LOCAL ELECTION.

Bellefonte always has a lively time on election day-that is because the town is filled with natural born politicians. They take to the thing like young goslins to water. It is a sort of pastime to rip some fellow down the back, baste and were as ragged as a stake and rider fence.

as we predicted, after holding the office for five terms, he now must "Go way back, and sit down?"

W. J. Singer, democrat, came within four of defeating Isaac Underwood for auditor. Stewart Brouse, republican, was elected overseer of poor by only 23 over P. H. Gerrity, and had a close call.

In the West Ward Dr. Kirk astonished the natives by laying C. T. Gerberich on Geo. Meek had 50 majority.

In the South Ward, Henry Montgomery, republican, overcome a democratic majority and had 115 votes to spare. D. P. Fortneys made a record, being reelected by a majority of 171.

Thus it went, cut and slash, without any outward disturbance or excitement. The war of ballots was fierce, but no bodily injuries are reported-some few though were put out during the day from too much enthusiasm in fluid form.

Some people play the piano as though they were doing it for exercise.
