Henry Keller, son of Harry Keller, Esq., of Linn street, is threatened with pneumonia.

Wm. Furey and family, of Pittsburg, were visitors at the home of Morris Furey over New Year.

Miss Mame Charles, of Pittsburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sturge Charles, of East Logan street.

Miss Grace Witmer returned on Friday to Williamsport, where she will resume her studies at the Commercial College.

Miss Edna Keller, of Pleasant Gap, was the fortunate young lady who won the silver tea set chanced off by J. D. Sourbeck.

Howe's Moving Pictures drew a good crowd to the opera house on Thursday evening. The pictures, as usual, were fine.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Garman returned last Thursday morning from Columbia, South Carolina, where they spent several weeks.

Hon. John Noll left for Altoona Friday afternoon where he remained until Monday, then he will go to Harrisburg to attend to state affairs in an official capacity.

George Love, of Bush Addition, whose home had been quarantined with smallpox, is around again, the house was fumigated and the quarantine was taken down.

Edward McGarvey left last week for Youngstown, Ohio, where he is employed. His brother, Paul, accompanied him as far as Pittsburg, where he has accepted a position.

Ex-treasurer J. J. Gramley, of Madisonburg, on Saturday returned from a four week's visit to Illinois, whither he had gone in the interest of the affairs of a deceased daughter.

Rev. James A. Shook preached in the Evangelical church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. Cox, who went to Lewistown to attend the dedication of a church at that place.

Miss Ione Donachy has returned home from a visit to friends in Paulsboro, New Jersey. While there she was entertained at the home of Doctor and Mrs. Robert H. Reeves.

Some twenty Bellefonte ladies spent Wednesday of last week with Mrs. Frank McFarlane at her home near Boalsburg. The weather has not been quite right for sleighing parties this season.

Mrs. Mary Butz of North Allegheny street, one day last week had a serious fall indoors, which resulted in a dislocated shoulder, and kept her housed up, but is now about recovered.

The annual mid-winter dance was held at the Brockerhoff House on Friday evening, music being furnished by the Greensburg, Pa., orchestra. The attendance from out of town was large.

Charles Noll and wife, of Clearfield, after spending Xmas with the Hon. John Noll and family have gone home. While here Mr. Noll solicited a large number of new phones for the United system.

Van Jodon who has been teaching school at Valentines Forge, resigned to accept a position as clerk for Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. Miss Lillian Reareck has taken the school and will finish the term.

Schadd Bros. are preparing to move their plumbing establishment into the vacant room of the Pruner building. Miss Ione Donachy will open a millinery store in the rooms formerly occupied by the Schadd's.

On Tuesday night of last week one of the first sleighing parties of the season, was given by a crowd of Bellefonte young people. They were at the home of Miss Sue Bailey, State College, where they were royally entertained.

Barber R. A. Beck scored a point on Tuesday morning by making the first deposit when the new Bellefonte Trust Company opened its doors for business. Justice Keichline was at the front door promptly at 9 a. m. hoping to make that point, but Mr. Beck was too foxy and slipped in the back way and beat him to the window. The fellow who beats Beck must get up early in the morning and keep his eye on the indicator.

Wednesday evening, of last week, Prothonotary M. I. Gardner gave the Court House contingent and numerous members of the legal fraternity a severe jolt in the shape of a banquet at Ceader's restaurant, to celebrate the completion of his six years' term in the Court House. Hon. John G. Love presided at the banquet board and directed the festivities and none enjoyed it more than our friend Gardner, and especially when the toasts were passed around, as many nice things were said about him.

A Happy and prosperous New Year to all.

Good attraction at the opera house tomorrow evening.

Miss Betty Heinle spent several days of the past week visiting friends at Houtdale.

Communion in the Lutheran church of this place, next Sabbath 8, at the morning and evening service.

"Moonshiner's Daughter" will be at the opera house on next Tuesday evening. It is considered a fine attraction.

Hon. J. Will Kepler, of Pine Grove Mills, was a visitor in town during the holidays and we found him in good cheer.

Miss Jessie Palmer, of Lewisburg, who has been visiting Mrs. Wagner Geiss, for the past week, departed Saturday for her home.

Miss Hattie Wilson, one of Bellefonte's charming young ladies spent the Holiday's with friends at Tyrone, and she reports a swell time.

The Howard Hustler comes to us in an improved form. If rumors are half correct Editor "Fritz" is prospering abundantly, all of which he deserves.

The Bellefonte Union Cemetery Association has added more land to their plot by purchasing a strip of ground adjoining on the east from the Hale estate.

Mrs. Rose Allen, of Bush Addition, was taken Tuesday of last week to a home for the insane. She was in charge of her brother, Albert Lucas, of Brad-dock.

Paul Sheffer, the grocer, this year presented to each of his customers two beautiful gold fish in a glass jar as a Christmas present and they were highly appreciated.

Ex-sheriff Cronister, of Phillipsburg, was in town on Monday and attended the ceremony of installing the newly-elected officials at the court house, on Monday morning.

Among our New Year greetings none came with more cordiality and good cheer than from our friend R. C. Crittenden, which was accompanied by scriptural injunction.

Miss Blanche Shaughnessy left last week for Youngstown, Ohio, where she will visit at the home of Miss Daisy Sybirt and also spend a few days with her brother, Frank Shaughnessy, in Pittsburg.

The Yeager Swing Co. begin this week putting together some 5000 swings so that they will be in shape for the spring and summer trade. They intend to rush business on an extensive scale this coming year.

C. D. Young won the Daily News contest for the trip to Washington, D. C., receiving in all 50,668 votes. The next highest was M. B. Runkle with 43,654. This entitles Mr. Young to a trip to Washington, D. C., with all expenses paid.

The Direct Supply Company on High street sold out the balance of their stock, and will vacate the building as Mr. Yeager expects to devote his attention entirely to the swing business. We understand that Frank Deitrich has rented the room and will open a wall paper store at once.

Our nearby burgess, W. Harrison Walker, has his new law office refurnished in a tasty manner. New lineoleums and fine rugs on the floors, new desks, fresh paint and new paper, and chandeliers greet you. He is now ready for business and seems to be getting his share of it. The police will have their headquarters at the same place.

The Centre County Association of Philadelphia will meet on or about the 9th of Jan. 1905, and give a banquet, vaudeville and dance in Morebace's Hall, 13th street & Girard avenue. This Association is quite active and it is surprising to know how many native Centre countians are located in the village of Brotherly Love.

"The Moonshiner's Daughters" now in its third successful season will appear at the opera house on Tuesday, Jan. 10th, and it comes to us with the endorsements of such papers as the New York Sun, Telegraph and the Chicago papers, etc., etc. A realistic scene depicting life in the Mountains of Kentucky is said to be a dramatic offering creating more than usual interest.

Monday afternoon 24th Samuel T. Brooks was down at the depot waiting on a train and where his horses became frightened and started at a furious gate up High street. When near the residence of Emil Joseph they colided with a buggy belonging to L. T. Munson and driven by young Thomas Shaughnessy who was thrown out and a deep gash cut in his head. Mr. Brooks' sleigh was completely demolished.

On the first of January Senator Heinle moved his law office from the second floor of Crider's Exchange, across the street with J. A. B. Miller, Esq., in the rooms formerly occupied by Wilbur F. Reeder. Mr. Heinle intends to give his entire attention to the legal profession and is better equipped than ever to wait upon his numerous friends and clients. Mr. Miller and Senator Heinle have not formed a partnership, only occupy the same offices.

Four inches was Tuesday's crop of snow. Sleighting fair.

At the annual meeting of the Patron's Insurance Company at this place on Tuesday, all the old officers were re-elected.

Miss Daisy Holloway, of Pittsburg, and Paul Holloway, of Altoona, spent Christmas season with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Holloway.

The jury commissioners completed the work of filling the jury wheel for the coming year, and over five hundred new names were placed in the wheel.

Wm. Wolf sold his property on east High street to Daniel Markle a farmer near State College. Mr. Markle will move to Bellefonte in the spring and it is the intention of Mr. Wolf to locate in some other town.

Samuel Gordon, of Pleasant View, carpenter for the American Lime & Stone Company, had four fingers on his left hand smashed one day last week erecting a pulley. The chain broke and the pulley fell on his hand with the above result.

Snow on Saturday night, 24th, to all day Sunday, Christmas, made a depth of the "beautiful" of seven inches. This was welcomed by all sections where a scarcity of water prevailed, melted snow being a convenient substitute for domestic use in emergency cases.

Patrick Diskin, a former student at the Bellefonte Academy and the Bellefonte High school, was ordained as a priest of the Catholic church Tuesday, December 20th, and on Christmas morning celebrated his first mass in the Catholic church in his home town of Scottdale.

This last Christmas, for a week before it set in, there seemed to be a brisk trade for our merchants by persons shopping for Christmas goods, for gifts we suppose. The stores were also better prepared for a rush trade than usual and were well supplied with holiday goods.

Engineer William Daley, who lost both legs in a railroad accident about a month ago at the the Nittany Furnace was made happy on Christmas day by a present of $26.25 which was raised by subscription by the friends. It was due to the thoughtfulness of John Trafford and Amos Mullen.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bradley had a family reunion at their home. Those to spend Christmas were Mr. and Mrs. George P. Bible and three daughters and John Bradley, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Joseph Riley and Robert Bradley, of Bradford; Benjamin Bradley, Jr., and wife, of Oak Grove.

Hugh B. Fiedler, the youthful publisher of "The Star" of Williamsport, presented his publication to its readers Christmas week in magazine form greatly enlarged. Mr. Fiedler is a Bellefonte boy and has the mettle which makes things go. May the new venture of the Star Magazine receive such consideration as to have it become permanent.

Commissioner P. H. Meyer purchased the David Keller farm, near Linden Hall, from the executor E. K. Keller for the sum of $4,000 dollars. The farm contains one hundred acres. Some of the bad boys about the court house mailed a bogus letter offering Mr. Meyer $500 for his bargain. He promptly replied that $700 would be necessary. Never was the Prof. in a happier frame of mind; there was music in his soul and good cheer until the letter came back. It dawned on him that he was the victim of a practical joke. Since then Mr. Meyer has offered a suitable reward for the man who imposed upon him. This is one of the penalties of holding office.

The following are some of those who spent the holidays with friends in Bellefonte: Miss Elizabeth Blanchard, Bryn Mawr college; Guy Harris, with Westinghouse Company, Pittsburg; John Van Pelt, Spangler, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Derstine, Altoona; Ross Bryan, Altoona; Gilbert Beaver and family, from New York City; John S. Furst and family, Curwensville; Wm. Vantries, Trenton, N. J.; Ollie Campbell, Clearfield; Miss Helen Ceader, student at Notre Dame, Baltimore, Md.; James Taylor, cadet from West Point; Wm. Davidson, Curwensville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dorworth, Philadelphia; Ambrose Sherry, student at Latrobe, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hughes, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hughes, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. John Pearl, Denora, Pa.; Edward Fleming, of Altoona; Robert Genzle and family, Thomas Fleming, Edward Love, Henry Cunningham, Beaver Falls; Sam Hart, Harrisburg; Amos Cole, Lewistown; Miss Kate Lutz, Miss Clara Anderson, Huntingdon; Roger T. Bayard, Ashtola, Pa.; George D. Bayard, Clearfield; Chas. Lokenback, Phillipsburg; James G. Parsons, Philadelphia; Lester McClellan, Altoona; Miss Jessie Eiters, State College; Miss Elsie Rankin, Lewisburg; Miss Nettie Cook, State College; Guy McEntire, Pittsburg; Mrs. C. U. Hoffer and children, Phillipsburg; George Runkle, on schoolship "Sarotaga"; Charles Tripple, Philadelphia; Mrs. H. M. Gearhart, Bellwood; Thomas J. Sexton, Esq., Ridgway; Chas. Noll and family, of Clearfield; Mr. and Carl Lilledale, Altoona; Miss Carrie Bayard, Juniorsville; Gilbert Wood, student Un. of Pa.; Coburn Rogers, senior in U. of Pa.; Chas. Newcomer, York, Pa.; Harris Sourbeck, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bellringer, New York City.

The property of James Keith, a short distance beyond Chester Hill, beyond Phillipsburg, was destroyed by fire on Saturday night last, together with most of the contents, with little insurance.

GATHERED OVER THE COUNTY.

Mrs. Geo. Baldwin, of Chicago, is east on an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Neidigh, at State College.

On Sunday morning Capt. Quigley, of Blanchard, had two ribs broken in a runaway. Mrs. Quigley and daughter were not injured.

Roland C. Leathers, of Mt. Eagle, who has been suffering with bladder trouble, was taken to a Philadelphia hospital last week for treatment.

W. R. Williams, of Phillipsburg, was one of the fortunate prize winners in the Philadelphia Inquirer "election guess" contest. His prize consisted of $50.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramsey, of Pleasant Gap, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary R., to Harry Ishler, of near Rock-wood, on Thursday, January 12, at 12 o'clock.

Landlord T. F. Street announces that he will not be an applicant for license this year, from Phillipsburg, and his hotel will be known as the New Colonial Temperance House. Strictly up-to-date, steam heat, hot and cold water, good table and home like.

The borough of State College was recently surveyed by the County Surveyor and its boundaries were fixed by the erection of twelve stone markers distributed at the most important points. The borough had been surveyed years ago, but the survey had been lost.

Charles A. Dougherty, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Williams Dougherty, of Centre Furnace, was run over by an automobile on 20th. Just as John Porter Lyon was passing through the toll-gate at the Furnace, little Charles Dougherty came sliding down the hill by his father's home. Mr. Lyon, seeing him, turned the machine rapidly to avoid an accident, but a rear wheel passed over the boy's arm, breaking it. The machine, in turning, ran into a telegraph pole with such force as to break it off.

RECENT DEATHS.

REBECCA DAVIDSON—daughter of James Davidson, died at her parents' home at Wingate, Thursday 22nd, of rheumatism. She was aged 4 years and 6 months. Interment was made in the cemetery at Unionville.

JONAS EDGAR MARTZ—died at his home in Altoona, Monday 26th. Deceased was born in Tusseyville, Centre county, and was a track foreman at the freight shop. He is survived by his parents, J. C. and Catharine Martz, one daughter, Edna, three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Smith, of Huntingdon, and Sara and Annie, at home, and by three brothers, William, of Tusseyville, and S. C. and Dillman, of Altoona. Interment at Altoona.

DONALD HAUS—the body of Donald Haus was found in Maurice River, New Jersey, last week, and was identified by his brother Ralph, of Philadelphia. How he came to his death no one knows, and there were no marks on his body. The body was sent to Millburg for interment. The young man was well known here, being a nephew of R. G. Spigel-meyer and spent a year at his home. His mother died here several years ago.

MRS. GEORGE GINGERICH—the community of Farmers Mills and vicinity were shocked by the sudden death of Mrs. George Gingerich, at her home about a mile west of the above named place, on Wednesday evening of last week. She was an estimable woman and leaves a husband and several daughters to mourn her loss. The deceased was a sister of Jacob Shearer, of Potter township, and has other relatives in various parts of the county. Her age was about 50 years.

NANCY J. LUCAS—departed this life Dec. 17, 1904, at her home near Run-ville, aged 60 years, 6 months and 24 days. Her maiden name was Nancy J. Walker, and was married to Wm. B. Lucas eighteen years this Christmas. She leaves to mourn her loss five sisters and five brothers: Mrs. Isaac Shires, of Clearfield county; Mrs. Geo. Rider, of Blairsville, Pa.; Mrs. Albert Gill, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Wm. Hampton, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Sabar Ramsey, of Blair county; Wm. C. Walker, of Bellefonte; Hiram Walker, of Juniata; Jacob Walker, Centre Hall; Andrew Walker, of Yarnell, and David Walker, of Cove Forge.

MILTON NYMAN SR.—died at his only surviving brother's residence, William Nyman, near the Fairview Christian Union church, in Boggs Twp., Dec. 27, A. D. 1904; aged 65 years and 4 days. On August 1st A. D. 1861 he enlisted in Company F, of the First Penna Cavalry with which he served till March 12th, 1863, when he was discharged on surgeon's certificate of disability, he however afterward re-enlisted in the 200th Penna. Infantry, Co. F, on Aug. 21, 1864, in which he served until Aug. 3rd 1865, when he was discharged by reason of a gunshot wound. His remains were buried in Messiah's cemetery on the 10th of Dec. 1904; Rev. J. Zeigler officiating. He was never married.

Several communications arrived too late this week for this issue.

AT BORO COUNCIL.

Monday evening's session of council included some important business. J. C. Meyer appeared in behalf of a corporation composed of local capitalists and business men of Bellefonte and State College, who contemplate the construction of a trolley line from Milesburg, through Bellefonte, out the pike to Pleasant Gap and then to Lemont and to terminate at State College. Mr. Meyer asked council to grant a franchise through our boro and presented an ordinance for that purpose. Messrs. Kirk, Derstine and Keller were appointed a committee to confer with the boro solicitor upon the subject.

A new contract with Col. Reynolds for the pumping station at the mill was submitted, in which the rental was fixed at $12,000 per annum, instead of $15,000 in the first. It was approved, with Kirk and Keichline voting against it.

The large cess pool on east Howard street for draining surface water was ordered repaired.

Bills to the amount of $623.32 were approved.

OVERSEER OF THE POOR.

We are authorized to announce the following gentlemen as candidates for the democratic nomination for Overseer of the Poor, in Bellefonte boro: THADDEUS HAMILTON, North Ward. DANIEL W. EBERHART, South Ward.

HAS NO SUBSTITUTE
Damaged by Water.
On Tuesday morning when Katz & Co. opened their store water in large quantities was coming in through the ceiling, deluging parts of the stock and damaging the same. It was discovered to be coming from a defective water spout located between the buildings. All the goods on the counters in the centre aisle of the store were water soaked. A large quantity of this stock will have to be sold at a reduction and in their advertisement this week they announce an important sale, where some rare bargains will be offered.
