You Know Where to Buy

Look at the big store you have helped to build—at the business you have given us—more than any one store in Central Pennsylvania. Could we have grown to our present size—with the wee bit of a store we commenced with a little over two years ago—if we hadn't done our work faithfully? If we hadn't acted frankly and fairly and liberally with you? If our clothing and our prices weren't right? Speaking particularly about prices, it isn't prices alone that make Sim's Clothing better than any other; nor quality, nor style, nor fit, nor variety, nor more forward and square dealing. It's all of those, and this:—

The determination to more and more merit your confidence—your neighbors' confidence and encouragement and good will.

Our entire Fall and Winter stock is here—a better line of goods we've never had—never such beauty, never such selection and never such an assortment of new desirable goods in every branch. But come, judge for yourself. You'll profit in the coming.

BECOMING HATS

FOR MOST ANY HEAD,

$1 to $3.

Seems as though it's useless to talk of hats. Most every man or young man in Centre county knows of this great department, and from the way we have been selling hats you'd think every man who is going to get a hat this Fall, had gotten his; but we know its different—there's lots to be sold yet, and there's lots of new, snappy shapes.—The wide brim soft hats, the full shape stiff—all are here a plenty.

But come—no matter how small the face—how big the head—you can be sure your particular hat is here.

Single-breasted Sack Suits

Of All Wool material; Black Diagonal, Green, Olive, Brown, Black and White, pin checks and plain steels; serviceably lined; seams sewn with silk; Suits that to buy their like elsewhere you may expect to pay ten dollars instead of

$7.50

Single & Double-breasted Sack Suits

Plain colors of almost any weaves. Cassimere in prettiest and noblest mixed effects. Coats broad shoulder, athletic-looking. Note the trimmings, the lining, the make, we put in our suits at this price. Coats won't sag in front when unbuttoned—

$10.00

Look around, compare; note the style, the finish—everything that tends to make a good suit; then come here. Then you'll understand why we are so busy and getting busier every day.

Single & Double-breasted Sack Suits

Thibets, Serges, Diagonals, Scotches, Meltons. Its those Coronations—black and red combinations, and browns—seem to take the lead in mixtures, while Thibet in black is a fair rival for first place. Full of snap; more style in them than the other fellow's fifteen dollar suits. But how could we expect to grow if we didn't give you more than you'd get elsewhere.

$12.50

Single & Double-breasted Sack Suits

Suits bearing the stamp of character and refinement—more tone to them than the ordinary tailor even attempts to put in a suit. Colors modest and neat patterns, and the light, dashing colors for you young man. If you're a man who is used to getting your clothes made, come here and slip into one of these suits. You'll be satisfied with the results. Hand-tailored but not in price.

Slim Men! Stout Men!

You tall, lean fellow, we know you've often a lot of trouble in getting clothes ready to wear to fit you properly. We've a lot of Suits made especially for lanky fellows—long skirts in coats, long seams; pants narrow waist from say 30 to 40, inseam 34 to 38. Also the short, fat man encounters trouble with ready-to-wear clothes—coats too long, sleeves too long, pants too small at waist, and the inseam never short enough. Its different with these fellows here; plenty of clothes to fit you.

SPECIAL

We have somewhere in the neighborhood of sixty or seventy pairs of Corduroy Pants—all shades and narrow and wide wales. Bought at a bargain. They go to you the same way. Every one guaranteed not to rip or split between the cords; if they do, a new pair, or your money for the asking. Three and four dollars is always the price of such cords. Special—

$2.00 and $2.50
