THE BURDICK VERDICT

Judge's Findings Will be a Closing Commentary on Famous Case.

PENNELL INQUEST POSTPONED

Dead Man's Friends Making Strenuous Efforts to Block It Permanently. No Arrests Will be Made and No Warrants Issued.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 31 .-- Justice Murphy is to announce his findings in lift her from the ground. She the Burdick inquest in the police court today. No arrests will be made; no warrants will be issued. The court's findings will be interesting as a closing commentary on the famous case. The inquest was closed formally by Judge Murphy yesterday after hearing the testimony of Quinn and King, the former bartender and cashier of the Hotel Roland, in New York, about Pennell's alleged statement to them of his willingness to kill one man, and even if he went to the gallows for it. No other witnesses were called.

The Pennell inquest, which Judge Murphy had announced would begin yesterday morning, was postponed indefinitely. The reason announced was the absence of witnesses from the city. District Attorney Coatsworth was in court, and said he was ready to go ahead and that the postponement was not at his request. One witness was absent from the city. He was Wallace Thayer, Pennell's attorney and confidential friend up to the time of his death. A dozen or more witnesses in the Pennell inquest were present, ready to give their testimony, so, if deemed advisable, the inquest could have proceeded and at some later day Mr. Thayer could have been examined.

More or less pressure has been brought to bear by friends of the Pennells to avert the inquest and postpone it indefinitely, if not block it permanently. The efforts, of course, had no weight with the court, and Judge Murphy's decision not to hold the inquest at present was based on all the circumstances of the case. When the Pennell inquest will be held, if at ail, is not yet settled. When R is held the probability that neither in Pennell's papers nor effects will anything be produced to throw light on the affairs of Burdick or to add any valuable information to the Burdick case The Penness heirs have been reluctant from the outset to have any of the dead man's papers made public. When Justice Murphy was about to begin the Pennell inquest last week at the close of the Burdick inquest Attorney Thomas Penney appeared before Judge Murphy in private and argued earnestly against beginning the inquest at that time, and opposed holding any inquest. Mr. Penney insisted upon the postponement, and Judge Murphy yielded, but announced to Mr. Penney, and also from the bench, that the Pennell inquest would begin yes-

CERMAN EMPRESS INJURED

Titrown From Her Horse While Riding Through Grunewald Forest. Berlin, March 28 .- While the Ger-

nan empress was galloping through the Grunewald forest near Charlottenburg yesterday afternoon, her horse, startled by a dee that ran across the path, shied and threw her off. The empress broke the fall with her left arm, and one of the bones snapped just above the wrist. The emperor, Prince Adelbert, General Von Lowenfeld, General Von Wedel and the numerous following of adjutants and aides de camp quickly gathered around her. The emperor was the first to screamed with pain at the first shock, but after that showed much fortitude. "Loewenfeld," said the emperor, "ride to the hunting lodge and telephone for Leuthold" (the emperor's physician).

General Von Loewenfeld left the adjutant far behind in the dash for the hunting lodge, which was about a mile away. He had some difficulty in locating Dr. Leuthold, but presently reached him at the army headquarters. Emperor William in the meantime had applied first aid to the injured limb and made a sling out of the empress' veil.

As the party walked towards the lodge a carriage sent by General Von Loewenfeld met them, but the empress refused to take it. Dr. Leuthold, in an automobile belonging to a member of the emperor's staff, which happened to be at army headquarters, went full speed to Grunewald, arriving an hour and a half after the accident. He was followed by Major Ilberg, the emperor's surgeon, and Dr. Zunker, the special physician of the empress. The fractured arm was dressed and band aged at the hunting lodge, and her majesty was then driven in a carriage slowly back to Berlin. The empress sat in the carriage with her arm in a sling under her jacket, the emperor riding beside on horseback.

GERMANY IS SATISFIED

Foreign Office Accepts Dewey's Explanation of Interview.

Berlin, March 31 .- The foreign office here is fully satisfied with the explanations Admiral Dewey made to President Roosevelt regarding the interview with the admiral which appeared recently in a Newark, N. J., paper and in which the German navy and the German emperor were mentioned. No communication on the subject has passed between the foreign office and the German embassy at Washington, because the officials here, from the beginning, felt certain that if Admiral Dewey had been correctly reported the government of the United States would do everything proper on its own initiative, without any reminder from her.

Count von Reventiow, in the Tageblatt, compares the German and American navies. He says Germany's first squadron is homogeneous and always ready for instant service. "It could." he adds "smash Dewey's heterogeneous assemblage which had not a single modern armored cruiser."

The count regards the American manoeuvres as "generally childish," and as "always resulting in defeats of the hostile fleets, the naval commanders therefore gaining large newspaper glory."

Count von Reventlow refers to the "poor marksmanship of the West Indian fleet," to its "insufficient number of officers and men," and to the "low morals of the navy, as indicated by the numerous desertions," and says he believes "the United States will some day have a fine fleet but she has not one yet."

The collection of Women's and Children's Shoes and Oxfords for spring and summer wear, which you are invited to come to see, is the best and broadest we have ever had to show. The splendid assortment is however not the most important attraction of the gathering. The chief interest centers in the fact that in all the various lines a noticeable improvement has been made in the quality, style and general excellence of the shoes so that we are able to offer you this season even more true worth for your money than you have ever had from us before. Those who are familiar with the fine values for which our stores are noted will realize what this statement means. This season's styles are lighter and daintier than those of the past years. The soles are lighter and have closer edges. The heels are higher. The artistic possibilities of shoe making are expressed in every line. Prettier shoes and oxfords were never seen. The principal leathers are Ideal Kid, Patent Coltskin, Patent Calf, Vici Kid and Velour Calf.

Deputy United States Marshal Dan Cunningham arrived yesterday from Raleigh county, where he has been serving writs upon the strikers who were indicted by the recent special grand jury in connection with the trouble at Stannaford. Rend on Arbuckle Creek, Fayette county, while the mines were filled with men and mules, and also to surprise and attack the mine guards on duty at the Rend works.

The affidavit is made by James Young, a miner, who attended the meetings of the strikers where the alleged plans were said to have been discussed and adopted. The affidavit was made to S. L. Walker, a notary public of Fay tte county, and the names of a number of strikers who took part in the meetings are given. It is stated that further investigation will be made for evidence to present to the grand jury.

WASHINGTON'S STATUE DEFACED

Vandals at Richmond, Va., Chip Piece Off the Mould Board.

Richmond, Va. March 31 .-- Vandals have made the first successful attempt upon the Houdon statue of George Washington, standing in the lobby of the state capitol. A small piece of the mould board has been chopped off and is gone, no trace of the party who did the work being found. The discovery was made Sunday by the officers, who kept quiet with a view of getting some clue to the perpetrator. It is not known what time the despoiler did the work. The piece chopped off is the corner of the mould board, triangular in shape, about half an inch each side. The work seems to have been done with a cold chisel.

The code of Virginia provides a severe penalty for molesting or defacing the statue.

Locke and Mapous drove a horse and wagon into the river at the foot of Silver street to wash the buckboard. They apparently got into a sink hole, for the horse and the two men were swept down stream into deep water and all were drowned. Mrs. Locke was an eve-witness to the tragedy. As she saw her husband battling for life she cried: "My God, will no one save him?" Then he sank under the water and she almost collapsed.
