

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

The Local Happenings Condensed in Short Paragraphs

EVENTS WORTHY OF MENTION

What Has Transpired at the County Seat—Movements of our People—Personal and Social Events—Local Items Always Desired.

—A patent was recently granted to Wm. R. Jenkins, of Bellefonte, for a new style rake.

—Herman Holtz and daughter, Edith, departed Sunday morning for a two weeks' visit in New York city.

—A fire escape is being placed on the Garman House in order to comply with certain requirements of a recent act of assembly.

—Dr. J. M. Locke is putting the finishing touches on his new residence; if he don't hurry along Jack Frost will catch him napping.

—J. C. Meyer, John Blanchard, Ellis L. Orvis and Wilbur F. Reeder, members of the Centre county bar, are attending Superior Court, at Philadelphia, this week.

—"Old Josh Spruceby" will be here on Monday evening at the opera house. A full fledged sawmill will be in operation on the stage in one of the acts. It is a clever production all the way through.

—For a nice supper, at the convenient price of 25 cents, the best done up in best style, go to the Lutheran lay out in Pettrick Hall, this evening and Friday evening, to-morrow. The ladies' bazaar will open in same place on both days. Don't miss a nice thing when it is done for a good cause.

—On Saturday afternoon the Lock Haven Normal foot ball team came to Bellefonte and had a tackle with the Academy team. It was a rough game in which some of the players were knocked out at the start and plugging followed every opportunity. It resulted in a victory for the Lock Haven team by a score of 5 to 0.

—Look for the election ballot in this issue of the paper, in the Sheriff's election proclamation. It will be found there in a reduced style, but an exact fac simile of the one you will have to vote when you go to the polls next Tuesday. Better look it over and study the new method of marking. The change is very slight, only you should understand it before going to the polls.

—"Uncle Josh Spruceby" the first of the many rural plays now being presented in the different cities will be seen here Monday evening, Nov. 2nd. This production is said to be different from all others as it contains much comedy as well as pathos, and the realistic Saw Mill scene is said to be the most exciting and intense effect ever produced.

—Last Saturday Prof. Geo. G. Groff, a member of the faculty at Bucknell College, Lewisburg, Pa., and also a member of the State Board of Health was here in reference to some of the smallpox cases in this county to see whether all the necessary precautions were being taken so as to prevent a spread of the disease. He first came to Bellefonte and then went to Oak Hill, and as far as we can learn was well satisfied with the conditions existing. The three patients are slowly improving and their recovery is expected. The strictest quarantine regulations have been observed, and as a result, there is little possibility of any further spread of the disease from this source.

—During the past week workmen have been busy in putting in a new steel ceiling in the Racket stores at this place. For some time the firm has been annoyed by the plastering dropping and this will put an end to the trouble. In addition, it is a very handsome affair that is ornamental, when the painters get through with it. The Irvin Brothers, since they took hold of the store, have made some decided improvements in the interior by changing and enlarging the business office and adding several large plate glass counter cases that enable them to display goods to a better advantage. While this is going on business seems to be improving and they are happy and prosperous.

—On Sunday evening the writer dropped into the Presbyterian church to hear Dr. Laurie deliver his first of a series of historical sermons. He took the origin of the Ismael tribe, for this discourse; and beginning with Abraham he traced down through several centuries the growth of this remarkable people and the important part played by them in the early epochs of the Christian era, and how their civilization spread over Europe, parts of Asia and Africa, and affected the history of the world. The method of treating the subject was that of a narrative with enough explanatory matter thrown in to make it easily comprehended by the entire audience and intensely interesting to all. We wish to express approval upon the character of this sermon, which we believe to be practical in that it is interesting, instructive and will tend to draw people to the church who otherwise would be indifferent to the average sermon where church doctrine, creed and well known and accepted truths are thrashed over and over.

—A lady compositor can secure position at this office.

—Mrs. Miles Arney visited with B. H. Arney at Centre Hall.

—One of M. C. Gephart's pianos is now having a place in Runkle's hotel parlor.

—Jennie Koontz is at Kane, Pa., where she will visit friends for the next two weeks.

—The Reformed Synod met in Lebanon this week. Jared Harper is a delegate from this place.

—Mr. and Mrs. Murray Andrews, who have been spending the past summer in Maine, returned home.

—Wilbur Baney, of this place, is filling a vacancy as clerk in Yeager & Davis store in Philipsburg.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kline are making a ten day visit with friends at their former home in Watsonstown.

—Get every democratic vote to the polls on November 3 and there will be no doubt of the result in this county.

—Henry Keller, the second son of Harry Keller, fell from his bicycle Friday noon, and cut quite a deep gash near his eye.

—Sim the Clothier has put out more clothes the past few weeks than in any former season. Doing more business right along.

—Miss Mary H. Linn has returned home from a four months tour through Europe having had a successful voyage and interesting trip.

—The Panther Run hunting party, mostly from Bellefonte will leave Saturday for deer, in the vicinity of Panther Run to remain about ten days.

—Better study the ballot before you vote this year. A copy will be found in the election proclamation on another page of this issue. Look for it.

—Henry Tibbens, of east Howard street, has a pumpkin on exhibition in Harper Bros. store window that weighs 147 pounds. That beats the record.

—Saturday noon a slight fire on the roof of Homer Crissman's house, Thomas street, caused the usual fire alarm and excitement. It was extinguished before any damage was done.

—Rev. J. E. Morris, formerly pastor of the A. M. E. church at Tyrone, has recently been appointed pastor of St. Paul A. M. E. conference. Rev. Morris will preach his first sermon here on Sunday, Oct. 25 at 10:30 a. m.

—Clyde Jodon and family moved from Reedsville to Bellefonte on Tuesday and are living in the Larimer property opposite the Court House. Mr. Jodon had been employed in Smith Bros. job office; he will be with Platt Barber & Co's wholesale house at this place.

—James Hoover, of Ranville, employed in repairing the trestle at R. B. Taylor's coal yard was severely injured Monday afternoon. Injuries are on the side of the head cutting his ear and bruising his head. He is reported as getting along nicely. Mr. Hoover's home is in Ranville.

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ettinger, of Milton, accompanied by the latter's sister, Miss Annie Jenkins, were visitors Thursday and Friday in this town with uncles and aunts, Wm. Jenkins, Dr. Dorworth's and Fred. Kurtz's, having attended the Lucas Harvey wedding at Howard, Wednesday evening, 21.

—Invitations are out for the marriage of Rev. Dr. R. Leighton Gerhart, pastor of the St. John's Reformed church, Lewisburg to Miss Margaret Bell Quigley, youngest daughter of the late John Quigley, of Newberry, Pa. The wedding will take place Wednesday evening, Nov. 4 at the home of the bride, at 6 o'clock. His Bellefonte friends wish him well.

—Monday morning about ten o'clock a regular snow squall set in with flakes large as dimes and quarters coming thick and fast. Only regrettable thing about it was that they were not dimes and quarters, or even nickles. And they disappeared just about as fast as dimes and quarters, when fakirs are around tempting greenies to "try their luck."

—Geo. C. Miller, of Valentine forge, informs the Democrat that by next March he will have been in the service of the Valentine furnace sixty years. He was born on the plant and has been there all his time with the exception of one year, and is still there. Really Carnegie, Schwab, or some other millionaire by virtue of iron, should give Mr. Miller a pension.

—Auctioneer J. L. Neff, of Roland, gave us a call Monday morning, without a cane, and tells us this is his first trip from home within a year, that he did not need a staff to assist his impaired locomotion and we are glad over his improvement. He did a big thing as a vendue crier, having followed it successfully for forty years. In those forty years the number of sales he cried would average forty per year—the greatest number he cried in any one year was seventy-five some fifteen years ago. This would make a total of 1600 sales. The property he knocked down at these sales, household and farming goods, would average $1500 per sale, making a total of $2,400,000. This is exclusive of sales of real estate, some of which ran high up in the thousands of dollars.

What auctioneer can show up such a record, and the old veteran crier is still good enough for any "O Yes" jobs that need his attention.

—A girl, residing in or near Bellefonte, wanted to learn typesetting at this office.

—Mrs. E. J. Hinds, of Fiedler, while in town on Saturday attending to legal business, found time to call on the Centre Democrat.

—Rev. Schmidt expects to preach a sermon to young men next Sunday evening, at St. John's Reformed church. His theme is, "St. Paul's Estimate of Athletics." All young men are invited.

—The fire alarm yesterday afternoon, at 2:30, was caused by the burning of a frame house occupied by an aged widow, Mrs. Perdue, which seemed to have had its origin in the attic, likely from an overheated flue, as the old lady was ready to do her baking. The flames soon burst through the roof and had made considerable headway by the time the hosecart got up the steep hill on Lamb street the place of the fire. The steamers soon were on the spot and did prompt work. The roof was ruined, and the garret likely down to the garret floor. Help was promptly on the inside saving the household goods on the first and second floors. Some damage was done to goods by water. The fire was put out before getting into the second story. The building is one of which attorney Ray has the renting.

—Tuesday evening about thirty-eight gentlemen friends assembled at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Ward, on Curtin street, at the invitation of the good lady of the house that it was the 45th birthday anniversary of Mr. Ward and she thought it proper to remind him of the fact by an informal and surprise assemblage. The Dr. was naturally surprised to come home and find such a large family on hand, but appreciated the effort so much that he could not even make a speech when his pastor, Rev. John A. Wood, very nicely presented him to the throng and requested him to occupy a handsome leather rocker, the gift of his numerous friends. He was simply beat and turned the house over to his friends. Of course there was a sumptuous repast, with a flow of wit and humor that made the event highly entertaining and enjoyable. Mrs. Ward's brother, P. O. Stiver, of Freeport, Ill., was among the guests present.

THE laying off of employees on railroads and industries generally, is going on all over the country generally, and with winter at the door there will be suffering. What has become of "prosperity."

It was fun this week to see how the winds made the leaves dance around outdoors—polkas, quadrilles, two-steps, and the other dances that we can't name and know nothing about. Well, at all events, there is pleasure of some sort in all the pranks of nature.

One inch of snow at Altoona, Monday; three inches in some of the Allegheny mountain sections. Here it amounted to snow squalls—one in the forenoon and one in the afternoon. Do not worry, there is room for many fine days yet before Christmas, when all will be wishing for snow. Folks are every whit as changeable as the weather.

Hunting is in full swing. Some hunt and find nothing. Some shoot and hit nothing. What some know as to the difference between a wild and domestic turkey is nothing. Some say they go for fun and that's nothing. Some come home with game and that's better than nothing. Nothing, nothing, nothing; go hunting and see if you can find nothing.
