Contributes $1,000,000 to Cause of Education in the South.

CAMPAIGN FOR FREE SCHOOLS

Conference For Education in the South Will Devote Special Attention to Education of Children Most in Need of It.

New York, April 22.—It has just been announced that John D. Rockefeller has given $1,000,000 to the cause of popular education in the south.

"With the expansion of our population and the growth of industry and economic resources, we recognize in a fitting and universal education and training for the home, for the farm, and the workshop, and for the exercise of the duties of citizenship, the only salvation for our American standards of family and social life and the only hope for the perpetuity of our institutions, founded by our forefathers on the four corner-stones of intelligence, virtue, economic efficiency and capacity for political self-control."

"Whereas, therefore, the conditions existing in the southern states seem now fully ripe for the large development as well as further improvement of the schools; and

"Whereas, this Conference desires to associate itself actively with the work of organizing better school systems and extending their advantages to all the people.

"Resolved, That this Conference proceed to organize by the appointment of an executive board of seven, who shall be fully authorized and empowered to conduct:

"1. A campaign of education, by supplying literature to the newspaper and periodical press, by participation in educational meetings and by general correspondence; and

"2. To conduct a bureau of information and advice on legislation and school organization."

"For these purposes this board is authorized to raise funds and disburse them, to employ a secretary or agent, and to do whatever may be necessary to carry out effectively these measures and others that may from time to time be found feasible and desirable."

It will be noted that this work is not confined to the education of blacks in the south. The "universal education and training" for the American standard of citizenship, for the preservation of American institutions, and for the salvation of American family life, necessarily includes all the youth of the country, without regard to race, color or previous condition—and for the inauguration of the movement contemplated—it will probably be found expedient for a time, at least, to devote especial attention to offering educational facilities to the white children most in need of immediate aid.

The conference this year will be held at Athens, Ga., in August.
