

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

The Local Happenings Condensed in Short Paragraphs

EVENTS WORTHY OF MENTION

What Has Transpired at the County Seat—Movements of our People—Personal and Social Events—Local Items Always Desired.

—Not many deer in so far. —Farmers are in the midst of corn husking. —Prof. Paul Fortney, principal of the schools at Snow Shoe, was home to vote. —Postmaster Young, of Nittany, was a caller, and one we are always pleased to meet. —Miss Elizabeth Blanchard arrived home Tuesday morning from Overbrook, Pa. —Tom Harter and Judge Love are clearing the woods of game—skeering it all away. Oh, deer! —Thanksgiving has been set for Thursday, Nov. 26. Mind your turkeys—we have none to mind. —We don't know whether this is Indian summer or some other Injun—however, it is nice weather. —You could not have told, from appearances, that an election was going on in the borough yesterday. —The Garman house on Monday had an iron fire escape put on the front of the hotel, in compliance with the law. —Joe Lose, who is in the employ of the United States Leather Company, has a little time off this week and is spending it with his family in Bellefonte. —Postmaster W. W. Montgomery and daughter, Miss Emma, returned Monday from a ten days' trip to Atlantic City. —The West Chester State Normal school has the following students from Bellefonte: Joseph Butler, Helen M. and Josie P. White. —The great Dickinson-State foot ball match at Williamsport, Saturday, November 14, 1903. Half fare rates on all the railroads. —Prof. Angel, the optician, will be at the Brouckhoff House, Wednesday, November 11th. He is an expert on treatment for the eye. —Mrs. Joseph Rhoads and children left for their home in Tacony, Pa., after spending the summer here at the home of Mrs. Maria D. Richards. —Mrs. Samuel Lewin, of Philadelphia, is a guest of the Joseph family and other Bellefonte friends. She reports Mr. Lewin much improved in health. —The Bellefonte Academy foot ball team came home from Bellwood greatly elated over their victory, last Saturday, in which the score stood 2 to 0. Saturday, November 21st, a return game will be played at this place. —Rev. T. J. Kurtz, of Cleveland, O., was visiting his brother John L. Kurtz the past week. Rev. Kurtz is a Methodist minister but has retired from active preaching on account of his health. Some years ago he was connected with the Watchman office at this place. —The rabbit hunting season opened November 1, but as the date fell on Sunday the hunters could not take advantage of it until Monday. The deer season also opened the same time and a great many hunting parties from over the county have started for the mountain. A few deer are killed every season and this year will not likely prove an exception. —In another part of this issue will be found an advertisement from the Blue-baker Coal Company announcing that the bonds of that organization, which now are due, will be redeemed. Many of these bonds are held in this section and it will be well for all person holding same to give the matter attention. Col. Spangler is at the head of this coal company and it is a satisfaction to all investors to know that the management has been efficient, that all will receive the full amount as guaranteed. —A good authority informs us that the pumping station of the Bellefonte water works delivers an average of three hundred gallons of water for each man, woman and child, daily, in the town. There must be an enormous leak somewhere as the average consumption of a family would not be over a barrel or thirty-three gallons, per day. Were it not for the abundant supply from the boro's springs, such a waste of water, by leakage or misuse, would run the town short of its actual wants very soon. Undoubtedly half the pumping expense could be saved and still be water enough to burn. —For some time the railroad authorities at this place have been annoyed by a lot of reckless boys jumping trains of all kinds and riding wherever they pleased. Notwithstanding their protestations the boys kept it up at every opportunity. In order to put a stop to the practice and teach the lads that there was a severe penalty connected with the act, special railroad police Fred Giles was sent here and the first day he nabbed two lads, Merrill Monagal and Michael Meyers, and took them before Justice Keichline who fixed their fine at ten dollars each and costs. Not having any funds they were sent up on the hill to board with Sheriff Taylor. The parents appeared later and, when they learned the nature of the case and the amount involved and being of limited means, they concluded best to let the boys serve the time in the hope that it would teach them a valuable lesson. This happened about two weeks ago and the boys are out again, but up to this time the practice of jumping trains has been checked. The railroad company are justified in taking this course for the reason that most any time they are likely to grind some thoughtless young lad under the wheels. There are enough fatalities in the railroad business incurred by those on duty, without any more unnecessarily being ripped or killed.

—Jno. A. Daley transacted business and shook hands in town Monday. —Geo. Spangler and Prof. Crawford, two of Potter twp's representative men, transacted business in town yesterday. —Durant L. Purey has been made assistant to the manager of the Bellefonte office for the Bell system. —Mrs. James A. Beaver is in New York City, where she will visit her son, Gilbert A. Beaver, who was injured recently. —When persons write us to change their postoffice address, it would save us much trouble and annoyance if they would mention the old address as well as the one to which it is to be changed to. Oft have we made this request yet many fail to observe it. —All persons who remitted on subscription during the month of October will find that the same has been credited on their labels this week. We always credit up remittances on the labels at the end of each month. In case of any errors kindly remind us at once. —Sam. Williams, the veteran paper hanger and painter, moved his store this week up High street and is occupying the basement in the Crider stone building where he is fixing things up in fine shape. Some say that Samuel moved up town so that he could always keep his eye on that postoffice which he has been watching for some time; others declare that he made the change so that he would be on hand to watch when the work on the Soldiers' Monument is commenced. There is a little truth in both ideas, as he has given them time and attention in the past few years. —Landlord Ray, of the Brockerhoff House, got a clever idea the other day and that was that some of his boarders would appreciate a little variety in the bill of fare by the way of "game in season," and off he hied himself to the woods to bring it in himself, mind you. Since then he has been out numerous times but the bill of fare has not suffered any changes as the result of his efforts. The fellow has the ambition or enthusiasm to hunt, but seems to have the luck of not doing any damage to the game. —Yesterday evening an enjoyable sociable held by the members of the Lutheran church at the home of Mrs. John Kline on west Curtin street, in honor of G. A. Harbaugh, many years connected with the church and Sabbath school, and active in both, but to day left for Beaver Falls his future home. The evening was pleasantly spent and refreshments served. Mr. Harbaugh carries with him the esteem of all. —Saturday evening some colored people of town and a number of telephone men employed on the Bell lines in the Bald Eagle valley got in a rumput on Allegheny street and some stones were thrown resulting in one of them striking one of the large side plate windows in Fauble's store and it was shattered to pieces. The officers made some arrests but they are unable to fix the responsibility on the one who threw the stones. —G. A. Harbaugh who was in the employ of the machine shops of this town many years, lately with the Standard Scale Works which are now being removed to Beaver Falls, Pa., will go with the scale works, as his skill as a mechanic and machinist makes his services almost indispensable. The community in general regret Mr. Harbaugh's removal, and the Lutheran church will miss the labors of a valued member. A number of other scale works hands will also go to the new place of operations and continue in the employ of the scale works, among these W. R. Haines, one of Bellefonte's most esteemed and useful young men. Mr. Harbaugh and some of the rest leave today for Beaver Falls. We learn since that the following employees of the scale works have already left for Beaver Falls: C. C. Kremer, John E. Miller, Frank Gross, Merl Knapp, Ed. G. Graham, J. A. Booser, W. H. Parks, Chas. Milburn, R. K. M'Mullen, Jas. Lowrey. Others will follow the scale works later. In all upwards of sixty of the former employes here will go to Beaver Falls, we are informed. —Saturday evening a lively hearing took place at Justice Keichline's office over an alleged case of violation of the fish laws. Fish Warden Joseph Rightmeyer arrested two men who reside near the Nittany Furnace on the charge of having a large trout in their possession after the season had closed. The Warden proved that the men had a large trout, and that there was some evidence in regard to a loop being used, but that was not definite. On the other hand the defense was that the men had captured the trout in Logan's Branch during the fishing season and had kept it alive in a trough or tank since then and carried it in a bucket to an aquarium, when the Warden got track of it. At the hearing there was some lively discussion between the parties interested and the justice, who finally discharged the men on the ground that there was no evidence that they had captured the fish out of season. On the other hand the Warden maintained that under the game laws it was a violation to have the fish in their possession after the season closed. The justice and the Warden held quite different views as to the matter, and, when the discussion became warm, compliments passed that were interesting. The Warden says he will follow the case further, and has furnished a report of the hearing to the State Fish Commission for further instruction.

—Jno. T. Lee, one of Centre Hall's business men, favored our sanctum with a call, while Mrs. Lee was attending to shopping. —Mr. Butler, of the fish hatchery, on Friday arrived with 4000 yearling trout for the hatchery, from one of the other state hatchery. —Mrs. Geo. B. Klump and little child, and Mrs. Sidney Krumrine and children left yesterday for Williamsport where they will visit friends. —Home Mission services will be held in St. John's Reformed church next Sunday morning at 10:30. The Sunday school and congregation will unite in this service. An impressive part of the service will be the baptism of a large number of infants.

VARIETY OF LOCAL NEWS

Gathered From Centre and Adjoining Counties

SHORT AND TO THE POINT

Events That Have Transpired Recently and Worthy of Mention—Items of Interest for All—Doings of Neighbors. Mrs. Alfred Durst, of Centre Hall, who has been ill for some time, is little or no better. W. H. Musser, of Penn township, from five acres of ground, husked 600 bushels of corn. John Snyder, of Potter twp., is unable to leave the house owing to an injury received by being struck with a milk can. C. U. Hofer, who recently underwent an operation in the Philipsburg hospital, has recovered enough to be removed to his home. The boilers and stack for the power house of the new Philipsburg trolley line have arrived at that place. It is said that the cars will be running not later than Christmas. Miss H. Sadie Cummings, of Potter twp., a graduate of Wilkes Barre business college, has accepted a position with Gimble Brothers, Philadelphia. Miss Kate Gummo, of Buffalo Run, left for New York from which port she will sail shortly for Germany where she will make an extended visit to an aged relative. George W. Dunkle, of Spring Mills, went to Elmira, where he will make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Henry Hess, another daughter also lives at that place. The members of Penns valley lodge 276. I. O. F. at a regular meeting presented past grand A. G. Archey with a veteran medal representing twenty-five years membership. Miss Jane Potter of Linden Hall, has again gone to Philadelphia for treatment for her eyes. She is at the Howard hospital, and had been to the city several times for treatment. The card of Chambers & Uzie, in another column, announces they will sell at the mines at Clarence coal by the wagon load or car, in exchange, for grain, hay, or other produce. Farmers make a note of it. The Linden Hall lumber job, extensive the past dozen years, is gradually nearing its end, and portions of tramroad are being taken up. One year more, the Democrat is informed, will likely clean up the job. Ezra Smith, of Benner, complains that some rowdies entered his son's property last week and broke down several fine fruit trees and left empty whisky bottles on the ground. If the act is repeated he will make them sweat. Henry Frederick, of Boalsburg reports the remarkable yield of 700 bushels of corn on four acres of land. This almost reaches the limit of belief, but we have the assurance that it is true, and challenge the State to equal it. Ira Tice, son of Solomon D. Tice, of Howard, who has been employed the past two years as fireman on the Middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad, started for Mexico last week where a position as engineer awaits him. The knitting mills in Millheim are being thoroughly overhauled; A. D. Hoke, is the new manager. It is the intention to start some of the machines this week and gradually increase the number until the full complement will be running. This industry has had a variety of experiences. The Y. M. C. A. members of Spring Mills will hold union meetings observing the week of prayer from Nov. 8 to 15 in the Lutheran church. These meetings will be conducted by the pastors of the different denominations, and a general invitation is extended. The Howard Hustler rejoices over having completed its sixth volume. The Hustler is not printed on a web perfecting press, but at the same time it is a newsy sheet and the people of Howard could not do without it. The paper is a credit to the town and deserves all the patronage it receives. The Youngmansburg, Aaronsburg and Old Fort Turnpike Company have taken an appeal from the report of the viewers in the condemnation proceedings and have asked the court to grant them a change of venue so that the case may be tried in another county. John Ishler, who a short time ago was unfortunate in having a leg broken, is getting along as well as can be hoped in such cases. He was picking apples on his farm (once the Valentine place) in Benner twp., and a limb breaking Mr. Ishler fell a distance of about ten feet, breaking his left leg about four inches above the ankle. He is a brother of ex-Sheriff Ishler, of this town. The mountain fires in the lower part of Nittany valley the past week has had the effect of driving the game out of their accustomed abode and in consequence hunters have been killing large quantities of game that migrated to escape the flames and smoke. Many pheasants were killed in some places, as well as other game. There was enough smoke on Saturday to make the sky hazy.

The Bradford hunting party of Old Fort killed a deer beginning of the week. The Coburn hunters are also said to have a deer. H. T. Zerby, of Aaronsburg, has an old Bible in his possession that was printed in 1720, in the German language. The book is well printed and bound and in excellent preservation. The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar in the Chapel on Spring street during the first week in December. All kinds of fancy articles suitable for the holiday season will be sold. Arthur Sutterbeck, farmer on the Jacob Strohm farm, near Tusseyville, will move to the farm of J. B. Spangler; Sidney Poorman from the Jacob Bortoff farm near Linden Hall, on the farm of Rebecca Sparr below Centre Hall. A re-union of the Woodring families took place last Thursday at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Woodring, near Port Matilda. Four generations of the Woodring family were present. This is a remarkable family, everyone being republicans. James Hughes, of Bellefonte, was present and made a very pleasant address. The occasion was a most delightful one. It is an unusual gratification to state that during the summer just passing out Centre county has been spared from fires caused by lightning—almost every season one or more barns were struck and burned to the ground. Many counties in the state were not so fortunate, as the electric bolt from the clouds started in early in the spring and set buildings on fire. Butchering has started with farmers induced by last week's cool weather. Should mild weather set in again, those who have held over will abide until favorable cool weather sets in again, when sausage, wurst, pouhaus and fresh pork and buckwheat cakes will rule the tables of farmers and others, followed by "speck and sauerkraut." Talk about your first class hotel grub—its no patch to a well-set farmer's table with its well-cooked food, all of it pure, wholesome, palatable, with none of the adulteration that enters into the prepared foods, put out by factories, so detrimental to health. On Sunday, Oct. 18th, a peculiar accident happened to Will Johnson, who resides three miles east of Pine Grove Mills, which has resulted in the loss of one of his eyes. Mr. Johnson has living with him his wife's sister, Miss Wilson, and on the day mentioned while Miss Wilson was carrying the things from the dinner table Mr. Johnson steadily crept up behind her and bending over her, playfully jabbed her in the side with his thumb. The act caused her to throw up her hands in one of which she held a table fork, which struck Mr. Johnson in the eye. On Wednesday of last week an operation was performed in the hospital when the eye was removed. —Jno. T. Lee, one of Centre Hall's business men, favored our sanctum with a call, while Mrs. Lee was attending to shopping. —Mr. Butler, of the fish hatchery, on Friday arrived with 4000 yearling trout for the hatchery, from one of the other state hatchery. —Mrs. Geo.
