

LABOR AND CAPITAL TOLD THEIR DUTY

President in Syracuse Address Outlines the Ideal of Good Citizen.

GIVEN AN IMMENSE OVATION

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 8.—President Roosevelt was accorded a magnificent reception by the citizens of his own state. From the moment of his arrival in this city until he stepped aboard his special train to begin his return trip to Oyster Bay he was given a continual ovation.

For the president it was a busy day as well as a day full of interesting incidents. In the morning, soon after his arrival, he reviewed from a beautifully decorated stand in Hanover square a great parade of the labor organizations of the city; he then went to the state fair grounds, where he delivered before 50,000 persons an address on good citizenship and the relations of labor and capital to the state; he was the principal guest at a luncheon at the club house on the grounds—a luncheon which was attended by every important state official except Governor Odell, who could not be present on account of a previous engagement; reviewed a fine parade of the National Letter Carriers' Association and fraternal bodies of the city, and was the guest of former United States Senator Frank Hiscock at a dinner which was attended by about 30 persons invited to meet the president.

In his address at the fair grounds President Roosevelt said in part:

"The reason why our future is assured lies in the fact that our people are generally skilled in and fitted for self-government, and therefore will spurn the leadership of those who seek to excite this ferocious and foolish class antagonism. The average American knows not only that he himself intends to do about what is right, but that his average fellow-countryman has the same intention and the same power to make his intention effective. He knows, whether he be business man, professional man, farmer, mechanic, employer or wage-worker, that the welfare of each of these men is bound up with the welfare of all the others; that each is a neighbor to the other; is actuated by the same hopes and fears, has fundamentally the same ideals, and that all alike have much the same virtues and the same faults. Our average fellow-citizen is a sane and healthy man, who believes in decency and has a wholesome mind. He therefore feels an equal scorn alike for the man of wealth guilty of the mean and base spirit of arrogance toward those who are less well off, and for the man of small means who in his turn either feels, or seeks to excite in others the feeling of mean and base envy for those who are better off. The two feelings, envy and arrogance, are but opposite sides of the same shield, but different developments of the same spirit. Fundamentally, the unscrupulous rich man who seeks to exploit and oppress those who are less well off is in spirit not opposed to, but identical with, the unscrupulous poor man who desires to plunder and oppress those who are better off. The courtier and the demagogue are but developments of the same type under different conditions, each manifesting the same servile spirit, the same desire to rise by pandering to base passions; though one panders to power in the shape of a single man and the other to power in the shape of a multitude. So likewise the man who wishes to rise by wronging others must by right me contrasted with, not with the man who likewise wishes to do wrong, though to a different set of people, but with the man who wishes to do justice to all people and to wrong none.

"The line of cleavage between good and bad citizenship lies, not between the man of wealth who acts squarely by his fellows and the man who seeks each day's wage by that day's work, wronging no one and doing his duty by his neighbor; nor yet does this line of cleavage divide the unscrupulous wealthy man who exploits others in his own interest, from the demagogue, or from the sullen and envious being who wishes to attack all men of property, whether they do well or ill. On the contrary, the line of cleavage between good citizenship and bad citizenship separates the rich man who does well from the rich man who does ill, the poor man of good conduct from the poor man of bad conduct.

"The good citizen is the man who, whatever his wealth or poverty, strives manfully to do his duty to himself, his family, to his neighbor, to the state; who is incapable of the base egoism which manifests itself either in arrogance or in envy, but who, while demanding justice for himself, is no less scrupulous to do justice to others. It is because the average American citizen, rich or poor, is of just this type that we have cause for our profound faith in the future of the republic."

WANT NEW CANAL TREATY

Colombian Senate Appoints Committee to Prepare Bill.

Bogota, Colombia, Sept. 7.—The senate has appointed a commission to prepare a bill authorizing the government to negotiate a canal treaty without violating the constitution, but the government has not presented to congress a message, which is necessary, asking for reforms in the constitution to meet the wishes of the United States regarding tribunals, the sovereign control of the canal strip and the 100-year lease. The general feeling is favorable to a new treaty. Senor Macario, president of the senate, expressed his admiration for the noble and sincere policy pursued by the United States and hopes that the canal will be opened by them. He says he regrets that he was obliged to oppose the Hay-Herran treaty as being a violation of the laws of the constitution, but he will work strongly for a canal treaty satisfactory to both countries.

Intense excitement has been produced here by a cablegram reporting the probability of the United States dealing directly with Panama in the canal matter. Senator Obaldia, who has been appointed governor of Panama, left for his post. He will take with him a canal plan, which it is said will satisfy all.

ACCIDENT AT MOTOR CYCLE RACE

Four Men Plunged Over Embankment and Are Seriously Injured.

New York, Sept. 8.—Four men were injured seriously during the running of a five-mile motor cycle handicap at Manhattan Meach. They plunged over the track embankment opposite the grand stand while going at a terrific pace.

They were Alexander Dufrane, of Elizabeth, N. J., who was badly bruised and is believed to have sustained internal injuries; N. T. Barnard, of Hartford, Conn., cut and bruised and shoulder hurt; F. W. Rogers, of Brooklyn, badly bruised and hip laid open; P. Johnson, of Newark, head cut and thought to have been internally injured.

Barnard was the first to fall, going over the track. Later he claimed that the rider ahead, whose name cannot be ascertained, forced him off the track.

Unnerved by Barnard's plunge and by the shout of horror which arose from the crowded grand stands, the three other riders followed within a few seconds. They were picked up, bleeding and unconscious.

THREATENED PRESIDENT

John Miller, of Syracuse, Locked Up By Police.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 8.—John Miller, a German, was arrested at his home, and is charged with having threatened to shoot the president during his stay in this city. Sunday evening the police learned that a man named Miller, living in the southwest part of the city, had said that he would shoot the president while the letter carriers' parade was being reviewed. He denies that he made any threats against the president's life and claims that a woman through whom the police learned of it is lying. When questioned at police headquarters he was unable to give a clear explanation of his whereabouts since 6 o'clock Sunday morning. He is held pending a more thorough investigation.

Search For Treasure Abandoned.

London, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Wellington, N. Z., says the American expedition on the schooner Herman, which has been searching for hidden treasure on Cocos Island, has abandoned the quest after having searched 20 islands. The originator of the scheme then confessed that he was ignorant of the locality of the treasure island. Numerous expeditions have sought in vain for the treasure, which was said to have been buried on Cocos Island in 1825 by the crew of the Nova Scotian bark Mary Dea, which carried away $50,000,000 in gold, silver and precious stones, placed on board at Lima for safe keeping when that city was attacked.

Shot Girl and Killed Himself.

Riverton, N. J., Sept. 8.—Without any apparent provocation, Henry Hullings, of this place, fired twice at a young woman named Isabel Simpson, both bullets taking effect, and then turned the revolver on himself, with fatal results. The woman will probably recover. The tragedy occurred at the home of Mrs. Edward Lippincott, where Hullings was engaged as a gardener and the girl as a waitress. Hullings had been attentive to the girl, and it is believed that her failure to reciprocate his attentions led to the tragedy. Hullings was 19 years of age and the girl was several years older.

Congressman's Daughter Elopes.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 8.—A special from Bristol says Miss Cloyetta Brownlow, daughter of Congressman W. P. Brownlow, of Jonesboro, Tenn., eloped with Mark E. Pritchett, a liverman of Jonesboro, and they were married at Bristol. The attentions of Pritchett to Miss Brownlow are said to have been opposed by the congressman, hence the elopement. The young lady was a favorite in Washington social circles during the past season, when she made her debut.

Seven Bodies Washed Ashore.

Port Jefferson, L. I., Sept. 8.—Seven bodies have been washed ashore between Port Jefferson and Wading River. It is supposed that they are those of sailors who were lost from a schooner that capsized in the storm of August 25.

MONDAY

The traditional wash-day tests a woman's strength to the full. Her back is bent continually over the washboard. She lifts and carries all day long. Frequently she leaves the steaming laundry to rush into a draught of air and incur the danger of a severe cold. What must a woman endure who does these things when she is suffering from womanly diseases? Every movement must be painful to her and aggravate her condition.

Forty-nine women out of fifty who suffer from womanly diseases can be perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drinms, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. "In the year 1899 I was taken sick," writes Mrs. Edna Crowder of Ripley, Lauderdale Co., Tenn. "My limbs ached, had severe pains in back and lower part of bowels. I tried many kinds of medicine and four of the best doctors in the country, until I gave up all hope of recovery. In January 1901 I wrote to Dr. R. W. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and received from him a letter telling me to try his medicine. I took eleven bottles, six of Favorite Prescription, five of Golden Medical Discovery, one vial of Pellets and used one box of Lotion Tablets and one of Healing Suppositories, and am now able to work at anything I want to. Thanks to you for your valuable medicine and kind advice." Keep the bowels healthy by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. They cure constipation and its many consequences.
