Some petty stealing is going on every now and then by our 10 to 14 year old boys who are constantly riding back and forth on the teams and seem to have nothing else to do. We do not blame the boys much. They are active creatures and nearly always at something. If the parents of these boys would put them at some good work or keep them in the yard if they are to small to work, they would not get into the mischief they so frequently do. Miss Mabel and Tammie Wise, of
