

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

The Local Happenings Condensed in Short Paragraphs

EVENTS WORTHY OF MENTION

What Has Transpired at the County Seat—Movements of our People—Personal and Social Events—Local Items Always Desired

—Rev. George Israel Brown is in Williamsport a couple of days this week.

—A full week of entertainment at the opera house. Popular prices—10, 20 and 30 cents.

—A $30,000 Y. M. C. A. gymnasium is proposed. The proposition is a good one, if some one can only be found to execute the plan.

—Loose paper in the cellar of Yeager & Davis shoe store in the Bush Arcade block caught fire Saturday evening. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

—James Furst, son of Hon. A. O. Furst, of Bellefonte, has decided to make the profession of law his vocation of life and is now a student in his father's law office.

—"The Edwards Stock Company" will hold forth at the opera house for one week, commencing on next Monday evening, February 2nd. Popular prices—10, 20 and 30 cents.

—Several communications are omitted from this issue for the reason that no name was signed. This matter has been mentioned so often that we are surprised that parties overlook it.

—Mrs. Ellen Nolan, an aged lady, died early Sunday morning at the poor house of paralysis. She was about 80 years old. Interment in the Catholic cemetery Tuesday morning.

—Sleighting all last week was fine and chances are that it will be ditto this week. The fields are well covered with snow which will be favorable to the wheat. The ice crop has been good.

—Ellis L. Orvis and J. C. Meyer returned from Granby Mo., Monday, where they had been looking after zinc mining operations. Robt. F. Hunter, who went with them, remained there.

—John Larimer clerk in the Globe store, has leased the rooms over W. F. Reeder's law office, now occupied by Mrs. Barbara Rankin, who will in the future make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Hastings, wife of the late ex-Gov. D. H. Hastings.

—A. C. Mingle, the shoe man, has declared an important clearance sale, that should interest shoe buyers. There are bargains along all the various lines that should interest people who are anxious to keep within the boundaries of economy. See Mr. Mingle's announcement in another column of this issue.

—Mrs. John M. Dale and Mrs. Harry Keller on Saturday went to New York to board the Ward line steamer Morro-Castle for a cruise to Cuba, where they will spend a month or more sight-seeing on the island, under the special guidance of Col. W. R. Teller. Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Miller will sail on the Morro-Castle also.

—J. N. Dinges, of Boalsburg, informs us that Mr. Reitz has good evidences of coal where he is digging for it on his farm in the gap. Hope it will turn out the true stuff, what a boom it would cause in old Penns valley, and make us all independent of the outside coal lords if we could have coal right at home. The material from Reitz's bank is said to burn.

—This is the first winter for over forty years that Centre county does not have a musical convention—at least none announced yet up to date. To have from half a dozen to a dozen of such conventions during a winter was a common thing. Is Centre county going to retrograde in music? Perhaps we will have to be satisfied to have the public sales fill up the gap.

—The annual meeting of the Bellefonte Electric Co., was held Friday night and the following directors were chosen: Frank McCoy, James Harris, A. Allison, John P. Harris, John M. Dale, John I. Oleswie, Geo. L. Potter. The officers for the ensuing year are: Frank McCoy, President, Charles F. Cook, Secretary, James Harris, Treasurer.

—An opportunity will be given to the public to hear the new pipe organ, being installed in the Catholic church, Wednesday evening February 4th, when an organ recital will take place. Dr. D. D. Wood, the famous blind organist, of Philadelphia, Miss Mary Brown, of Bellefonte, a choir of twenty carefully selected voices and the State College quartette will assist in the program.

—On business in town this week, and giving the Democrat call, were Isaac Fraib, of Abdera; J. F. Meyers and son of Fairbrook; J. I. Crozier, of Pleasant Gap; Jas. M. Grove, of Lemont; W. A. Rockey, of Linden Hall; J. W. H. Hartsock, of Waddle; Mrs. Gertrude Haines, of Snow Shop; B. W. Winger, of Coburn, Daniel Daup, of Potters Mills; Geo. J. Shuey, of State College; Thomas Rowe of Liberty twp.; County Auditor Beck, of Nittany; Frank Meyer, of Potter; J. N. Dinges, Boalsburg; Jerry Kelley, Buffalo Run.

—Miss Louise Harper has returned from an extended trip to Chicago, where she visited friends.

—W. W. Bell and wife, are on a visit to their three sons, Dr. Finley, Clarence and John in New York.

—Away up on the top of 7 Mts. where air and water are the purest, Pat Garrity is not in best of health.

—Sleighting in town was about done up by yesterday's thaw, while in the country districts it is holding out yet.

—Our sale register has had a number of additions this week. Sales are coming in lively now, and there are more to follow.

—Every night, next week, there will be an attraction at the opera house by the Edwards Stock Company. Popular prices—10, 20 and 30 cents.

—I. Newton Gordon, who had been connected with the Standard Oil Co. at Scranton for several years, has gone to Baltimore with the West India Oil Co.

—Scores of sleds keep going to Snow Shoe every week for soft coal—and this with several railroads centering into this section. Don't that tell there is something wrong?

—The comic opera "Nell Gwynne," under the direction of Mrs. Parish, assisted by the best talent of Bellefonte, will be produced in Garman's opera house next Friday and Saturday nights, January 30th and 31st.

—Miss Carrie Switzer, one of the Salvation Army recruits from this place, who was sent to the Army training school at Buffalo, has been commissioned a lieutenant and sent out to work at Reynoldsville, Pa.

—Special services in St. John's Reformed church this week as follows: Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:30 and Saturday afternoon at 2:30 services preparatory to Holy Communion which will be celebrated on Sunday.

—The reaper Death, is keeping an even record the past several weeks, as our obituary column shows. The mortality of the past six months has been rather greater in numbers than the usual harvest of the grim messenger.

—The sewing class under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. will commence this week and be held every Saturday afternoon at their rooms in Petrikin Hall. This class is intended to teach young girls the art of sewing and especially those who are not taught at their home.

—Jacob Shearer, one of Potter township's best farmers and useful citizens, transacted business in town on Tuesday. He will make sale on the Barry Wagner farm, March 18, and in the spring move back on the farm he formerly occupied a short distance below Centre Hall. His sale will be found in the Democrat's register.

—The Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. celebrated its 34th anniversary last Sunday evening in the M. E. church which was densely packed. The exercises were led by Prof. James Hughes. On the platform were Dr. Laurie, Rev. Schmidt, Dr. Holloway, Dr. Shriner, General Beaver, and G. N. Bierce, of Dayton, O., a prominent leader in the Y. M. C. A. cause, who delivered the address for the anniversary, after a short introductory address by General Beaver. The selections by the choir were very fine and the hymns by the congregation were rendered in a volume of cheer that lent inspiration to the occasion.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

—Friday evening a bad crashing accident occurred to little George, son of C. M. Garman. He was coming down the river on his "bumper" and at the Brass House he collided with a sled that was being driven up hill. He struck the sled, cutting a deep gash on the left side of the temple and scraped his face. The wound bled freely, saturating his clothes by the time he was carried to the Garman house. It required seven stitches to gather the wound together. He was severely bruised but is in no danger. It will take some time until the wound is healed. His mother is in New York city on a visit to her parents.

VARIETY OF LOCAL NEWS

Gathered From Centre and Adjoining Counties

SHORT AND TO THE POINT

Events That Have Transpired Recently and Worthy of Mention—Items of Interest for All—Doing of Neighbors

George Noll beyond the Gap is still battling with typhoid fever.

Pleasant Gap will lose one of its residents by John A. Strunk moving to Kansas next spring.

Mrs. W. A. Rockey, of near Linden Hall, has been laid up with a severe cold the past ten weeks.

Mrs. Margaret Shultz, daughter of Joseph Winslow, of Eagleville, died at her home at Blossburg.

Henry Ziegler, of near Linden Hall, whose sale will be found in our register, will move near Farmers Mills.

We regret to learn that Albert Hoy, of State College, is quite ill. An operation performed recently for urinary trouble has given him relief.

During the past two weeks S. H. Hoy, of Pleasant Gap, has harvested five hundred tons of Blue spring ice. It is of the very best quality to be had.

Mrs. James Armstrong, of Potters Mills, was unfortunate in falling and receiving a severe injury to her hip, from which she suffers greatly and is also confined to the house suffering with an attack of erysipelas.

Lumberman Henry Reitz is still delving for coal in the gap beyond Boalsburg, and he thinks the signs are encouraging. Hope our friend Reitz will find enough of black diamonds to make coal cheap for the poor.

Jos. Keen, of Penn township, is the champion hog raiser of Centre county up to date. Last week he killed one that dressed 774 pounds. It was 92 inches long, stood 35 inches high, was 24 inches across the shoulders and 19 inches across the hams.

While cleaning out his spring recently Linn Raffy, of near Aaronsburg, found some rock closely resembling bituminous coal and it burns. He has started a search for more of it. With a hoisting derrick he is working away in a soft shaft. R. W. Mensch is also prospecting about one-fourth of a mile north of Aaronsburg.

The members of the Millheim Lutheran congregation to the number of 70 or over entered the parsonage at Aaronsburg laden with groceries, chickens, etc., for the pastor, Rev. Sheeder, and from a box was brought a beautiful nickel-plated harness, a splendid buggy robe and a whip, as well as a warm pair of driving gloves. Kind words of greeting were offered by H. E. Duck, Dr. Frank and G. B. Stoyer, which were returned by the pastor.

The following officers of Captain J. O. Campbell Post 273 G. A. R. Pine Grove, have been installed for the ensuing year: C. B. Hess, commander; J. H. Miller, I. V. C.; D. L. Miller, quartermaster; J. W. Sunday, adjutant; W. H. Fry, O. D.; J. G. Heberling, O. G.; W. D. Port, Q. M. S.; J. G. Tyson, surgeon; D. H. Weaver, O. sergeant; H. B. Yarnell, representative; Wm. Floyd Heberling, alternate. The boys are arranging to give "The Drummer Boy of Shiloh" in I. O. O. F. hall some time in February.

Robert Stevens, clerk at the Central Hotel, in Phillipsburg, came to America about one year ago from England, in search of his relatives who preceded him here, and has been successful in locating his uncle. He is very anxious to find his father, James Stevens, who came to this country fourteen years ago. Robert found the house in which his father had lived thirteen years ago in Canada, and hopes soon to be able to run across him. He will be glad of any tidings that will help him find his long lost father.

Mrs. Wm. T. Meyer—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

The Eureka Mfg. Co. of East St. Louis, Ill., want a man with rig in tin. Use Pulver Mixture in this country. They guarantee $1.50 a day to a good worker and they furnish bank reference of their reliability. Send stamp for full particulars. EUREKA MFG. CO., Box 99, East St. Louis, Ill.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

Several new sales will be found added to the Democrat's register.

RECENT DEATHS.

GILBERT DAWSON:—the eight months old son of John and Eva Dawson, of Half Moon Hill, died Wednesday morning of pneumonia. Interment in the Union cemetery Friday afternoon.

CALVIN T. CHESMAN:—One of Mill Hall's highly respected citizens, died at his residence Monday 12th, from dropsy. He deceased was 58 years of age, and is survived by two sons and three daughters.

MRS. SUSAN JANE, wife of Henry Southard, died very suddenly at her home in Phillipsburg Friday night. Heart trouble being the cause of her death. A husband and four of seven children survive.

SAMUEL EMERICK:—died at his home, one half mile east of Salona, Tuesday morning, after a lingering illness. He was 70 years old. His wife and five children survive. Mrs. Emerick is also seriously ill.

MISS JANE KELLEY:—an elderly maiden lady employed at the Bush House as a domestic, died Monday night at midnight of palsy. She was born in Ireland and was 54 years of age. She was without relatives in this country. Interment in the Catholic cemetery Thursday morning.

MRS. WILLIAM GANDY:—daughter of David and Jane C. Rothrock, of Buffalo Run, died at her home in Denver, Colorado, Monday evening at 6 o'clock. She was born in Buffalo Run valley, Centre county, and was thirty-five years old. She is survived by her husband and one child.

LEMON H. SCHUBERT:—an old pioneer citizen of Ferguson township, died at his home at Rock Springs Monday morning. He was 78 years of age and was prominently identified with the iron industry of his locality. During the civil war he was a soldier serving in Troop M, of the 9th cavalry. Surviving him are six sons and three daughters.

MRS. JENNIE REID:—Wednesday, Jan. 21, at Johnstown, wife of J. Stewart Reid and daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Tallhelm, of Julian, died after an illness of eleven weeks of pneumonia followed by other complications. Deceased leaves a husband, father and mother, a brother and two sisters to mourn their loss. Funeral services and interment took place at Julian last Friday.

FRANCIS S. RHODES:—a telegram was received here Wednesday, from Seattle, Wash., sent by an undertaker of that city, informing the family of the death of Francis S. Rhodes and what disposition should be made of the remains. He was instructed to send it to Bellefonte for interment and further information was asked as to cause of death. The deceased was the youngest son of Ex-Judge Daniel Rhodes, decd., of Bellefonte. Surviving him are his mother, Edward K. the coal dealer and sister, Rebecca N., all of Bellefonte, and Joseph N., connected with the Pa. R. Co., as a superintendent, in New Jersey. For over a year the deceased was located at Seattle, Wash., where he was engaged in the real estate business.

WM. SOLT:—died on Thursday night, 22, at his home at Arc Mann, of dropsy, was ill about three months. His age was 87 years, 7 months and one day. He was a veteran of the civil war, a member of Co. F, 200 Reg. P. V. I., serving until the end of the war, a period of nine months. Two sons served with him in same company and regiment, one son Daniel, died about 17 years ago, the other, John, is still living at Unionville, one son Samuel, is living in Curwinstown, one daughter in Snow Shoe, Mrs. Shenck, another daughter, Mrs. George Noll, at Lavertown. His wife died about a year ago. He was a christian and consistent member of the U. E. church. Interment at Shiloh, on Sabbath last. Pall bearers were all old soldiers except, the last named. They were: John Griffith, John C. Rote, Jacob Gross, Jacob Shawley, Samuel Albright and W. S. Miller.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased, whose maiden was Elizabeth S. Musser, was the daughter of the late J. H. Musser and was born at Aaronsburg about forty years ago. She was a member of the Reformed church and a highly esteemed christian woman. Surviving her are her husband, William T. Meyer, and one daughter, E. A.; also her mother, Mrs. Eveline Musser, of Aaronsburg, and two brothers, D. K. of Bellefonte, and Andrew, of Aaronsburg. Funeral services were held at her residence in Philadelphia, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were brought to her mother's home at Aaronsburg where services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30, interment at that place, in the Lutheran cemetery. The husband some years ago was a merchant in this place, and is a well-known instructor of vocal and instrumental music.

MRS. WM. T. MEYER:—died at their home No. 1927 Poplar street, Philadelphia, Saturday evening, January 24, at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks, which was a great shock to her many friends here and in the county. Deceased