

WORK OF CONGRESS

House Still Struggling Laboriously Against Democratic Filibuster.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE SENATE

Deficiency Bill Passed and Immigration and Public Building Bills Sent to Conference — Voices of House Clerks Worn Out by Roll Calls.

Washington, March 3. — From 11 o'clock yesterday morning until late last night the house struggled laboriously against the Democratic filibuster, working steadily to wind up the necessary business of the session. Despite another special rule adopted yesterday, legislation proceeded at a snail's pace. Roll call followed roll call on every proposition. The voices of the reading clerks were worn out by the ceaseless calling of the roll, and several clerks from committees have been drafted to help out. Since Thursday last, when the filibuster was inaugurated, there have been over 60 roll calls, as against 57 for the entire long session, lasting from December 1, 1901, to July 3, 1902. The members also show the effects of the heavy strain, but they are sticking to their posts. Last night the great hall presented a dishevelled appearance. The floor was strewn with bits of paper, looking as if a snow storm had swept through the hall. In the galleries among the spectators were many weary watchers interested in bills doomed to failure, but still hoping on to the end. The proceedings were enlivened several times as the leaders of the respective sides crossed swords. Their tempers had not been sweetened by their long vigil and frequently the sparks flew.

The conference report on the Alaskan homestead bill and the immigration bill were adopted; the omnibus public building bill and the general deficiency appropriation bill were sent to conference. The Otjen bill to prohibit tobacco dealers from giving prizes, the bill to provide for a delegate from Porto Rico, a bill to advance Major Gorgas to the rank of assistant surgeon-general and a bill for the relief of Lieutenant B. F. Handforth were passed.

The house also adopted the conference reports on the postoffice and agricultural bills, and shortly before midnight, at the end of a continuous session of almost 13 hours, adjourned.

In the Senate.

The senate yesterday passed the general deficiency bill after four hours' consideration and after it had been amended in several particulars. An amendment by Mr. Rawlins calling for an appropriation of $50,000,000 to further the work of irrigating the arid lands furnished material for considerable discussion. Mr. Rawlins contending that the surplus in the treasury could be better used in this manner than by turning it into the national banks. The amendment was rejected on a point of order. When the Aldrich financial bill was taken up Mr. Teller continued his remarks begun Saturday. He was followed by Mr. Carmack, who replied to some criticisms of a recent speech by him on the subject of murders in the Philippines. During the course of the day the conference report on the fortifications appropriation bill and the Alaskan homestead bill were agreed to.

The immigration and omnibus public building bills were sent to conference. An agreement was reached on the immigration bill, which was then reported to the senate and adopted.

During the debate on the Aldrich financial bill last night Mr. Tillman convulsed the senate by saying that "the Democratic party has been hounded by the most astute politician in the United States, and that is Matthew Stanley Quay." It was some time before order could be restored so great was the laughter. He said that all but two Democrats had been led by Mr. Quay to support the statehood bill, which he believed had been used for the purpose of preventing anti-trust legislation.

In reply Mr. Quay said he was deeply indebted to Mr. Tillman for his tribute and referred to the action taken last June when by unanimous consent the statehood bill was made the unfinished business and before the anti-trust agitation.

Mr. Quay declared that he did not put the statehood bill forward to keep back trust legislation.

COLOR NO BAR TO OFFICE

President Explains Appointments in South to Atlanta Editor.

FITNESS AND ABILITY PRIMETEST

Mr. Roosevelt is Pained at Outcry in South About His Actions, But Declares He Will Not Swerve From the Course He Has Marked Out.

Atlanta, Ga., March 2. — Following are extracts from a letter from President Roosevelt to Clark Howell, editor of the Constitution, in reply to a request for an exposition concerning a recent letter from Harry Stillwell Edwards, of Macon, with reference to the matter of federal appointments in the south:

"In making appointments I have sought to consider the feelings of the people of each territory so far as I could consistently do so without sacrificing principle. The prime tests I have applied have been those of character, fitness and ability, and when I have been dissatisfied with what has been offered within my own party lines I have without hesitation gone to the opposite party—and you are of course aware that I have repeatedly done this in your own state of Georgia. I certainly cannot treat mere color as a bar to holding office any more than I could so treat creed or birthplace—always providing that in other respects the applicant or incumbent is a worthy and well behaved American citizen. Just as little will I treat it as conferring a right to hold office. I ask you to judge not by what I say but by what during the last 17 months I have actually done. In South Carolina I have appointed a white postmaster to succeed a colored postmaster. Again in South Carolina I have nominated a colored man to fill a vacancy in the position of collector of the port of Charleston, just as in Georgia I have reappointed the colored man who is now serving as colored collector of the port of Savannah. Both are fit men. Why the appointment of one should cause any more excitement than the appointment of the other I am wholly at a loss to imagine. As I am writing to a man of keen and trained intelligence, I need hardly say that to connect either of these appointments or any or all my other appointments or my actions in upholding the law at Indianapolis with such questions as 'social equality' and 'negro domination' are as absurd as to connect them with the nebular hypothesis or the theory of atoms. I have consulted freely with your own senators and congressmen as to the character and capacity of any appointee in Georgia concerning whom there was question. A large percentage of the incumbents of federal offices in Georgia under me are, as I understand it, of your own political faith.

"This is true not only of your own state, but as the rule for what I have done throughout the south. I may add that the proportion of colored men among the new appointees is only about one in a hundred.

"In view of all these facts, I have been surprised and somewhat pained at what seems to me the incomprehensible outcry in the south about my actions—an outcry apparently started in New York for reasons wholly unconnected with the question nominally at issue. I am concerned at the attitude thus taken by so many of the southern people; but I am not in the least angry; and still less will this attitude have the effect of making me swerve one hair's breadth to one side or the other from the course I have marked out—the course I have consistently followed in the past, and shall consistently follow in the future."

WAR CLOUDS GATHERING

Conflict Between Russia and Turkey Believed to Be Imminent.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28, via Eydtukhen. German frontier, March 2.—Some publicists are of the opinion that only the sternest language towards Turkey can prevent a war between Russia and Turkey in the spring. They believe that Turkey will pursue bands of Macedonian revolutionists across the Bulgarian frontier, and that public opinion will compel Russia to interfere.

The Russians thoroughly understand that a war with Turkey will be a more severe one than that of 1878. Officers are quoted as saying that the Turkish army is the best in the world, owing to its German organization and armament. There is an inclination here to anticipate German financial support of Turkey, and in view of the situation, forebodings of a clash with Turkey are freely expressed in private, although they are carefully suppressed in the newspapers.
