

HAPPENINGS ABOUT TOWN

The Local News Compiled During the Week

BRIEFLY TOLD IN A FEW LINES

Movements of Our People—Personal Mention, Society Events—What Has Transpired Worthy of Mention—Short Paragraphs

—Miss Flora Love, of Centre Hall, spent Sunday in Bellefonte.

—"How many preachers will you take?"

—Five new public sales were added to our list during the past week.

—The County Commissioners were out to Karthaus on Monday inspecting bridges.

—A "Commercial" now "United, etc." telephone has been placed in this office during the past week.

—Mrs. Simon Harper, of Centre Hall, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. Derstine, of North Penn street.

—A few stray robins are on hand. In this case the early bird is not likely to get the worm—but may get it in the neck.

—W. F. Cobick and family are now living 20 miles from El Paso, Texas. Mr. Cobick is slowly improving in health.

—The "Varsity" basket ball team of State College, will meet the Company B team on the Armory floor, on Friday evening at 8:30.

—H. S. Haffley, of Aaronsburg, on his way to Renovo railroad shops to accept a position in the cabinet department, paid us a call Saturday.

—W. Harrison Walker, Esq., expects to be a temporary widower for a few weeks as Mrs. Walker will visit her parents at Pleasantville, Pa.

—If you are moving this spring please notify us early in case you change your postoffice address. Be particular to give the old as well as the new address.

—One month only until the trout fishing season opens, April 15th. Since the high water the sucker fishermen have been making nice catches in Spring Creek.

—Harry McManaway, who had been clerking in Shaffer's grocery store the past winter, moved to Millheim this week where he expects to engage in business.

—Mrs. Joseph Steinknecht, of Bush's Addition, who is in her eighty-fifth year, fell from a porch at her residence Monday afternoon sustaining a fracture of the hip bone.

—E. L. McKelvey and son Master Carl paid our office a visit on Saturday, to see how a paper is gotten up. The young man is a regular reader of this paper and wanted to know how the thing is done.

—The Ladies of the Episcopal church announce that they will hold a Rummage Sale on Friday and Saturday, April 11th and 12th, in the vacant store room on Allegheny street, next door to Irvin's Book Store.

—McAlmont & Co. will soon be moving their large store to the Bush Arcade. In order to save handling of goods they are offering special inducements on all goods. See their advertisement in another column.

—A number of new advertisements in this issue will be noted. Among them are Sechler & Co., Montgomery & Co., Sim the Clothier, McAlmont & Co., and others. All have something to say that should interest you.

—Our Street Commissioner positively declares those stories published in our last issue to be absolutely untrue. Whoever started them must have had a fertile imagination. Even if untrue, they were not bad jokes.

—Mrs. Noah Weaver was a caller on her return from a six month's visit to her grand-daughters in northern New York. She returns to Woodward to make sale of her personal effects, and will then return to make home with her relatives in York state.

—The Model Shoe store in Temple Court, at this place, was closed last week and the affairs will be settled under the bankruptcy act. An appraisal of stock was made this week; the liabilities are large. The store was conducted by V. J. Bauer, for the past five years.

—Justice of the Peace, (recently elected) W. Galer Morrison, now of Roland, Pa., transacted business in town on Monday. He now is the active member of the firm of Parker & Co., who will continue the mercantile business at that point, as successors to J. M. Parker dec'd.

—Our down-town bookstore man, Geo. Bush, emphatically denies the published story of his experience at Milesburg, during the flood. The rumor seems to have been started by several individuals at Milesburg, and was told us by misinformed parties as a fact. We learned since it to be untrue.

—After a suspension of several years the Bellefonte Club was successfully reorganized on Monday night, the following officers were chosen: President, Dr. George F. Harris; vice president, H. E. Fenlon; secretary, Edmund Blanchard; treasurer, John M. Shugert, a location will be selected later.

RECENT DEATHS.

—Spring weather has broken in on us. —T. H. Ohl, merchant of Clintondale, was a pleasant caller on Tuesday. —B. F. Miller has been appointed postmaster at Carroll, in Sugar valley. —Mrs. Thomas Shaughnessy, Sr., is seriously ill suffering from hemorrhages. —Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Borches left for their Knoxville, Tenn., home on Sunday.

—Miss Grace Armor is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Cladue Jones, in Tyrone.

—Miss Carrie Swartz, of Williamsport, is visiting her sister Mrs. George B. Klump.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Kurtz, of Lewisburg, were visitors in Bellefonte over Sunday.

—Mrs. B. C. Achenbach, of Lock Haven, is spending a few days with Bellefonte friends.

—Miss Sallie Baum, after an extended visit with relatives in the states of Kentucky and Indiana, returned home Tuesday.

—Samuel Diehl, the poor overseer, requests that all orders issued by him, be presented before April 1st and they will be paid.

—James Cornely, arrived here from Pittsburg, on Tuesday, having gone through a severe siege of pneumonia in the Smoky City.

—On account of the serious illness of Mrs. David Barlett her son Sidney and her daughter, Mrs. Cori Lillidahl, were summoned from Altoona.

—The officers of the Centre County Fair association estimate their flood damage far less than was first estimated. The track will be rebuilt as soon as the weather becomes settled.

—J. Kelly, of Roland, is going to have sale on the 24th of this month and called to have bills printed for that purpose. He thinks two weeks notice sufficient to invite the public to come to his sale.

—Andrew Gregg, of Lemont, has sufficiently recovered from a serious attack of malaria, which laid him up in January, to come to Bellefonte on Saturday, looking a little thin from his illness.

—Mrs. Emil Joseph was hastily summoned Friday to her mother's bedside who is seriously ill at her home in New York City. She was accompanied by her husband, two children and Harry Holtz.

—J. S. Housman, the man who was re-elected Justice of the Peace in Potter twp., for the fourth term was a pleasant caller on Monday. He has been a good official, which accounts for this recognition.

—E. R. Owens, of Axemann, has resigned his position as teacher of the school in Bush's Addition and is now clerk in the Potter-Hoy hardware store. Harry Hartsock has taken charge of his school.

—Howard C. Yeager, of Patton, Cambria county, civil and mining engineer, is interested in lumbering and coal operations, also president of a water company in Clearfield county, which received its charter this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reiffnyder, of Milheim, who were recently married, paid a visit to friends in Bellefonte and favored us with a call last week and saw the large edition of the Centre Democrat being printed, folded and mailed.

—The entertainments held in the court house this winter under auspices of the W. C. T. U., of Bellefonte, closed their winter series on Friday even with a large house. All the entertainments were first class, and without any objectionable features.

—Captain H. S. Taylor, who held the military investigation at Clearfield where several soldiers during an inspection indulged in a fierce and drunken fight, has made his report to the department and the result will soon be announced. Several of the participants will learn a severe lesson.

—Persons interested in honey bees will find a valuable lot of bees, 28 colonies, with modern fixtures among the articles that will be offered at the public sale of J. M. Parker estate, Roland, Pa., Wednesday, April 2nd. Mr. Parker was one of the most successful beekeepers there and these articles are of exceptional value to anyone interested.

—The members of the Logan Fire Company of Bellefonte, are heavy losers; the other day they found that moth were at work in their wardrobe where they keep about forty dress uniforms consisting of large overcoats and caps. Nearly every garment was damaged and the most of them are beyond repair, literally in pieces and fall apart. They were worth over $400. Both caps and coats are ruined. They kept the outfit in a close dark room with a liberal supply of moth balls scattered around, and felt secure on that account.

—The railroad bridge torn out by the flood at the depot was replaced and Monday noon trains ran over it. Saturday morning supervisor Stoughton with his work crew began operations and did it quick. They recovered every stick of heavy timber in it, as it was lodged on the island about fifty feet down stream, where it was taken apart and then replaced. That was quick work, and the loss of the company was not as great as at first anticipated. They have some work to do yet on the bridge across Sinking creek near Spring Mills and then the flood repairs will be practically completed.

RUN OVER BY CARS.

Mortimer Miller May Die from Injuries Received.

Wednesday afternoon a serious accident happened to Mortimer Miller, 7 year old son of James Miller, who lives near the Valentine Furnace. The boy was on a shifting train of the Nittany valley railroad which was moving below the furnace and near the old rolling mill. He was in the act of stepping from one car to another and is supposed to have made a misstep and fell between the cars on the track. Two cars passed over him crushing the right limb near the hip and the left leg near the ankle. At the time the boys' brother Joe Miller was engineer of the train.

Dr. Haves amputated the right leg and another may be necessary for the left in case he rallies from the shock. His recovery is considered doubtful.

Since the above was in type, the boy died from his injuries late Wednesday evening.

—For ideas on spring clothing read Montgomery & Co's ad. on page 2.

—Jacob Barlett has purchased the residence of Wm. V. Larimer, on Valentine street.

—See Montgomery & Co's advertisement on page 2. They have an important announcement.

—Lee Runkle, son of Jacob Runkle, left on Sunday afternoon for Yonngstown, Ohio, where he has accepted an excellent position as a book-keeper with the Empire Steel and Iron Co., of that city, which is under the superintendency of Lawrence Cooney, formerly of this place.

—A complete report has been made of the estimated cost of all necessary repairs to put the Valentine furnace in blast again, to some eastern capitalists. It will be some time before their decision is announced. There is a strong demand for iron, even beyond the capacity of our home furnaces and raw iron is being imported for home consumption. That should give us encouragement in the hope that this plant will resume.

—Wednesday afternoon one of Beer-er's horses while standing in front of the meat market was frightened by a boy dropping a basket. The animal broke loose and ran across the street, the buggy striking the 'court house fence, and then went up towards the Garman House where it struck the laundry wagon. The buggy turned over on the pavement and was badly wrecked. The horse stripped the harness and went up the hill. It was not injured.

—Mrs. Lydia Frank:—a widow, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Daniel Barner, at Loganton, on 5th, from a complication of diseases. She was 69 years old.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland:—died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clara McCallion's, Howard, Pa., on Tuesday, March 11th. Interment in Methodist cemetery on Thursday, March 13. She was aged about 81 years.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

We have often urged farmers to take advantage of the wide circulation of the Centre Democrat for the purpose of making known what they have for sale. Some say it is a waste of money, others don't believe in advertising, while the business-like farmer paid us $2 to give a complete advertisement of his stock.

On Monday several gentlemen from Clearfield county came to this office with a copy of the Centre Democrat in which they saw farm sales advertised and intended to spend the entire week here attending the different sales for the purpose of purchasing horses, etc. This may be only one of the many men who will attend sales that were advertised in this paper.
