

TWELVE MEN DROWNED

Seven Life Savers and Five Seamen Perish in Angry Sea.

MET DEATH AT POST OF DUTY

Lifeboat Capsized While Rescuing Seaman From Stranded Barge, and Only One Man Was Saved—Captain Went Down With His Men.

Chatham, Mass., March 18.—Seven life savers, practically the entire crew of the Monomoy station, on the south end of Cape Cod, met death yesterday at their post of duty, and with them into the sea, which capsized the lifeboat, went five men from the stranded barge Wadena, whom they tried to bring in safety to the shore.

The names of those lost are as follows: Life savers—Marshall N. Eldredge, Edgar Small, Elijah Kendrick, Osborne Chase, Arthur Rogers, Isaac Thomas Foye, Valentine Nickerson.

From the barge—William H. Mack, Cleveland; Captain Christian Olsen, Boston; Robert M. Olaneux, Boston; Walter A. Zevd, Manuel Enos, Cottage City.

Last Thursday the barges Wadena and John C. Fitzpatrick, on the way to Boston with cargoes of coal, stranded on the Shovelful Shoal, about three-quarters of a mile off Monomoy Point. Since then every effort has been made to float the barges, and all day Saturday and Sunday men from Vineyard Haven were at work throwing coal overboard from both of them.

Yesterday forenoon Captain Eldredge, who had been watching the barges very closely, sighted signals of distress on the Wadena. The crew had no difficulty in getting off, but it took nearly an hour to reach the barge. By that time the tide had turned to the eastward and a fierce cross sea had been kicked up.

An attempt was made to right the boat, but although lifeboats are supplied with cork gunwales, they are very heavy, and being full of water, the life-savers only managed to get her partially cleared. They had some hope, however, of reaching land, until another wave again capsized the boat. Mr. Mack was the first to succumb, and one by one the others dropped away, until there were only four left, and these climbed on the bottom of the overturned boat.

Workmen Killed By Cave-In. New York, March 18.—Four laborers were buried under a cave-in of a sand bank at Forty-eighth street and Eighth avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday. Louis Tremaine was taken out dead; Carlo Cerato died on the way to a hospital; Tony Castori was injured internally and may die, and Angelo Montelibbo had three ribs broken.

Denbigh Hall of Bryn Mawr College Destroyed By Fire.

Philadelphia, March 17.—One of the dormitory buildings of Bryn Mawr College, an institution for the higher education of young ladies, was burned last night. The college is located at Bryn Mawr, about ten miles from this city. The fire was caused by the upsetting of a lamp in the room of one of the students. It got beyond the control of the local firemen, and fire companies were sent from Philadelphia late last night. No one was hurt.

The burned building was known as Denbigh Hall, and had accommodations for 72 students. The fire started on the second floor in the western end of the structure.

Denbigh Hall was erected in 1890 at a cost of $190,000. It was L-shaped, three stories high, and was 150 feet long and 40 feet wide.

Repairing Neatly Done

Never thought of such a sign for a medicine did you? Well, it's a good sign for Scott's Emulsion. The body has to be repaired like other things and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine that does it.

These poor bodies wear out from worry, from over-work, from disease. They get thin and weak. Some of the new ones are not well made—and all of the old ones are racked from long usage.

Scott's Emulsion fixes all kinds. It does the work both inside and out. It makes soft bones hard, thin blood red, weak lungs strong, hollow places full. Only the best materials are used in the patching and the patches don't show through the new glow of health.

No one has to wait his turn. You can do it yourself—you and the bottle.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.
