

WHAT ALL THE WORLD IS DOING

Trend of Civilization in All Lines From Week to Week

POLITICS and GOVERNMENT

Foreign.

Japanese Censorship Justified.

George Kennan, writing from Japan as the war correspondent for Outlook, speaks of the dissatisfaction among newspaper men because of their treatment by the Japanese government. He says that upon a fair survey of the conditions of modern warfare with world-wide intercommunication by telegraph the Japanese are justified in keeping the correspondents away from the front to insure that absolute secrecy upon which strategic advantage in war depends. He concludes that it is not improbable that the day of the war correspondent has passed, as the facility of telegraphic communication has made him almost as dangerous as a spy. He thinks that other powers will follow the example set by Japan.

150,000 Men in Battle.

The storm center in the Russo-Japanese war was shifted last week from the besieged Russian fortress, Port Arthur, to the northern part of the Liautong peninsula, where a great battle, involving 150,000 soldiers, was begun June 24 along the line of the railroad above Kaiping for a distance of twenty-five miles. After the Russian advance under Stakelberg had been checked by Oku, in the bloody battles of Vafangou and Teliussu the week before, General Kurapatkin took personal command of the retreat until he could bring his main army into action. Forces of General Kuroki and General Oku came into touch so as to form a line of battle sixty miles in extent. The Russian Vladivostok squadron, which sank three Japanese transports, escaped Admiral Kamimura and returned to its base. Marquis Oyama instead of Yamagata was appointed to the supreme command of the Japanese armies.

Opposing Jewish Colony.

Sir Charles Elliot, the British commissioner and commander in the East Africa protectorate, has tendered his resignation because he is opposed to making the numerous grants of land to the East African syndicate which represents the Jewish colonial trust. This grant was announced last August and was accepted by a committee of the Zionists' convention. The site is said to be an ideal one, with the best climate in all Africa.

Perdicaris Set Free.

Almost coincident with Secretary Hay's ultimatum to Morocco for the return of M. Perdicaris alive or of his captor dead both the American and British citizens who were kidnaped by Raisuli arrived at Tangier June 24.

Santo Domingo Election.

Consul General Maxwell at Santo Domingo city reported that the national election held on June 18 by the Santo Domingo congress had resulted in the choice of Mofales as president, who had been duly inaugurated next day.

General.

Three More Parker States.

Democratic state conventions in Louisiana and in Texas have made known their preference for the presidential candidacy of Judge Parker of New York. Delegates were instructed, the Vermonters, while voting down a resolution of instructions, adopted a motion to the effect that Parker was the most available candidate. The Texas platform contained a declaration against the current currency and the control of volume of money by the banking power.

Changes in the Cabinet.

The following cabinet appointments were announced officially June 24, after the acceptance of resignations from Attorney General Knox and Secretary Cortelyou to take effect July 1:

William H. Moody of Massachusetts, to be attorney general.

Paul Morton of Illinois, to be secretary of the navy.

Victor H. Metcalf of California, to be secretary of commerce and labor.

Minnesota Democrats Divided.

The Minnesota Democratic convention at Duluth was organized by the Hearst faction with a small majority, but the delegation to the national convention as finally constituted stood 11 for Hearst and 11 favorable to Parker. The Kansas City platform and Bryan were endorsed.

Bryan's New York Meeting.

W. J. Bryan addressed a big Copper Union meeting of Democratic protestants against the Parker boom at New York, June 20. Mr. Bryan said that the great question now was not imperialism or finance, but whether we should have a plutocracy or a democracy. He characterized the Albany platform as the policy of straddlers and cowards, and, speaking of Judge Parker's silence, said he objected to playing with loaded dice. In an interview Mr. Bryan repeated his prediction that Parker and the conservatives would be defeated at St. Louis.

North Dakota Uninstructed.

The North Dakota Democratic convention, June 21, voted down a proposition to endorse the Kansas City platform and elected an uninstructed delegation of eight to the St. Louis convention.

Executive.

Warship Trophies Awarded.

The battleship Oregon is to receive the target practice trophy of the year in the class containing battleships and first class cruisers. In the class for protected cruisers and gunboats the dispatch boat Dolphin won the trophy. The best shooting done by torpedo boat destroyers was that of the Paul Jones, which also received a trophy.

Official Congressional Record.

The printed volume concerning the work of the last session of congress has been issued at Washington. The grand total of appropriations as there reported is $781,172,375.18. Besides this there are authorized for public works in future $22,801,300.

New Red Cross Officers.

By unanimous action of the trustees, ex-Surgeon General Van Ruypen of the navy has been chosen president of the American Red Cross, and Surgeon General Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service as vice president.

Panama Money Agreement.

Secretary of War Taft has issued an official statement of the agreement signed June 20 between the Panama currency commission and himself making the gold currency of the United States legal tender in the republic of Panama and the money of Panama legal tender in the canal zone. Provision is made also for the issue of fractional silver currency by Panama, this silver to be maintained in parity with gold. It is arranged to have drafts sold at reasonable rates so as to keep down the exchange on New York and to avoid a disturbance of the parity.

Legal and Criminal.

Against Union Ordinance.

Judge Miller of Louisville, Ky., holds that the ordinance requiring the use of the union label upon all printing done for the city of Louisville is unconstitutional. The mayor and city buyer have been enjoined against awarding printing contracts under its provisions.

Flag on Magazine Cover.

The police authorities of Boston have stopped the sale of the July issue of Everybody's Magazine because a picture of a part of the American flag with an eagle appears on its cover, this being deemed in violation of the Bedford law prohibiting the use of the flag for advertising purposes.

The General Slocum Inquest.

Some startling evidence of inadequate fire protection, of worthless life preservers and of worthless inspection by federal officials has been brought to light since the investigation into the burning of the General Slocum in New York harbor was begun before the coroner's jury last week. President Barnaby of the company which owned the Slocum at first maintained that life preservers had been bought for the Slocum in the last three years, but when bills were submitted in evidence it was found that they had been made out to the Grand Republic, which name had been erased. It was found that the bookkeeper had made this erasure, but no satisfactory explanation was given. Counsel for the company admitted later that no life preservers had been bought for the Slocum since 1895.

Chief Points In Republican Platform

The expected fight in the convention between the stand patters and revisionists over the tariff plank did not materialize when the platform as written by Senator Lodge with the president's approval and as revised in committee was read by its author on the second day of the convention. In fact, both sides joined in the applause. The compromise clause in the tariff plank was contributed by Chairman Hay of the Northwestern Manufacturers' association. It is that "the measure of protection should always at least equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad." While insisting on the principles of protection it is contended that the rates should be readjusted when conditions have changed, but only by Republican hands.

Next in interest to the convention was the trust plank. It declares that "combinations of capital and labor are the results of the economic movement of the age" and are entitled to protection when lawfully formed for lawful purposes. Reference is made to the president's prosecution of trusts and the publicity laws passed by the Republican congress.

Much credit is taken for the American possession of an isthmian canal route, for peace in the Philippines, for reorganizing the army and militia, for irrigation laws, for settling the Alaskan dispute and for extending foreign markets. The duty to uphold the gold standard is reaffirmed and legislation to encourage and build up the American merchant marine is pledged. A powerful navy is favored and arbitration to settle international disputes. All the important acts of President Roosevelt are endorsed.

Senator Lodge.

but the prosecution had evidence to show that most of them had not been renewed since 1891, when the Slocum was built. It was shown that there had been no fire drills on the boat and that cheap and useless fire apparatus was employed. The federal inspector, Lundberg, who gave the Slocum a clean bill last spring, refused to answer any questions by advice of counsel lest he incriminate himself.

Secretary Cortelyou appointed a commission of prominent federal officers to investigate the Slocum disaster. The commission includes Lawrence C. Murray, Major General Wilson, Commander Winslow and George Uhler, chief of the steamboat inspection service.

Victory For Amalgamated.

The supreme court of Montana has declared the so-called fair trial bill adopted by the extra session of the legislature last winter to be constitutional. This resulted favorably to the Amalgamated Copper company because the latter allows a change in venue and also of judges upon evidence that a judge is prejudiced against one side or the other. It was because of one of the decisions by Judge Clancy that the Amalgamated decided to close all of its properties in Montana, throwing 20,000 men out of work. By this action the legislature was compelled to pass the law.

Notes.

It was charged that notes to the amount of over $3,000,000 signed by the West Chicago Railway company and the North Chicago Railway company had been issued by dummy officers employed by the Union Traction company and had been used to defray expenses. * * * Michael J. Sullivan, the man who demanded $10,000 from President Mellen of the New Haven system in return for information about a plot to wreck the special train for Chicago, was arrested at Wilkesbarre, Pa. It was thought that he represented a gang of train wreckers. * * * The city of Philadelphia has been greatly stirred up by the revelation of thievery in connection with the big Trossdale fire conduit, for which James P. McNichols, prominent in the city Republican machine, was contractor. * * * Samuel F. Smith, ex-mayor of Davenport, Ia., was arrested on the charge of embezzling $65,000 of trust notes. Mr. Smith is the son of the author of "America." * * * Paymaster Longyear of the Hudson River Bluestone company at Kingston, N. Y., was held up by masked men on the highway, June 23, bound and robbed of $2,700. A large posse with bloodhounds was put on the trail of the robbers.

RELIGIOUS

Gibbons on Church Music.

Cardinal Gibbons, in view of some contradictory statements as to his attitude toward the recent letter of the pope restoring the Gregorian chant, gave to the press a statement, June 20, in the name of all the archbishops of this country, as well as himself, to the effect that the pope's wishes would be carried out as far as practicable. The cardinal says that the alleged interviews and comments in opposition to the pope's wishes are devoid of foundation.

Five New Sayings of Jesus.

The Oxford University Press of London and New York, acting for the Egyptian Exploration fund, has just published five newly discovered sayings of Jesus Christ and a fragment of a lost gospel from the original papyri unearthed at Oxyrhynchus by Messrs. Grenfell and Hunt of Oxford. The first discoveries in this line were made by these explorers in the same place in 1897. The five sayings now published appear to be the beginning of a collection made by St. Thomas. It is written on the back of another document in roll form with edges worn or torn. These sayings are merely new versions of others which are familiar in the existing Scriptures.

DRAPING A DOOR.

Artistically Done, It Will Add to the Beauty of a Room.

Draperies play an extensive part in decoration, and often the most inexpensive materials carefully disposed are exceedingly effective. An artistically draped door will often change the whole character of a room. The illustration shows an effective treatment in this line. Over the door are a canopy and a rail, which are easily put up and which a few pieces of pottery ornament. The door draperies start from under the canopy, which hides the brass rod they hang from. The top drapery should consist of some soft material in a shade harmonizing with the walls. The undercurtain drapery is art linen looped back with cord and tassels. A stand, bearing a palm placed near the door, is a pretty finishing touch.

A DRAPED DOOR.

Fan Wall Pockets.

A very handy thing is a wall pocket for letters and small articles, and it can be made very attractive by using one large and one small folding fan. A wire is run in and out through the large open fan one inch from the edge and covered with narrow ribbon, which is slipped through the same holes. The small fan is treated in the same way. The small fan is then placed upon the large one and the ends firmly wired together. The wire near the edge of the small fan is bent to allow the fan to form a curved pocket, and the corners are fastened to the sticks of the large fan, which forms the back. Ribbon bows are fastened over the joinings at the sides, and a length of ribbon extends from one to the other and a little above the top of the back to hang it by. A large bow conceals the fastening at the lower point of the pocket.

The Girl Who Is Loved.

Her features may or may not be good, her complexion perhaps leaves something to be desired, but her sweet, true eyes and her kindly heart make her friends forget any physical shortcomings that she may have, and wherever she goes she is as welcome as the sunshine. Her charm is in her freshness and her naturalness. She is sweet and wholesome herself, and, being that, she is on the lookout for the good that is in the world. Somehow she always finds it. People seem to be at their best in her presence, and, though she knows that the world has its ugly, seamy side, she escapes personal contact with it. She is simple and honest, and people who are tired of the shams and hollowness of society delight in her.

The man who is proud of his learning needs more.
