The Local Happenings Condensed in Short Paragraphs.

EVENTS WORTHY OF MENTION

What Has Transpired at the County Seat—Movements of our People—Personal and Social Events—Local Items Always Desired

Dentist Musser visited his home at Aaronsburg over Sunday. Esq. Houseman, of Colyer, was in town attending to legal business. Col. James and Mrs. Coburn spent Sunday at their Aaronsburg home. Mrs. E. R. Chambers, of Linn street, is ill with an attack of bronchitis. Dr. Fisher is reported to have hooked a nice string of suckers at Beaver Dam. The past four or five days the weather has been like spring but the air was damp and foggy. Alfred T. Briabin, was graduated Monday, February 2nd from the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Montgomery returned home Friday from an extended visit to friends in Philadelphia. Miss Sadie Malin returned home Saturday from a ten days visit to friends in Philadelphia and West Chester. Bellefonte chapter D. A. R. will give an entertainment for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital at an early date. The comic opera in the opera house Saturday evening by Bellefonte talent, drew a good house and our home players performed well. Daniel Kelly, son of Supt. Kelly of the Bellefonte Furnace Company, has returned home from Scottsdale where he was working for a large iron company. Col. J. L. Spangler sent his check for one hundred dollars last week to Dr. Gray, of Williamsport, to enlarge the reference library of Dickinson seminary. The county auditors have been busy attending to their duty auditing the financial affairs of the county and report making satisfactory headway with no friction. Attorney J. A. B. Miller, who had an operation performed in the Bellefonte hospital for appendicitis, has been attending to business the past week and is quite well again. The groundhog did not see his shadow—hence six weeks of mild weather, as all who wish, can believe. P. S.—Late in the afternoon the critter did see his shadow a few minutes. At the solicitation of the Ministerial Association, the barbers of Bellefonte have all agreed to close their shops on Sunday and remain closed all day. All the barbers signed the agreement. Miss Ida M. Lanier who for the last seven years has charge of the millinery department of Katz & Co's store, accepted a similar position in the large department store of Gable & Co. Altoona. Thus far no Bellefonte people have suffered on account of Gov. Pennypacker being the new official. Ed. Rankin, Wise Fleming and Miss Jennie Fauble are all reasonably sure of retaining their positions. Fred Meyers and J. C. Orndorff, of Penn Hall, E. A. Bower, of Aaronsburg, M. M. Grove, of Centre Hill, and Mr. Ripka, of Millheim, had business at Bellefonte this week, and were among the callers in the Democrat office. Mrs. Barbara Rankin and her daughter, Mrs. Frank McFarlane, gave up their apartment on Allegheny street, the former to go to the home of her other daughter, Mrs. Hastings, and Mrs. McFarlane moved to her new home over at Boalsburg. Had groundhoggy remained in his hole Monday and come out on Tuesday, he could have seen himself all day in silhouette, in place of two minutes on Monday. The critter may be smart (?) as a weather prophet, but is not sharp in some other things. From different parts of Penns valley come reports of much sickness, such as fevers, colds and some pneumonia, since the setting in of the damp and fog soaked weather. In the vicinity of Aaronsburg and Millheim there is reported to be much fever. Bishop Talbot preached a fine practical sermon Sunday evening in the Episcopal church. The bishop is an interesting pulpit talker and always draws a full house. The church was tastefully decorated with evergreen arched along the front of pulpit side. Detective Joe Kightnow caught Gus Pearson at Sandy Ridge early Tuesday of last week and forced him to give bail for his appearance before the court here, where he had been wanted for some time. The arrest was made before daylight on the mountain road. Mrs. A. A. Hoffman, mother of Mrs. W. Harrison Walker, and Miss Lola Henderson, both of Pleasantville, Venango county, were arrivals in Bellefonte a few days ago and are being entertained at the Walker residence on East Linn street. Miss Henderson went to Philadelphia, but Mrs. Hoffman will remain for some time.

VARIETY OF LOCAL NEWS

Gathered From Centre and Adjoining Counties

SHORT AND TO THE POINT

Events That Have Transpired Recently and Worthy of Mention—Items of Interest for All—Doing of Neighbors. A teachers' local institute will be held at Rebersburg, Saturday, February 14. The Boalsburg Lutherans held a social at the home of John Strouse. The silver offering yielded $20. Dr. P. W. Letzell, of Spring Mills, will go to Portland Mills, Elk county, where he will practice his profession. It is likely all live stock will sell well at the coming public sales, for a list of which see in the Centre Democrat's sale register. H. H. Weaver, of Aaronsburg, is on the sick list. Carpenter John Kramer of same place is also quite ill, aged about 80 years. J. B. Genzel is now in Ohio purchasing a car load of horses which he will dispose of at public sale in Millheim upon his return. Charles, an eight year old son of Mrs. Jane Young, had his right leg broken while coasting near the Pleasant View school house last week. Jacob Houser purchased the Henry Meyer farm, better known as the Robert Meek farm, at Fairbrook, at $35 per acre, making a total of $3,600. W. Fielding, formerly of Linden Hall, has opened a first class restaurant and quick lunch room at 1128 Manhattan Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., and will be pleased to see all Centre county people while in N. Y. Mrs. John T. McCormick gave a delightful dinner at her home at State College in commemoration of her husband's fifty-fifth birthday. It was a family affair entirely and the spread was a veritable feast. The Coburn K. L. C. E. recently elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Cora Hosterman; vice president, Mrs. William Rote; secretary, T. A. Hosterman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Annie Hackenberg; treasurer, Miss Hannah Evert. Walter Brown and wife, of Danbury, Conn., having finished their visit with Mrs. Brown's grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Sharp, of Hazel street, Madisonburg, have gone to Charleston, Md., where they will visit at Mrs. Brown's father, E. Brittan Sharp. Alen Reinhart, of Harlem, Ia., is visiting his father, Henry Reinhart, Esq., near Woodward. This is Mr. Reinhart's first visit east since he left for the west twenty-one years ago. His father is now one of the oldest citizens of Haines twp., and has lived a life of usefulness. W. W. Laird, constable of Taylor township, turned $50 into the Centre county treasury last week as one-half of fine paid by John Moore, Wall Moore, James Fleck, Wm. Fleck, and David and John Vaughn whom he arrested for running deer with dogs during the last hunting season. Theodore Boal will erect a substantial two-story building at Boalsburg. The lower portion of the building will be arranged conveniently for the meeting of the fire company, storing their appliances, etc. The second story will be fitted up for a public library and reception room. Mr. Boal also proposes to erect a Catholic chapel on his property below the cemetery. Died, near Port Matilda, January 29, 1903, of brain fever, Harry Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Adams, aged 18 years to months and 3 days. He was a kind and generous hearted young man and will be greatly missed by his associates as well as those at his late home, interment was made in the Black Oak cemetery, Jan. 31, 1903. Wilbur Davis returned to Jersey Shore on Wednesday, 28 from Philadelphia, after attending the funeral of his wife's mother, Mrs. Henry Southard. As he alighted from the train he was handed a telegram from his wife informing him that Mr. Southard, who was well when Davis left Philadelphia, had died of paralysis superinduced by grief caused by his wife's death. Mr. Davis took the next train for Philadelphia. An exceedingly pleasant evening was spent on Jan. 30, 1903, Rev. T. S. Faus and family with 23 of his congregation from Pine Glens, who alighted from their sleighs a little before 8 o'clock, entering the parsonage with their hands and arms full of good cheer. The evening was spent in social intercourse, piano and vocal music and a delicious luncheon. The Pine Glens people did not seem to be satisfied with leaving an impression upon the pastor and family by their congenial spirit, serving refreshments and nice things left for replenishing the table, further on, but an exquisitely beautiful quilt was presented to the minister and wife. It does seem as if the whole community regardless of denominational lines, was represented by this admirable piece of needlework, if we may judge by the initials so beautifully embroidered on the patches.

Nathaniel Bowersox, of Rebersburg, had a severe stroke of paralysis on Saturday, which affected his left side and also his speech. The postoffice at Penn Cave has been discontinued, and mail matter for that office will have to be addressed to Farmers Mills, about one mile from Penn Cave. The Evangelical church, of Zion, will hold a festival, on Saturday evening, Feb. 7, in the church; ice cream, cakes and oysters will be served. Proceeds for benefit of the church. A general invitation is extended. The Gregg township tax duplicates for 1901-1902 have been settled and squared up by the collector for that township, H. D. Rossman, for which he deserves credit and a place in the ranks of prompt tax collectors. Let others follow his example. At the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Poorman, on Jan. 27, 1903, by Rev. C. A. Sparks, Claude A. Lucas and Miss Mabel E. Poorman were united in marriage, both of Runville. Only immediate friends were present. Miss Ada Hancock played the wedding march; after the ceremony was performed congratulations were received and all were invited to the dining room, where all partook of an elegant supper. We wish them a long, happy and useful life; may their pathway be strewn with many flowers. In our last week's issue we referred to an expedition by a sled load of searchers for a pile of gold (?) hidden by Indians near Fowlers in Haines township. This reminds us of the fact that tradition carried in its lap stories of Indian silver mines in Sugar valley, on Egg Hill near Spring Mills, also some half dozen or more Indian lead mines in different mountain sections of our county where the wild men of the forests obtained their lead for bullets to kill the settlers. But, strange to tell, the location of these mines of valuable minerals was kept a profound secret—and is so yet, and ever will be, for the reason that they never had any existence. Had there been truth in all these traditional mines of valuable metals, it would go to show that "Lo, the poor Indian, whose untutored mind, Sees God in cloud, And hears Him in the wind," was a greater mineralogist and geologist than his pale faced brother. No "Indian lead mine," no "Indian silver mine," of all the many which tradition carried along, some down to this day, has ever been discovered; and as for poor Lo's lead, it was obtained from white traders along with the "fire water" that made sots out of so many of the noble wild men of our forests. And as to silver or gold—Aborigines had precious little, or none of it either from the traders or from mines by discovery of the Indians. The candidates for borough officers are hustling around in good shape the past week. Willis Granger, in the great London melodramatic success, "Gypsy Jack," at Garman's, Wednesday, Feb. 11th. Read Mingle's advertisement—the prices he quotes are genuine, no bait, no bluster, no shoddy. The goods, when seen, will convince you. Miss Maud Linderman, of Cortland, N. Y., is being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McGargar. She is a pleasant young lady. George Nearhood spent Sunday in Bellefonte; he left for Altoona where he is employed in a large clothing store but expects to secure a position as a Pullman car conductor in a short time. Willis Granger, in the great London melodramatic success, Gypsy Jack, at Garman's, Wednesday, Feb. 11. The best play of the season. Don't miss a good thing. Mrs. J. A. Aiken desires to announce that Strawbridge & Clothier's salesman will be at the Bush House on Saturday, Feb. 7, with the largest line of suits and skirts for ladies. The report of the farmers' institute, held at Rock Springs on Friday, reached us this morning when our forms were ready for the press, entirely too late. The program was published in our last issue. Roy McCalmont has decided to give up his position with the American Express company at this place and in a short time will be found in the office of J. H. Lingie's large machine shops as bookkeeper and general assistant. Roy is a useful man anywhere. Variety is the spice of weather. Yesterday forenoon was mild, cloudy, with rain? The afternoon was bright and May like. At night a fierce blizzard set in with a half inch snow, and today a fierce wind rulling the roost and a drop in mercury from 55 to 22. The organ recital in St. John's Catholic church, upon the dedication of the fine organ presented by the Dezer brothers, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The music was a rare treat both instrumental and vocal. Dr. Wood, of Philadelphia, charmingly manipulated the organ, and the vocal renditions were from select voices, of this place and abroad. Altogether, owing to the limited time just before going to press, we can truthfully say it was one of the best of Bellefonte's fine musical treats.
