Some of Bellefonte's noted Spinsters made some personal allusions, at that entertainment in Petriken Hall, last Friday evening, about some of the nice young men of the town. It was just real mean, so it was.

Edward Richard, of Bellefonte, has sold his interest in the jewelry store on High street to his brother Charles, and has accepted the position of secretary of the White Stone Lime Company whose operations are near Pleasant Gap.

Harry O. Barnhart, baggage master for the P. & N. W. div. P. R. R. at Punxsutawney, Pa., spent several days about town visiting friends here and down at the old homestead near Roland. He is much interested in the campaign in old Centre, and is a loyal democrat.

Dogs and Deer. Many hunters want to know whether it is unlawful to take dogs into camp. The secretary of the game commission is endeavoring to reply to as many of the letters as possible, assuring the hunters that there is no law against taking dogs into camp, but that the persons in camp will be held responsible for their dogs.

The bird season, which opened Oct. 15, will run six weeks to Dec. 1. The deer season is the last two weeks in November. Dogs may be used in hunting birds, but if at any time a dog should pursue a deer for the minimum limit of 100 yards, every member of the camp, in addition to the owner of the dog, will be liable to prosecution and fine.

This applies whether it is the open or the close season for deer.

A letter from the American consulate at Stuttgart, Germany, is asking for information regarding the residence of Mrs. Amelia Clymer, alias Mrs. Emelie Cleimer, who is a daughter of Julia Raub or Robb, late of Curtin township, Centre county. The Altoona Gazette speaks as follows of a well known Philipsburger: "W. M. Cronister, ex-sheriff of Centre county, is in the city on business and is staying at the Hotel Ford. He is engaged in the sand business and will soon have arrangements completed for the opening of a bank near Royer, above Williamsburg. His office for the transaction of the business of the new enterprise will be located in Altoona."

THE HORNETS CAME TO LIFE.

The family of Daniel Peters at Hecla Park, had an amusing experience with a hornetsnest one day last week. Mr. Peters who is section foreman on the Central railroad, while at work on his division found a large hornet's nest in the bushes along the track, and thinking it would make a novel ornament for his house carried it home and after exhibiting it to his friends and family, placed it on the parlor table for further exhibition purposes.

The next day, about noon, a buzzing noise was heard in the region of the parlor, and when some one ventured to open the door leading to that room they were met by a volley of hornets and in an instant the house was alive with them, which the warmth of the room had brought to life, a general rough house and scramble for the doors was next in order with the pesky little insects in hot pursuit, and when Mr. Peters came home to dinner a few minutes later, he found his family battling for possession of the house, while his better-half stood at the gate with the appearance of having had a severe attack of toothache.

Tribute to Rev. W. M. Rearick.

The following tribute was paid to Rev. W. M. Rearick, pastor of the Lutheran charge, composed of White Deer, Mazepa and Cowan, at a meeting of the joint council, convened, which week arrived in Bellefonte to become pastor of the Lutheran charge here:

RESOLVED, That we deeply regret the action taken by Brother Rearick, believing that the church and Sunday school is parting with a man of sterling worth, a man beloved, not only by his own people, but by all who knew him; one who is a faithful and fearless worker in God's vineyard. But while we deeply feel our loss, we feel it will be the gain of his people in his new field of labor.

That, in parting with such an able worker as Mrs. Rearick as a missionary worker in co-operation with her husband and our pastor, the loss to the missionary cause will be deeply felt in the parastate.

That we as a united people, in behalf of our good brother and family, follow them with our united prayers for their success in their new field of labor.

Your child may have croup tonight. Have a bottle of "Oil of Gladness" in the house. It will cure it.

COUNTY FINANCES.

The following is a brief comparison of the total expense of conducting the affairs of Centre county under the present Commissioners and the former Board, during a period of five years. The amounts are taken from the annual statements:

COUNTY EXPENSE: 1900—Democratic Board, $62,502.04 1901— " " " 61,061.41 1902— " " " 66,744.75

Total for 3 years $190,308.20 Average yearly expenditure $63,436.00 In 1903 Abraham V. Miller and John G. Bailey constituted the new Republican Board; at this time the estimated assets over all liabilities were $25,001.38

COUNTY EXPENSE: 1903—Republican Board, $60,197.80 1904— " " " 87,549.69 Jumped to.....

Total for 2 years $147,747.49 Average yearly expenditure $73,886.00 an average increase yearly of $10,450.18

At this time the estimated assets over all liabilities was only $17,750.41 This is a loss over amount left them by Democratic Board of..... $7,250.97

In other words in two years the average expenses under Miller and Bailey increased..... $20,900.36 Add to this shrinkage in assets..... 7,250.97

Total..... $28,151.33 That means that under Republican Commissioners it costs the taxpayers of Centre county in two years over $28,000 more than formerly for general expenses.

BRIDGE EXPENSES.

The following is a comparison of the Bridge Expenses in Centre County for the past five years:

1900—Democratic Board, $4,412.85 1901— " " " 1,594.74 1902— " " " 4,199.98

Total for 3 years..... $10,207.57 Average per year..... $3,402.52 1903—Republican Board, $ 9,045.93 1904— " " " 11,041.63

Total for 2 years..... $20,803.26 Average per year..... $10,401.63 The above shows that the present Board has been averaging over THREE TIMES more money spent for county bridges annually than formerly; and this year, from what can be learned, it will be still higher.

Y. They left for that place on Saturday and a message was received stating that the nuptial knot had been tied.

ALLEGHENY BANK LOOT.

The Depositors to get Only Ten Cents on the Dollar.

The state had over $1,000,000 of the taxpayer's money in that bank to be gambled with and lost, by republican leaders, who broke the bank and left 3000 depositors to lose all but 10 per cent.

Here is a story that starts with the lust of one man for power and place, and the hunger of another for wealth, and winds up with suicide, the wrecking of a bank and the distress of three thousand depositors.

More—here is a story that uncovers the financial methods of the most powerful political organization of a great state, that tells of the use of public money for private ends, of the juggling of State funds, of enormous graft in the guise of loans, of political banks—a story that has no parallel, save in this State of Pennsylvania, where the control of the treasury by the gang has time and again brought death as well as dishonor.

The President of the bank, Mr. Gwiner proclaims the great disaster was caused by republican politicians and that himself had been a republican.

The Enterprise had 3,000 depositors, mostly men and women living on the North Side. The report made to the comptroller, of the currency Aug. 25 last showed its deposits to be $2,227,570, its reserve to be $154,069.59 and its loans and discounts to be $2,242,807.74. Its total resources were given as a like amount, of course.

Senator Bois Penrose is connected with the looting of the bank—having been schooled in the Quay school of politics—nothing better was to be expected. Another looter is Bull Andrews, brother of republican state chairman Andrews, and another scholar and graduate under Quay. Andrews now lives in New Mexico, but is up in his own Pennsylvania most of his time speculating and gambling with the state's money in the Enterprise Bank. And there are others of the gang leaders that are concerned in this gigantic bank robbery, and these scoundrels are working to elect Plummer state treasurer over Berry so they have a tool in the treasury to shield these robbers. The election comes off next Tuesday.

To Be Or Not To Be. The usual disagreement among weather prophets is noticeable this fall. Some close agricultural observers say that the corn husks this year were unusually light, an unfailing indication of a mild winter. On the other hand, the old hunter rises to remark that the skin on the squirrel is more than usually thick, a good old sign of a cold winter.

The first prediction will be endorsed by householders who have to buy coal; the last by patrons of the town steam system, who want to get their money's worth.
