OVER TWENTY DOGS.

Bitten by a Canine That Was Mad Saturday Afternoon.

Residents above Mill Hall and Salona had a mad dog scare Saturday afternoon. A dog, owned by Mr. Driver, of Mill Hall, ran through the suburb above Mill Hall snapping and snarling as he went. He bit thirteen dogs He ran through Salona and bit ten or twelve dogs in that place. He disappeared a few hours, but later in the evening was seen running up the road where he bit Albert Gummo's dog. The mad dog then disappeared and was not seen up to-day. Of the dogs that were bitten in Salona these have been shot: F. W. Sigmund, James Barnes, John Shearer and Charles McClintick. Some of the others will also be shot.

By his side were a beer bottle and a sardine box. Half as much more was inside. It was columns. a hard pull for two men to extract the reptile, which was killed with a club.

It is supposed that Wilkins slept with his mouth open and the snake crawled in to investigate the opening. Anothe Lehigh Valley Coal Co. to David theory is that it was attracted by the sardines. Wilkins died from suffocation

It Was a "Big Werm."

An Italian laborer working on the railroad at Keating saw a rattlesnak coiled under a stone. Not knowing any thing about snakes, he picked the reptil Stevenson, June 20, 1901; 56 acre, 9 up to throw it aside, when the snak struck its fangs into man's hand. The Italian continued working, when hi hand began to swell, which attracted the attention of his fellow workers. The Re novo "News" says that he explained the matter sententiously in these words "Worma bit ma hand. Hurts lika hella What do?" An investigation showed that the "worm" was over four feet long and a deadly black rattler.

The Italian's wrist was tightly encircled by a heavy piece of cord and about half hour later be was taken to the office of Dr. J. K. Gilmore at Westport. Dr June 24, 1901; two lots in Philipsburg Gilmore did all he could for the Italian Boro., and Rush Twp. $1000. and Tuesday he was reported out of danger. The hand had swollen to eigh times its normal size.

Cost of a London Fog.

A London fog is an expensive visita tion. A day of it, counting the day a eight hours, is estimated to cost any thing from £50,000 to £100,000 in hard cash. No small proportion of this goes to the gas and electric light companies, which have to supply about a third also the railways. Fog signaling is awakened the public to the serious dancompany during a day's fog in extra powders which are urged upon consumpay to the plate layers.
