

An Animal Story For Little Folks

A Tale With a Moral

Oh, Clarence, dear," cried Mrs. Rat, "What have you found to eat?"

"I'm sure it must be something nice, And know it must be sweet."

"But Mr. Rat just gruffly said, "You're right; it can't be beat!" And never offered Mrs. Rat A mouthful of the treat.

He ate away the living day And far into the night. His better half she wept and barked For just a little bite.

But Mr. Rat ate on until The bag was empty quite. Now comes the sequel, and I think It really serves him right.

"WHAT HAVE YOU FOUND TO EAT?"

The next day he commenced to grow And got both tall and fat. By noon he was at least the size Of any ordinary cat.

At dinner time poor Clarence lay Quite sick upon the mat. His size more like an elephant Than that of any rat.

Now, sweet, forgiving Mrs. Rat, So worried did she feel, She sought the paper bag from which He ate his hearty meal.

"The Magic Fertilizer," she Saw printed on the seal. And put her little brain to work With courage and with zeal.

She found a bag of alum, and A lot she did apply. And soon was well rewarded, for While watching by and by She saw him shrink to normal size, And, with a little sigh, She gently murmured in his ear, "I'm glad you didn't die."

MORAL

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Cow's Revenge

There was once a cow with a brass ring in her nose that lived alone in the big pasture of Farmer Clark. One day an artist came into the pasture to paint a picture, and the cow thought it was so very fine that she said:

"Won't you paint me one?"

"Yes," said the artist, and he daubed a big daub of green paint right in the center of the cow's forehead. When she reproached him for this he laughed at her and climbed the fence and went home.

Not long after that he came back, though, and began to paint another picture of the trees and grass and the sky.

"Oh, the beautiful sky!" he cried aloud. "The beautiful sky! How I could live in the sky, with its wonderful blue!"

Now, the cow had crept up behind him, and when she heard him say that she lowered her head and tossed him up as high as she could.

"How do you like the sky now?" she cried as he came down.

Before he had time to reply she tossed him again.

"Why don't you stay up there in the beautiful sky when I send you there?" asked the cow as he came down the second time.

And then she tossed him up again. When he struck the ground the third time, the artist took to his heels and ran home without waiting for his picture or his paints.—Atlanta Constitution.

Trust.

Mrs. Greene—I hope you trust your husband implicitly

Mrs. Brown—Oh, yes, indeed, but I wouldn't have him know it for the world. If he was aware of my perfect trust in him he might be tempted to take advantage of it, you know.—Exchange.

SIGNS BOND AND TAKES ALL RISK

S. Krumrine has such Faith in Mi-o-na, the Flesh-Forming Food He Sells it under Guarantee.

Not one time in 500 does Mi-o-na fail to cure dyspepsia. It is because of its remarkable power to cure this disease that S. Krumrine is able to sell it in the following unusual way:

With every 50c box he gives a signed guarantee bond to refund the price if the purchaser can honestly tell him that it has not given freedom from stomach troubles, increased flesh, and restored health. The risk is all S. Krumrine's as the following bond which he signs fully shows:

GUARANTEE BOND

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles.

SIDNEY KRUMRINE.

Mi-o-na is not a mere digestive that simply gives temporary relief.

While it helps the food to digest, it also has a positive strengthening action upon the digestive organs and puts the whole system in proper physical condition. It restores power to the nerves of the stomach and in this way gives that important organ the power to digest food. In this way the flesh is regained and health restored.

Remember that you risk nothing in buying Mi-o-na. The bond protects you, so that if it fails to give the desired effect, S. Krumrine will return your money without question and without argument.

Historical Society.

Notice is given by advertisement in the papers that application will be made at April term of court for the incorporation of the "Linn Historical Society of Centre County." This long delayed move has come to a head and the Historical Society may be considered an accomplished fact. It has the endorsement of the best citizens all over the county, and impelled by a commendable county pride, such approval will make it a success from the outset. Other counties have organized historical societies, some in years far back, and pride themselves upon the credit that has resulted to such counties by the good work accomplished, and still being accomplished, through the agency of their respective societies, in preserving the historic traditions, matters of interest from the records public and private, family history, and such other matters as are of great interest to the citizens in general. Centre county has a mine of such history that should not be permitted to fall into utter oblivion by further delay, for want of an historical society. The truth is, no county in the state can boast of a grander record of deep historic interest, from the days of the early settlers down to this hour, than old Centre.

Any one can become a member of this society at a very trifling expense at the outset, with perhaps no expenditure thereafter, since by act of assembly provision is made for keeping up the society after it has been in successful operation three years, from the public funds.
