

Bellefonte and Vicinity

The Local Happenings in Short Paragraphs

The steam heat company is certainly fixing our streets. The plastering of the Y. M. C. A. building was completed this week. Olin Meek, of Philadelphia, is visiting friends in Bellefonte this week. It is a little less than four weeks until the time for holding the election. Gotlieb Haag has gone to Warrensburg, Mo., where he will spend some time visiting his sister. Mrs. R. A. Beck and little daughter returned home, after spending the past two months visiting her parents in Philadelphia. Miss Mary Shaughnessy, of Philadelphia, is visiting at the home of her uncle, Thomas Shaughnessy, Sr., on North Smith street. Joe Katz, now the leading clothier of Lewistown, spent Sunday with his parents in Bellefonte. He is building up a fine business. Morris Otto, son of Mrs. Hamilton Otto, of this place, and Miss Allie Hutson, of Niagara Falls, were married in the latter place. James Nolan, Esq., who supplies the Phillipsburg section of this county with legal lore, transacted legal business in town the past week. Among our visitors the past week was James Dumbleton who was in the clutches of the Hon. John Noll. Among democrats, Mr. Dumbleton is a stalwart. Men wanted—fifty able bodied men are wanted to inspect, supervise and criticize the work of erecting the Soldiers Monument. Wages will be no consideration. Since the Athletics won the pennant a few of our local baseball fans should sleep better at nights. It is a caution how the ball fever works even at long range. Geo. M. Dimeling, of Clearfield, was in last Thursday but found us too busy for any use. Mr. Dimeling is a clever gentleman and keeps in touch with Centre county affairs. You will note that our farm sale register is rapidly filling up for this season of the year. Our sale bills are the best and our sale Register will reach almost every person in the county. Andrew Young, foreman in the Bituminous Record, Phillipsburg, spent Sunday here with his family. He expects to move to Altoona where he has been offered a good position. Our hunters report game scarce, especially squirrels. There is little danger of anyone breaking the legal limit. Pheasants and wild turkeys are about as usual, some in the woods if you can get them. The twenty-second annual reunion of the survivors of the One Hundred and Tenth regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, will be held in Tyrone on Friday, Oct. 20. Preparations are being made for a big time. J. A. B. Miller, Esq., moved with his family into the old McClain house, on east Curtin street, occupied the past year by W. Miles Walker and family. The Walkers moved into the Dare house on north Spring street. W. Parke Cummings, of Lancaster, spent several days of the past week in town visiting Prof. and Mrs. John Hosterman, the latter being his daughter, who moved recently to this place. They were pleased with Bellefonte. Boyd Wilson, for a number of years has been connected with the Howard Creamery company in this place, moved with his family to Williamsport, last week, where he will take charge of a large dairy and creamery combined. Jesse Cox has secured an option on the Mulfinger hotel, at Pleasant Gap, with a view of purchasing the same outright and opening up a good hotel there next spring, if the business being done out there at that time will warrant it. According to the Lock Haven Democrat, Joe W. Furey, who had been ill for the past 15 years, was able to take a ride in an auto the other day. Mr. Furey spent most of his life as associate editor of the Watchman at this place where he has many friends. John Given, of Pittsburg, spent a few days of the past week in Bellefonte. For several years he was connected with the N. Y. Sun doing reportorial work in Wall street, but of late has been giving some attention to the management of the H. J. Heintz & Co. plant at Pittsburg, his father-in-law being the founder and operator. John Brackbill, son of the late J. C. and Margaret Brackbill, formerly of Bellefonte, and Miss Sarah C. Sims, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Sims, were married at noon Thursday, Oct. 5th, at the home of the bride, 504 Rural Avenue, Williamsport. They will reside at 725 Elmira street. William Johnson has bought the blacksmith shop of Jacob S. Knisely, the latter with his brother Andrew, of Shamokin, intending to go to State College and open a pool and billiard room and cigar store combined in a room in the new hotel building. The change will be place just as soon as the room at College is ready.

—12 pages—most news for the least money. W. Harrison Walker, Esq., transacted business in Harrisburg, Wednesday. Ten Australians from Snow Shoe township were naturalized by the court on Tuesday. Miss Margera Knowles left yesterday morning for her home, after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Flora Dale. The W. C. T. U. wishes to inform the public that they will not have any Star Lecture course this winter. Rev. L. M. Daubenspeck, of Selinsgrove, will preach in the Lutheran church of this place next Sabbath, morning and evening, at the usual hour. Irvin Gettig has resigned his position with his brother L. C. Gettig of this place and with his family has gone to Pleasant Gap where they will reside. Mac Heinle, now a resident of Alliance, Ohio, informed relatives in Bellefonte, on Wednesday that he could boast of an eleven-pound son. In consequence, there are some proud grandparents about town. This year the Centre county fairs, that at Bellefonte and the Grangers at Centre Hall, had the best of weather to add to the success of the gatherings. This may be said of the fairs in other counties over the state, all were favored with the delightful weather. We know of no previous year that had a fall so generally favored with bright skies, for farm work and outings. The Bellefonte Academy foot ball team defeated the Snow Shoe eleven on Saturday afternoon by the one sided score of 22-0. Next Saturday the same teams will play at Snow Shoe. It is to be hoped that the High School and the Academy will play another game, as the whole town would turn out to see Jim Hughe's colts redeem themselves. We believe they can do it. S. D. Ray is making preparations to remove his shirt factory from the Hale building to the Bottorf properties on South Water street which he recently purchased. The shirt factory has been a good institution for our town giving employment at good wages to a large number of young ladies. Like everything else, under careful management of Mr. Ray, it has flourished. Tuesday a boy found a pocket book near the Nittany R. R. station in this place, and handed it over to station agent Rumbarger. On examination it was found to be minus any money, but contained some papers and notes of value to Ellis Shaffer, whose pocket was picked while he was attending the fair last week. The thief, no doubt, cleaned the pocket book of its cash and then threw it where it would be found. Mr. Rumbarger informed Mr. Shaffer of the found pocket book. Miss Adaline Lyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lyon of this place, who had been employed by the American Lime and Stone company as stenographer and typewriter, Wednesday morning of last week went to work as usual and at the office asked Superintendent David J. Kelly if she could have the day off. Her request was granted and later Mr. Kelly discovered that she had not only left her keys in the office but had left town on the 9:53 train. A telegram was received from Miss Lyon that evening, in which she stated that she had been married that day to James McGuinness, of Ridgway, at Hollidaysburg, Pa. They will reside at Punxsutawney, Pa., where Mr. McGuinness is manager of the opera house. He frequently visited Miss Lyon at this place, but the wedding was a great surprise to all. Recent callers: J. A. James, Jr., of Blanchard; Henry Rossman, of Tusseyville, an old and esteemed friend; S. S. Stump and wife, Mrs. Eliza Stump and Mrs. D. K. Keller, all of Centre Hall; John Page, Rebersburg; Chas. Musser, of Woodward; David Bartges and wife, of Spring Mills; Thos. B. Way and son Collins, of Stormstown; C. P. Reese, of Snow Shoe; D. M. Neidigh, of State College; John I. Williams, of Juniata; Cyrus Huey, of Fillmore; J. H. Zerby and wife, of Spring Mills; J. H. Messimer, of Spring Mills; Miss Kritzer, of Spring Mills; L. H. Stover and wife, of Coburn, attending fair; Cleveland Vonada, of Woodward; D. W. Garner and George Lutz, both of State College; J. M. Williams, of Port Matilda; Jacob Kerstetter, of Coburn; Chas. Heltman, of Mackeyville; Prof. James Gregg, now teacher in Tyrone; J. R. Rute, of Salona; D. A. Ertel and wife, of Spring Mills; W. H. Crebs, of Madisonburg; Geo. A. Witherite and son Thurman, of Clarence; N. H. Johnson, wife and daughter Anna, of Blanchard; Michael Kerstetter, of Pleasant Gap, who gets around a great deal, reports democratic prospects bright; Dr. H. S. Braucht, of Spring Mills; Mrs. Daniel Hess, of Linden Hall. W. A. Sandoe, of Centre Hall, made sale of his surplus real estate in order to go to his new home at Ingram, a suburb of Pittsburg. PEOPLE who want third-terms dont know when to quit.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Cyrus Huey, of Fillmore, boasts of a tomato vine, 4 to 5 feet high, on which Mrs. Huey counted 77 fine tomatoes of various sizes. That's hard to beat. Mrs. Ellen J. Nelson, an aged and most respected resident of Phillipsburg, died last Sunday night, aged almost 77 years. She is survived by three sons, all living in the west. At the home of Samuel Campbell, of Milesburg, Pa., Miss Florence T. Campbell and Homer G. McKinley, were united in holy matrimony Oct. 5, 1905 by Rev. M. C. Pifer. A valuable horse owned by Daniel Grove, of College township, got tangled in the stall, and was found dead, having strangled itself. It was a young animal, recently shipped from the west. J. H. Messimer, of Gregg, stands high up for large apples; his twenty-ounce apples are whoppers; we took the measure of one and found it high 15 inches in circumference. Such stock is worth taking to any fair. The Carlisle Indian foot ball team defeated the State College team at Harrisburg, by a score of 11 to 0 on Saturday. The Indians proved superior in various ways, although they were about evenly matched in weight. C. C. Luse, formerly of Rebersburg, assistant superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company in Council Bluffs, and Mrs. Jeanette Duncan, of Omaha, were married in Logan, Ia., September 12, by Rev. Bodenham, of that city. They will make their home in Council Bluffs. N. W. Eby's distillery at Woodward was opened up and started again by Deputy Collector Reese. Mr. Eby expects to run out a large stock during the time the distillery is open. The whole is in charge of Mr. Uhler, United States storekeeper of Tioga county. It is in order to remark that the campaign has also opened up and there are cross words by the barrelful flying. Prof. Cephas M. Gramley, one of the stalwart men of Miles township, read in this paper of some large apples. That induced him to report an apple that grew on his premises that measured 16 1/2 inches and weighed 24 ounces, Roof variety. This information came by telephone and he says he can qualify to it with both hands up. That is about the largest heard of this season. Jonathan Shaffer, of Lock Haven, had his pocket picked Thursday evening while on the train between here and Milesburg. Mr. Shaffer had been attending the County Fair. Worrying about the papers in the missing purse he started to walk up the railroad track to Bellefonte next morning and when half way to town he found the pocketbook along the track rife of its contents. He also found another empty pocketbook lying along the track. Ex-Treasurer D. C. Keller sold his farm, along the Spring Mills pike, east of Centre Hall, to Dr. S. C. Runkle, of Philadelphia, and Rev. J. M. Runkle, of Williamsport. The farm contains fifty-seven and one-half acres, and has splendid buildings. The Runkle brothers also purchased the same number of acres from Witmer Grove, son of Thomas Grove, of Centre Hall, which tract lies west of the Keller farm. At one time both tracts were together, being owned by Messrs. Thomas and Jack Grove. Early in August pure food agent James Fozst, of Altoona, made a trip to Bellefonte and through Centre county buying up samples of canned and bottled goods, meats, etc. The samples were analyzed by the State chemist and some of them found impure with the result that two arrests were made in Bellefonte, one in Milesburg, four in Howard, one in Lemont and two at State College. Other parts of the state have been under the Food Inspector's clutches and it is not a bad thing to have our merchants tuned up. Farmers from different sections of the county calling at the Democrat office within the past two weeks inform us that the potato rot has about ceased. The rot had been going on in a mild way for several weeks and did not affect the crop very largely, hence if the tubers gathered in and yet sound remain so the supply will be large and this necessary food be reasonable in price. This will prove well for consumers and farmers. The crop was above the average and will at least stand to an average, if the rot does not set in again which is not likely. Gardner-Courter. Miss Emma, daughter of William H. Gardner, was married Wednesday evening 4th by Rev. G. S. West at the bride's home in Blanchard, to Thomas Courter, son of Squire William Courter, also of Blanchard. The groom is the popular leader of the Blanchard cornet band. They were given an old-fashioned serenade in the evening, and yesterday morning the happy couple left on the Beech Creek train west for a wedding trip. Holter-Steels. On Thursday 5th at 11 a.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Steels, Robert Bower Holter, and Miss Julia Steele, their daughter were married by Rev. J. A. Wood, Jr., of the Methodist church. The ushers were Charles Rockey and A. C. Longee while Miss Margaret Crider was the ring bearer. They will locate at Johnsonburg where the groom holds a good position with an express company.

SEC. HINDMAN RESIGNS.

Secretary L. B. Hindman has tendered his resignation to the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. to take effect January 1st 1906, after which time he will likely move to Brooklyn and engage in real estate business. The following resolutions were passed by the association: WHEREAS, L. B. Hindman, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Bellefonte, has deemed it advisable because of uncontrollable circumstances to tender his resignation, the same to take effect at the end of the calendar year; and WHEREAS, he has rendered a faithful, devoted and efficient service to the Y. M. C. A., as far as the facilities at his command would permit, and WHEREAS, he has responded very cheerfully to every call made upon him for Christian service, no matter from what source the call came; and WHEREAS, he has at all times conducted himself as a Christian gentleman and citizen during his brief sojourn in Bellefonte. Therefore, Be it resolved that the Directors of the Y. M. C. A., of Bellefonte fully appreciate his exemplary life and untiring efforts in behalf of the young men, and accept with sincere reluctance and regret the tendered resignation, and Be it further resolved, that the most cordial sympathies and best wishes of the Board of Directors follow Mr. Hindman and his esteemed wife in all their future labors and relations. J. R. HUGHES, DARIUS WHITE, C. T. GERBERICH, Committee. RECENT DEATHS. MRS. ELIZABETH McWILLIAMS—a resident of Graysville, Huntingdon county, died of pneumonia Sunday morning, after an illness of two weeks. She was 80 years old last February and for over fifty years had lived in Graysville. MRS. JAMES P. FRANK—died at her home in Rebersburg, Tuesday evening 9th, due to consumption. The deceased is survived by her husband and two sons—Samuel, of Harrisburg, a railroad mail clerk between New York and Pittsburg; and Orvis, a school teacher, at Bloomsburg. IRVIN B. LUSE—died at his home in Wilkesburg Sunday afternoon, of typhoid pneumonia. He was a son of Dennis and Mary Ann Luse, of Millheim, his age was 32 years, 10 months and 11 days. In 1896 he was united in marriage with May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hartman, of Millheim. ADJOINING COUNTIES. Thomas Halligan, an employe of the Goodyear saw mill at Galeton, met a horrible fate Friday. He stumbled and fell upon the "slasher" saw, when his body was wisked in two. The Ward house, at Tyrone, changed proprietors on Monday, Charles Woodin selling out to G. H. Brown, of Wilmerding. There is plenty room for improvement at that place. A double dwelling house in Lock Haven, occupied by Andrew Reeder and Edward Nestlerode with their families, was destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning. Most of the furniture was saved. While loading telephone poles, Wednesday morning 11th, Geo. B. Thompson, of Alto, had his leg broken about six inches above the ankle by a heavy pole falling on it. The fracture is a compound one and will lay him up for six weeks or longer. Train No. 20 struck Emanuel Fitzgerald, 30 years, and Charles Anderson, 19 years old, between Petersburg and Baree, killing them both instantly. Fitzgerald was a married man and Anderson, a single one, both residing at Petersburg and were employed as trackmen. Joseph Grande, the Clinton county Italian, who was convicted of an awful crime, the victim of which was his own daughter, was sentenced to prison by Judge Mayer, of Lock Haven, on Saturday, to undergo imprisonment in the western penitentiary for the period of three years. It is the maximum. Sunday night the large tobacco shed on the Gross farm near the Flemington bridge was burned. It was full of this year's tobacco crop, which had been farmed and harvested by John Probst of Lock Haven. The building and contents were reduced to ashes. The cause of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. There was an insurance of $500 on the building and $700 on the contents. C. Dieffenback, of Milliflinburg, Union county, has sent to Harrisburg a most interesting historic relic. It is a tea box which was owned by Mary Harris, daughter of John Harris, the founder of Harrisburg, and is about 150 years old. It came into the possession of Mrs. Dieffenback some years ago and was placed in the custody of the Harrisburg Telegraph for exhibition during "Old Home Week," after which it will be presented to the State museum at the request of the owner. SAVE THE ORCHARDS.

The first practical demonstration of the most approved and successful method of fighting the San Jose Scale which is destroying so many orchards in this state will be given on Friday, October 27th, from ten to eleven-thirty a.m., in the orchard of Col. W. F. Reynolds, a few miles southwest of Bellefonte, on one of the back roads between Bellefonte and State College. This will be a public meeting and is arranged for the two purposes of showing practical orchardists who may wish to attend it how to treat the San Jose Scale when it is present in orchards and of illustrating the methods of this practical work in the presence of the twenty-one orchard demonstrators, who will at that time be taking special instructions in the Pennsylvania State College, preparatory to opening the general campaign against the scale all over the state of Pennsylvania about October 30, under the directions of Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist of the State Department of Agriculture. During the second half of October twenty-one men are receiving special instructions in both theory and practice of combatting insects and plant diseases, this being done by the co-operation of the State College and the State Department of Agriculture. The instruction is given by lectures, laboratory work, practical orchard methods, including spraying with different insecticides and different kinds of apparatus, and also reading the latest and best literature upon these topics. The chief lecturers are Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Prof. Geo. C. Butz, P. of Horticulture and Dr. Wm. A. Buckhout, Prof. of Botany. Some lectures upon various features of orcharding will also be given by Dr. William Frear, Prof. of Chemistry, Prof. W. S. McDowell and others. These demonstrators will then go to their assigned sections in different parts of the state, where all will undertake the same kind of work that is to be shown in the orchard Col. Reynolds. The public is invited to attend this important demonstration, and see how insecticides are made and applied. SOME BIG FISH. The Nittany Furnace Co. are dumping furnace slag below the old rolling mill dam, and are filling up the tail race. In it are some pools. The hot slag, when it runs in the water, throws off sulphur sufficient to kill what fish may linger in the pools. Wednesday morning Musser Miller captured a large fish that was out near the edge and almost dead. It measured 27 inches and weighed 8 pounds, and had large red and brown spots over it. The dead fish was put on exhibition in the window at Knisely's pool room all day yesterday. It is the same species as the 26-inch, 6-pound trout captured several years ago by Al Hoffman and was mounted and put on exhibition at the St. Louis Exposition by Prof. Surface. They are known as the "European Brown Trout." An 18-inch and another 23 inch were caught at the place this week killed by the sulphur, as well as some smaller fish. EVERY laboring man in and about Bellefonte, should give A. A. Stevens a respectful hearing at the Court House next Wednesday evening. SALE REGISTER.
