

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

The Local Happenings Condensed in Short Paragraphs

EVENTS WORTHY OF MENTION

What Has Transpired at the County Seat—Movements of our People—Personal and Social Events—Local Items Always Desired

—The latest thing is—mud.
 —There are only six public sales over the county this Thursday.
 —First of April comes on next Wednesday, keep that in mind.
 —Are you planning to April fool some one? Look out that you are not victimized in turn.
 —James Harris has been able to dispense with the crutches, and manages to get along with the aid of a cane.
 —Ellis L. Orvis and family, who have been boarding at the Bush House, returned to their Linn street home.
 —Rev. Wilford P. Shriner left on Monday for Conference at Altoona. He does not expect to be returned to Bellefonte.
 —Archibald Allison, after six long weeks in bed with an injured knee, is able to move about the house by the use of crutches.
 —This is the wrong season of the year for "cold feet" but numerous of our local capitalists are afflicted that way for various causes.
 —The Presbyterians will hold a social at the parsonage this Friday night, to which all the members of the congregation are invited.
 —The Register and Recorders office is being repaired and repainted this week and business of the same is being done in the arbitration room.
 —Since farmers are resurrecting their buried apples, they are becoming plenty and reasonable in price—40 to 50 cents per bushel for good quality.
 —The Minister's Son, on Monday evening, was an unusually fine production—refined and clever throughout, but was attended by a small house.
 —Dr. W. W. Pettingill, who some years ago was located in this community, dropped in from somewhere last Friday, and renewed old acquaintanceships. He is the same clever suave practitioner as of old.
 —W. J. Singer, Esq., left here several weeks ago to locate permanently in New York City. When he left he was suffering from nervous complications, and since then his condition has become serious. He is at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York's famous hostelry.
 —The owners of the shops occupied by the late scale works, are making efforts to obtain the manufacture of small utilities, and thus keep the shops in use. Hope they will succeed, to offset the loss of the scale works which Bellefonte will miss.
 —Technically spring began on last Saturday, but we had spring weather long before that. This week the buds began to push out, and the lawns are growing fresh in green verdure, all nature seems to have been aroused—even spring poets are penning sentimental lines.
 —The mild weather last week, and the rains, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, have made the grain fields show a pleasing promise of good crops. The trees are showing foliage and buds, and with no killing frosts to follow, there is every prospect for a good harvest and fruit crop.
 —Wanted—attorney W. G. Runkle is around town getting the names of about fifty brave stalwart young men to patrol the streets of our town for the purpose of capturing that "woman in black" who is causing so much uneasiness among the younger population. Runkle is much concerned over the matter and is real serious.
 —The Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Centre Co., will hold their quarterly meeting of Directors at this place next Monday, the office of the company at the last meeting having been changed from Centre Hall to Bellefonte. They will use Col. Reynolds' office, in the bank building for this meeting.
 —One day last week some person entered the office of Geo. B. Klump M. D. on High St. and appropriated the Doctor's bank book containing sixty dollars in good clean cash. The deed was committed during the absence of the Dr. who had stepped into another room for a few minutes leaving the bank book with the money on his desk.
 —One of the largest and probably the best sales held this season in the county was that of Geo. D. Glossner in Walker township last week. Mr. Glossner had a good line of farm implements and well bred stock. But in addition to that he had a large bill printed and, in addition thereto, had the same placed in several of the leading county papers where it would attract the most attention. Many farmers think that is a waste of money, but Mr. Glossner is happy for the reason that the small amount given to legitimate newspaper advertising brought larger returns. Nothing beats a newspaper, with a large circulation, for securing returns.

—Miss Bess Musser is visiting friends in Union county
 —Shad are out, but the price keeps them somewhat in the shade.
 —Since Saturday the days have been growing longer than the nights.
 —John Ardell, was confined to his home last week with an attack of grippe.
 —The rains Saturday to Monday caused a rise in the streams of 1 1/2 to 2 feet. The Bald Eagle was bank full.
 —Thomas Moore, who has been so seriously ill with typhoid fever in a Philadelphia hospital, is improving.
 —Paul F., son of Rev. Dr. Holloway, has secured a position in the construction department of the P. R. R. at Altoona.
 —"O yes, O yes," Tuesday closed the public sale season, and fittings are all the go, and good free dinners go with them.
 —Miss Lizzie Grassmire an elderly resident of Bellefonte has been taken to the Bellefonte hospital. She is suffering from appendicitis.
 —W. E. Grove, of State College; J. S. Martin, of Walker, and Israel Rauchau, of Madisonburg, transacted business in town yesterday.
 —The Centre County Fair association is erecting a wall 700 feet long to prevent another freshet from flowing over and destroying their property.
 —This Thursday evening the entertainment that Mrs. Lonsbery and Mrs. Seibert are preparing will be given in the Methodist church lecture room.
 —Mrs. John M. Kechline, her daughter Miss Daise, and Dr. John Kechline arrived home last week from a four month's stay at Battle Creek, Michigan.
 —John Lehman, son of F. X. Lehman, who formerly resided in Bellefonte, was killed in a mine near Patton last Thursday. The young man was aged about 16 years.
 —The game of basket ball between the Bellefonte Athletic club and Bellefonte Academy, which took place last Thursday night in the Armory, was won by the Academy. Score 19 to 11.
 —An ordinance imposing a fine of not more than two dollars upon persons who are found in an intoxicated condition on our streets has been passed. The ordinance is all right, if properly enforced.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cook accompanied by their daughter Grace returned Tuesday night from a five weeks' tour through the Southern States. Most of the time being spent in Florida.
 —Mrs. R. G. Larimer will make sale of household goods on Saturday, at her home on East High street. They expect to leave Bellefonte for Indiana, Pa., and may locate at Niles, Ohio, where Mr. Larimer is employed with T. A. Shoemaker.
 —Katz & Co. of the Globe, have secured the service of Miss Wilson, of New York, who has entire charge of the Millinery department. The ladies who wish to know what is the proper thing for the coming season should call around and get some ideas on spring millinery.
 —Tuesday, March 25th, argument was heard on some of the liquor licenses that had been held over. The only remonstrance was that against Coder, of Liberty twp. Wednesday afternoon Judge Love disposed of all licenses. That of Geo. Doll, Brandt House, Bellefonte, and John Mulfinger, Pleasant Gap, distiller, were granted and the others refused.
 —Phillipsburg, Tyrone and other slow villages, are boasting of the "woman in black" to be seen at night to the consternation of women and children. That's nothing—Bellefonte has scores of black women and no one seems alarmed although the sable ones are out from early to late. If one "woman in black" terrorizes all Phillipsburg and Tyrone, what would be the consternation if a dozen or so of Bellefonte's black women suddenly appeared in those back-woods villages named?
 —Rev. Dr. Lowrie, last Sabbath morning, scored the Sunday newspapers and their readers. The Sunday newspapers reach Bellefonte just about the hour the sacred bells call to church, and the readers at once "go for them" and forget all about the church service and become deaf to the call of the bells. Hence the good pastor's danger cries are seldom heard by those for whom his discourses are intended—their ears, eyes, thoughts, attention, all, are absorbed in the Sunday papers, and they lose the benefit of the pastor's Phillipics against the trash, whilst those who are in their pews, may not, hardly are, readers of the Sunday papers. The question now presents itself: How can the ear and minds of the readers of the Sunday papers be reached?
 —Last week, Boyd A. Musser sold his fire insurance agency at this place to Samuel Goss and has accepted a good position with the York, Pa., Bridge Company. Some time next week Mr. Musser and family will remove to that place, expecting to make that their permanent residence. Mr. Musser will have charge of the office for the firm and later will follow construction work. We are sorry to see Boyd leave our town as he was a capable and useful young man who leaves many warm friends over the county, having come in touch with the public in school work and as county commissioners' clerk. Miss Grace McBride, Mrs. Musser's sister, expects to join them later in the season.

AN EXPENSIVE FRACAS.

Saturday evening a lot of intoxicated colored people in town started a row in front of the Brockerhoff House. Men and women were in the mess and the latter used the foulest language imaginable. When the officers came they resisted his efforts to quiet them until they got wetted over their cocoanuts with the mace. Policeman Jodon had his coat sleeve torn about off by Frank Miller the leader of the gang. With the assistance of officers Mullen and Rightmour, the men were landed in the lockup. Sunday morning Burgess Walker gave them a hearing. Everyone, after being sworn declared they "didn't nothing" and abused the police officers and were imprudent to the Burgess in the bargain. The Burgess imposed the following fines: John Carter $5.50, "Brack" Powell $5.50 and Frank Miller $7.50; with notice that in default of payment they would be committed to the county jail. In a few hours they raised enough to be released.
 On Tuesday afternoon the women, who participated in the fracas, were brought before the Burgess, who after hearing of their disgraceful conduct imposed the following fines: Mrs. James Delige fine and costs $9.87; Miss Jane Green, fine and costs, $14.87. These amounts were immediately produced to avoid going to jail. This fracas cost these disorderly people over $35. Next time they come before the Burgess it will be more severe.
 We admire our new Burgess' course, and every good citizen seems to approve it.

Harry Russell Drowned.

Tuesday afternoon, Harry Russell, a four year old son of Robert Russell, living on Willowbank street, while playing with Henry Miller, another little lad along Spring Creek, accidentally stepped on the bank and slid into the stream. The water was high and the strong current carried him down. Young Miller saw him rise and sink several times and then gave the alarm. At once people patrolled the stream but no trace could be found of the lad. With boats men went up and down the stream raking the bottom. A large seine was used to cover the stream, until dark set in. The search was continued at dark and 8 p. m. A. B. Steel grappled the body at the head of the race, above the shirt factory, about a third of a mile from where the lad fell in the stream. The little boy wore gum boots which no doubt made him helpless in the water.
 The funeral will occur on Friday afternoon from the St. John's Episcopal church.

 Mrs. Margaret Stewart, widow of the late Rev. John D. Stewart, died at the family home, Tyrone, Tuesday morning. She had been a sufferer from stomach affliction. She was aged at death 75 years, 5 months and 28 days.
 The coat of a boy named Chester Young the other day was caught by the line shaft in the Thompson saw mill at Port Matilda, and every particle of clothing was stripped from him except bands about his waist and neck and his shoes.
 "God have mercy on me," cried Eugene Dewalt, of Orblonia, a railroad fireman as he became a raving maniac Saturday. He keeps repeating that phrase. He had repeatedly told his family that the roar of the train was driving him mad. He was taken to the Altoona hospital and strapped to the bed.

 The proposition to start a rural delivery route extending from Benore to Waddie, Buffalo Run and Stormstown, which would do away with the postoffices at those places, is vigorously opposed by the influential citizens along this route, for the reason that under the present system the patrons of said offices can get their daily papers on the day of issue, while under the proposed method they would be a day late.
