

HAPPENINGS ABOUT TOWN

The Local News Compiled During the Week

BRIEFLY TOLD IN A FEW LINES

Movements of Our People—Personal Mention, Society Events—What Has Transpired Worthy of Mention—Short Paragraphs. —Mrs. B. F. Bottorf is laid up with the grip. —Snow squall and colder Tuesday morning. —Mrs. Dr. Holloway is visiting friends in Philadelphia. —James A. McClain, of Spangler, visited friends in town on Sunday. —James Reed, of Washington, D. C., is visiting friends in Bellefonte. —Mr. and Mrs. Murray Andrews, who have spent the summer in England, are on the ocean homeward bound. —Frank Dawson, who is connected with the foundrys in Tyrone spent Sunday with his parents in Bellefonte. —Mrs. Edward Rowe, of Sharon, Pa., is visiting her sisters, Mrs. C. D. Krider and Mrs. Frank Nagney, at this place. —J. W. Houser left Monday afternoon for Cleveland, Ohio; Pittsburgh and Sharon, Pa., on business of importance. —Elmer Nearhood, formerly in the employ of Joseph Bros. & Co., has accepted a clerkship with Montgomery & Co. —The Bellefonte Match factory in the Reynolds mill has closed down for a period of a few days to put steam in the building. —Mr. and Mrs. John N. Lane, of East Linn street, have announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Pattie Lane to Mr. Robert H. Fay, of Altoona. —Linn Longwell, who had been ill with typhoid fever in one of the hospitals at Pittsburgh, was brought home Monday. He is better and is gaining strength. —Mrs. Isaac Dawson and little grandson Earle, and Mrs. Wm. Dawson returned on Saturday evening from a pleasant visit with friends in Philadelphia. —Miss Mabel Keller, one of the operators of the U. T. & T. telephone exchange at Centre Hall, is temporarily employed in the company's Bellefonte exchange. —George Weaver, of Fiedler, Cyrus Ziegler, of Wolfs Store, and Mr. Sheets of the tollgate, west of Millheim, were among the Democrat's pleasant callers, being jurors. —Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy went to Bryn Mawr Saturday night, owing to the illness with typhoid pneumonia of their daughter, Miss Annie, who is a student at the Bryn Mawr college. —Mr. Albright, successor as constable to Rub Kline, of Gregg, made his first report in court Monday. If he serves as long as his deceased predecessor, Mr. Albright will be in the harness 25 years. —Farmers depending upon cisterns, inform us they have a fair supply of water from the showers a few days ago, doing away with the necessity of hauling water; the streams show a very light rise. —Burglars entered the millinery store of Miss Mollie Snyder on West Bishop street Sunday night, they effected an entrance through the cellar. Nothing was taken but her stock was considerably disturbed. —The annual Union Thanksgiving services will be held this year in the Methodist Episcopal church at the usual hour on Thanksgiving morning. Rev. Dr. Wm. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church will preach the sermon. —Geo. T. Bush returned last week from an extended Western trip. His journey carried him through Colorado, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Texas, Louisiana and Virginia and covered a distance of nearly eight thousand miles. —Dan Kelley, son of Wm. Kelley, manager of the Bellefonte furnace, was accidentally struck by a freight car at the furnace last week and received injuries that compelled him to lay off from work for nearly a week. —Harry H. Irvin, of Altoona, son of John J. Irvin, formerly of Bellefonte, whose skull was fractured by an accident in the round house in that city one day last week where he is employed as an inspector, is improving. —The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will hold a fair and festival Thursday and Friday, 4th and 5th of December in the Chapel. It promises to be an elaborate affair and will include tables for the display and sale of fancy articles as well as of cakes, candies, etc. It is probable also that refreshments may be served on one or two evenings during the fair. A New England kitchen will be a prominent feature. The ladies will give special attention to the preparation of gifts suitable for Christmas time and will hope to meet the requirements of those who desire to give tasteful and appropriate reminders to their friends at that season. The arrangements are being made on a generous scale and the enthusiasm with which the project has been launched promises substantial results as well as an interesting time socially.

—Rev. Dr. Holloway will preach a sermon on Sunday evening on "Religious and Secular Business." —The potato rot has measurably ceased. The grain fields do not have an unfavorable appearance. —Sam. Rowe, Centre Hall's hustling implement agent, was in town Monday. Also Constable Runkle, of same place. —Esq. Musser and Fred Hosterman, of Millheim, and Esq. Grove, of Potter, had business at the county seat Monday. —The announcement is made that the firm of Eckenroth & Montgomery, paper hangers, of this place, will dissolve January 1st. —Next Monday, one week, the Teachers' Institute for this county will meet in the court house. It is about two weeks earlier than usual. —Court did not have a large attendance, outside of jurors and witnesses. If everybody did what is right these would rarely be needed. —Chas. Mensch, foreman of the Gazette office, skipped over to Phillipsburg on Tuesday to attend an assembly given by the young people of that city. —There have been a few changes in the schedule on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad that went into effect on Monday of this week. Before you start for a train you had better look up the time table. —Hunters on the Nittany Rod & Gun Club preserve have killed very few quail this season. The birds must have migrated to more genial climes. What has become of them is hard to tell, but they are not in evidence. —The Estey Chapel organ we are giving away can be seen at any time by calling at M. C. Gephart's music store. You will find a large assortment of other musical instruments at the place, but none are better than the Estey. —A new grocery store has been opened in the Ammerman building, on Bishop street, by E. T. Roan whose announcement appears in another part of this issue. He says he can make it interesting for people to call at his store. —"Down and Up," in the opera house, on last Friday evening, was an unusually entertaining comedy. From start to finish there was continuous uproarious laughter, with a few excellent specialties thrown in. The Hickman brothers have a good show and deserved a better house. —Some people are thinking of Christmas presents already. If you wish to remember some member of your family at a distance nothing will be more acceptable to them than a year's subscription to the Centre Democrat. It will cost you but $1. Where can you do more with your money? —A stick of dynamite was exploded last Friday night, on Bishop street, by James McDermot evidently for the purpose of arousing the neighborhood. It had the effect of scaring everybody within a half-mile of the place. No damage, except the fright, resulting. The authorities promptly took the matter in charge and has proven rather serious for the joker. —Link Miller, colored, and a native of Bellefonte, was found guilty of his felonious crime in the Butler county courts, and was sentenced to seven years in the Western penitentiary at Pittsburgh. Link is well known in this community as a disorderly chap who constantly was causing trouble. In Butler county they must send such chaps through on short order. There are others who should go to Butler county. —On Sunday evening Dr. Shriner delivered an interesting discourse on "Hell". In popular parlance we might say "he got there, in good shape" but that would misconstrue our estimate of the sermon. He did not attempt to say exactly where it was located or just the exact temperature, but indicated that it was an undesirable abode, and of its existence there was no room for a doubt. We agree with him. —Our Unionville correspondent has another fit this week. His contributions are of such a variety that one wonders what will be his next effort. It will soon be in order for the officials of that borough to vote him a pension for the distinction he has brought to that place and community. "Domino" truly is original, and harmless as well, with a ray of sunshine and a ripple of laughter for one and all. The world truly would be better and happier if there were more "Dominoes" to brighten our pathway—and that is no joke. —On Saturday the household effects of W. F. Coblick were sold at public sale and Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Coblick and two children took their departure for Albuquerque, New Mexico, for the benefit of Mr. Coblick's health. For years Mr. Coblick was annoyed with pulmonary troubles, but never of a severe nature until the past summer when he was ill with pneumonia, exposure gave him a set back and the lower lobe of the left lung became affected and developed consumption. In New Mexico the climate is exceedingly dry and delightful and favorable for people with such ailments. They have no relatives or acquaintances in that section. While there, Mr. Coblick thinks that out-door life, care and exercise will bring about a decided change. In his short time of two years at the Bellefonte bar Mr. Coblick established a good practice and was succeeding and would have risen to the foremost ranks, of the profession.

—To-day we will all be turkey gobblers. —The corrected R. R. time table appears in this issue. —Yeager & Davis have the Mishawaka ball band rubbers. —The Historical Review will be found on page 7 of this issue. —The small boy will be thankful because there is no school. —People will give thanks to-day who never give anything else. —Samuel Taylor is slowly improving from his serious attack of typhoid fever. —Butcher Wm. Lyons was on the sick list last week, but is around again in good shape. —Howard Spangler reports business brisk at his new tobacco stand, on Allegheny street. —The new photographic portraits made at the Moore Art Studio are marvels of excellence and beauty. —The game of foot ball at State College, on Saturday, resulted in a defeat of Dickinson by a score of 12 to 0. —There will be a new display of magnificent art work; watch the upper case at the Moore Art Studio, Crider's Exchange. —A progressive euchre party will be held in the Parish Hall which is connected with the St. John's Catholic church, this evening. —The meetings of the Salvation Army continue to be well attended and often their hall, over the Centre County Bank, will not contain the crowds. —Saturday afternoon we had a pleasant call from ex-Commissioner Geo. L. Goodhart and J. H. Wagner, two of Potter twps. progressive citizens. —One glance will convince you that the very best Xmas present you can buy will be a set of the peerless photographs made by the Moore Art Studio. Crider's Exchange. —Today Thanksgiving, the foot ball enthusiasts over the country will have their wishes gratified. The game in Bellefonte, as well as elsewhere, is increasing in popularity. —The rain from Saturday evening to Sunday evening was welcomed by all. The precipitation was 1 1/4 inches, which filled many of the dry cisterns, although the streams showed very slight rise. —Owing to the demand of merchants we devote more than usual space of this issue to advertising. We hope our readers will be indulgent with us. We have been refusing advertisements the past month for want of space. —Eustace B. Grimes, private secretary of Hon. William F. Harris, President of the Equitable Trust company, of Philadelphia, has resigned his position after eleven years service. Mr. Grimes one time was a resident of Bellefonte. —A great game of foot ball is scheduled for this afternoon at the Fair Grounds, between an aggregation from State College and the Academy boys. The game will be called at 3 o'clock and an admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. —The Centre Democrat has much to be thankful for. The past year has been a satisfactory one, as an increase in patronage is the true test of merit, and we have had a liberal portion. For this and many other reasons we are thankful. —Judge Weiss of the Dauphin county courts has sentenced to the House of Refuge four Harrisburg boys who were charged with truancy and disrespect to their parents. That is a good dose that could be used with effect in this place. —Mildred, the little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Locke has scarlet fever. Harold, a young son of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Ward and two young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Shuey are likewise afflicted. The homes are quarantined. —Court commenced on Monday in regular quarter sessions, and it appears some people will be violators of the law and get themselves into trouble and into prison, and that other good citizens will quarrel and then go to court at an expense of hundreds of dollars, over a matter that common reasoning should prevent them to settle among themselves at home. —The W. H. F. M. Society of the Lutheran church of this place held its Twelfth Anniversary in the church last Sunday evening. Mrs. Kuhn conducted the exercises, consisting of essays by Miss Lula Stover, Miss Blanche Smith and Mrs. Grove also recitations by several members of the infant school. The music by the choir was charming. Dr. Holloway delivered an address on missionary work. —Our always good humored friend, Frank Bowersox, of Rock Springs, gave us an hour's call, being a juror this week. His barn and all contents having burned in the summer, he is now getting all material in readiness to rebuild the coming summer. He has temporary sheds and buildings to tide him over the winter, and his neighbors, of near and far, showed him royal kindness in supplying him with all needed, in feed, wagons, implements, storage room in vacant building and lending all possible assistance free of charge. He greatly appreciates such neighborly kindness, and it cheers him in his uninsured loss. He has a son in Porto Rico, who served in the war down there, and he sent his father four sets of harness along with a lot of curios from that country. Frank seems as jolly as of old and the scorching he got still leaves him jolly as ever.

—Walkover and "Bilt well" shoes for men. Yeager & Davis. —We would like to hear from all of our correspondents next week. —Martin Overly, of Pittsburg, is visiting friends in Bellefonte this week. —Col. James P. Coburn and wife went to Akron, Ohio, yesterday to visit friends. —We have the Lambertville snag proof boots and rubbers. Yeager & Davis. —Between this and Jan. 1st we hope to hear from some of our delinquent patrons. —Watch them—they breathe—Chas. Moore's new photographic productions at Crider's Exchange. —Weather Tuesday and Wednesday was quite cold, and ice of half an inch and over was common. —It is actually flesh and blood—Chas. Moore's new photographic portraitures. See it at Crider's Exchange. —Geo. Clepper, of Harrisburg, is assisting Mr. Gephart in the piano and organ business in this vicinity. —The sale of the Valentine furnace and the ore lands belonging to it has been postponed until Dec. 21. —The Sportsmen's League of Centre county will have its regular monthly meeting on Friday evening, Dec. 6. —John C. Miller, accompanied by his son Charles, are at Huntingdon to spend Thanksgiving Day with his sister, Mrs. Garrettsen. —Miss Patty Lane's dancing class will give a fancy dress and masque ball in the Armory Hall Friday evening. Music will be furnished by Christy Smith's orchestra. —W. L. Daggett, of the Bush House, reached home Tuesday from Atlantic City where he has spent the past few weeks. He recently submitted at the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore to an operation, and his appearance shows a marked improvement. —Charles Runkle, son of Jacob Runkle, recently bruised his left leg and it has caused him much inconvenience. On Monday an operation was performed that gave him relief. Several months ago he was in a critical condition from a wound in the right leg. —The morning after the death of Miss Bernice Moore of this place, a letter was received from Philadelphia announcing that one of her sepia pictures, entitled "Motherhood," had been awarded a prize at the Academy of Art. This is a high honor which the young lady would have appreciated, had not death intervened. —Williamsport Lodge No. 173, B. & P. order of Elks, will hold a memorial service in the Lycoming Opera House in that city Sunday evening, Dec. 1, Lock Haven, Renovo and Sunbury lodges of Elks will be represented in the program. A number of members of the Lock Haven lodge, residing at this place, will be attendance. —Boarding House Burned. The three story frame house, on Thomas street, owned by John Pecinna, and kept as a boarding house by Mrs. Bickle, took fire Tuesday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock, and was burned from the second floor to the roof, when its further progress was arrested by the work of the firemen, and whose efforts saved the closely adjoining houses. The fire started about the fire on the garret, and the roof was enveloped in flames when the fire engines reached the spot. Most of the contents of the building were saved by the active work of persons who were on the ground immediately after the alarm was sounded. Insurance on house $800, with John L. Potter. —These Are Corn Raisers. Last week we published the fact that M. W. Smith husked 1,720 bushels of corn off of twelve acres, or 143 bushels to the acre. James Phillips, on the Betz farm, in Wayne township, says he can do even better than that. Nine acres on that farm yielded 1,300 bushels, or over 144 bushels to the acre.—From the Lock Haven Democrat. If there are any Centre county farmers who can equal this yield or surpass it we would like to hear from them. —THE campaign of progress and improvement marked out by the Pennsylvania railroad for 1902 will be a memorable one in the history of that great enterprise. The proposed expenditures for rolling stock are stated at $25,000,000. Of this $19,000,000 will be expended for the addition for 19,000 new freight and coal cars and $6,000,000 for 400 passenger locomotives. In the history of railroads no such order has been given out for one year's work by any single railway corporation. —THE report of the chief sanitary officer at Havana shows that while in last October there were 308 cases of yellow fever in that city and 74 deaths, in October, 1901, not a single case of yellow fever was reported, although October has generally furnished the largest number of cases. This is a wonderful result of scientific sanitation. The reason for the remarkable change has been found in the fact that a certain variety of the mosquito, now well identified, is the purveyor of this malady to human beings, and all that the health officers need to do, in order to prevent yellow fever, is to prevent the existence of these insects, or at all events to prevent them from biting human beings.

Royal Baking Powder will always keep fresh and of full strength regardless of climate or season. Every atom, to the last in the can, does even, perfect work. Made from pure, grape cream of tartar. Makes wholesome food.

Holt—Confer.

October 21st, as the clock chimed one, the marriage ceremony was pronounced by T. F. Burgen, of Howard, which united two of our highly esteemed young people in wedlock. The ceremony was impressive, especially as the ring was placed on the finger of the handsome bride. The attendants were W. R. Confer and Miss Anna M. Corl. After the many friends had congratulated and showered them with best wishes, a sumptuous feast was served to all. The presents were numerous and beautiful. As the couple left for a bridal tour of a few days their friends thought this a good time to shower them with large quantities of rice. May our friends ever have plenty of sunshine on their pathway. x. v. z.

MARRIED.—At the home of the bride's parents at that place on Thursday, Nov. 21st, by Rev. T. F. Burgen, of Howard, Frank Holt, of Winburn, to Miss Maud Confer, of Moshannon. The bridesmaid was Miss Anna Corl, of Pleasant Gap, the groomsmen were Roy Confer, brother of the bride. After the ceremony the happy couple, with a host of friends repaired to the dining hall where a sumptuous dinner was ready. After doing justice to the same the bride and groom departed on a western tour to add more to the happy occasion. We wish them a very happy and prosperous journey through life.

A HEALTHY RAID.

Our friends over in New Jersey are to have a new food law the first of January. When are the people of the Keystone State to have some protection from the fraudulent food articles which abound upon every hand? The arrest and punishment of parties making and selling alum baking powders has commenced, it is true, but Pennsylvania is still the dumping ground for some of the worst of these articles sent out by the manufacturers of New York, Baltimore, Cincinnati, and Chicago. Some power should stop it. The authorities in Philadelphia have apparently been spurred to action by the vigorous editorials of some of the dailies of that city. The State Food Commissioners is collecting samples and it is hoped that some effective action will follow. Meantime for safety sake it will be well to keep all alum powders out of the store and out of the home.

Hunting Notes.

Thomas, Joseph and Roland McCartney, of Snow Shoe, were hunting in the woods near that place last week when they saw a bear and gave the animal chase. The bear ran into a cave and the hunters built a fire and concluded to remain until brain came out. On the morning of the second day the bear put in an appearance and after a hard fight was killed. When taken home it was found to weigh 500 pounds.

Propos of the Sampson-Schley Court of Inquiry which has occupied the attention of the public for the past month and more, the Kentucky Journal republishes the following famous story: "Since the Sampson-Schley controversy has grown acute again, there has been considerable reference to Proctor Knott's 'rabbit story,' in connection with the credit for the victory at Santiago. It is here reproduced: Proctor Knott and John Verkes were discussing the claims of Sampson and Schley to the credit of smashing Cervera at Santiago. Mr. Verkes took the ground that all the honor of that memorable conflict belonged to Admiral Sampson and was inclined to entirely ignore Commodore Schley's part in the affair. The governor listened until his companion had finished, and then with that characteristic twinkle in his eye, he said: 'My dear sir it is exceedingly gratifying for me to hear you take the position you have in the matter. It is like a balm to my conscience and settles a point that has worried me many a day. I was walking through the woods one day with a boy friend of mine when we saw a rabbit run into a sink hole. We stood around the hole awhile. Then I told the boy to keep watch while I went to get some fire to smoke the rabbit out. When I returned the boy had the rabbit. I took it away from him, claiming it belonged to me, because I told him to catch it if it came out. That was over fifty years ago, and you are the first man who has ever agreed with me that the rabbit was mine. I feel now that I was right in taking it and my conscience is at rest.'

THAT RABBIT STORY.
