

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

Chief Magistrate's Official Entry Into San Francisco.

NECESSARY CHANGE IN PROGRAM.

Mrs. McKinley's illness prevented the President from visiting Stanford University—a Parade Headed by General Shafter and Admiral Casey.

San Francisco, May 15.—President McKinley made his official entry into this city, the objective point of his tour, late yesterday afternoon. After being formally welcomed by Mayor J. D. Phelan he was escorted through the principal streets, attended by a military and naval turnout. He attended a public reception last night in the large nave of the Market street ferry depot.

President McKinley decided early yesterday morning that, owing to Mrs. McKinley's illness, he would not visit Stanford university, as had been planned, but would limit himself to the day's exercises in this city.

At 2:40 o'clock in the afternoon he left the Scott residence for the Valencia street station. Here he met the train bringing the members of the cabinet and remainder of his party, who had fulfilled the program between San Jose and this city. President McKinley was also met here by Mayor Phelan and formally received. The president, the members of his cabinet, Mayor Phelan and the reception committee were then taken by special train to the Third and Townsend street station, where the military and naval escort was waiting.

In the rear of the platoon of mounted police and a battalion of patrolmen came Grand Marshal Warfield and his aides. Behind them were swung into line Troop A, the special escort of the president, closely followed by the veteran guard of the Grand Army of the Republic, who acted as a guard of honor for the battle flags of President McKinley's regiment.

A second later President McKinley, sitting comfortably in his carriage, was in full view of the throng that had waited so long to greet him. Accompanying him were Mayor Phelan and Irving M. Scott, chairman of the citizens' executive committee. Cheer after cheer rose from the multitude, which were re-echoed along the thoroughfares. With his face wreathed in smiles President McKinley gracefully raised his hat and bowed his acknowledgment of the ovation.

After the president's carriage came those of his cabinet, Governor Nash of Ohio and his staff and the Ohio congressional delegation. The long line of carriages was followed by 4,000 troops, infantry, artillery and cavalry from the Presidio, led by Gen. Shafter, and 1,000 marines and sailors from the battleships Iowa, Philadelphia and Wisconsin, under the command of Admiral Casey. At Van Ness avenue President McKinley reviewed the procession, after which he repaired to the Scott residence for dinner.

The president was driven to the ferry depot at 8 o'clock last evening. In the large and handsomely illuminated nave of the large building the president received a vast crowd of people. Mayor Phelan delivered a brief address of welcome, to which President McKinley responded. The president did not indulge in handshaking, but graciously bowed as the people passed, each one saluting him with a small flag.

Thousands of people between Del Monte and San Jose were disappointed on Monday on account of the president's non-appearance, he leaving Mrs. McKinley only long enough to run to San Jose for an hour, where he made a brief speech. A feature of the San Jose reception was a monster bouquet, 90 feet in circumference, with a telegraph pole for a stem.

EXCITING DAY ON WALL STREET

A Panic Averted After One Day of the Wildest Trading.

New York, May 10.—The threatening condition of affairs which developed in the stock market Wednesday culminated yesterday in one of the severest twists ever experienced in Wall street. The corner in Northern Pacific was the impelling cause of the crisis, owing to the threat contained in the ruinous terms forced upon the shorts in the stock that disastrous liquidation would be forced at other points. Strenuous efforts were made by the most powerful financial interests in the country to avert the threatened trouble and almost unlimited supporting orders were placed in the market for the opening, in anticipation of the heavy selling which was to come. The excitement began when Northern Pacific began selling at 200, and rushed up rapidly to 700 on regular transactions and 1,000 for cash. Then there was a sudden weakening of the whole market, and other stocks fell from 5 to 30 points. Banks came to the rescue and loaned $16,000,000 at 6 per cent, and towards the close the market recovered to almost normal conditions.

Today there was a complete recovery, the agreement to allow Northern Pacific shorts to cover at 150 wiping out the impelling cause of Thursday's panic.

No Gambling in Montana.

Helena, Mont., May 15.—Every gambling house in Montana closed yesterday, Attorney General Donovan having instructed every county attorney to see that they were closed or else he would proceed against them for neglect of duty. HARRISBURG LETTER.

Measures That Occupy the Attention of the Lawmakers.

LEGISLATIVE APPORTIONMENT.

The Patterson Bill Increasing the Membership Reported in the House. Capital Removal and Guffey Ballot Bills Defeated.

Harrisburg, May 11.—A short session of the house was held yesterday, the order of business being bills on first and second reading. Among the bills passing first reading was the Fox measure appropriating $5,000,000 to complete the capitol.

Mr. Harrison, of Philadelphia, moved that when the house adjourned it be to meet at 3:30 next Wednesday afternoon. The motion was adopted. The adjournment is to permit members to attend the reception to Senator Quay in Philadelphia next Tuesday.

Mr. Coray, of Luzerne, made a speech in opposition to the motion to adjourn. He said that collectively the members were a lot of asses to permit themselves to be used as pawns by politicians high in authority for political purposes. He warned his colleagues that the repeated adjournments would delay the date of final adjournment and suggested that they remain in Harrisburg and attend to their legislative duties. His was the only speech on the motion.

The Patterson legislative apportionment bill, which increases the membership of the house from 204 to 207, was reported. The bill will be read the first time next Wednesday and then re-committed for amendment.

Representative Dixon, of Elk, is critically ill with pneumonia at the Bolton House. Representative Palm, of Crawford, and several other members are also ill at their homes.

In the house on Wednesday last the Voorhees bill providing for a submission to a vote of the people at the November election the question of changing the location of the capitol from Harrisburg to Philadelphia was taken up on a special order for third reading and final passage. After an extended debate the bill was defeated by a vote of 75 to 103.

The Guffey ballot bill, which does away with the party circle, was also defeated on final passage by a vote of 95 to 87, 103 being necessary for passage.

The Fox capitol completion bill was reported to the house from the committee on public building with an amendment that the state shall erect its own lighting and heat plant, and will be read the first time tomorrow. The bill as it passed the senate appropriates $5,000,000 to complete the state house by a commission, one of whom shall be a Democrat, to be appointed by Governor Stone.

The Fayette City local option repealer, which was defeated last week, was reconsidered and postponed for the present.

Senator David Martin, of Philadelphia, who has been ill with pneumonia, was in his seat in the senate yesterday for the first time since January.

The governor Wednesday signed a number of bills, among them: Requiring foreign corporations, limited partnerships and joint stock associations to pay a bonus of one-third of 1 per cent on their capital actually employed in Pennsylvania; imposing a bonus of one-third of 1 per cent upon the capital and increase thereof of partnership associations; regulating the proceedings in actions of ejectment; repealing the local option law in the borough of Donora, Washington county.

In the house Thursday the juvenile court bill passed finally. The bill provides that the judges inoyer and terminer, jail delivery and quarter sessions shall designate one of their number to hold a child's court for the trial of juvenile offenders. A jury trial may be demanded, but in the absence of this demand the court can assign these infant malefactors to the care and oversight of "probation officers," to be appointed by the court and to serve without pay. Over 12 years the court can sentence to the house of refuge and under 12 the child is to be placed on "probation."

The senate has adjourned to Wednesday evening next.

Miners May Yet March to Harrisburg.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 13.—A big mass meeting of miners was held at Plymouth Saturday night. The action of two assemblies of United mine workers in expelling two of their members who went to Harrisburg to oppose the mine bills before the legislature was endorsed. National Organizer Dilcher made a speech in which he said that the threatened march of miners to Harrisburg was no idle threat. If the senate failed to pass the legislation demanded 40,000 hard coal workers would surely start on a march to the state capital. They would go as law abiding citizens looking for their rights under the constitution.

Indicted on Bribery Charges.

Scranton, May 15.—True bills charging bribery were returned by the grand jury yesterday against General Manager Frank Silliman, Jr., of the Scranton Railway company, and the five Old Forge councilmen whom he is accused of bribing. These latter are Thomas Stephens, Patrick Gallagher, William Munroe, Antoni Biancardi and Thomas Kilcoyne. It is alleged they accepted money and other valuable considerations for voting for a franchise for the company in 1899.
