A. E. McKibben moved to Mill Hall on Wednesday. We are sorry to lose them from our community.

The two funerals brought quite a number of visitors into our town and we will not try to name any this week.

DEATH.—The saying "In the midst of life we are in death" was very forcibly impressed on our community in the sudden death of Mrs. Nellie R. wife, of Sam'l Stover, on last Thursday noon.

Apparently she was the very picture of health, but for some time had been complaining some with heart trouble, but it was not thought to be serious. On Thursday noon she was not feeling well and started for the home of Dr. McCormick for some medicine, and when she got in the house, she sat down in a chair and soon became unconscious, and in a few minutes was dead. She was 25 years, 2 months and 25 days of age, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Sharp.

She is survived by her parents, husband, one child, one brother and five sisters. Funeral services were held on Sunday forenoon, conducted by Rev. H. I. Crow, which were attended by a large concourse of friends. The family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

DIED.—on Sunday morning, this community was again called upon to lose another of its number in the person of Mrs. David Vonada. She was ailing considerably during the early part of the winter, but of late was thought to be improving until within about a week ago, when she took a relapse. Her maiden was Catherine Rishel, as a wife she was a true helpmate, a loving mother and a kind hearted neighbor, and had the good will of all who knew her. Mrs. Vonada had passed the "three-score and ten" year mark, being 74 years, 4 months of age. She is survived by her husband, one son, John Heckman, of Rote, one daughter, Miss Mittie, at home, two sisters and a host of friends. Funeral services were held on Tuesday forenoon, conducted by Rev. H. I. Crow, of the Reformed church. The community sympathize with the bereft family.

Miss Ella Lucas and brother Claude left on last Thursday for Springfield, Allegheny county.

We think there are some people who had better try and do as the ground hog said he would do, throw away their old habits and try to do better; first cast out the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

In speaking of a person's faults, pray don't forget your own. People living in glass houses, should never cast a stone.

Miss Myrtle Priel left on Monday to visit her sister, Mrs. U. S. Fick, at Bellwood.

On last Tuesday, the 18th, about 40 of the people of this community resolved to give and to have a pleasant day, at the hospitable home of Rev. G. A. Sparks, it being the 31st milestone of his esteemed wife. By pre-arrangement Mrs. was induced to make a short visit to a neighbor and while doing so gave opportunity for all to assemble and prepare one of the most bountiful by laden tables that mortal eye wished to see or man would wish to partake of. Everything being in readiness all waited the return of the sister, and when she entered the door, contentment itself was all that was needed to the results of the occasion. Dinner now being the next thing on program and everybody ready for it. It was partaken of through much rapture and enjoyment. A button flew off of Charlie's vest, and John has been sick ever since. The sister received some very nice mementos. We will close this by saying that we are glad to have as our pastor and neighbors, brother and sister Sparks. May their lives always be crowned with joy and success.

Rev. Young, of Ohio, delivered two very able sermons in the Lutheran church this week.

Pat Royer, who is quite an artist, opened a photograph gallery in his father's back yard. A young lady of Tyersville, wanting to surprise her friends with a nice piece of work, called at his studio, and Pat, wanting to do his best, took, as he supposed her picture. That evening when his apprentice, Joel Stover, went to develop the picture found the plate blank. Come boys if you want to do business, first learn the trade or take down your shingle.

Ca', we pity you that your trips will be lengthened this summer, but don't blame Susie for she looked at the financial side of the position, on which we congratulate her for accepting.

The weather during the past week has been spring like, clear and warm, and vegetation has started up nicely the grain looks better than it did for years and the prospects are for a favorable and good crop.

James Kimport, of Boalsburg, and Arthur Kimport, of Bellefonte, visited at W. H. Smith's, the beginning of the week.

The average price at the Gentzel and Beezer horse sale, on Monday, was $164.50. One team sold for $420 and one for $415. It was the best car load sold here yet.

Hue S. Taylor, candidate for Sheriff, was through here looking up the political fences.

W. H. Noll and J. L. Kerstetter, of Pleasant Gap, were in attendance at the horse sale.

The smartly at Spring Mills who sent the parties to Coburn for the horse sale, saying Millheim was quarantined is the dandy liar, and deserves a red belt, so the public knows who he is.

The road was just lined with teams on Tuesday flitting, the weather being fine everybody was on the move.

Dem. Lose and Michael Stover, of Haines township, attended the horse sale and transacted other business in town on Monday. Lose is one of the supervisors, and said the new road from Fiedler to Pine Creek would be opened before harvest.

John Hardenley, a student at the University at Philadelphia, is paying his mother and grandparents a visit.

Besse Sturges is home from Dickinson seminary for the Easter vacation.

A case of smallpox was reported last week, Ed. Winters went with Mr. Campbell, undertaker, to Rebersburg in the Bierly case, which had been reported black measles. For years the medical societies appeared before the legislature and had the most stringent laws passed for their protection as they claimed, but really to the embarrassment of the public the Act of 1895 appears to be a dead letter upon the statute book as to the reporting of infectious diseases by the practicing physician to the health authorities, which shows it plainly in this case, and should be as responsible for negligence as the party who points a weapon at another and either wounds or kills, not knowing that it was loaded, as the crime is the same in either case, and the damage to the public and the business is far greater in the former, at least it shows it here.

The community is all agog since this reported case. The curb stone meetings are numerous and prolonged, including the improvised board of health, consisting of a home made horse doctor instead of a practicing physician, and several other dolittles. Their actions are amusing to some and disgusting to others, impractical and mild so far, because sickness has heretofore existed which was not reported under the law or taken in charge by the health authorities, and more stringent law should be passed to protect the public health from such carelessness.

A Valuable Publication.

J. C. Malloy, general agent of "Cram's Atlas of the World," is now in this vicinity in the interest of the publication. This new edition is really a most valuable and useful fund of information and alike helpful to students and laymen. It is without doubt the most practical work of reference published in this country. The maps are drawn on a large scale and are accurate, complete and up-to-date. The new government statistics with the population of all towns according to the 1900 census are given in this edition of the atlas. It also contains many special up-to-date historical features not found in any other work of this kind. Every person who reads the daily papers will find Cram's new Atlas of the world a most convenient work for daily reference. Don't fail to see a sample of this atlas.
