

Linden Hall.

Mrs. Malinda Rishel, of Boalsburg, visited friends here during the week. Mrs. John Schreck, of Brisbin, is visiting at this place, her former home, where she has many pleasant associations; she will spend Christmas at this place. William Folke, of Juniata county, is visiting at the home of Jacob Zong, and expects to spend the holiday season at this place. Miss May Stump, a bright and entertaining young lady of Lemont, spent last week with her parents at this place. Noah Fehl, of Robersburg, called on his many friends in this community last week. Henry Wolf, of Wolf's Store, spent part of last week very pleasantly with friends and relatives through here. A very pleasant birthday party was held at the home of Elmer Houtz, on Tuesday in honor of the excellent lady of the house, Mrs. Flora Houtz. She was the recipient of many useful and pretty presents. All enjoyed themselves immensely, and left heartily wishing Mrs. Houtz many more anniversaries. The U. Ev. Sunday school will hold a Christmas entertainment on Christmas eve, Dec. 24th.

Colyer.

On Tuesday the three largest porkers reported were butchered by Levi Stump. They tipped the scales at 121 pounds. Daniel Keller and family, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Stump and son Charles of Virginia, were the guests of Levi Stump Tuesday. Miss Lydia Ishler spent Wednesday at the home of her friend, Miss Blanche Housman, and together they took a trip to Tusseyville. The rain which fell on Saturday and during the night did no particular damage, except destroy fences and fill several cellars with water. Mrs. Henry Moyer and daughter Myrian spent Friday at Potters Mills, and on their return were accompanied by Miss Ray Smith, who spent several days with her cousin. Mrs. J. H. Moyer and daughters Mary and Blanche, spent Wednesday in Bellefonte. Miss Minnie Fabringer is making her home with George Lee. Mrs. Frank Bogdan, daughter Susie and niece, Mary Jordan, were guests at the home of J. H. Moyer Friday. The supervisor, Mr. Krumrine, is making some improvements on the roads by the use of crushed stone; the roads were badly in need of it, and the bridge near P. C. City needs some improvements. On Saturday while Runkle Frazier, of Linden Hall, was passing over the bridge a plank tilted and frightened his young horse which threw the rider on the other side of the road. He was dripping wet but fortunately received no serious injuries. The bridge should be repaired before more serious accidents occur. Adam Felty, of Boalsburg, was the guest of Calvin Bottorf Wednesday; Orvis Lee accompanied him to his home, where he will spend the winter. J. E. Housman and Mrs. J. H. Moyer attended the funeral of Mr. Housman's mother, at Penn Hall Tuesday.

QUEER OLD FLASKS.

New York Wine Merchant Has an Interesting Collection.

There is an old wine merchant in New York who has a curious collection of old bottles. One, which he believes to be the oldest bottle used for holding liquor in this country, came from Nassau, in the Bahamas, originally filled with snuff. It is made of a coarse, seaweed colored glass and is shaped somewhat like a chestnut standing upright upon its broad end. There is a broad bottomed bottle which held madeira in Charleston in 1810 and a Viennese bottle 125 years old, whose slender, graceful curves have been supplanted today by a more commercial shape. The first American gin bottle, from the Schuchardt estate, has a pointer pigeon shape, which is delightful to the eye.

Among the later bottles are some which constitute the product of the bottle maker's art when impressed glass came into use. On each side figures are molded into the glass. There are a number of "railroad bottles." On one a wagon running on rails and drawn by a horse is depicted on both sides, with the motto, "Success to the Railroad." On another the same primitive arrangements are shown, commemorating the railroad at Lowell, and on the reverse of the bottle a spread eagle imbedded in thirteen stars.

George Washington figures on one bottle, upon the reverse of which was Zachary Taylor, who, so says the glass, "never surrenders." A spread eagle and what appears to be a Masonic shrine, a fruit basket and horn of plenty and two trees, one in leaf, the other bare, representing "summer" and "winter" are both two faced designs. A large, round bottle, which in these days would contain Holland gin, is impressed with a series of monks at their prayers. It was called the "apostles' bottle," but it drew fire from the pope, who had it put, by edict, out of general use.—American Wine Press.
