SQUARENESS

A business much larger than any preceding season---much larger than our expectations---required a special trip to the Eastern markets to replenish our former immense stock.

We have now on our tables the newest, the nobbiest "styles of CLOTHING in Central Penna; fresh from the makers' hands, having little details, little kinks" of fashion missing in earlier productions---and plenty of it, too!

But its not only the style, the finish we want to tell you about. Its the Under-value prices, the way we bought them, the way they go to you. Under-value prices without a history? No! Makers too busy with Fall samples to have small lots on their hands.

If its swell Clothing you want, if its dollars you want to save, its a big mistake you would make in not giving this line a look.
