MINE FIRE STILL BURNING

It is Hoped With Relief Gangs to Get Fire Under Control.

EIGHT BODIES ARE STILL IN MINE

It Is Possible That the Bodies Still Entombed Are Buried Beneath Tons of Slate and May Never Be Recovered.

Pocahontas, Va., Nov. 18 .- Excursion trains carried more than 2,000 hontas, Flat Top and Elkhorn to the scene of the Baby Mine disaster yesterday, and all day long the grounds about the entrance to the mine shaft were a mass of humanity.

No bodies have been recovered since Saturday, but the work will continue as long as there is any hope of recovering any of the unfortunates. Many of the miners familiar with those employed there still assert that at least eight bodies are yet within the mine. It is possible that if they were within when the explosion occurred they may have been covered beneath tons of falling slate, and their bodies will never be recovered. The list of bodies already recovered numbers 12, and two or three of the injured will yet die. Eight bodies of the unfortunates were buried in the same cemetery, where nearly 200 or more miners were buried, who met death in the same mine nearly 15 years ago.

The mine is still burning flercely, and for the past 24 hours very little has been accomplished in the way of searching the mine for those that are still missing. It was supposed on Saturday night that the fire would have been under control by yesterday afternoon, but it was found that a large amount of pipe and hose was yet needed in order to reach the fire. The mine officials are sparing neither effort nor expense in caring for the injured, burying the dead and extinguishing the flames. It is now hoped with the relief gangs from other mines to get the fire under control, though it is hardly probable that it will be entirely extinguished for possibly a | week, as it is a drift mine and it will be almost impossible to flood it.

On Friday afternoon a party of rescuers entered the burning mine reaching a point hitherto inaccessible. They saw in the distance the corpses of six or seven men and endeavored to reach them, but the extreme heat drove them back. The fire is still raging and growing flercer. All efforts to get even partial control of it have proved futile. The situation is extremely bad, with no apparent hope of improvement.

Monday the body of Fritz Moulter was found entombed in a room on the west side. He was living, but a few hours more no doubt would have brought death. For six hours physicians worked with him before he was restored to consciousness. He is yet feeble, but is likely to recover.

There was great rejoicing when the news spread that he had been recovered alive. Moulter says that all in the mine on Thursday night commented on the heaviness of the atmosphere, and that a number of the men left work before he did. He soon found that danger was imminent, and with several others started to run for the drift. A heavy report, which shook the mountain, was heard, and an instant later a huge cloud of smoke and flame was seen coming. He lost sight of his companions, but he turned into a side room as quickly as possible and was shut off by falling slate. Probably two days elapsed before he succumbed to the foul air.

Money for relief is being raised by popular subscription. The state mine aspector is on the scene, but as yet has given out no statement regarding the supposed cause of the disaster.

Milk Poured Into Gutters. New York, Nov. 20 .- Under the new and exceedingly strict pure food law of New Jersey, which went into effect on November 1, a large force of state inspectors swooped down upon the milk dealers of Paterson, N. J., yesterday, with disastrous consequences to the dealers. Supplies of the fluid which came in on trains were tested. as well as that which local dairymen and neighboring farmers were peddling in wagons. Hundreds of gallons which the inspectors said had been watered were poured into the gutters. The result was that many families were without milk. In each case samples were taken from the cans to be tested with a view to prosecutions. The police force of the city gave all the aid possible to the inspectors. City Treasurer Suspended. Buffalo, Nov. 20 .- Mayor Diehl yesterday suspended City Treasurer Philip Gerst from office. In the notice of suspension the mayor charges Mr. Gerst with misconduct in office, and with having kept inaccurate and false accounts. The examination of the accounts, which has been in progress for several days, will be continued.

SUICIDE OF SCHOOLBOY

After Being Punished By His Mother Drinks Carbolic Acid. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 19 .- For failing to attend school regularly, Mrs. Emanuel Smallstreet, of this city, punished her 13-year-old stepson Hal at noon yesterday. The boy resented the action of his stepmother and said the would have cause to regret it.

The mother paid no attention to the threat. The lad then went upstairs to a medicine chest and procured a bottle of carbolic acid. He and his brother William, aged 8 years, then left for school. At the afternoon recess both the brothers left school. They went to a field some distance people from the coal fields of Poca- away, where Hal gave his brothers some of the carbolic acid to drink. telling him that it tasted nice and he would like it. But William did not like the taste very much, and after drinking some of the contents handed the bottle back to his brother. Hal then drank what remained in the bottle, saying as he did so: "Here is goodby to all; they will never see me again.

A short time afterwards a man passing through the field discovered the two boys lying on the ground. Both were unconscious. They were removed to a hospital as soon as possible, where the elder brother died last night. William is still in a critical condition, but it is thought that he will recover.

AN IRRESPONSIBLE FORGER

Used Names of Chicago Business Men to Notes Aggregating $103,000.

New York, Nov. 18 .- O. B. Wheeler, Jr., who was arrested on Saturday on charges of forging the names of Chicago business men to notes aggregating $103,000, was arraigned in the police court yesterday. An attorney who appeared for him told the magistrate that his client was in his opinion suffering from the excessive use of some drug, and that he was now mentlly unbalanced.

Wheeler had the air of a prosperous business man. He is small of stature, quite bald and wears a beard. While waiting to be arraigned he walked nervously about the court room. His hands and head shook perceptibly. and when before the bar he had to hold on to the railing to steady himself. The attorney called the attention of the court to Wheeler's condition and requested that he be sent to Bellevue Hospital, where he could be under the care of his private physician. He further said that for a month past Wheeler had been constantly attended by a private nurse, who knew much about the alleged attempts on his part to raise money on the notes. Magistrate Cornell said that he felt very sorry for the prisoner and that he thought he was in need of medical care, and on the statement of the detective that he could be attended by his doctor at police headquarters he sent him back there. Vessel Wrecked in Fog.

St. Johns. N. F., Nov. 18.-The barkentine Titania, from Liverpool for St. Johns, was wrecked on Saturday in a dense fog near Cape Race. One man, Williams, lost his life in trying to reach the shore. The captain and the rest of the crew, all of whom were badly injured, had a terrible experience. They were on the wreck for 36 hours, lashed to the rigging, and were not rescued until resterday afternoon. Freight Crashes Into Work Train on Sharp Curve.

TEN DEAD AND MANY INJURED

Force of Collision Was So Great That Freight Cars Were Thrown On Top of Work Train-Fire Adds to

Blair, Mont., Nov. 19 .- A wreck occurred on the Great Northern near here, in which ten men lost their lives and 28 others were seriously injured. An extra freight ran into a work train, and it was among those on the latter train that the terrible havoc was wrought. Forty-one Japanese laborers were aboard the work train, which was proceeding westward. It expected to meet the freight at Culbertson. There is a sharp curve near where the trains met, and each was running at a speed of 25 miles an hour. So great was the force of the impact that the freight cars were thrown upon the top of the work train, which was piled high in a mass of wreckage.

Almost immediately flames broke forth and added to the horror of the scene. Those uninjured immediately began to rescue those imprisoned in the wreck, whose dying groans and piteous appeals for help spurred on the workers.

At the time the accident occurred the Japanese were at breakfast, and before they were aware of the impending danger the cars were smashed into kindling wood and the dead and dying men buried beneath the heap of wreckage. Of the entire number in the car but three escaped death or injury. After an hour's work all had been accounted for and there were ten dead bodies beside the track and several men so bauly injured that it is likely that they will die. It | was impossible to check the progress of the flames, and soon seven of the

There was no one on the car at the time excepting the motorman and conductor. They were thrown from their feet and cut by flying glass but escaped serious injury. of the flames, and soon seven of the work cars and three freight cars were in ashes.

It was some time before word of the wreck could be sent to the outside world. It was necessary to send a man on foot to Culbertson, six miles away, and he could not be spared for this until everything possible had been done to save those in the wreck.

Word was sent to Glasgow for a relief train and doctors, and as soon as they reached the scene the work of caring for the injured began. Nineteen of the injured were brought to the hospital here yesterday afternoon and the other nineteen were left at Havre. Of those brought here all but three probably will recover. Those at Havre were not so seriously injured.

H. Mastoni, foreman of the Japanese, who was one of the three who WHEREAS the Hon. John G. Love, President escaped injury, says that he had no idea who was to blame for the wreck.
