EDITORIAL.

The Republic of San Domingo has come under the protecting arm of Uncle Sam.

Should President Roosevelt adhere to his determination to enforce the anti-trust law efforts in that direction will be approved by 999 out of every 1000 citizens of the United States. It is the President's sworn duty to see that the anti-trust law is enforced to its severest extent, as the trusts have been imposing upon and robbing the people unmercifully, and will continue the great wrong as long as the law remains a dead letter.

The Philadelphia gang of machine leaders are endeavoring to pocket the republican members of the legislature and make them bow to the dictates of the worst set of scoundrels outside of the penitentiary. These beasts have resolved, under the panoply of their overwhelming majority, to freeze out the republicans of the country districts and give all the appointments to the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburg. If the republicans of the country districts will submit to that, they are made of stuff fit to be slaves. But the republican members from the counties are beginning to growl over the treatment they are to receive from the city bosses. But to growl is not enough—they must revolt. Durham and Penrose are the master spirits, greater scamps are not to be found.

ADJOINING COUNTIES.

Editor Thompson, of the Tyrone Times, has received the appointment of transcribing clerk of the state senate. What a publisher of a prosperous newspaper means by accepting such a position is past finding out. There must be lots of boodle in it.

Joseph Bowes, a resident of Beech Creek township, died suddenly Monday evening from neuralgia of the heart. He had been a sufferer with rheumatism for some years, but had reasonably good health this winter. He was in town a few days ago and his death was entirely unexpected. He was aged about 70 years.

At the clay mines of the Eagle brick works, about one-half mile from Mill Hill, Harry Lanner, aged 26 years, was so badly crushed beneath a fall of shale and rock on Saturday that but a faint hope for his recovery is held out. The warm rays of the sun had drawn the frost from the ground, and a mass of rock and shale moved and gave the alarm. The men all started to run and Lanner's foot caught the track or rail and he was thrown to the ground and was partially buried beneath the falling mass.

Fred Muthler of Beech Creek township, who has had considerable bad luck with horses for some time past, lost another valuable team horse last week. One horse broke loose and kicked its mate literally to death. The animal could make no defense because of being tied and was compelled to take the terrible punishment as the other horse stood and delivered one death blow after another. It was frightfully cut, bruised and battered and dropped over dead a few hours after found early in the morning. Not long ago one of Mr. Muthler's horses kicked another which had to be killed, its leg having been broken.

UNIONVILLE.

Byson Hazel, a handsome young man of Madisonburg, was a recent visitor at the home of his brother Albert.

Harry Musser, of Bellwood, was home over Sunday.

Mrs. Beulah Eckley, of Bald Eagle, is visiting friends in town.

S. K. Emerick has over 400 beautiful, artistic views of the St. Louis World's Fair. One can see the whole Fair for nothing by simply calling on Sammy—just tell him you are a subscriber to the Centre Democrat, that settles it.

Ellis Iddings of Huntingdon, has purchased his father's property in this place and will move here in the spring.

Charley Eckenroth will move into Thos. W. Fisher's property. Will Eckenroth will move on his father's farm in Union Twp., and his father, Thomas Eckenroth, will move in the Bodle property now occupied by his son Charles.

Irvin Stere, without whom P. J. McDonald's corps of trackmen would be incomplete, has concluded to join the miriads of subscribers to the Centre Democrat and be happy. So also the handsome bachelor Ed. Parsons, Ed. took a three month's trial trip on the cruiser C. D. and was so much delighted with it that he bought a through ticket from January to January. Good boys—Pete and Ed.

Say, Charley, owing to a scarcity of home news, I thought I would make a flying trip to Howard (in my mind) for the purpose of taking the scalp of your Dutch correspondent of that place, for imaginary wrongs he did me. Accordingly I sharpened my pen knife and borrowed a wind gun—air gun, I guess it is called—from Alfred Heaton and struck for the station (in my mind), planked or boarded the 9 o'clock train. Conductor Billy Halligan was bossing the job, so I told him I wished to stop at Curtin's to investigate the smallpox situation and have a sociable chat with my old friend Galet Morrison, and asked him if he wouldn't hold the train a half hour as I wished to go on down to Howard on an important mission. He said, "If I want to stop at Curtin's I would have to go on to next station, 2 miles below and walk back. When we got to Milesburg a lady and gentleman got off the cars and inquired for a hack or carriage to take them to Billy Thomas's but as they could get no other conveyance they took a bus and started off on foot. We then pursued our way down the valley and I noticed in passing Curtin's the mail clerk grabbed the mail pouch, which was hung on a post, and before he took it into the car he brushed the microbes off its exterior—all this while we went through on a fly. When we finally landed at Howard, I began to feel a little shaky. The engineer and fireman went over to Jake DeHass' hotel to get the correct time, while I waited for the residence of one 'Auf Wiedersehen,' but when I found the place my courage failed me—but I rapped at his office door which was opened by his majesty himself. He looked at me a moment, then with a genial smile grasped me by the hand and invited me to take a chair. I was so flustered that I asked him where I should take it to. 'Oh, be seated,' he said. I told him I was, 'skereed.' Finally I blurted out 'say, Dutchy, if I ever said anything in my 'Items' to make you feel sore in the solar plexus, I'll forgive you.' Then he just roared and laughed and said, 'Oh, no, Domio, I took it all in fun.' So I unlocked the door of my bosom and showed him my weapons and told him how I had come down to take his scalp; then he took another hearty laugh. Now I said, 'Doc—I mean Dutchy,—let's be good friends.' So I recited the following 'Pome' from Mother Goose's melodies:

A man who in Howard did dwell,
Not a word he correctly could spel.
Tho' of knowledge and wit had great wealth
One day he took ill
Then he took his own pill
And was quickly restored back to health.

I felt like 30 cts as I backed out of the office, and I kept my eyes on him till he closed the door. I then went to Henry Holter's and gave him some pointers on barn building. I next went to Weber's store and played a couple games checkers with Abe but he didn't get a king and then he said I cheated and he refused to play any more. From there I went to Cook's livery, instructed Bob how to take care of horses. Then I called at the Hustler office. Fred, the editor, was writing his opinion on "Frenzied Finance." He greeted me cordially and wanted to engage me on his editorial staff, but I declined as I had a more important mission to fulfill. I then struck for the station and on my way called on druggist H. A. Moore. He was punning something in a big bowl, then rolled it out to an 1/8 of an inch in thickness and then cut it up into very small jiblets. These he rolled into little pellets and called them pills. My curiosity being satisfied, I left the hustling town of Howard resolved to visit it some time in reality and then write it up in full. All this is only "In my mind." DOMIO.

WINTER MEAT EATING.

The Poor Stomach's Tale of Woe. Just Now Mi-o-na is Needed.

At this season of the year thousands of people are already showing the ill symptoms that are sure to result from the usual winter diet. Indoor life, meat-eating, hearty food, lack of exercise, overwork, and poor ventilation spell "sickness," and poor health.

If the stomach cannot do its work properly, ill health is sure to follow. Mi-o-na is the one medicine that assures a natural digestion, that strengthens the stomach, that soothes and heals the irritation, congestion, and inflammation in the stomach or bowels. It is this that makes it certain and guaranteed cure for all stomach troubles.

If the digestion is impaired, the blood is impoverished and becomes filled with poisonous impurities, deranging the whole system and causing sickness and suffering. Mi-o-na, acting upon the stomach and digestive organs cures sleeplessness, and nervous troubles, headaches, backaches, and general weakness and debility.

If you are weak and ailing the chances are that it is due to a diseased stomach, but you can be cured by using Mi-o-na. Ask S. Krumrine, the reliable druggist, to show you the strong guarantee under which Mi-o-na is sold. Mi-o-na costs but 50¢ a box. If it does not help you, the price is absolutely nothing.

Any stupid money bags can get to congress nowadays. Worthy men of ability stand no chance. Money rules the ranch and qualifications cut no ice. That's about what the country has come to under machine rule.

Rev. D. E. Rupley, pastor of St. John's English Lutheran church at Lock Haven, has received a call to become the pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran church at Millersburg, Dauphin county.

RECENT DEATHS.

WILLIAM SHOWALTER—a former resident of Harris township, died at Glenn Iron last week.

FRANK BARR—died at his home near Colyer, Thursday of last week, of paralysis. Interment was made at Tusseyville, Saturday. The deceased is survived by a widow and several children.

Mrs. JOHN H. HOLSINGER—died at her home in Harrisburg, recently, aged 71. Deceased was the last surviving sister of John Wagner, of north Spring street, Bellefonte, and her death leaves him the sole survivor of a large family.

SAM'L REESE—died at his home at Fairbury, Nebraska, December 12, 1904. His death was caused by cancer of the stomach. Mr. Reesman was a former native of Millheim. He was married to Sarah J. Musser, a daughter of the late ex-Sheriff W. L. Musser, who, with six children, three boys and three girls, survive.

HENRY G. SHAFFER—died suddenly at his home at Cherokee, Kansas, aged about 52 years. He was a son of the late William Shaffer, of Aaronsburg, and was born at that place. He leaves to survive a widow and three children. The deceased was a resident of Millheim about 17 years ago, and was then engaged in the hotel business.

MISS MARIA HUBLER—died on Saturday morning, after a lingering illness of several months at the age of 77 years, 8 months and 23 days. Deceased was well known as she has kept the well known Hubler's Hotel at Harrisburg for a number of years. She has survived two brothers and two sisters. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning, conducted by Rev. Crow of the Reformed church. She was born in Haines township at what is now called Fiedler.

REV. E. J. GRAY, D. D.—on Friday morning, at a hospital in Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., the Rev. Edward J. Gray, D. D., died, in consequence of an operation to which he had submitted several days before. Mr. Gray was one of the most conspicuous and prominent Methodists of the state, and the foremost in the Central Pennsylvania conference. For over 30 years he had been president of Williamsport Dickinson seminary. Mr. Gray's illness was induced by a fall which he sustained several years ago. Dr. Gray was graduated from Dickinson Seminary with the class of 1858, and at once took up the work of the ministry. He entered the Central Pennsylvania M. E. Conference in 1859 his first charge being at Lock Haven and filled many important appointments after that in this state. On January 1, 1874, the Rev. William Lee Spotswood, D. D., the president of Dickinson Seminary, tendered his resignation to take effect at once. On February 13, 1874, the Rev. E. J. Gray was elected by the Board of Directors to succeed Dr. Spotswood. Had he lived three weeks longer he would have rounded out an active career of thirty-one years at its head. Dr. Gray has a widow and two sons, William E. and Edward J. a brother J. G. Gray, residing at Stormstown, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah B. Wilson, of Williamsport. The remains were brought to Williamsport Friday afternoon. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon.

B. P. SHIPLEY—the citizens of Unionville were greatly shocked Tuesday morning when word went from mouth to mouth "Paul Shipley is dead." The facts are as follows: John P. Harris, Jr., and Paul had gone upon the barn loft at the residence of his father for the purpose of getting a large canvas tent which Mr. Harris intended to take to his lumber camp at Beaver. Deceased got on a large store box about three feet high to undo the ropes with which it was tied to the rafters, and as he was getting off the box he fell to the floor. Harris said to him "Are you hurt Paul?" he repeated, "yes I am hurt" which were the last words he spoke. He gave a few gasps and the vital spark had fled. Dr. Irwin was at once sent for but all efforts on his part to resuscitate him were unavailing. The cause of his death was heart failure. Barney Paul Shipley was the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Shipley and leaves to survive his parents and the following brothers and sisters: Alexander, George and Mrs. Nelson Wolford, of Union township, and Mrs. W. R. Potter, Mrs. John Shadle, of Unionville, Mary and Susan at home. He was born Oct. 6th, 1866 and was consequently aged 38 years 3 months and 18 days. Was by trade a carpenter and at the time of his death held the office of Chief Burgess of our borough. He was a man of exemplary character and had hosts of friends, especially among the young people. He was one of our most energetic members of the Union Lodge, No. 459, I. O. O. F. The funeral will take place (this) Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. and will be under the direction of the Odd Fellows of this lodge, to which he belonged, assisted by the Rev. Berger of the Presbyterian church. Rest in peace, brother.

REV. D. G. KLEIN—died at the home of his daughter Mrs. J. T. Rohrer, in Reading, California, 17th, aged 76 years. Rev. Klein was in the active ministry until he was 70 years old. His first charge was at the Reformed church in Bellefonte and most of his ministry was in Centre county. He suffered with asthmatic trouble, which affected his heart. He is survived by five children, three daughters and two sons. (While here the Reverend planned and began the erection of buildings for a female seminary in a beautiful but sequestered spot in the mountains of McBrides Gap, some eight miles south of this place. He had a number of acres cleared, fruit and ornamental trees planted, and got as far as the erection of the foundation walls, when, for some reason the project was abandoned. The clearing, trees and walls are yet there to mark the work as far as it had progressed. Pastor Klein's project was a worthy one and an ideal location for planting a female seminary where young ladies could be educated far from the reach of dangerous influences of evil associations, and amid nature's most lovely, romantic and inspiring sights. A beautiful mountain rivulet bordered the southern edge of the grounds, and several springs of the purest mountain water were convenient. The Editor of the Democrat often visited the spot in trout fishing season and was filled with admiration of the scheme, and a pity that it failed of being brought to completion. His intentions were most laudable and the monument of same still can be seen.—Ed.)

CRUSHED UNDER LOCOMOTIVE.

Three small boys were fatally injured while coasting in Tyrone at 7 o'clock Thursday evening.

They were coming down the Twelfth-street hill at a high rate of speed, and arrived at the railroad crossing just as a shifting engine was passing. The lads plunged between the big driving wheels, and all were terribly mangled before the engine could be stopped.

Willard Elder, 12 years old, had both feet cut off and skull fractured; George Leiper, 10 years old, right arm cut off, right ankle crushed, left foot cut off and left arm broken; George Thomas, 12 years old, right arm cut off, left foot crushed and skull fractured.

When the engine was stopped Engineer Thomas got down to pick up the children and made the sorrowful discovery that one of them was his own son.

The injured boys were taken to Altoona city, but Elder died on the train. Leiper and Thomas were taken to the hospital.

The three boys died at the Altoona hospital, as their injuries were so serious that they lingered but a short time upon reaching there.

The appeal being made by the friends of the Bellefonte Academy for a popular subscription to raise a sum of money to improve the grounds is one worthy the serious consideration of our people. It is not made in the name of charity, for the institution is above that. It has been a direct benefit to this community, and especially in a financial way. The improvements that have been completed make the institution more useful in the future. The surroundings are not in keeping with the place. As a business proposition, every business man in Bellefonte should make a liberal contribution. Local pride and the educational interests of the community make it a duty to do so. There are few enterprises in our community deserving of more favorable consideration than just the Bellefonte Academy. It has made Bellefonte all the better for being here. Encourage the institution in a substantial way.

Fails to Get Divorce.

Mrs. Ada V. Runkle on Wednesday, 18, by the court in York, was refused a divorce from her husband, William H. Runkle, and was ordered to pay the costs of the suit. Runkle claimed that the suit was a plan of his wife's to secure her property. Runkle is suing to recover his share of $20,000 worth of property which, he says, he turned over to his wife before she began divorce proceedings. The parties are natives of this county.
