Happenings About Centre County Briefly told by A CORPS OF ABLE WRITERS

Our Alert Correspondents Note Many Important Events in Different Localities—What is Transpiring—Is Your Section Represented?

Nittany.

Charles Emerick had the misfortune of having a log fall on his foot breaking one of his toes.

Sunday was a beautiful day, but Monday was of a different nature.

It is said that two of our women will get themselves into trouble if they don't stop trying to run a horseless carriage, with a ten-foot pole for a whip.

Mrs. George Tolbert and son were to Howard on Thanksgiving and report having had a nice time.

Charles Krape and family, of Lamar, were guests of Daniel Showers on Sunday, Charles was a very welcome visitor in our Sunday school.

Our bustling butcher Wm. J. Mawk is kept busy every day butchering to supply the demand for meat. He butchers for those who don't care to do their own butchering and has been giving the best satisfaction.

Frank Carner, of Hublersburg, with his engine, is crushing stone for our supervisor.

Wanted, at Nittany, some one to build a town hall; some one to build a barber shop, and run the same; some one to start a livery stable and everybody to read the Centre Democrat, because it's the best county paper published. It gives more news for the least money than any other paper in the county; try it and see.

Mrs. Belle Robb, of Altoona, is visiting her parents at this place. W. E. Shaffer and family.

John Messmer, of Penn Hall, was the guest of J. A. Minnick on Sunday and Miss Cora Minnick accompanied him to his home where she will spend several days visiting friends.

The hunters of this place have returned home with one deer and other small game.

You will find every thing, kept in a first class store, at Peck & Son's store.

Reveling meetings going on at Hublersburg, also at Lamar, and our young folks have been tending quite frequently.

Mrs. William McKibben and children, of Mackeyville, are visiting her mother, and brothers family, of this place.

Miss Kate Robb, of Bellefonte, visited her many friends at this place several days last week.

Miss Alma Pletcher, who is teaching school at Filmore, visited her parents and many friends over Sunday.

William Showers, our obliging saw-miller, has built quite a large addition to his saw mill, which will enable him to do all his work under roof. Billy has a new mill throughout and does first class work. Give him a trial and be convinced.

Our hustling supervisor, Joe A. Emerick, has been improving our roads by putting on crushed lime stone, also by putting in a new bridge below the depot on the back road, which was needed.

S. Peck & Son received a car load of the best soft coal this week. Their prices are right.

S. S. Pletcher, of Washington, D. C., spent a day and night with his brother, A. A. Pletcher, of this place, the past week.

Wilson Ammerman, of this place, has gone to Clearfield county, where he expects to be employed this winter.

We noticed Frank Rossman and brother Arthur, of Clintondale, in our town one evening this week.

W. E. Shaffer, our obliging grain dealer, is loading several cars of grain at Millheim this week. His prices are the highest, give him a trial.

Oak Hall.

Ira Kortman and daughter, Edith transacted business at Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Prof. Ed. Crawford, of Centre Hall, is conducting a singing class in our town.

Mrs. Susan Peters gave a dance at her home on Mill Square, last Tuesday evening.

A scene in a suburban parlor, the Boalsburg scribe being the chief actor:

"They sat in the dim lighted parlor The old folks thought they behaved, Till at last they heard, to their horror "Why——! you ought to get shaved."

Miss Mary Derner, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday with her parents.

Filmore.

Henry Wate, of Braddock visited among friends and relatives, at this place, a few days ago.

The Old Folks social was a very entertaining affair and was largely attended. A good many of our young people attended the "Old Maids' Convention," on Thanksgiving evening.

We wonder if the young man from Julian, who bought the turkey from Wm. Saxton, last Wednesday, didn't think he got a wild one after he got home.

Harry Meyer, who has been away at College, came home for Thanksgiving. Miss Harriet Taylor is ill at her home near this place.

Wm. Spotts and family, of State College, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Wise.

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Roan visited among relatives at Philippsburg, last week. Miss Edna Lyle, of Bellefonte, is visiting her sister, Miss Iva, of this place.

Boalsburg.

A member of the sub-freshman class of State College was in town last week, and he and his cousin went to call upon a neighbor, who of course has a handsome and accomplished daughter; and while there, this young man in trying to make a good impression on the young lady's father, asked him whether there was a heavy fine for shooting crows. We want to say also that his would-be father-in-law laid him in the shade when it came to playing checkers.

The four sides of it—"Satan," "Teddy," "Farmer" and "Pills."

A delightful Thanksgiving service was held in the Lutheran church on Thanksgiving day. Rev. Kerchner, of Centre Hall, preached the sermon which was an able discourse and very much appreciated by those present.

An entertainment under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Lutheran church will be held in the town hall on Saturday evening, Dec. 7th. Miss Hasenpflug, the famous elocutionist of Union county, is to be present and help along the entertainment. So everybody come and help the good cause along. Those wanting reserved seats had better order them early.

Miss Freddie Weiland, one of Linden Hall's accomplished musicians, spent Sunday with her brother, J. M. Weiland, our hustling and obliging co. hmakier.

Dr. Horse Mothersbaugh and son Robert, of Beech Creek, spent Thursday last week at the home of L. Mothersbaugh.

Miss Ella Stamm, of Altoona, is at the home of her brother, John Stamm.

Mrs. Andrew Lytle and daughters Mary and Nellie spent several days, recently, at the home of Harry Miller, Mrs. Lytle's aged father.

Prof. B. and Mary G. ate so many pickles on Thanksgiving that they have begun to vine out.

Foster Heath, wife and child, of Sandy Ridge, spent Thanksgiving day as the guest of Mrs. Heath's aunt, Miss Priscilla Stuart.

Miss Ella Dale, of Oak Hall, spent Saturday with her cousin, Miss Margaret Mothersbaugh.

Harry Stuart, one of Sandy Ridge's successful butchers, spent several days last week among friends in this place.

Miss Jennie From, of State College, spent Sunday as the guest of Mrs. Sarah Gingerich.

Ed. Williams, one of College township's efficient school teachers, spent Saturday in Bellefonte.

Another new ring in town; wonder where in the "Scott" it came from.

The Keller sisters are having a new porch put up in front of their residence.

We are glad to inform the public that Warren B—— of State College, has once more become a regular visitor at "Frog's Glory," a suburb of Shingletown.

Henry Hosterman and family, of Huntingdon, are at present spending a few days with friends in this place. Mr. Hosterman is employed in Blair's establishment at the above named place.

John Everheart, the big man from Franklinville, was shaking hands and cracking jokes with his many friends in this place, the latter part of last week.

James Glenn, a student of state college, visited at the home of his uncle, L. Mothersbaugh, on Friday. How Marion smiled when she saw him.

The Normal class held its weekly meeting in the Reformed church on Monday evening. The lesson of the previous meeting was reviewed by Rev. Leisher. Then the history of the Bible was taken up by Rev. A. A. Black, which was discussed by him and which will be discontinued until the complete history is gone over. The meetings are very interesting and teachers in the Sunday school and all others should make it a point to attend, they will not only be pleased but they will also be benefited greatly by the careful instruction which they will receive. The next meeting will be held, on account of teachers institute, in two weeks, in the Lutheran church.

Woodward.

Harry Runkel, of Winber, is visiting his parents at this place.

Miss Minnie Boob is making her home at Allen Yearick's.

Protracted meeting in the U. Ev. church closed Monday night.

Oliver Hosterman, after spending the hunting season at home, contemplates leaving for Buffalo, Monday next, where he has steady employment. He succeeded in bagging close onto a score and a half of pheasants.

The teachers are busily preparing to attend teachers' institute next week.

Mrs. Morningstar and children, of Milton, were pleasant callers at John Orndorf's.

The U. Ev. Sunday school is making preparations to have a Christmas entertainment.

Nearly everybody is through butchering, but nobody boasts of large porkers, owing no doubt to the scarcity of corn.

Mrs. Gertie Weaver departed for McElhattan, where she is visiting her sister.

Charles Gulsewitz, who is employed at Yeagertown, spent a few days at home; some attraction of course.

A magic lantern exhibit attracted quite a number of the citizens to the school house, Wednesday night.

The dam at this place has been frozen over at times during the last three weeks and quite a number of the young folks seize a spare moment to go skating.

H. P. Yearick is one of the traverse jurors at court this week.

Rabbits seem to be quite plenty in this community this year. It was not an uncommon sight, last Saturday, to see parties of two and three coming home with in the neighborhood of a dozen of the long eared fellows.

Kentucky's Voice.

has often been heard in our nation's affairs and her sons are ever ready to lend their voices and influence for the aid of mankind. From her beautiful mountain country, where, as a noted writer has said "the hills are so straight up, they lean back," writes A. M. Hughes, a druggist of Louisiana: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is all that can be desired. My customers call for it more and more and physicians, who as a rule are not quick to endorse patent medicines frequently prescribe it."

"I believe I saved my (nine year old) boy's life this winter with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says A. M. Hoppe, Rio Creek, Wis. "He was so choked up with croup that he could not speak. I gave it to him freely until he vomited and in a short time he was all right." For sale by Green's Pharmacy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Saved His Boy's Life. "I believe I saved my (nine year old) boy's life this winter with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says A. M. Hoppe, Rio Creek, Wis. "He was so choked up with croup that he could not speak. I gave it to him freely until he vomited and in a short time he was all right." For sale by Green's Pharmacy.

Beech Creek.

Stephen Summers is dangerously ill at his son-in-law's home in Beech Creek.

Ed Reed became ill suddenly with heart disease, but is somewhat improving. Johnson and DeLoag have closed their meat market and accepted positions with the N. Y. C. railroad in the yard at the scales.

Miss Mabel DeHass is reported to be ill at the home of her uncle, Alexander M. DeHass.

William Merrey was home from State College on a few days vacation. He was accompanied by his friend, Mr. Nealey.

John P. DeHass is recovering from an attack of rheumatism.

Charles S. Deltrick, son of Mrs. John P. Wynna, was painfully injured while playing foot ball at Johnsonburg Wednesday. Word received stated that the knee was badly wrenched, but no serious consequences are anticipated.

Last Saturday ended the legal hunting season for deer, and the reports of further success among the hunters are coming in. Robert and Al. Parst and the Zimmerman brothers, of Cedar Springs, and A. T. Harvey, of Flemington, who have been camped on the North Fork of "Sootac creek for two weeks, killed a deer and two bears. A party composed of William Hubbard, Joseph Hubbard, Jr., and Ellery Gunsalius, of Patton, and William Mullen, are reported to have killed five deer at the head of Monument run. Skinner Fenton, with the Shoemaker party, at Iron Spring, killed a deer, making three for the party. James Gunsalius also secured one. G. Harvey Man, David Jones and Robert Bullock, killed fifteen rabbits near the Penn's Fire Brick company's mines on Tuesday. A flock of wild turkeys was seen in Alex. M. DeHass' field near the B. E. V. station last week in which forty of the coveted fowls were counted. This is the largest flock seen in this vicinity this year.

Edward R. Reed has been seriously ill with heart trouble.

J. C. Lucas has moved his family from Wallace Run to this place.

The missionary society of the Presbyterian church sent a large box full of gifts to Marshall, North Carolina, last week. The contents were of considerable value. Slate roofs are being put on the two new additions to the main building of the Pennsylvania fire brick works. Geo. W. McCloskey, of Lock Haven, is doing the work.

—We have the Lambertville snag proof boots and rubbers. Yeager & Davis.

Zion.

Mrs. J. A. Hoy is on the sick list at present.

Quite a number of our young people attended the chicken and waffle supper, at Hublersburg, on the 30th. They report a good time.

Butchering is in full blast and some large porkers are being killed. The Zion band serenaded Edgar Lutz on the 26th, after rendering a few choice selections they returned home cold and chilly.

Our Sunday school has decided to hold a Christmas entertainments on Christmas eve, Dec. 24.

The Zion band will hold an oyster supper in the Evangelical church, Saturday evening, Dec. 14. Ice cream and other delicacies will also be served. Everybody is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. John Love, of Altoona, were visiting at the home of Emanuel Garbrick, over Sunday.

John says he isn't afraid since Wm. B. sold his dog. How about it Lil.

C. N. Fisher seems to be the crack shot, having killed to pheasants and a wild duck.

A literary society was organized and is in progress. Several important questions were discussed. It meets every Wednesday evening in the Zion school house.

B. A. Noll has purchased a new lamp which adds greatly to the appearance of his room. Boyd is a hustling and up-to-date merchant and should be patronized by all.

It is rumored that the post office will change hands.

—Try the Queen slipper soles. Yeager & Davis.

Milesburg.

A widower and widow left here on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, for State College. It is thought, by their friends, that the trip was a business one as the couple are expecting in the near future to sign papers for life; their hopes are bright.

Pf their buggy holds out and roads are "smooth they will land their barks at "Pleasant Gap," where they will take up house keeping in good style with their home already furnished for the occasion. We will not give you away, but that license will.

Here's to the fingers of friendship, And may they never rust; Here's to the man who wants you, And in him place your trust.

A number of strangers visited our burg on Saturday, inquiring the way to the water plant.

Jake, you are making too many trips down the railroad of late; be careful you may put your foot in the fox trap. We will only touch you lightly this time, but Sadie is able to give you a good shaking up. Keep your eyes and ears open for you may hear something drop.

Mrs. Levi Grubb, on Sunday, had 40 of her relatives and friends for dinner. Oh! how the table did groan under the weight of the good eatables it held for them.

Mrs. Geo. Grubb and her children, after visiting her relatives here, returned home to Lamar, on Monday.

Misses Eva Adams and Katie Franks returned home after a two-weeks visit with their relatives at Bellewood and Altoona.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Saved His Boy's Life.

"I believe I saved my (nine year old) boy's life this winter with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says A. M. Hoppe, Rio Creek, Wis. "He was so choked up with croup that he could not speak. I gave it to him freely until he vomited and in a short time he was all right." For sale by Green's Pharmacy.

Port Matilda.

Although the hunting season has not yet closed nearly all the hunters have left the Alleghenies, at least in our section of the country.
