EDITORIAL.

The importance of one vote has been demonstrated in Berwick. At a special election held there a proposed loan of $60,000 was defeated by a single vote.

The past two weeks have an awful record of horrors by floods, tornadoes, fires and shipwreck. Lives lost sum up in the hundreds, and property destroyed to upwards of a hundred million dollars.

Last week a report came that the lake at Chicago was frozen over and the windy city people were skating on it. As for the women of Chicago, it takes very thin ice to carry them since they are noted for big feet.

One of the most significant items of information in connection with the meeting of the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Allentown is the announcement that there has been a loss of six posts during the year and a decrease of 968 in the membership. The deaths during the twelve months just ended summed up 1,078.

A French scientist has figured out that there is enough iron in a man's body to make seven ten-peony nails, enough fat to make thirteen pounds of candles, enough carbon to supply 65 gross of lead pencils, and enough phosphorus for eight thousand matches.

One reason, among others, assigned for the killing of Alexandria King of Serbia, the Queen and four of the ministers, was that he muzzled the press and blotted out free speech. He was a tyrant to a point that exasperated the people, and by crushing out free speech he hoped to carry on a reign of tyranny unexposed.

The ship trust busted this week from inflation. Schwab put up a $3,000,000 steel plant at Bethlehem for $30,000,000 while its original cost was only $300,000 or from one penny it grew to $1 when she busted.

With the startling announcement that more than 500,000 divorces have been granted in the United States during the last twenty years, comes the interesting statement that the clergymen of New York city, regardless of denominational differences, are about to form a union for the purpose of combatting the divorce evil.

Whenever the appropriation for good roads gets into the hands of the machine politicians in the different sections of the state, you can look out for revelations like those now being made about the postal funds. The road millions appropriated for good roads will be squandered and gobbled up by political boodlers of the g. o. p. while the rats in the roads will be left, mainly, for the farmer to hump, thump and bump over as he drives to market or elsewhere.

This is commencement season with the colleges. The harvest of D. D.'s, and LL. D.'s, will be a bountiful one, since frosts, floods and fires never affect the crop. There will be a large sprinkling, as usual, of degrees among the literary tars, along with the few that are actually entitled to the honor.

Governor PENNYPACKER has signed the bill vetoed by Governor Hastings, and even also by Governor Stone, authorizing the payment to James Russ, the caterer on the junket of the Pennsylvania legislators to the Grant tomb dedication in 1897.

John H. Hickson, of Williamsport, yesterday was fined $10 by Alderman Stead on a charge of having shot three robins. The defendant claimed the robins were eating his cherries. Game Warden Reuben Behm preferred the charge.

FRIGHTFUL RECORD.

Servia is a little country, but there is a melodramatic audacity about its political crimes that compels the fascinated attention of the world. Intrigue, assassination and revolt have characterized its politics ever since it won its autonomy from the Turks a century ago.

For a hundred years the Servian Government has vibrated between two peasant families—the house of the farmer Black (Kara) George and that of the swineherd Milos Obrenovitch. Black George in 1804 led the revolution that first freed Servia from the direct rule of the Turks, and after some vicissitudes of fortune he was murdered in 1817 by an emissary of Milos.

Milos and his two sons, Milan and Michael, were successively Princes of Servia until 1842, when Michael had to abdicate and the son of Black George, Alexander Karageorgevitch, was elected in his place. In 1859 Alexander was evicted in his turn, and the old Milos, who had abdicated twenty years before, was invited back.

Milan succeeded in getting Servia promoted from a principality to an independent kingdom, but he finally found it expedient to follow the Servian fashion of abdication. He passed on his throne and his vices to his son Alexander, a being almost as unspeakable as himself. Now the Karageorgevitches have their turn again, and as they have made a pretty thorough job of the rival dynasty this time the feud may flicker out for lack of material to burn.

DISCONTENT.

This is certainly a period of strikes. From one end of the country to the other industry is halted and business is at a standstill. In New York city work on nearly $100,000,000 of new buildings has ceased. In Philadelphia 100,000 textile operatives are idle.

The Democrat has remarked before, there is something wrong. Never, under democratic rule, was there such an alarming condition. Trustism and political bossism is the prime cause—the few are gobbling up all around from the toiling masses—that's what breeds discontent.

ANOTHER REPUBLIC.

A new republic may be the outgrowth of the proposition of the United States to construct the Panama canal. Reports from Bogota, believed to be reliable, are to the effect that the inhabitants of the states of Panama and Cauca are unanimously in favor of the ratification of the treaty and that their insistence on this point is disregarded by the Colombian congress they will secede.

Governor PENNYPACKER has signed the bill vetoed by Governor Hastings, and even also by Governor Stone, authorizing the payment to James Russ, the caterer on the junket of the Pennsylvania legislators to the Grant tomb dedication in 1897.

OUR HISTORICAL REVIEW

Enrollment of Centre County, and Drafted Men in 1864

COMPANY G, 148TH REGIMENT

The Number Given by Townships—A List of Substitutes Passed Into the Service—Many Familiar Names to be Found in this Regiment

The names of drafted men will be of equal interest to the reader of the Centre Democrat with the names of those of military organizations already printed in our Review. Below we furnish the names of such as were drafted out of the number enrolled. Few have had an opportunity to see this record, hence we give it in this chapter immediately following the brief roll of Centre county soldiers in Co. G, 184 Reg.

RECENT DEATHS.

MRS. FANNY MITCHELL HILLBISH:—widow of James Hillbish, died at the home of her brother, Joseph Mitchell, near Snow Shoe intersection, on Wednesday evening, 10th, of cancer. She was 59 years of age. Interment at Unionville.

MRS. SAMUEL GREENINGER:—of Altoona, formerly of Howard, died at the home of her father, John Heverly, at the latter place, on Tuesday morning, her illness being consumption; she leaves to mourn her departure a husband and little daughter. Her age was about 26 years. Funeral, today; she was a member of the Christian church of Howard, and highly esteemed.

The great boodle game practiced in the post office department, was made mention of by the public press six months ago, but in administration circles an attempt was made to belittle it and hush it up. But as "murder will out," so these astounding frauds have come out finally, and the exposures made by the newspapers have led to a score of arrests. A further argument why there should be a press muzzler.

Miners Will Not Strike.

Resolutions adopted at the anthracite miners convention at Scranton, Tuesday, endorsed District Presidents Nichols, Fahy and Dettery as the miners representatives on the board of conciliation. The resolutions were adopted separately by three districts. There was no dissenting vote and there will be no strike.

Mt. Union.

The weather is changed. In place of being too dry it is too wet. But all should be satisfied.

R. P. Haugh was to Spring Mills on a business trip.

Mrs. Susan Wise was in our section on Saturday.

Samuel Yearick was to Spring Mills on a business trip Saturday.

Two friendly darkys passed through here, paid Evans Yearick's visit. They used a corn cob to illustrate their skill at performance. The one had a fifty dollar umbrella. You had a nice umbrella G. L. It was a white man instead of a coon.

Geo. Wise is getting ready to make hay; he is repairing his mower.

Miss Annie Smith was the guest of her sister.

C. E. Duck started out as agent for the Standard oil company; he says where he can sell oil he can also sell a pack of his warm candies. He is doing finely; just do not alarm him.

F. P. Duck was in our section on Saturday.

Sunday was a rainy day for the croquet club—they could not come together but is not said that they can't play any more.

An up-to-date buggy passed through this section on Sunday. The springs were weak and it had no top on it. Some said it was a two-horse wagon.

West Brushvalley.

I believe that Mt. Union scribe is dead or where is he? West Brushvalley is ahead of all.

Herman Limbert paid a visit to Rebersburg on Saturday.

Harvey Wert and wife visited at Wolf's Store on Sunday.

Prof. John Rossman and Allen Limbert were working on a saw mill in Little Sugar valley last week.

Mr. Verick was in this community with his engine sawing wood for Benj. Limbert.

There will be a Sunday school festival at the Murray school house on Saturday evening; benefit for the Sunday school.

A rumor that a baboon dance will take place at west end of the valley, in the near future, and all the monkeys will have an invitation; no doubt the town boys will have an invitation too.

H. S. D. scribe do you know what the ghost was? No, what was it? why it was a calf born with a shamus and elm horns and a spruce tail; no doubt the next will have peach horns and a grape tail.

Sober.

Misses Mabel and Lizzie got their photo taken; we believe one went to Martha Pa., how about it Lizzie?

Misses Lizzie Wolf and Dora Gentzel intend to make a visit to Lock Haven and Glenn Union.

Mrs. Mary Zerby is keeping house for Jacob Breon at Spring Mills.

Miss Elsie Snyder got married last week one day; we wish her a happy time through life.

Two gentlemen, of Millin county, spent Sunday at Jacob Gentzel's.

Mrs. Calvin Breon spent Wednesday at Ben Breon's.

PENNYPACKER said "Pennsylvania had no ills worthy of mention," yet signed the muzzle to prevent the press from telling what the "ills" are.

Quality Price. It is a self-evident proposition that quality is the first thing to consider in buying anything. We have always recognized this and have consistently maintained the high standard of our goods. Moreover, we believe that it isn't necessary to argue this point as people generally know that all they buy of us is the best that may be had. There's however another very important consideration, and that is the Price. This stock of clothing is secured under the most advantageous conditions. We are not hampered by intuition as to what, when or how we shall make our selection; we have the markets of the world from which to choose, and the best makers of everything are eager to sell us clothing, furnishings, hats—weaver it may be. Our purchases are made at lowest possible rates and they come to you at these figures plus our fair profit. Summed up, it means simply this: that we assert and are prepared to prove by demonstration and comparison that you can buy better clothing here at smaller prices than anywhere else in Bellefonte. It's an easy matter to make a test case—we are confident of the outcome. Such Clothes as you may be proud to be seen in. All wool Thibets, Serges, Homespuns, Wool Crashes and Flannels—full lined, half lined or quarter lined; colorings brown, gray, olive mixtures, blue serge, black Thibets, Cheviot and Diagonal. In all twenty-two different and distinct styles. Coats with non-breakable front; pants with belt loops. Outing Suits (coat and pants suits), no one shows so many, no one shows so good.

SIM, the CLOTHIER, Have you seen any Clothing that fits as ours?
