EDITORIAL.

EDWARD C. MCKINLEY, of Milesburg, who ran for probonoatary last year on the republican ticket, has announced his desire to become a County Commissioner and is looking up his numerous friends.

We are often asked whether Centre county republicans will instruct for Elkins for Governor. Billy Gray and Judge Love can better answer that question. Further, it is supposed to be none of our business.

ATTORNEY General Elkin has rendered a formal opinion that the West Virginia Collection Agency, which is buying up merchants' and other claims against the railroad employes in Harrisburg, Altoona, and other points along the line between Philadelphia and Pittsburg, can collect the claims, but that under the act of 1887, the railroads can recover from the merchants the full amount of debt, interest, and costs so collected.

APPARENTLY there is a quiet move a-going on the part of the stalwart ring of the Centre county republicans to get the giraffe on the insurgents and pull the county out of the grip of the latter at this year's primaries. This was foreshadowed some weeks ago by a dispatch in one of the Philadelphia dailies, announcing that John Hamilton had all cut and dried to win this time. Present moves on the sly seem to have a look in that direction, of late.

It has leaked out that the Elkins people have bought up the papers in the anthracite coal regions printed in the languages of the Swedes, Poles and Hungarians, for the price of $200 a piece, to print articles in favor of Elkins for governor, and to print that immense roster's photograph and tell those foreigners that Elkins is one of the great men of the day and a friend of the miners! This in the face of the fact that Elkins is just the opposite and in all his acts opposed the interests of the miners and favored legislation that was calculated to strengthen the coal barons in their oppression of the miners under them. These papers signed contracts binding them to print nothing against Elkins and nothing in favor of any other candidate for governor. The game of bribery came out through the owner of one of the papers printed in a foreign language refusing to sign so infamous a contract and handed the article of agreement over for publication.

Organ Recital.

The organ and piano recital, under the direction of Mrs. Bonbright in the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening, was a first-class affair all through. Especial mention is due Miss Gehman, of Philadelphia, for the excellent solos rendered by her which received great applause from a delighted and appreciative audience. The chorus of thirty voices consisting of home talent, was another feather in the plume of Bellefonte's home talent. Mrs. Bonbright also made a happy choice in bringing Geo. Ford, of Philadelphia, as basso soloist, whose renditions were fine. Mrs. Dr. Hayes contributed much to the success of the entertainment. Mrs. Bonbright deserves much praise for this, the best musical recital yet held in our town.

Dedication at Blanchard.

The new Y. M. C. A. building at Blanchard, was dedicated on Sunday. The address was delivered by S. W. Smith, general secretary of the Lock Haven Y. M. C. A. There were also brief addresses by John Liggett and W. H. Fowler, of Beech Creek. The dedicatory sermon was preached at 2 p. m. by Rev. I. N. Bair, of Howard. He was followed by Milton S. McDowell, of State College. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. George Stanley West delivered an address.

The Y. M. C. A. has accomplished a great work in erecting the new building. The cost was about $1,300.

To The Public.

After a temporary suspense from business which was due to conditions already fully explained to the public, I desire to announce that I have my entire stock of furniture, carpets, etc., purchased for the spring trade, still in hand, which must be sold; and I take this opportunity to invite public patronage in the disposal of the same. My stock has been so large, so varied and so elegant in every feature. If you need anything in my line I will much appreciate your patronage just now.
