The best way to borrow five dollars is to ask for ten.

Unionville

Lady Van shot a large wild duck on the "Reach."

Bennie Fredericks is still living in a state of single blessedness.

Charley Stover and wife, of Altoona, are visiting at the home of G. W. Morrison.

John Cadwallader, of Braddock, was an arrival on Saturday. He left a cart wheel in our hands to be forwarded to the poor editor of the Centre Democrat for another year's subscription, without which he says life would not be worth living.

The Spotts Bros.' saw mill is now running full time and have a large pile of saw logs on hand and now constantly we hear:

The swishing of the saw
Of the saw, saw, saw,
The buzzing and the swishing of the saw.

Pat McDonnell, Pete Stere, George Morrison and Jim Stere saw a large fat ground hog feeding in a field a short distance from where they were working on the railroad track. They at once surrounded it like Paddy did the Hessians, and closed in on it, when close enough Pete Stere caught it by its caudal appendage and held it up for inspection. It had the date, Feb. 2nd 1904, branded on its left shoulder. "Ah, ha!" said Pat, "that's the fellow that brought on this cold weather! Dan Webster won't save you this time. Here, Morrison, you are the oldest, take him and see that he don't see his shadow again!"

Prof. James Pratt, principal of the grammar school, whose school will close on the 7th of April, will leave at once for Frankfort Springs, Beaver county, where he has been engaged as one of the preceptors in the Academy at that place.

The funeral of the late Enos T. Hicklen, who was brought here on Monday from Mt. Eagle for interment, was one of the largest that has taken place here for a number of years. He was buried in the upper grave yard under the auspices of Centre Lodge I. O. O. F., of Bellefonte, of which lodge, deceased was a member. The Odd Fellows' ceremony is a beautiful and impressive one and, I believe the world is better, correspondingly to the number of members it contains. Deceased was at one time a resident of this place.

Being encouraged by the immense sale of wall paper last season A. J. Grist has just put into his store a larger and finer selection than ever was brought to this town. Cheap too. Come and see.

Chesney, son of Geo. W. Morrison, took suddenly ill with pneumonia and acute indigestion, and at this writing is in a very critical condition.
