

Bellefonte and Vicinity

The Local Happenings in Short Paragraphs

-A. J. Tate, of State College, was a business caller at this office. -Mrs. James Lane, of Philadelphia, is visiting friends in Bellefonte. -H. E. Duck, one of Millheim's well-known citizens, favored our sanctum with a call. -Mrs. A. V. Smith, of near Howard, spent Sunday at her Bellefonte home, on Thomas street. -R. S. Haugh and John Haugh, of Madisonburg, gave us a call and report sleighing good. -S. S. Rees and his bride, of West Virginia, are visiting Mrs. Patsy Stewart, of West Linn street. -Ellis Shaffer, employed in the paper mills at Lock Haven, spent Sunday with his parents at this place. -J. D. DeHaas, proprietor of the Syracuse House, of Howard, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday. -Several coasting accidents have been reported the past week in town. That is no reason why the sport should be prohibited. -From all parts of the county we have word that sleighing is good. There have been no snow drifts thus far this winter. -Samuel Hazel resigned his position with the Huntingdon Era-Journal and is back again in the Watchman office as foreman. -Sheriff Taylor has thirteen regular boarders on his register. That is rather an unlucky number. He can't well fire any, or drum up more business. -Landlord Daggett has just recovered from a six weeks' spell of sickness that confined him to his room. He is recuperating nicely, only is a little reduced in weight. -J. C. Harper, the insurance man, was confined to his home the past week with a bad attack of eczema—but then he is as patient as Job and docile as a lamb amid his afflictions. -Ex-register John A. Rupp, of Harris twp., was in town on business, and is looking the best of health. He will have sale of his farm outfit this spring and then will move to Boalsburg. -A mission by the Paulist Fathers will open in St. John's Catholic church Sunday, February 19th, and continue two weeks. First week is for Catholics and the second week non-Catholics. -Miss Mary Hazle, who fell and broke her arm several weeks ago, at this place, was able to return to her home on Tuesday at Madisonburg. Her brother, J. B. Hazle, came up to accompany her home. -Rev. J. A. Wood, Jr., opened his revival services at the Methodist church last Sunday evening and will continue the same every evening during the week excepting Saturday evening in the lecture room. -Monday evening a colored boy named Walter Gross was struck by a cutter loaded with coasters in front of Krumrine's drug store and rendered unconscious. Gross was sliding at the time the cutter struck him. He was only badly bruised. -The roof over the new Y. M. C. A. gymnasium is on and the windows have been put in place, which encloses the edifice so that inside work can be carried right along towards completion. Mr. Gault, the contractor, is doing his best to finish up his job. -Shively's milk wagon was badly wrecked on Monday. The horse took fright on Water street and started on a run. The vehicle struck the telephone pole at Potter & Hoy hardware. The driver was not injured; of course a lot of good milk was spilt. -Andrew Carnegie has given $1,000 for the completion of the Hugh McAllister Beaver Memorial Gymnasium now being erected with the Young Men's Christian Association at this place. Mr. Carnegie was personally acquainted with the late Hugh Beaver. -Jesse Cox, in the McClain block, is installing an acetylene gas plant in the building back of his store and by this means will light the pool room and restaurant. Mr. Cox purchased the plant from Frank Clemons. Several other parties in town are preparing to install the same light. -A new Oliver typewriter was installed this week in the law office of D. F. Fortney and is one of the best machines on the market. Paul Fortney has taken the agency for this machine and will be glad to show it to anyone interested. This machine is visible, all the writing being always in full view. -Saturday morning when Ralph Spigelmeier opened up his China store he found everything all O. K. until he stepped into the adjoining wareroom. Here the bottom had fallen out of the concern. There was a circular opening, about ten feet in diameter, floor had sunk about eight feet and was partly filled with goods. Whether there was an old well or sink there is not known, probably a cavein. Had the bottom fallen during the day when the clerks were in there, it might have proven fatal. From what we could observe the main store and the proprietor are absolutely on a good foundation, with plenty of sand in stock.

-Aaron Hall, of Waddle, gave our sanctum a call. -Ward Fleming returned to Haverford college, Tuesday. -Miss Rose Fauble returned to Dickinson College on Tuesday. -Harris Sourbeck left Tuesday for New York where he goes to school. -John Munson left Tuesday for New Haven, where he is a senior in Yale University. -Two pleasant young ladies, Miss Sarah Hafly and Miss Bessie Beezer, favored the Democrat with a call. -The Bellefonte Academy opened on Monday, January 9th, for the winter term; the attendance was larger than during the fall term. -Miss Julia Bidwell returned Tuesday from Pittsburg, where she has been for the last two years. Her health has not been good of late and she came home to recuperate. -The Bellefonte doctors have decided to use only the one telephone system and the United secured the preference. Two phones are an unnecessary expense, but competition keeps down rates and insures better service. -An interesting art exhibition for the benefit of the Episcopal Sunday school building and loan fund will be held at the Garman residence, corner of Spring and High streets, Thursday evening, Jan. 12th. Admission 10 cents. -All persons who paid any money on subscription during last month, December, will find the same credited by a change of the date on their label, this issue. Subscriptions received during January will be corrected first issue in February. -"Way Down East" was an exceptionally fine attraction at the opera house on Friday evening, and was liberally patronized despite the unfavorable weather. Four sled loads of students from State College helped to swell the crowd and enliven the attendance. -We arise to say, for the forty-eleventh time, when writing to have the address of your post office changed to a new one, always give the name of the office to which the Democrat was sent as well as the one to which it is to be changed. The most of those ordering a change of address bear this in mind, but the few who do not put us to great inconvenience to find who they are, and where they were. -A revised set of rules pertaining to the acceptance of law students for their examination and final admission to the bar, has been established in our courts. One new rule provides for the making of the Board of Examiners a Board of Censors as well whose duty it shall be to inquire into and keep constant tab on the conduct of every member of the bar. Now ain't that funny—the idea of a lawyer getting bad. -Miss Daisy Keichline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Keichline, of this place, left last Thursday morning for Cairo, Egypt, where she will join her brother, Dr. John Keichline, who besides practicing medicine is doing missionary work there. She sailed from Boston on Saturday. As she is a graduate of the Battle Creek, Mich., training school for nurses, she will be of great service to her brother in his work. -Great difficulty is experienced at the iron furnaces in unloading lake ore from the cars. When it is shipped there is much moisture in it and this cold weather it freezes in a solid block clinging to the sides and bottom of the cars. Pick and shovel are of little service, and dynamite must be used entirely, which very frequently shatters the cars and causes more damage than the ore is worth. Owing to their frozen ore there are a great many cars lying on the sidings filled with ore that can not be unloaded, and that means additional charges for holding these cars. -June 15th and 16th are the selected days for celebrating the Bellefonte Academy Centennial. Friday evening a session of the centennial committee was held in Judge Beaver's office and the following sub-committees were appointed: Speakers—Gen. Beaver; Program—Judge Ellis L. Orvis; Finance—Col. W. Fred Reynolds; Decorations and Music—H. C. Quigley; Invitations—James R. Hughes; Memorial Record of Centennial Proceedings—J. Thomas Mitchell, Esq.; Assembly—Edward L. Hoy; Athletics—Wilson Gephart. These chairmen will select the members of their respective committees at an early date. -Saturday evening there was some great coasting on Allegheny street, the best known here in many years. Rain had fallen on the snow and then froze giving it a solid bed and glassy surface. The coasters would start on Reservoir hill with about a dozen on a sled. They would shoot across Bishop street like a rocket, up by the Brockerhoff House, across the diamond and on out Allegheny street as far as the Hastings residence, about a half mile run. Some sleds at the diamond turned down High street and never stopped until they reached the station. It afforded great amusement and gave the old timers an opportunity to tell whoppers that when they were boys their sleds were bigger, larger, run further than any of the present time.

-County auditor Musser, of Gregg, gave us a call. -Our physicians are doing a land office business on vaccine points alone. -Howard Homan, of Altoona, called in while on a trip to visit friends in this county. -Mrs. T. M. Cronover, of Moshannon, was a pleasant visitor in the Democrat sanctum. -Clem. Dale, Esq., spent several days of this week in Philipsburg attending to legal business. -Dr. H. C. Holloway left today for Gettysburg to attend the funeral of Dr. E. J. Wolfe, of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary. -Last week this paper said Isaac Dawson had been appointed a tipstaff by Judge Orvis. William Dawson is the one to receive the position. -A. A. Dale, Esq., who was badly jolted last week by a fall, is able to be about, though a little sore. He is still doing business at the old stand. -Game of basket ball in the armory on Saturday evening between the Williamsport High school and the Bellefonte Academy. Admission 25 cents. -108 valuable books, worth over $150, will be given to Centre county school teachers free by The Centre Democrat. Read all about it on page 8 of this issue. -Geo. B. Haines and J. R. Brungart, of Rebersburg, insurance directors, were callers in the Democrat sanctum, and report fair sleighing through Brushvalley. -The Ithaca Conservatory of Music Concert Company will appear in the Lutheran church, on Monday evening, January 30th. They give a delightful musical entertainment. -Wm. Pealer, the retired merchant, of Spring Mills, was in town on Monday and gave us a clever jolt on bookkeeping. We were not at all sorry for his short call—it was profitable. -Auction sale, Saturday, January 14, at the City Restaurant, in the McClure building on Bishop street, the following articles: Tables, chairs, dockash range, refrigerator, dishes etc. -Montgomery & Co. are having a new steel ceiling put in their store this week, and for that reason have been torn up and confused. When completed it will be a great improvement. -D. F. Luse, of the Centre Hall Manufacturing comp. favored our sanctum with a call. Also J. G. Goheen, of Ferguson, both gentlemen attending the annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company on Monday. -Dorsey Hunter had a bit of excitement at the Index store Tuesday evening. There was a decided odor of burning wood and smoke in his room. Every section of the store was examined and the building closely watched but nothing developed. The cause of it is still unknown. -The next entertainment at Petrikin Hall, will be the Chicago Lady Entertainers on Friday evening, January 27th, consisting of readings, solo, duets, trios, quartets. This is part of the Star Course which thus far has proven so successful this season. The chart will be found at Sheffer's grocery store. -Merchant J. H. Rishel, of Farmers Mills, was in town on Monday, looking hale and hearty, the picture of good health. Last spring he was brought to the Bellefonte hospital in a critical condition from stomach ailment. An unusual operation was performed by Dr. Carl Vischer, the noted Philadelphia surgeon, who cut an opening in the stomach and made a new course for the alimentary canal from that organ. Mr. Rishel passed through a critical period until the healing process permitted the taking of food. The operation was an unusual one, and his recovery is remarkable. -At a joint meet of a committee from each fire company, Harry B. Kerns was elected Chief Fire Marshall; John McCusley, 1st assistant; Geo. Hart 2nd assistant. Chief Marshall Kerns appointed the following fire patrol: Harry Gerberich, Frank S. Williams, Henry C. Quigley, Hard P. Harris, John H. Anderson, Jacob H. Gross, Thomas H. Howley, A. G. Archey. It is the duty of the patrol to keep the people from coming too close to a fire and to look after property and see that nothing is stolen or carried away. These officers were sworn in this week by Burgess W. Harrison Walker. -Entombed in Old Well 17 Hours; Lives. A dispatch from Sayre, Bradford county, says: John Bogart, an aged man, was covered by a cave-in of earth to the depth of eighteen feet while he was at work in an old well, and for seventeen hours he was entombed before the excavation necessary to his rescue could be made. Bogart used the pipe of the pump in inhaling air while imprisoned. The rescuing party knew the man was alive, for by listening at the pipe they could hear his breathing. When he got above ground he swore in seven strange languages. -Pomona Grange. Centre County Pomona Grange will hold its first quarterly meeting in hall of Progress Grange, at Centre Hall, on Friday, Jan. 27. Three sessions, 10 a. m., 1 p. m., and 7 p. m. Afternoon session will be devoted to the instruction of degree work, from first to fifth inclusive. All officers of subordinate granges are expected to be present at this meeting. Evening session will be devoted to discussion, recitations, etc. D. M. CAMPBELL, Sec'y.

GATHERED OVER THE COUNTY. The Grange insurance company, at its annual meeting last week, announced its affairs in prosperous condition. Centre county will be entitled to four delegates in the next Democratic state convention. Last year they had but two. Ralph Recht, son of John W. Recht, of Philipsburg, enlisted in the regular army on Saturday, and proceeded to Columbus barracks, Ohio, Sunday evening. A man who will leave his horse stand out without a blanket this kind of weather, should be hitched to the same post and made stand there as long as the horse. The Central Railroad company propose to erect a new station at Mackeyville. The building is designed to contain a waiting room and also a freight room. The ice crop at Hecla Park is being harvested. About one hundred car loads will be shipped from that point. It is about 15 inches in thickness and of a superior quality. Monday and Tuesday, January 30th and 31st a farmers institute will be held at Hublersburg, Pa., under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture. The program will be published later. Eby & Zimmerman, the lumbermen, recently bought of John Stoner, of Millheim, thirty acres of timberland situated in Poe valley. J. C. Auman, of Wolfs Store, has a mill on the tract and will do the sawing. The remains of Mamie Swanger, who died in West Virginia several months ago, were taken to Millheim Wednesday and interred in the Union cemetery at that place. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Swanger. Two weddings took place at Rebersburg in the persons of Wesley Saavey and Anna Yerick, on Sunday evening, both of Woodward; and Lee Weber and Nora Bressler, both of Rebersburg, by Owen L. Buck, pastor. S. Elmer Ishler has leased one of the farms belonging to Theodore D. Boal, located near Oak Hall, and now tenanted by John Kline. Mr. Ishler at present lives on the Sankey farm, near Potters Mills, which farm will again be conducted by Marcellus Sankey. O. H. Bathgate, of Lemont, a graduate in Electrical Engineering, class of 1904, State College, has accepted a position in the testing department of the Bullock Electric Mfg. Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio. He left for his new position on Jan. 10. The election wager between J. O. McCormick, of Spring Mills, and Samuel M. Ulrich, of Penn Hall, on the late judgeship contest in Centre county, was paid by Mr. Ulrich, the loser, with an elaborate supper at the Spring Mills hotel, Tuesday of last week. John I. Lauth, son of the late Bernard Lauth, of Howard, after spending eight years at Guadalajara, Mexico, has returned to his native home and is now one of the promoters of the Howard brick plant. While in the South he had charge of a large iron plant which was quite a success. The real estate of the late Mrs. Rebecca Musser of Millheim was offered for sale by the executor Friday, December 23. The bid on the dwelling house and store room was $1,525, and on the "Muser House" $1,100. Neither property was sold and the sale was postponed indefinitely. We do not hear of a single Musical Convention, once so common in this county, for over thirty years—not one on tap thus far this winter. "Music hath its charms" and should not be stricken off of the winter bill of fare for the lovers of pleasure. These conventions gave the fellow and his best girl a gay time, with board and lodging thrown in with the "do, ra, me, fa, so's." In thirty years we had some three hundred of these conventions in this county, and now not even a "syren song!" Won't lovers rebel against this direful neglect? Miriam sang, Jenny Lind sang, Patti sang and the Hutchinson family sang. Ole Bull fiddled, and other notables kept the air vocal with sweet song, and now we will have to depend upon the robin and the bluebird and the gold finch, with the night owl to put in his bass hoot. Dr. Geo. G. Groff, officer of the State Board of Health, paid a visit to Milesburg and Roland last Saturday, to inspect the smallpox conditions in those places. Upon his return he reported two cases at Milesburg and eight at Roland. At the latter place eleven houses are quarantined as they were in danger of contracting the disease from mingling with persons who were afflicted with this ailment. All cases are of a mild type and no serious results are apprehended; the local board of health has enforced rigid rules for handling all the cases. Nearly everybody in that community has been vaccinated, and no passenger trains stop at the station. Dr. Groff insisted that there is no "anomalous" smallpox about these cases and everybody should use every possible precaution to prevent its spread. No man is a fool who realizes his own folly. People who are stuck up seldom stick up for each other. A good many chronic invalids are suffering from enlargement of the imagination.

Martin, Aug. 29, 1904; land in Marion Twp. $200. A GOOD IDEA. An effort is being made by friends of the Bellefonte Academy to raise an amount of money that will enable the improvement committee to so improve the grounds in the front and rear, that they will correspond with the beauty of the new building that now stands out so imposingly on Academy hill. The walks must be changed, the front campus graded properly and the rear campus terraced and sodded and a suitable stone wall built at its base. Flower beds then could be made that would give a beautiful, attractive and pleasing effect; and the whole campus improvement would provide the inspiring environment that the new Academy needs and deserves for the Centennial Celebration in June. Now, why should not only the students, patrons and friends of the Academy join heartily in such an enterprise, but every public spirited citizen as well? The following are arguments which should appeal to all: The centennial life of educational usefulness of the Academy which boasts of hundreds of successful men and women in every walk of life, who laid the foundations of their success in this worthy institution. Its influence for culture and refinement which has ever prevailed in the community. Its industrial character, for it has not only saved many men in this vicinity the expense entailed by placing children in good boarding preparatory schools away from home, but it has brought money in to this town year after year through the boarders who have sought and obtained an education in our Academy. This money has been spent here and there is scarcely a business house in the town and very few professional men who have not reaped a financial benefit through the expenditure of this money. The more attractive we make the Academy as to buildings and grounds, the more students will be secured to spend their money here. Now, the imposing building which has been built up since the fire has risen like a sphinx from the ashes without a cent of contribution from the public. And no one will be asked to contribute for the erection of the building but surely every body will be glad to reward the faithfulness of the old Academy, and she is about to celebrate her 100th anniversary, by contributing their little offering of good will in order to provide a fund for the development of the grounds into a condition of which no one need be ashamed, all may be proud. I ask you for your heartiest cooperation in this matter, believing that we shall find ourselves amply repaid for the interest we may manifest. My heart is in this work, and if I am reasonably aided, Bellefonte will have a property that will be a lasting credit to all concerned. JAMES R. HUGHES, Principal. Subscriptions to such a fund will be received by Prof. James R. Hughes, or officers of the institution. Weather Report. Weekly report—Bellefonte Station.
