expected she will have her bottom pounded out. The sea is running heavy, breaking high above the schooner.

A furious gale swept along the coast during the day, and according to the story of the mate the captain thought he was off Matinicus, Me., when the fog suddenly lifted and he found that he was near the rocks of Cape Elizabeth. It was then too late to change the course and the schooner was carried high up in Board cove, about a mile from the Cape Elizabeth life saving station. Seeing that a wreck was unavoidable the men decided to take the yawl, and had proceeded but a short distance when the craft was swamped by a heavy sea. As they were heavily dressed all excepting the mate went to their doom. The mate, after an awful struggle in the surf, nearly reached the shore, but sank back exhausted and unconscious a short distance away. He was rescued by two fishermen, who selzed him before he could be washed back into deep water.

GHASTLY STORY OF CANNIBALISM. Terrible Tale Told by Two Survivors of the Horror.

London, April 8 .- The Singapore correspondent of The Daily Express wires a ghastly story of cannibalism at sea brought to Singapore by two survivors of the Nova Scotian bark Angola, wrecked six days' sail from Manila on Oct. 23 last. The correspondent says: The survivors, Johnnsen, a Swede, and Marticornu, a Spaniard, assert that the Angola struck a reef. Two rafts were built. The smaller, bearing five men, disappeared. The other, with 12 men, drifted for 40 days. The sailors ate barnacles, sea weed and finally their

"On the 25th day two became insane and killed themselves. On the 26th a Frenchman killed the mate with an ax, drank his blood and tried to eat his brains, but was prevented by the others. Next day the Frenchman was killed while attempting to murder the captain. The survivors, all of whom were now insane, ate the Frenchman's body 'Cannibalism continued until only Johnnsen and Marticornu remained. On the 42d day the raft stranded on Subi or Flat island, in the Natuna group (northwest of Borneo). Johnnsen and Marticornu were awfully emaciated. Friendly Malays sent them by junk to Singapore."

Almost Unanimous For a Strike. Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 10.-The brotherhood employes of the Central Railroad of New Jersey held a meeting at Ashley last night. The gathering was for the purpose of learning some news from New York, but none came, and the meeting adjourned shortly after 10 o'clock. Another report is that the result of the voting on the strike question was made known at the meeting No information was given out beyond the fact that the brotherhoods were almost unanimous for a strike. The Steel Trust Wants It All. Pittsburg, April 10.-Col. J. B. Finley, president of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company, yesterday returned from New York, and, according to report, has been there conferring with agents with a view to selling the interests of the river coal combination to the United States Steel corporation. Col. Finley will neither confirm nor deny the re-

TWO VESSELS WRECKED A TRIBUTE TO LOGAN.

GHASTLY STORY OF CANNIBALISM | A DISTINGUISHED GATHERING,

veiled in Washington.

Including the President and Members of His Cabinet. Took Part in the Exercises-President Paid Eloquent Tribute to the Dead

Washington, April 10.-The heroic bronze equestrian statue of Maj. Gen. John A. Logan, which rests on an imposing bronze pedestal in Iowa Circle was unveiled yesterday in the presence of the president, the cabinet, the widow and relatives of the gallant soldier, many of the comrades in arms and a vast multitude of people. The sculptor, Franklin Simmons, who was knighted by King Humbert of Italy as a tribute to the artistic character of the work, was also present. Master George Tucker, a grandson of the honored warrior, pulled the unveiling cord at 2:45 o'clock. The folds of the large American flag fell away and the dashing figure of "Black Jack" Logan, seated on his charger, stood revealed amid a roar of cheering that echoed far down the intersecting streets and evenues. The president and members of the cabinet had been escorted to the statue by a military parade under command of Col. Francis L. Guenther, of the Fourth United States artillery. Mrs. John A. Logan and the other relatives sat upon a platform at the base of the monument. Mrs. Logan was escorted by Col. Maxwell Woodhull, who was Gen. Logan's adjutant general durng the civil war. With her were also Thomas M. Logan, of Murphysboro, Ills., a brother of Gen. Logan; Miss M. E. Logan, a niece; S. K. Cunningham, Mrs. Logan's brother; Logan Tucker, of Chicago, a grandson, and Mrs. Tucker; Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Tuthill, of Chicago; Mrs. George M. Pullman, of Chicago; Gen. F. A. Staring, of New York; Gen. and Mrs. Blackmar, of Boston, and the personal servant of Maj. John A. Logan, Jr.

killed in the Philippines The president and his cabinet and other distinguished guests occupied a flag draped stand opposite this platform, while in another stand, extending around the monument, were other ests, including many of Gen. Logan's old comrades, representatives of John A. Logan Post, G. A. R., of St. Louis; the Logan Republican club, of Brooklyn, and the Logan club, of Philadel-

who was with the latter when he was

Gen. Grenville M. Dodge, president of the Army of the Tennessee, who is the only living general represented in the group on the bronze pedestal showing Gen. Logan in council of war with his commanding officers, presided over the ceremonies. He paid a high personal tribute to the dead chieftain, and after the invocation had been offered by Rev. Frank Bristol introduced the sculptor, Mr. Simmons, to the assemblage. The statue was then unveiled amid great applause and the Fourth Artillery band rendered "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

At the moment of the unveiling a section of the Fourth artillery fired a national salute on the White lot, south of the executive mansion. President McKinley received an ovation as he was introduced, and it was some time before he could begin his remarks. He paid a brilliant tribute to the dead warrior, and was several times interrupted by applause. and there was a great outburst of cheering when he concluded.

The oration was delivered by Senator Depew, of New York.

At the conclusion of Senator Depew's address Senator Cullom, of Illinois, read a letter from Governor Yates. of Illinois, expressing regret at his inability to attend and paying tribute to the love and affection in which the memory of Logan was held in his native state. Rev. J. G. Butler, of this city, pronounced the benediction. The assemblage then dispersed. The statue of Gen. Logan has been turned over to the people of the United States, and now has become one of the great monuments of the national capital. The statue represented seven years of labor on the part of Franklin Simmons, and marks a departure in sculpture in Washington in that it rests upon a pedestal of bronze. Congress appropriated $50,000 for the statue and $15,000 was contributed by the Grand Army of the Republic. The pedestal is 20 feet high, and the equestrian statue rises above the pedestal 141/2 feet.

The Associated Merchants.

New York, April 10 .- Official notice of the rumored combination of department stores was given yesterday by J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., who solicit subscriptions to the stock of the Associated Merchants' company. The company is capitalized at $20,000,000, and proposes to acquire dry goods businesses or interests in this and other cities. The prospectus states that a one-half interest has been secured in both the H. B. Claffin company and the Adams Dry Goods company, and that the James McCreery & Co.'s Twenty-third street store has been bought outright.

Family of Six Crushed to Death.

Cripple Creek, Colo., April 10.-The family of James Smith, including the father, mother and four children, were instantly killed in their home last night by the sliding of the huge dump of the granite mine. The Smith residence was located just below the base of the dump. The recent snows had softened the dump so that the top suddenly slid down, crushing the house and burying its inmates. Hundreds of men went to digging away the dirt and rock, but all of the victims were found crushed to death.

Enjoined From Watering Stock. Trenton, April 9 .- Justice Dixon yesterday filed the opinion of the court of errors and appeals in the case brought by minority stockholders of the American Smelting and Refining company to enjoin the purchase of the property of M. Guggenheim & Sons. The decision practically declares that corporations cannot issue bonds on watered stock, and the directors are restrained from paying $45,000,000 in stock for property valued at $10,600,000.

INDIANA'S MINE STRIKE.

Men in the Block Coal Fields Are Now Out.

FEARS THAT IT WILL SPREAD.

The National Committee of the Mine Workers' Union Advises the Men at Brazil to Stick for Powder Clause. Which May Extend the Strike.

Indianapolis, April 10.—The national executive committee of the mine workers' association continued its work yesterday. According to a statement given out at headquarters the condition of affairs in the block coal fields of Indiana is extremely critical and all mines are closed.

The powder question is still the cause of all the trouble, and, it is said, the miners are unanimous in their attitude. The clause in the agreement made between the miners and the operators recently concerning the price of powder has practically precipitated a strike at Linton.

The national committee telegraphed the committee of miners at Brazil last night that it could not advise them to sign contracts unles the powder question should be eliminated. This telegram was read at a joint meeting of miners and operators at Brazil and caused an adjournment. The operators refuse to recede. A strike is now on, and a long lockout is predicted.

A strike which violates any articles of an agreement would not receive the support of the national organization, and a strike among block coal men may encourage the bituminous coal miners, who have already evinced a tendency to evade certain regulations contained in the agreement reached at Terre Haute.

The situation in Indiana is attracting the attention of the national officers, and they await the outcome with anxiety. Clay county contains nearly all the block coal mines in this state and the miners' association numbers nearly 3,000 members.

Murdered by a Highwayman.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 10.-Adam Rhoads, a well known citizen of Parsons, a small mining town three miles north of this city, was brutally murdered on the public highway at an early hour yesterday morning. Rhoads, with a companion named Matthew Cooper, spent the evening in Wilkesbarre. Shortly after midnight they returned to Parsons. At the depot they parted company to go to their respective homes. Rhoads had not gone far up the street until Cooper heard him cry murder. He went to his assistance, and when he came near the spot where he was lying on the ground he saw a man run away. A doctor living near by was summoned, but when he arrived the man was dead, having been stabbed in the neck. Cooper thinks the murdered man was held up by a

Wrote Threatening Letters.

New York, April 10.-Confessing that it was he who wrote the letters to George H. Penniman threatening to avenue unless a sum of money were placed in a hiding place where he could find it, Elias C. Katz, 18 years old, is a prisoner at police headquarters, having been arrested by detectives who ands. shadowed him for more than 24 hours. The boy said he wrote the threatening letters because he wanted to raise money enough to go on the stage. Two letters were written to Mr. Penniman. the first demanding $500 and the second $700. The letters were signed 'Nihilist."

Gold Bars Stolen on the Ocean.

Cherbourg, April 10 .- On the arrival here yesterday of the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, Captain Engelbart, from New York April 2, it was announced that three gold bars, worth £4,000 each, had been stolen during the voyage. All the baggage landed here was examined with the utmost care by the customs officers and detectives, but the gold was not discovered. Of the passengers 150 landed for Paris, and several detectives traveled in the special train with them.

Chienge Girl Routs Robbers.

Chicago, April 10.-Flourishing a shotgun, Fredicka Ramsaier, an 18year-old girl, pursued two robbers last night in this city and saved her father from being robbed. She was reading in the library of her home when she heard her father cry for help. Seizing the shotgun she burst through the front door in time to see a masked man kneeling on her father's chest, while a second robber was searching the victim's pockets. The robbers fled and Miss Ramsaier started in pursuit, but the men escaped.

Miners Stick to Eight Hour Day.

Scranton, Pa., April 10 .- The mine workers of the first anthracite district, at their convention in Olyphant yesterday, adopted a resolution declaring against working more than eight hours. even in the lengthened summer days, and another resolution imposing a fine of $5 on any mine worker who does any work on an idle day. This latter resolution is designed to put a stop to the practice of miners going into the mine to clear up their chambers and do repair work when the other miners are idle.

Woman Charged With Illegal Voting Denver, April 10 .- A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Mrs. M. A. Ratcliffe on the charge of having wilfully, knowingly and unlawfully voted in the wrong precinct at the late city election. She is 36 years of age and has two children. She was an active Democratic worker during the campaign preceding the city election. It is said that she is the first woman arrested in this country for an election

Every Month

In the year most women have to suffer for a week. At the best this suffering interferes with household activities and social enjoyments. At the worst it shuts the woman in a darkened room or confines her to bed. Most women can be completely cured of irregularity by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, stops enfeebling drains and cures female weakness. It gives vigor and vitality to the womanly organs, and tones up the exhausted system.

"Favorite Prescription" is not a stimulant but a strengthening medicine. It contains no alcohol and is free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. Its benefits are not temporary but permanent. Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There is no motive to offer you a substitute except to enable the dealer to make the larger profit, which can be made on less responsible wares. Insist on "Favorite Prescription" for self protection.

"All praise is due to you for your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mr. John W. Coffman, Ellisburg, Casey Co., Ky. "My wife suffered with female irregularity; was confined to bed every three weeks. After using two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Pavorite Prescription was cured, and has not suffered any derangement since. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is a boon for delicate women." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets remove the cause of constipation and its health-crippling consequences. They do not beget the pill habit.
