Baum had his fine grey team out and hustled them to "home on the hill." The Coleville band turned out later and gave them a serenade, then the calthumpions gave an entertainment but were soon satisfied and went their way rejoicing.

The music by the choir in which the audience joined, was fine. At the close of the service the audience testified to Dr. Sieber's work by an unanimous rising vote. ## ADJOINING COUNTIES.

The New York Central Railroad company will erect new passenger and freight stations in Mill Hall as work is expected to be commenced on the new buildings the beginning of June. Will be located south of the present building, along the C. R. R. track. The buildings are to be frame.

The Wabash railroad company has rented a house at the head of Bear run, about three miles southeast of Sandy Ridge, which they expect to use for the occupancy of a corps of engineers which will shortly be put to work in that section. The Wabash seems determined to get to the eastern seaboard and will come through this section to do it.

Sig Santelle and Welsh Bros. show was booked for Renovo on Monday and when they arrived there found the location too small for their tents. During the afternoon some boys opened the top of a monkey cage and sixty escaped. They were chased from trees and house-tops by the natives and by night nearly all of them were captured.

The New York Central railroad company has ordered 150 all-steel passenger cars from the American Car and Foundry company works, at Berwick, and it is expected this order will be followed by others. The officials of the company believe that the building of passenger cars will be revolutionized, that all-steel cars in time will replace the wooden one.

Joseph Greiner, who stabbed his brother, Bernard Greiner, during a quarrel at Altoona Saturday evening and inflicted a wound that caused his death, is suffering with delirium tremens in jail at Hollidaysburg. The Lock Haven Daily Democrat of Friday records a big purchase of Central Pennsylvania forest lands, as follows: "The New York and Pennsylvania Company closed a deal whereby they became owners of the controlling interest in 8239 acres of woodland in Beech Creek township. The land was purchased from Hopkins & Weymouth, Barber & Keller, Brown & David, of this city; the Detweiler estate, of Lancaster county, and the Dallet and Frisumuth heirs of New York and Philadelphia.

A young man of high society in Pittsburg is being sued by a St. Louis girl for $50,000 damages for alleged breach of promise. She also sues his family for a like amount for the reason, as she states, that the family influenced the son. It appears that she went to visit her fiance's parents and they turned against her because they found that she was lazy and indolent and did not get up in time for breakfast. All of which goes to prove that mothers who bring up their daughters like petted and pampered dolls to act as pretty ornaments are on the wrong track. Even the rich do not care to marry girls who are playthings, and nothing more.
