IN LONDON

Mrs. Dr. Braucht spent ten days at Atlantic City. Robt. Gardner, of Rock Springs, dropped in on us to shake hands with his many friends; he never forgets to speak a good word for candidate, W. J. Kep.

John Smith & Bro. have bought out Geo. Dunkel's wall paper establishment, which they have placed to their furniture business; you will find a large stock of wall paper for less money than it has been sold before; you will find it headquarters for wall paper.

R. D. Runkel is improving slowly after several weeks' sickness; his many friends long to see him about.

The Knights of the Golden Eagle took n four new members from Centre Hall. Rain is very much needed in this section for farmers to put out their seeding.

The festivals have been so numerous that they are getting stale, and are the thing of the past; the talk is now Grangers' picnic and Centre county fair. C. J. King, our village landlord, is building up quite a trade; he has made a good many changes and everything newly furnished.

The game season has not come in yet and we have parties who go to the woods already with their guns, just to see if their are any grey squirrels and young pheasants, but they would not shoot anything out of season.

SPRING MILLS NO 2.

C. D. Royer, while working at the circular rip saw in the planing mill. on Friday last, a piece of edging broke off and struck him in the stomach, penetrating to a depth of 23% inches causing a very ugly wound. His physician as yet, does not apprehend any serious results.

The new Lutheran church has been erected almost by magic. The building is all u roof and the carpenters are now busy in the interior. When finished it will be a very de cided improvement to the neighborhood.

Last week C. E. Zeigler sold to Mrs. Hiram Durst a very beautiful new Milton piano, Musical critics have pronounced the Milton a very superior instrument, and many regard it as the finest plane introduced into this county. The Penn Hall band festival on Saturday evening last, was a grand success. But the managers made a mistake in refusing to sell ce cream by the quart to visitors desiring it It looked too much like let us make all we can, and sell only 5 and 10 cent plates. This sharp practice does not always pay. From 1000 to 1200 bushels of huckleberries, and possibly 150 bushels of blackberries, were brought to this village since the berry season opened , but blackberries appeared to have no market, and of course only a limited sale, while huckleberries were always in demand. G. F. Corman shipped over 500 bushels, C. J. Finkle 350, C. P. Long 250 and Howard Rossman about the same number. Corman and Finkle each had a wagon in the mountains twice a purchasing from the pickers. The other merchants just bought what was brought to their stores.

Portion of this community have been very nuch exercised of late over the mysterious disappearance of shingles and loose boards from off low sheds and outhouses. The supposition is however, that it is the rascally work of sparrows, grasshoppers or "spooks."

Port Matilda.

The laying of the corner stone of the new United Brethren chapel at Black Oak, was performed on Sabbath, August 31, in presence of a large congregation, which foundation is planted near the spot where the ancient and original chapel stood, erected some fifty years or more ago ; its long use had unfitted it for a omfortable place of worship; in view of adding oddly comfort to that of spiritual, it is being put under construction which is truly a noble ffort of Rev. W. R. Dillon, present pastor in charge. The event was fittingly observed: Rev. A. B. Wilson, pastor of the U. B. church of Tyrone, assisted by opening the ceremeny with a very appropriate discussion ; the church choir rendered fine selections of vocal music, and the act of placing the hewn stone was most solemn, and certainly should impress those who witnessed it with the fact that it is in every way absolutely necessary to build places for worship and spiritual instructions, and to that end all should work, regardless of age, sex or religious belief, and build up in our land christian institutions, thereby bringing about more church as well as moral refinement

Samuel Alter says his potatoes have Jack Elmer, who lives at west end of Rankeltown, says it is rumored that a mansion will be built at east end of the town. Buckwheat harvest will soon commence; it is a full crop; corn is getting yellow, and berries are about over; what's next on the program I am not able to telt.

Our school will soon open with Orvis Moyer on the bench, and one scholar to see to. William Harter, who lives at Pine Creek mill, says a present was sent to him and it ooks like the Centre Democrat: he thinks there would not be any trouble to hold the county in the democratic column if all would do like the scribe of High valley, as he wants every poor man to read up the campaign. As I stepped from the train on last Thursday was surprised to meet my brother scribe who ives in Georgetown, and as jolly as ever; he said this week he will let the bull in pasture and will keep him there for the next six months George Rider says it is not as dangerous to carry a bundle of corn fodder as to climb a tree. especially in the winter, as bears will climb trees and one may be taken for a bear and get Emanuel Roads, who live near Pine Creek Mills, lost a valuable cow on last Monday, on account of a rattlesnake bite; it seems that rattlesnakes are plenty.

Mrs. Billmeyer, who keeps a boarding house n Somerset, is visiting her parents; and also Mrs. Eisenbuth's two sisters, one living in Canton, Ohio, and one in Trenton ; they were residents in the valley thirty years ago. Both ladies look quite young for their age; they claim High valley is still their native home.

Tylersville.

Going for buckleberries is a thing of the past Mrs. G. P. Garret, of Rebersburg, passed through town on Saturday.

Aquilla Ruhl and wife, of Salona, paid her sister a short visit on Saturday. Now the merry whistle of the thrasher is heard all over the valley. Isaac Miller, one of the oldest citizens in the valley, is not very well at this writing. Chas. Barner, wife and their daughter, Etta. of Salona, paid her parents a visit over Sunday, Anybody wishing to buy a good young cow should call on F. K. Miller, of this place. The United Ev. Sunday school of Tylersville, have elected as delegates to the Sunday school onvention, which is to commence at Mill Hall, on September 9th and 10th, the Misses. Myrtal and Regina Miller.

Newton Walizer and wife were welcome visitors at the home of G. K. Miller, on Sun- cattle.

F. P. Vonada and wife, of Penn Cave, were visiting relatives here last week. Mrs. Theodore Hosterman and children and Mrs. Kreider Stover, of Collins, W. Va., came to this place Saturday and will spend about a month with their friends in Penns valley.

On Monday Randall and Stuart Harter went to Lewisburg to take a course in a business college.

Tuesday of last week three men of Pleasant Gap were in our vicinity and in the evening came to our town to hear some selections by the band after which they went to catch ells. We did not find out their success, but one of them was very suddenly approached by two ladies who asked him whether he had a bicycle wreck. For further information ask W. K., of Pleasant Gap.

On Saturday forenoon J. F. Garthoff will sell a his home, near the depot at public sale, also some household goods. Vonada's cider press will be in operation every Tursday and Thursday, except Thursday of Granger's picnic week.

The evaporating plant went into operation this week. This will give several months employment to some of our people who are afraid of work.

Mrs. Chestie Bartholomew and granddaughter Edna spent several days in Harrisburg. Eph felt very lonesome during their stay in the city.
