Show day in Bellefonte brought a goodnatured, orderly crowd. There was but one real fracas, the result of which is and got a bullet in his leg in addition. Noticed were posted at the works of Down near the depot at about 6 p. m. another man who he claimed had taken $5 from him. Finally Policeman Miller placed him under arrest and Houser resisted. The policeman had to use the necessary means by drawing his mace. Charley Houser, a brother, rushgering blow in the face that dazed him. The policeman drew his revolver and as the man turned called him to stop, which he did not, and then fired. The ball struck Houser in the back part of the leg, near the hip, when he stopped and the policeman seized him and put him in the lockup. Dr. Kirk was immediately summoned to dress the wound. The other young man, in the scuffle, got away. The wounded man is a young farmer who lives on the Perdue farm, owned by Burnsides, on top of the mountain west of town and was taken home that evening.

There are various stories affoat in regard to this matter and the above ment. One thing is certain, Mr. Houser committed a serious offence by interfering with an officer and striking him. That dare not go unpunished if we expect policemen to perform their duty. No apology can cover it-it will not do to pass it over. Our authorities must see that it is prosecuted in accordance with
