

ARE WOMEN NERVOUS?

A London Critic Declares They Are Stronger Than Ever Before.

Women of the present day are said to be more nervous than women at any previous period. This, of course, is largely the opinion of pessimists expressed in an exaggerated manner. Undoubtedly the woman of today suffers from "nerves." But this has always been a common complaint among women at all times. The last generation was neurotic; earlier generations had insistently convenient attacks of "megrims."

The pessimist never wearies of enlarging upon the strain and stress of modern life, the rush of travel, the restlessness of great social centers, the incessant poaching on the hours of the night, the eternal increase in the number of working women. Yet in reality if the strain on women be greater than ever the fact that they are able to endure it proves an increase in nervous power rather than a decrease. The woman who works for her living today has far stronger nerves than her predecessors ever possessed. She stands the strain year in and year out. The woman of a few generations ago could not have stood it for a month. It is also futile to point to the rush of modern travel as a nerve destroying force. At the present day there is less nervous waste in crossing a continent than there was a hundred years ago in a journey from London to Bath in the stuffy interior of a lumbering coach.

Where among the women of old, whose nerves are so lauded, could we find the woman who could drive a motor car without tremor or who could cycle through a street crowded with traffic? The most competent authorities declare that never in the history of the race has so excellent a type of woman been evolved as the average woman of today.—London Express.

USE OF PERFUMES.

Strive Always to Have the Odor Dainty and Clean Smelling.

There is no minor detail of the toilet on which some people express themselves so heatedly as on the abuses of perfumes. When they dislike scent they stop short of few opprobrious terms concerning the scented. Analyzed, the disgust that a highly scented person inspires among many of the refined is chiefly to be traced to dislike of the "loudness" of a dominant, assertive fragrance and a peculiar, enervating nausea to which its continued presence conduces.

A garden of flowers is the ideal of all scents. Note that in a garden first the mignonette yields a cleanly, exquisite whiff, then the breeze wafts the incense of carnations, the richness of roses or the sweetness of heliotrope. If a creeper or plant be heavily perfumed one's instinct is to keep clear of it—a passing breath is enough. Even the honeyed bean fields cloy. The secret of the agreeably perfumed is also to be found in an abstention from a strong appeal to the noses of their neighbors and in a well planned variety.

Sachet perfumes and the aroma from sweet scented roots and woods are more cleanly and refreshing than prepared essences. A box of cedar or sandalwood gives a delicate fragrance to furs and woens unrivaled. Lavender is faintly balsamic as well as a rich perfume. It may be placed among house linen and clothing in profusion without giving a sensation of satiety. Orris root is another of the welcome odors, never cloying. The ideal to be aimed at is of the daintiest, not the simulation of a walking flask of perfume.—New York Globe.

KITCHEN DON'TS.

Don't use knives for scraping the table and pots.

Don't crumple up your dish towels. Rinse and hang them in the sun.

Don't black a stove while it is hot. It takes more blacking and less polish.

Don't put damp towels and napkins in the hamper. Dry them first or they will mildew.

Don't put tin pans on the stove to dry. They become heated, the solder loosens and they soon leak.

Don't put a greasy spoon on the table. It leaves a stain which requires time to erase. Put it in a saucer.

Don't pour boiling water over china packed in a pan. It will crack by the sudden contraction and expansion.

Don't clutter up the kitchen when getting a meal, because it will take hours to clean up after the meal is over.

Don't pour boiling water and soap on grease spots. Moisten the spots first with a cold saturated solution of soda, then scrub them with the grain of the wood, using cold soapsuds.—Exchange.

Eggs In Bed Gowns.

For eggs in bed gowns select about one half dozen sound potatoes as near of a size as possible, wash them thoroughly, peel them carefully and put them in the oven to bake. When quite done and nicely browned take them out, cut a small bit off the top, scoop enough of the potato out so that you can pour a raw egg into each without breaking the yolk and season with salt, cayenne and paprika to taste; then put them in the oven again, and when the eggs are set dust them over with fine breadcrumbs, add a small piece of butter and serve on a hot plate at once, garnished with parsley or water cress.—Vogue.

The Kitchen Mirror.

A good sized, clear glassed mirror in the kitchen is a great comfort to the woman who has to answer the front door from that room and is conducive to neatness, cheerfulness and good health, for what woman ever looked at herself scowling? A necessity in the kitchen is a reliable clock.

WALKING GOWNS.

Natty Specimens of the Tailor's Art, Including a Taking Norfolk Suit.

Tailor modes, ever a useful standby, promise to be in more favor than for some time past—that is, modes such as those sketched, which are unmistakably of the tailor's handiwork. One of these is a fawn flecked brown tweed on which velvet points give a smart, decisive touch to the collar, while four pockets satisfy the admirers of these useful appendages.

TAILOR MADE GOWNS

The tale of the Norfolk is told in a variety of charming ways, as witness the second costume pictured. This is a fox brown tweed streaked with green, the seams neatly lapped, but the skirt unlined for the sake of lightness.

Large shepherd plaids are employed with desirable effect for Chesterfield coats and short gored skirts. Some of the plaids have a line of color introduced, one especially nice one having a soft suggestion of a green square check overlaying the black and white Irish frieze and tweeds are included in this range of fabrics.

THE SHOE QUESTION

NO ONE WANTS TO THROW AWAY MONEY ON SHOES, EVEN IF IT IS ONLY 50c. OR $1.

You can waste money on shoes as quickly as on anything—perhaps quicker—for what looks like leather is often a "horse of another color."

Apart from wasting money: Are you tired?—Look to your shoes. Have you a cold?—Look to your shoes. Are you a little less well dressed than a person of your means should be?—Look to your shoes.

This store buys liberally and has such an intimate knowledge of what every manufacturer in the United States can do and is doing in the way of making Footwear that we always have the best, at the lowest price, consistent with the quality.

BUT, (WITH A CAPITAL B) THE BED-ROCK FOUNDATION ON WHICH OUR BUSINESS IS BUILT IS QUALITY.

Now comes the season of the year when every Man, Woman and Child should have a good Water-proof Shoe. We have them as nearly so as they can be made. Wet, sloppy weather will be with us right along now for months to come.

ITS ONLY YOUR DUTY

as well as good judgment to provide every member of your family with a pair of our Water proof Shoes.

Our School Shoes are excellent. LET 'EM KICK. School children always do more or less kicking—principally more. We sell no trash—it's the best or none here. We know we can save parents money on Boys' and Girls' School Shoes. Make this your shoe store. You can't do better Don't think you can do as well.
